

Chapter 617

Henry listened to Anna's words and felt a little confused. "Isn't the security ranking based on strength? Can they cheat?"

"Alas." Anna sighed. "Mr. Zhang, if these people really want to cheat, they can do it easily. It's just that it depends on whether they are willing to show their true colours or not."

"How is the rating judged? What is the difference between different grades?" Henry asked again. He was interested in this aspect.

Anna explained to Henry, "Security companies are divided into five levels. From one star to five stars, a company with five stars is the highest. The ranking of our company now is five stars."

Henry suddenly remembered that when he just saw the shield symbol on the top of the Collier Security Company Security Building, there seemed to be five stars on the shield.

"The five stars represent a kind of strength. Most customers will choose the five-star security company. Besides, it's kind of a symbol. The five-star security company can recruit more employees. Mr. Zhang, you also know the uniqueness of the security company. If its level doesn't meet the requirements, the authorities would not allow recruiting too many people."

"How many people can one five-star security company recruit?" This was what Henry was most interested in.

China was a very special country. Henry could let his people openly set up camp in any country in the world, but he couldn't do that only in China. The strength that China could mobilize was like the strength of the Zhao clan which was destroyed a few days ago. The power was enormous.

Henry thought if he set up a security company and reached the five-star standard, would he be able to arrange for people to stay directly in Yinzhou?

The appearance of the clans made Henry feel stressed. What Jenny had suffered also gave a warning to Henry. Now, by Henry's side, the number of people he cared about increased. Sylvia's family, Lisa, Jenny and Dean Cui. Henry absolutely could not accept anything happening to these people. Henry had thought of a way before and wanted to arrange people to settle in Yinzhou. Now it seemed that opening a security company was a good choice.

Anna told Henry, "Normally, a one-star security company can register 100 people in the official record, and the five-star company can hire 400 people. Now our company has approached the upper limit. If we can't reach five stars in this grading, we will be forced to fire people."

Henry pondered for a while. Four hundred people. If he could arrange four hundred people to station in Yinzhou, then the safety of Sylvia would be absolutely guaranteed.

"What do you need for the grading?" Henry asked.

Anna shook her head and said, "It's hard to say. In the past, strength was the only thing that matters. But now, it depends on many aspects. The personal living standard of the people has increased, and the customer's requirements for security are increased as well. Some clients even require security to have good cooking skills. It all depends on how the authorities arrange it, but most of it should be fighting, saving hostages, and other things."

Just as Anna finished speaking, the door of the reception room was pushed open from the outside.

The middle-aged captain rushed in with a happy face. Behind the captain, there was also the young man who had a conflict with Henry on the bus.

When the young man saw Henry, his face was very ugly. Obviously, he still remembered that he had been embarrassed before.

"President Jiang, good news, good news!" The middle-aged team leader was very happy. "There are two pieces of news. Just now that person has been investigated. He is the target of this mission!"

After the middle-aged captain said this, he looked at Henry and thanked him, "Sir, I'm sorry that we have blamed you."

Henry did not speak. The middle-aged man's attitude had always been good.

Anna also showed a happy look on her face. This could be of great help for the company to leave a good impression this time. She asked, "And the second one? What's the good news?"

"President Jiang, the official list just came down. You are a judge for the company grading this time! This is so great!" The middle-aged captain's face was full of joy. It was a great honour to be a member of a company whose boss is the judge.

Different from the joy on the middle-aged team leader's face, when Anna heard the news, she immediately showed a sad face.

The middle-aged captain and the young man were puzzled by the look on Anna's face.

"President Jiang, what's wrong?" The young man asked.

"Do you think that this is good news?" Anna asked back as she looked at them.

"It's good." The young man nodded. "President Jiang, since you're the judge, you can give us a high score."

Anna listened to the young man's words and shook her head with disappointment in her eyes.

"I just told you on the bus, a thing that professional security needs is logic. At this point, you are far inferior to Anna," Henry said.

"Boy, what do you mean? You're making things difficult for me on purpose, aren't you?" The young man looked at Henry with a sulky face. "Could it be that it is a bad thing for President Jiang to be the judge?"

"Of course, it's bad." Henry nodded without hesitation.

"Oh!" The young man smiled disdainfully. "Come on, tell me, why is it a bad thing?"

"It's simple." Henry stretched out a finger. "If Anna is the judge, who from the company will take part in this competition?"

Hearing Henry's words, both the middle-aged captain and the young man were stunned.

Yes! If President Jiang became a judge, who would take part in the competition? In the whole company, the most powerful person was President Jiang. If she could not participate, the company's strength would decline a lot this time!

The two finally realized the key point of the problem, and the middle-aged elder blushed. This news was not good news to the company at all. Actually, it was really bad!

The young man didn't look at Henry anymore, and there was still a sense of unyieldingness on his face.

Anna frowned. The original grading was full of difficulties, but now that the news came out, it was obvious that somebody wanted to destroy Collier Security!

Anna asked the middle-aged captain, "When will the grading begin?"

The middle-aged team leader nodded and replied, "Tomorrow."

"Tomorrow?" Anna frowned more tightly. The grading would start tomorrow. If she was asked to be a judge today, that meant that she would not have time to prepare anybody else.

Anna sighed and said, "You two can go to practise first."

The captain and the young man looked at each other and left the reception room.

Anna's face was full of helplessness. She said to Henry, "Mr. Zhang, I'll arrange someone to see you off first. I'm really sorry to interrupt your schedule this time."

"No worries." Henry shook his head. "Anna, I think we can cooperate this time."

"Cooperate?" Anna was stunned.

"Yes, cooperate," Henry said firmly, "I will help you pass the grading this time. You can help me set up a security company in Yinzhou under your name."
