

Chapter 654

When the group of people saw Henry, they shouted even more fiercely.

"Little chicken? Hahaha, I think he looks like it!"

"Come on, come on. Let's take some pictures and help him advertise. Let's see who will come to hire his company."

"Yes, boy. I'd like to see what you can rely on!" The fat man with a gold watch said to Henry, "He doesn't even care about my Forestics Company. I'll make you unable to survive in Yinzhou. Do you know that I only need to say a word and there would be no enterprise in the whole Yinzhou willing to pay for your services?!"

The fat man had a confident look on his face.

"Today, I'll let the word out. If anyone dares to come here and hire Collier Security in the future, he's going to get in trouble with Forestics Company!"

"We, Angel Technologies, are determined not to cooperate with this kind of people."

"The same goes for Lioness Enterprise!"

A lot of voices came out, which made many people passing by curious about what was going on with this company.

Leland sat in front of his company and kept sneering as he watched what was happening in front of Henry's company.

It was he who found these people. The purpose was to smear Henry's reputation on the first day of his business and make him unable to continue working. After such a mess, everyone would talk in the circle. Even if his security company could continue its work, it would be absolutely impossible to have any customers.

The group of people standing at the entrance of Henry's company, with pride on their faces, shouted that whoever dared to cooperate with Collier Security would not be their friends from now on and would be left alone in Yinzhou.

On this street, some other businessmen also came out and watched what was happening at the door of Henry's company as if they were watching a show.

"This guy provoked Old Tang. He should not have come to this street!" The young man who delivered a message to Leland snorted coldly.

"Ah." A slightly older man sighed and said, "I mean, it's a fate that made us open all our stores together. Harmony brings wealth in business. Aren't you afraid of getting into trouble when you make such a big noise?"

"Trouble?" The young man said with a disdainful smile, "Do you think this boy can cause trouble? Just watch, his company will never open. If I encounter such a thing, I will be too ashamed to stay here!"

The slightly older man shook his head and did not continue speaking.

The middle-aged woman next to Henry's company walked over with two flower baskets. Seeing so many people in front of Henry's company, she looked a little timid.

"Emm... young man, I just heard that you are opening today, and I wish you successful... business." When she saw so many people at the door, the middle-aged woman's voice was a little trembling.

Henry smiled and stood up from the chair. He walked to the middle-aged woman and took over the two flower baskets. "Big Sister, thank you."

"Not... Not at all..." The middle-aged woman glanced at the group of people and whispered, "Young man, do you want me to help you..."

The middle-aged woman pointed at her cell phone on which there was a number that had been entered. The meaning was very clear. If Henry needed it, she could help to call the police.

"No." Henry shook his head. "It's okay, Big Sister."

At the moment, Henry didn't care about this scene at all. Moreover, his company was not doing business.

Ernest, the fat man with a golden watch, shot a glance at the woman. "Can his business be successful? Hurry up and take your flower baskets away!"

Ernest's eyes scared the middle-aged woman. The woman stepped back unconsciously and said to Henry, "Little brother, then... then I'll go first. You're busy..."

The middle-aged woman had just left for a few steps when she heard the sound of congratulations.

"Congratulations, Mr. Zhang! Congratulations, Wish you a successful business!"

The sound of congratulations rang out. Ernest and a group of other people looked at the person who made the sound. They had just said that who dared to cooperate with Collier Security will be considered an enemy. Now someone came to congratulate them. Weren't they just making trouble for themselves?

A middle-aged man in a suit appeared in the public's sight. Seeing the man in a suit, Henry was also a little confused. There was no such person in his impression.

The middle-aged man in a suit wore a pair of glasses and held a plaque with the words "Successful Business" in his hand.

"F*ck, who are you?" Ernest asked unhappily.

"I'm from Fluke Limited." The middle-aged man in a suit answered. He held the plaque and walked to Henry. "Mr. Zhang, during the last medical exchange meeting, our boss admired your character very much. Your words, 'I hope there will be no disease in the world' aroused a great resonance of our boss. He sets you as a benchmark for his life. Although this plaque is not worth a lot, it represents a part of his mind."

Henry nodded and said, "Help me thank your boss."

When others came to give gifts, Henry had no reason not to accept them.

Henry's gratitude made the middle-aged man in a suit look happy.

"I say, what are you talking about? You don't want to work in Yinzhou, do you?" Ernest strode over. "I tell you, if anyone dares to cooperate with this kid, it means that he is going against our Forestics Company!"

"What is Forestics Company?" The middle-aged man in a suit looked puzzled. "I haven't heard of it. Is it famous?"

In fact, this Forestics Company was really well-known in Yinzhou. Its assets of nearly 100 million were above average, and the middle-aged man in the suit had also heard of it. However, compared with the Lins, the Forestics Company was too inconspicuous.

When Ernest heard the middle-aged man's words, he suddenly became furious. "Four-Eyed, do you believe that I can make your company bankrupt with a phone call?"

The middle-aged man in a suit shook his head and said, "You can have a try."

"Well, you are not giving me face, are you? Just wait!" Ernest reached out and pointed at the middle-aged man's nose, shouting.

The middle-aged man in the suit shrugged indifferently and strode away.

As soon as the middle-aged man in a suit left, there was a sound of a horn behind Ernest.

"Fu*k, a good dog doesn't block the way. Why is he standing here? Get out of my way!"

Accompanied by the sound of the trumpet, a series of shouts sounded.

The scolding sound made the group of Ernest's men who surrounded the entrance of Henry company to turn their heads in unison.

"Fk you..." Halfway through the sentence, Ernest suddenly stopped speaking because he saw that the horn was coming from a Rolls-

Royce.

"What the f*ck is going on here?" A young man poked his head out from the back seat of the Rolls-Royce.

Ernest's arrogant face immediately became respectful when he saw the young man. "It turns out to be Master Danny."
