

Chapter 621

The captain's heart was full of worries, but what he could do now was to exert as much of his strength as possible.

Anna took the lead to walk into the shooting area, with Henry following beside her.

The middle-aged captain and others looked back and forth with curiosity. They didn't understand why Henry had to join them today. Those female team members didn't know Henry's identity, but the middle-aged captain was very clear that Henry was brought back as a suspect yesterday.

In the shooting area, a middle-aged man was standing at the entrance. When he saw Anna, he strode over.

"President Jiang, here you are." The middle-aged man's face was a little ugly.

Anna whispered to Henry, "This is the Director Mu, from Zou City's Public Security Bureau."

After Anna finished talking to Henry, she quickly said to Director Mu, "Director Mu, thank you for your being here."

Director Mu waved his hand and said indifferently, "We are old friends. You don't need to mention it. The former captain of your team and I are old comrades."

Anna looked at Director Mu's face and said, "Director Mu, since you are all old friends, you can just say what you want to say."

"Well," Director Mu sighed and said, "let me get this straight to the point. You and Collier Security Company are in danger regarding this grading. The remaining two companies are supported by consortiums and have made a lot of investments. Almost all the judges this time are their people, which is very unfavourable to you."

When Director Mu said this, he also looked very unhappy. Collier Security Company was able to help the Bureau with many tasks in Zuo City. They had always had a good relationship. In addition, things that Collier Security Company did were beneficial to society. But for the remaining two companies, Director Mu was very clear that they were just interested in the security. Their real strength was not comparable to that of Collier Security Company. What's more, as for the social contribution, it would be good if they did not become a parasite!

Anna patted him on the shoulder and said, "Director Mu, things haven't come to a conclusion yet. Don't be so pessimistic."

"I'm not. I'm not pessimistic. Sigh!" Director Mu sighed heavily. "Let's go. Everyone's here. We're all waiting for you."

Together with Director Mu, Anna and the others walked to a hall. In the hall, many people were already there.

As soon as Henry entered the door, he noticed two figures. Two young men were standing in two different places in the hall. With just a glance, Henry was sure that the two young men were definitely the two strongest people in the house. From their eyes and standing posture, he could see that they were masters.

"Oh, President Jiang, why are you so late? Are you afraid?" A big-bellied middle-aged man spoke as soon as Anna entered the door. It was Mr. Hu from Guineay Security.

President Wong from Superstitious Security was also not idle. She said, "President Jiang, what should we do if you, Collier Security, get demoted? It would be so sad if it turned out that you had wasted money on salaries and training!"

When these two spoke, it was obvious that they were hitting her while she was down.

Henry saw that the two men were sitting behind a long table with the word "Judge" in front of them. Apparently, they were also judges. At the same time, the nameplate in front of the two people who just spoke also told Henry that they were the bosses of the two companies that were against Anna.

Henry looked over and saw that there were still three other people sitting at the judges' table. The nameplates in front of them showed that they were all officials. When the two men ridiculed Anna just now, these three people unconsciously showed a smile on their faces. Obviously, they were not on good terms with Anna.

Henry counted the seats. There were a total of seven seats for judges. At the moment, there were only two empty seats left. When Anna and Director Mu sat down, the seats would be full. In this way, only two of the seven judges could be on the side of Collier Security Company, which could be said to be quite bad.

Anna ignored Mr. Hu and President Wong. She walked to the seat for the judges and sat at the very edge. This position also represented the status of the judges. Although Anna was a judge, she had the smallest voice.

Director Mu, as the top leader of the city's Public Security Bureau, was only sitting on the chair next to the central chair. He did not sit in the centre. In the centre, there was a deputy whose surname was Shan.

The middle-aged captain and others who came in with Anna looked at the other people in the room. What made them curious was that this time, there were not many people brought by Guineay Security and Superstitious Security. In a normal grading competition, a whole team would fight.

The gaze of the middle-aged team leader was mainly on the two young men in the house. He had an intuition that the two young men were masters. The middle-aged team leader was a retired soldier. He could also tell that those two young men were soldiers.

Seeing everyone was here, the Deputy Mayor Shan, who was sitting in the centre of the judge's table, said, "We are all in this industry, so I will not talk too much nonsense. This grading will determine the star status of the three companies for the next year. Next, I will announce the rules."

Deputy Mayor Shan took out a document and read, "This grading can be divided into three stages, which are a display of strength, theoretical knowledge, and teamwork."

When the Deputy Mayor finished, Collier Security Company's middle-aged captain and others all looked puzzled, so did Anna and Director Mu at the judges' table. In the past, the whole grading was based on teamwork. But this time, why did they put teamwork as a special category?

Mr. Hu and President Wong both had a triumphant look on their faces.

The Deputy Mayor Shan did not pay attention to the doubts of the middle-aged captain and others. He continued, "The first round of this competition is connected to the shooting ability. There are two types of targets, static and moving target. Each of you has 30 bullets. The winner will be the one who is superior!"

As soon as the Deputy Mayor's words fell, the middle-aged captain could no longer suppress the doubts in his heart and said on the spot, "What do you mean?"

Anna and Director Mu looked at the Deputy Mayor. Director Mu said, "Deputy Mayor, I'm afraid this is not reasonable, is it? This security grading has never been connected to the shooting. This kind of grading is unfair."

"Director Mu, you can't say that." Mr. Hu said, "In today's society, everyone has a higher sense of security, and there have been more kidnappings than before. We also have higher and higher requirements for security. In my opinion, shooting grading is very necessary. As the old saying in China goes: We need to know ourselves and the enemy, and we fight to win. Although we have no right to hold guns, we need to be familiar with shooting, which can help us avoid some risks. President Wong, what do you think?"

Mr. Hu turned his eyes to the woman in her thirties, who was standing next to him.

President Wong nodded and said, "Mr. Hu is right. This must be tested. Do you mean that Collier Security is afraid? If you are afraid, there is no need to participate in this grading."
