

Chapter 754

In a vast sea area.

Led by dozens of devolving warships, an island slowly drifted to the east of the Atlantic Ocean.

The people on the island had already ended their feast, and everyone was busy with their own affairs.

Henry and Future stayed in the laboratory. Future had not figured out all the components of the mysterious metal left by Cesia until this day.

Henry also handed the scroll he took in Shen's cave to Future. He wanted Future to study it and see what strange things were in the booklet.

Felix strode into the lab and said, "Boss, I've bought the land you asked me to buy."

Henry nodded and said, "Okay. Please contact another construction team. I want to build something there."

"No problem." Felix sent a message on the spot and then said doubtfully, "Boss, I don't understand why you bought the entire Sosasmo Desert? It's a place where birds don't even dare to land. The sand there is rusted and rich in iron ores. Anyone who steps on it will die."

Henry said with a mysterious smile, "You'll know when the time comes. Anyway, it will be our base for a long time in the future."

Felix shrugged his shoulders. Although he didn't know what Henry's purpose was, he would unconditionally obey whatever Henry said.

After a while, Valentine came in. "Boss, during this period of time, the news has been collected. The whole underground world of China is in chaos. The heads of the three clans and the Qi-controlling masters have all been dug out from under the mountain rocks. The rumours outside say that we have all died."

"Let them spread those rumours," Henry said, "Now, we have other things to do. In the current situation, whoever stands out, the Recluse Association will look for him, and they will also be targeted by the hidden clans. Tell everyone to be careful when they are outside."

"Understood." Valentin nodded.

Henry looked at Future and asked, "Is the power ready?"

"Yes." Future nodded. "A total of six Fire Crystals can be used to extract energy at any time. The total amount of energy is higher than that of ten nuclear power plants. It's absolutely enough."

"Use the energy of Fire Crystals?" Felix was stunned for a moment.

"Boss, what are you doing?"

Henry smiled slightly and said, "Of course, we are moving."

"We are moving?" Felix and Valentin were both completely confused.

At this moment, a blast of the horn came from outside the lab.

Henry quickly walked out of the lab, and the three people followed him.

They saw that all the people on the island had gathered in the square, and each of them was tied with a tough cloth rope. The two ends of the cloth rope were tied to long nails. Now everyone was nailing the long nails into the ground.

Sea God ran up to them in big strides and said, "Boss, we're close to Africa."

"Okay, tell everyone to get ready." Henry waved his hand.

Sea God nodded immediately, picked up the horn and blew it, shouting, "Everyone, get ready."

Valentin and Felix were both confused. They didn't know what was going on.

"You two have been outside for two days. You still don't know our boss' plan, do you?" Moon Goddess came over and covered her mouth with a chuckle.

"What's the plan?" Valentin and Felix asked at the same time.

"Hmmm..." Moon Goddess muttered to herself for a moment. "Boss calls it moving, but I gave it another name. I call it the Flying Plan."

"The Flying Plan?" Felix murmured the words. Before he could even think about it, he felt a violent vibration from beneath his feet. The island was surrounded by tall city walls. Nothing could be seen, but Felix could feel that at this moment, he was getting closer and closer to the sky.

Violent tremors were transmitted throughout the entire island. Some of the houses that were not firm had collapsed. Fortunately, everyone had already taken out all the things from the houses.

Felix only felt a wave on his hand. It was difficult for him to stand firm.

"Plop! Plop! Plop!" A loud noise came from below.

At this moment, Felix clearly sensed that he was definitely right. He was ascending into the sky.

There was a continuous "plop" sound under the feet, and the sound of huge rocks constantly falling into the sea. The island surface tilted slightly, and the people who had been fastened to the ground were almost unaffected.

Felix's body was balanced, but he couldn't control it and fell to the side.

Henry reached out his hand and grabbed Felix.

Felix's eyes widened. "Boss, you're talking about moving the whole island, aren't you? You want to move the island to the desert you asked me to buy, don't you?"

"Smart." Henry snapped his fingers.

The island was slowly rising from the sea surface. At the bottom of the island, there were countless porters. Every second of operation consumed a huge amount of energy, but this energy was not worth mentioning compared with the energy contained in the six Fire Crystal.

At first, the island was a little tilted, but after more than ten minutes of the adjustment, it became smooth and began to rise.

