

Chapter 664

Henry looked at the timid boy and asked, "What's your name?"

The boy replied, "Alvin Tsu."

Henry took a look at Alvin's resume and said, "We are looking for a receptionist, and the monthly salary is 3,500, can you accept it?"

"Yes, yes." Alvin nodded again and again, with a happy expression on his timid face.

"Hey! Isn't that Alvin Tsu?"

"Yes, why is he here?"

"He's our math genius. Why does he want to work as a receptionist after graduation?"

Aside, a few mocking voices sounded.

Henry looked to the side and saw a group of men and women. They were looking at Alvin with a sneer. Looking at these men and women, they were all newly graduated students.

Alvin scratched his head. "I can't find a job."

"Of course you can't. You are a bookworm. Who would want you? You are suitable to stay in school for a lifetime and become a teacher's pet, hahaha!" The students did not hide their laughter.

"Let's go. I'm relieved to see our math genius took a job with a monthly salary of 3,500." A boy waved his hand and walked to the other side. At the same time, he said, "Oh, by the way, we just passed the written exam for the Lins Group. If there is no problem, we may work in the Lins Group in the future. Tut tut tut, the internship salary is 3,500, and there are benefits and insurance. The future is limitless, unlike for some people..."

Alvin lowered his head and said nothing when he heard their words.

Henry took out a questionnaire and a pen. He placed them in front of Alvin and said, "Here, fill this in. If there's no problem, you'll be hired."

Alvin took a look at the questionnaire taken out by Henry. Without thinking, he filled it out.

Henry looked at Alvin's movements, and the smile on his mouth became bigger and bigger.

On Alvin's resume, although he was a postgraduate, it was also very clear that Alvin's grades, except for the full marks of mathematics, were not great. This was a big difference between the grades. However, Alvin's mathematical talent was too good, so the school broke the rules and let him study and get his master's degree.

The talent Henry needed was precisely like Alvin. In one aspect, he was a genius who was far more talented than ordinary people.

In Henry's opinion, a person's education degree could not determine a person's accomplishments, but it could determine his foresight of looking at things, as well as his logical thinking.

This was also the reason why Henry needed a postgraduate. Similarly, he also needed to find a person who was particularly good at one thing. Only such a person could match Henry and this Collier Security Branch.

There was no fixed answer or a satisfactory answer in Henry's questionnaire. What he looking for was not what Alvin would answer, but how Alvin was. Was Alvin's attitude when answering these decisive questions hesitant or decisive? What Henry wanted was the latter. It just so happened that Alvin didn't show indecisiveness.

As for the salary of 3,500, it was a special division point made by Henry and also a division line for screening. The person who could choose Henry's monthly salary of 3,500 among graduate students was very clear about what he needed most now, just like Alvin. He was very clear that he only needed a job now, and what he needed later was something to be considered after he got this job.

As for the rest, before they received a job, they would first consider what would be brought to them by this job, and what kind of promotion it would bring.

There were no problems with these two methods. To be honest, the second method was more correct, but Henry needed the first one.

When a person understood what he wanted at the moment and had decisive decision-making ability, and at the same time, he had a great achievement in a particular area, his future would be unpredictable. All he needed was a good platform.

It just so happened that Henry could provide such a platform.

Soon, Alvin filled out Henry's questionnaire and waited for the result.

Henry did not even glance at the paper. He said directly, "You're accepted. Come with me."

Hearing this, Alvin's eyes were full of excitement, and he followed Henry.

Henry went straight to the recruitment stand of the Lins Group with Alvin.

The people who had just taunted Alvin all stood there. Each of them took a form with their faces full of excitement, sitting on the desk and filling it up.

When they saw Alvin coming this way, all of them looked at him.

"Looks like our math genius has been employed."

"Tut, tut, I was thinking about what kind of job the genius could find today. In the end, he became a receptionist. Is 3,500 yuan enough for a living?"

