

Chapter 648

Henry looked at the three people who were chatting happily in front of him and said again, "Brothers, I'm afraid it's not appropriate to park the cars over there. Move them."

"No, who are you?" A stout man looked at Henry impatiently. "Didn't you see us chatting?"

"Your car is in front of my store." Henry stretched out his hand and pointed.

"Oh." The strong man nodded his head, then looked away and continued to chat.

"Brothers, are you sure you don't want to move them?" Henry asked again.

"You are so annoying!" Leland looked impatient. "My car broke down. How can I move it? Would you like to fix it for me?"

"Fine." Henry shrugged his shoulders, walked to the side, and took out his mobile phone.

Leland and the other two looked at Henry, who was leaving, with a sneer.

"Leland, is he the one who dares to open a security company? We should find a few people to teach him a lesson!" The strong man just now said.

"There's no need." Leland shook his head. "It's fine as long as he can't decorate it."

Leland and the other two made a pot of tea and sat at the door of the store, drinking leisurely. They looked with great interest at the entrance of Henry's store, and the truck with decorating materials had been parked on the side of the road.

"Haha, Leland, how many days do you think this guy can last? One day or two?" The strong man asked.

"Let him do as he likes. Anyway, I can park the car there for a lifetime. He has already found a decoration team. How much does he have to pay them a day?" Leland said indifferently.

Just as Leland was feeling complacent, he saw a construction car driving towards Henry's store with a few construction workers carrying the materials used for the construction.

The door of Henry's store was half blocked by Leland's Land Rover. The workers carried the materials and squeezed into the door as if they didn't see the Land Rover blocking the door.

Large-scale renovation materials hit Leland's car, making Leland's brand-new Land Rover's full of potholes, and also scratched away a large piece of paint.

Leland could not watch this scene any longer. He quickly stood up and shouted at Henry, who was at the door of the store, while walking. "Boy, what do you mean by this? Don't you see that my car is parked here? Are these people blind?"

"Don't worry." Henry smiled at Leland and said, "I've already called the police. The police will deal with this matter. I'll take your car to the repairing factory. I'll pay you for it."

Leland narrowed his eyes and stared at Henry. He really didn't expect this guy to have this idea. Although it would cost a lot of money to repair his car, it was still better than making his construction team wait at the door all the time.

Leland gave Henry a thumbs-up and said, "Boy, you're awesome. Let me see how you will deal with things later!"

After saying that, Leland swung his arm and strode away.

"Leland, what's wrong?" Leland's two friends saw him coming over with a pale face and asked.

"It's all right." Leland shook his head with hatred in his eyes and said, "Contact a few people. When this guy opens his company, we will teach him a lesson!"

Soon, the police came over and dealt with the vehicle incident at the entrance of Henry's shop. They decided that Henry should pay for the compensation and transported the vehicle to the repairing factory for repair.

After the police's judgment was completed, Leland strode over and said to the police, "All the accessories of this car must be replaced with the original accessories. I want to find the repair factory myself!"

"All right." The police officer who was responsible for the accident nodded his head. This was the normal procedure.

Leland sneered. Just now, he called his friend who was the owner of a repair factory. When he would put the car there for repair, the whole car would be repaired. Some old hardware would be secretly disassembled first, and all the other components would be replaced with the imported ones. He would use the most expensive and the best parts! This repaired car would be even better than his old one!

A trailer came here and took away Leland's Land Rover to repair it.

Leland lay on the rocking chair at the door of the store leisurely, waiting for Henry's expression of remorse.

Over ten minutes later, Leland's phone rang all of a sudden.

"Hello, Miguel."

Miguel was a friend who owned a repair factory.

"Leland, have you bought insurance for your car?" There was a sense of anxiety in Miguel's words.

"Insurance? Why should I buy it?" Leland laughed scornfully. "It's just a waste of money. What's the matter?"

"It's done, it's done! Call the police quickly!"

"Call the police? Why?" Leland had a puzzled look on his face.

"Didn't you ask me to drive the car into the warehouse to dismantle the parts first?" Miguel said.