"It's okay if they don't pay much, but how can somebody be a receptionist? He should be a receptionist for his whole life!"

Various kinds of voices could be heard, full of ridicule.

Alvin followed Henry without saying a word, turning a blind eye to these taunting voices.

Henry also automatically blocked the ridicule of those people. He waved to the HR manager of the Lins Group and said, "Manager Chen, come here."

Manager Chen immediately ran over and said, "Mr. Zhang, how can I help?"

"This is Alvin Tsu. Help me arrange the paperwork for his employment. In my company, a monthly salary of 3,500 yuan. Oh right..." Henry suddenly turned around and looked at Alvin. "Where do you live?"

"Tweeract Garden." Alvin said the name of the community.

Henry thought for a moment and remembered where the community was. It was still far from the company. He asked again, "Can you drive?"

Alvin nodded and said, "Yes, I can."

Henry waved to Manager Chen and said, "Then give him a car and 800 yuan for topping up every month, that's all."

"Okay." Manager Chen nodded and walked to Alvin. "Mr. Tsu, please come here."

The people who sneered at Alvin just now were sitting aside with their mouths wide open. Just now, they all saw Henry's recruitment table. At that time, they were thinking that this person must be a madman, a fool. He offered the salary of 3,500 to recruit a graduate student as a receptionist. They didn't even bother to look at Henry. But they didn't expect that this person was from the Lins Group! Besides, looking at the way he gave orders to the HR manager, he should have a high position.

A student couldn't help but ask the Lins' employee next to him, "Brother, who is he? Why does Manager Chen listen to him?"

Lins' staff replied, "That's Mr. Zhang, the husband of President Lin. Although Mr. Zhang has not been in the company for a long time, President Lin usually listens to him before making a decision. So you should pay attention to him when you are in the company in the future."

Chapter 665

Listening to the words of the Lins' employee, Alvin's classmates all opened their eyes wide. They never thought that Henry, who sat in the corner and recruited people, who was called an idiot by them, had such a high status. If they had known it before, they would have applied for that job. This job would directly provide them with the treatment of the Lins Group, and they would also get a car. The most important thing was that the job was not an ordinary job, but the assistant of Mr. Zhang. There was absolutely a bright future for Alvin.

A group of people, who had the same postgraduate education as Alvin, were so regretful at this moment. Why didn't they just go and ask about this job?

What they didn't know was that even if they asked, they wouldn't be chosen by Henry.

Henry needed some talented people. Obviously, they were not.

After Alvin finished the paperwork, Henry walked out of the exhibition centre with Alvin and went to his company. On the way, Henry told Alvin about his work, such as taking on some tasks and maintaining the five-star grading. At the same time, Henry also showed Alvin the grade requirement that Anna had sent him.

The ranking was divided into five stars. As a five-star security company, Collier Security had to take at least twelve five-star tasks every year and twenty-four four-star tasks. This kind of tasks had no fixed grading method. After running through the system, the score would be unified.

In general, it was meant as a barrier for some fake companies in the security industry.

Henry found that Alvin had a very thorough understanding of the grading. His talent in mathematics made his logical thinking far better than ordinary people.

In this way, Henry was completely relieved. With Alvin in the company, he didn't have to worry too much about selecting tasks. Collier Security could run completely independently.

Now, Henry had arranged for three hundred people to protect Sylvia and the others in a fair and aboveboard way. He could also do other things with peace of mind, such as investigating Noble Berserkers!

At six o'clock in the afternoon, Henry walked home. On the way, he received a phone call from Sylvia.

"Hubby, there's something wrong. Come to Club Paragon." There was a hint of anxiety in Sylvia's voice.

"I'll be there right away."

Club Paragon was considered a top-level private club in Yinzhou. It was divided into three floors. The first floor and the second floor were open to the public, and the third floor could only be visited by people with a certain identity.

The whole club was decorated magnificently. The membership system was implemented here. If someone wanted to spend money here, he or she would need to pay 150,000 yuan for just one year's membership, which was not enough to cover the rest of the expenses.

When Henry came to Club Paragon, luxury cars were parked in the parking lot in front of the gate.

The vermilion gate gave off a sense of wealth and vigour.

Henry came to the door of the club, and secretary Cathy was already waiting at the door. Otherwise, Henry would not be able to come due to the membership system.

"What's wrong with Sylvia?" Henry asked as soon as he saw Secretary Lee.

The secretary shook her head. "It's about Jessica. Today, we are holding a press conference, she..."

Before the secretary finished her words, she heard Sylvia's voice coming from the club. "Is Henry here?"

As soon as the voice fell, the anxious Sylvia appeared in Henry's eyes.

Henry waved to Sylvia and said, "Honey, what's wrong? Did Jessica behave irrationally again?"

"Let's talk as we walk." Sylvia stepped forward, took Henry's arm, and walked to the clubhouse. "Jessica acted in one TV series before, playing a doctor role. When the reporter interviewed her, she said that she had medical skills, and then..."

Henry raised his eyebrows. "Then the reporter asked a question, but she couldn't answer it?"

"Mmm." Sylvia pursed her lips, nodded and replied, "You know, reporters. They are very sensitive to the topic. Now they are all focused on the topics about Jessica's medical skills."

Henry curled his lips and thought, "This woman is really good at making trouble."

Following Sylvia, they came all the way to the third floor of the club. At the door of the third floor, there were countless reporters around with microphones and cameras in their hands.

Henry looked around and did not see any sign of Jessica.

The reporters rushed to the camera and said, "Jessica Shang, the popular star, will show that she has medical skills, and she really played the role of the surgeon. Later, Jessica will show her skills in front of everyone. Please wait."

Reporters, one after another started recording and broadcasting.

Sylvia walked in from the back door of the third floor with Henry.

The private area of the third floor of the club was extremely private. It was divided into compartments. At this moment, as soon as Henry entered the lobby of the third floor, he heard the scolding of Jessica in the temporary dressing room and the voice of the PR manager of the Lins' Group.

"Madam Shang, don't worry, let's settle this matter as soon as possible."

"Settle? How to settle it?" Jessica pointed at the PR manager and shouted, "I really don't get it. How do you do public relations? What should the journalists ask? What shouldn't they ask? Didn't you arrange it well? Huh?"

Who let them ask those questions?"

"But Miss Shang, you suddenly said that you have medical skills. This is not something we..."

"Do I need you to say what I am going to do?!" Jessica's angry voice sounded, "Now, it's you who has to figure out how to deal with this. Do not ask me why I say these words! Are you all good-for-nothing?"

Numerous curses came into Henry's ears. Henry frowned. Jessica's temper was really bad. He pushed the door of the dressing room open and entered. He saw Jessica lying on a lounge chair, with two young girls standing behind her and massaging her shoulders.

The PR of Lins Group stood in front of Jessica with their heads down.

"What's the matter?" Henry asked loudly.

"Where did you come from?" When Jessica saw Henry, she immediately sat up from the chair and said, "Where is the boss of your Lins Group? Didn't I say to fire this driver? Why is he still here?"

The public relations team of Lins' Group looked at each other in confusion.

Sylvia, who followed Henry into the room, also frowned slightly and said, "It's not up to you to decide what our company will do. Let's talk about the problem now and talk about how to deal with it."

"How?" Jessica's face was full of anger. "Your Lins Group is so useless that you ask me how to deal with it? I don't care. This time, your Lins Group will solve it for me. It's up to you how you will deal with the media. I only want the result!"

"Secretary Lee!" Henry shouted, "Go to the media and tell them that Jessica deliberately said that she had medical skills for the sake of drawing attention. In fact, she knows nothing. Go!"

"How dare you?!" Katie, who was behind Jessica, took a quick step forward.