"That's right. You can just tear it down. When the time comes, it'll all be that guy's fault." Leland scolded.

"Leland, a group of people rushed in and stole the car!" Miguel's tone was full of sobs.

"What!" Leland jumped up from the rocking chair. "The car was robbed!"

"Yeah, Leland, what should we do now?" Miguel stamped his feet anxiously.

"D*mn it! I'll call the police, of course!" Leland shouted.

"But... but if you call the police, how could we dismantle the car?" Now, Miguel was at a loss.

"F*ck!" Leland hung up the phone directly and stared at Henry with vicious eyes. If it weren't for this guy, how could this happen to him? It was all because of him!

This time, Leland was right to blame Henry.

At the same time when Miguel called Leland, Henry received a video message on his mobile phone. It was the video of a burning Land Rover.

Henry didn't respect people like Leland at all. If it was another time, Henry would have directly sent someone to kill Leland. However, he had just met the leader of the highest level in China yesterday morning. He also planned to arrange for 300 people to come in. He still had to go easy on Leland and avoid getting into trouble.

After dealing with this matter, Henry left and went straight back to the Lins Group.

As soon as he entered the door of Sylvia's office, Henry saw Sylvia and Jenny sitting together in front of Sylvia's computer. The two women's slender eyebrows were slightly up.

"What's wrong? Why do you two fairies look so worried?" As soon as Henry entered the door, he said with a smile.

Hearing this, Jenny's face became unnaturally red for a moment.

"You came back just in time." Sylvia looked up at Henry and waved to him.

Henry walked behind the two women and looked at the computer screen. There were all kinds of complicated data on it. He understood them at a glance and asked, "What, are you two going to do some purchases?"

"These are all belonging to the Zhao's Group." Sylvia said, "Recently, I don't know what happened to the Zhao family. The stock began to decline greatly, including substantial properties. In just a few days, its assets shrank by 10%, and this situation is still going on."

Chapter 649

Zhao's Group?

Henry looked at the computer screen. The data comparison showed how miserable Zhao's Group was, but it was expected. The entire Zhao clan had been slaughtered by him. How could Zhao's Group survive?

"My dear, what do you think about this?" Henry asked, wanting to hear Sylvia's opinion.

Sylvia frowned and shook her head slightly. "I don't think it's right. Zhao's Group was born out of nowhere, and they have rich financial backing. It's very strange that they suddenly fell. However, the benefits are too big this time. Now I have joined hands with President Qin, and no company in Yinzhou can compete with us. As long as we are willing to buy it, we can definitely get 80% of their projects. As long as we run it slightly, we can earn at least one billion yuan!"

"Honey, wait a moment." Henry patted Sylvia on the shoulder. "This time, it's not that simple."

Hearing this, Sylvia's body shook. Henry's words contained a lot of other meanings. Sylvia also thought of Henry's departure a few days ago. A few days after Henry left, the Zhao's Group began to go downhill. Was it possible that this matter had something to do with Henry? If so, it was not an ordinary business battle!

Sylvia looked at Henry with an inquiring look.

Henry secretly nodded. Sylvia understood. If it involved the underground forces, no matter how big the benefits were this time, the Lins could not get in touch with it, because the consequences would be tremendous.

At this moment, somebody knocked on Sylvia's office.

"Come in." Sylvia shouted at the door.

Cathy Lee, the secretary, pushed the office door open and came in.

As soon as the secretary entered the door, she first greeted the three and then said, "Mr. Zhang, President Chow of Chows' called to ask for your opinion. About Zhao's Group..."

Henry heard this and smiled. Danny Chow was really more obedient than anyone else now. Whether he would get involved in this situation with Zhao's Group or not depended on Henry's opinion. It was obvious that if Lins wanted to take part in it, Chows' wouldn't even look at it.

Henry said to Secretary Lee, "Tell Danny that he should not get involved. This is not something any company in Yinzhou can touch, including Lins Group!"

The secretary nodded and went out without saying a word.

As soon as Secretary Lee went out, Sylvia's voice sounded. "I really didn't expect Danny to be so afraid of you. What did you do to him? He didn't even dare to call you directly. As the president of the Chows', he took the initiative to contact Secretary Lee."

"Heh heh." Henry scratched his head and smiled. "Nothing."

Sylvia rolled her eyes. She recalled the scene where Danny had admitted his fault, and she was a bit confused on that day. She didn't even know what was going on and thought that there was something fishy going on with the Chows. After all, that was an enterprise that was second only to the Family Lin in Yinzhou. Never would she have thought that her husband had gone to Danny to negotiate.

Thinking back to the time when she first met Henry, she always looked at Henry coldly, and sometimes even didn't want to look at him at all. The scenes flashed through Sylvia's mind. She also remembered that she made Henry wash her feet back then. He was actually the king of the underground. Sylvia couldn't help cover her mouth and smile, her eyes full of happiness.

In Chow's Group.

Danny listened to the words from Secretary Lee on the phone. The secretary conveyed Henry's words to Danny completely. "Secretary Lee, thank you very much. Please say hello to Mr. Zhang for me, as well as President Lin."

A young man is sitting behind Danny.

"Danny, when did you become such a coward? I remember that before I went abroad, your Chow's Group was not afraid of Lins! Now you need to ask for Lins' opinion before buying something? By the way, as the president of the Chow's company, you just need to call Sylvia Lin directly. Why do you still need to contact her secretary?"

The young man's face was full of confusion.

Danny shook his head. "You don't understand. You can't imagine how powerful the Family Lin is."

"Oh? How powerful is the Family Lin?" The young man was curious.

Danny thought for a moment and said, "Let's put it this way. If the Lins wants to destroy our company, they only need to say a word."

The young man twitched his mouth. He didn't take Danny's words seriously at all. If the Lins were really so powerful, would they still stay in the small city like Yinzhou?

The telephone on Danny's desk rang. Danny pressed a button and answered it.

"President Chow, give the order. The funds are all in place, and the thirty people are ready. As long as you give an order, we will start the purchase immediately. Now Zhao's resources are exposed to the outside world, and there are worth at least one billion. We are confident that even if the Lins Group takes part in this, we can still collect 300 million!"

Three hundred million!

Hearing this number, Danny got really very excited. He was able to accumulate 300 million in just a day. This was too easy, wasn't it? But Henry's words prevented Danny from act rashly.

Danny took a deep breath and then slowly exhaled. "Let's give up."

"Give up?" The person on the other side of the phone was shocked. "President Chow, it's a few hundred million yuan! You can't give up like this!"

The person on the other end of the line looked very anxious. Hundreds of millions of yuan? How could they give up just like that?

"Yes, give up!" Danny nodded. Mr. Zhang said that he could not get involved this time. Even the Lins Group was not allowed to touch this. Mr. Zhang must have had his own reasons.

"You can't give up!" The young man behind Danny shouted loudly. He then says to Danny: "Danny, don't be silly! The reason why the Lins said so is only because they want more profit for themselves. You're really stupid if you give up! This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity!"

"Forget it." Danny shakes his head.

"Danny, are you silly?" The young man's face was full of impatience. "Three hundred million yuan! This is not 30 million yuan, it is 300 million yuan! And it can turn into working capital. Do you know how much this is?"

"I understand." Danny nodded. What could 300 million yuan of working capital bring to Chows'? How could he not know? "But..."

"Don't say 'but'. Hurry up! Quickly!" The young man grabbed Danny's shoulders and shook him hard. "Come on, sober up. Don't be confused by the illusion of Lins Group. If they are so powerful, how can they only have ten billion in assets?"

"I..." Danny was a little moved by his words. After all, it was 300 million! If an ordinary person had so much money at one time, he would probably faint from the excitement.

"Don't worry about Danny. Let's start buying it right away!" Seeing that Danny is still hesitating, the young man immediately shouted to the phone. Now there are countless pairs of eyes staring at Zhao's Group. A second later there would be nothing left.

"Did you hear me? Let's buy it!" The young man shouted into the phone, but there was no reply from the other end of the line.