At the same time, a large amount of fog erupted from the walls around the island. The dense fog gathered in the air, completely covering the entire island of light. As Radiant Island rose higher and higher, the fog was like a cloud floating in the sky in the eyes of ordinary people. No one knew that in the cloud, there was an island slowly moving in the air.

To activate this kind of "air fortress" was not a very difficult skill. Most countries had mastered it, but no one would do it like Radiant Island. After all, the value of energy was too high. Only extremely rich institutions like Radiant Island could do this kind of thing.

Radiant Island had an anti-radar system, which made it impossible for common communicative radars to detect its existence.

In this way, after Radiant Island rose above the sea, it hid in the clouds and went in the direction of Sosasmo desert.

Radiant Island's relocation was not very fast, about ten times slower than a plane. After all, it was problematic moving the island, given how large the island was. They didn't dare to fly too fast, and the power of all kinds of machines had to be maintained. Otherwise, if the island were to really fall from the sky, it would be impossible to calculate how many people would survive and how many casualties would be on the ground, not to mention casualties on the island.

Future would run back and forth on the island almost every day and deal with the machines' problem. When people on the island adapted to flying slowly, they all started practising the Qi.

Ten days passed in a flash.

It was the middle of November in China and people had taken out their sweaters.

Chapter 755

After the national holiday in China, people got back to work. At 8 o'clock in the morning, there was a lot of traffic on the streets of Yinzhou.

A purple Maserati stopped at the traffic light.

"Haven't you contacted Henry yet? When will your conflict end?" Jenny asked, holding Lisa in her arms and sitting in the back seat of the car.

"I am too busy with the company's affairs, and I don't have time to think about this for the time being. I may have to go on a business trip soon." Sylvia, who was driving, said without turning back.

Jenny sighed. "There are too many misunderstandings between you two. There is no need to do such a thing. You should sit down and have a talk."

"I guess we'll have a chance," Sylvia muttered and tilted her head slightly. As she looked out of the window, her eyes unconsciously turned red. "When will this chance appear? Nine years later? Things are changing, and things are different now."

Jenny saw that Sylvia no longer spoke and thought that she was still angry with Henry. Regarding what had happened to Henry, Sylvia was afraid that Jenny couldn't accept it, so she didn't dare to say anything. After all, Jenny's mental state had just improved not long ago. If she was stimulated again, it was very likely that something would go wrong.

Recently, Sylvia often went on business trips. Although she had already handed down the work of Lins Group, she was not in the company often. Many decisions couldn't be made directly. Therefore, the company didn't operate very well during this period of time. When swimming against the current, one needed to keep going, otherwise, he would be washed away.

Sylvia sat in her office and was checking the documents that had been piling up during this period of time. Within a month, the new Spring residential home had already begun to take shape. In a few more months, the children would be able to live there. After all, under the control of a large enterprise like Lin's group, it wouldn't take too much time to build a new Spring residential home.

There was a knock on the office door. Cathy, the secretary, pushed the door open and came in. Secretary Lee held a leather envelope in her hand. "President Lin, someone has sent this for you."

Sylvia took the envelope and opened it. Inside the envelope, there was a red wage. There was one golden word printed on the cover of the envelope.

Invitation!

Sylvia opened it. The invitation was from the Zhu clan. The content was very simple. The Zhu clan's leader wanted to marry Sylvia.

As soon as she finished reading this invitation, Sylvia received a call from Victor.

"The new patriarch of the Su Clan asked you to come back. He said... he said something about the marriage and asked for your opinion." Victor's voice on the other side of the phone sounded very unnatural.

Recently, Sylvia had come into contact with a lot of matters regarding the underground forces. She immediately knew that there was definitely someone next to Victor.

Sylvia opened her mouth and asked, "Is he asking for my opinion? I'm afraid that I won't be able to go back soon."

As soon as Sylvia's voice fell, she heard a strange voice coming from the other end of the phone.

"Sylvia Lin, are you sure you want to be in this hard way? If you don't come back on your own, I have more than a hundred ways to make you come back. Think about yourself and don't challenge my patience."

"Ha." Sylvia smiled and said, "Don't be so nervous. Tell the Zhu clan that I accept this marriage. When will it be?"

"Mid-January. I'll give you three days to come back." After saying that, he hung up the phone directly.

"Mid-January..." Sylvia's expression did not change much. She knew that this was just a transaction, a transaction between the Su and Zhu clan. It was also her own deal with the Zhu clan.

Sylvia put the invitation away and said to Cathy, "I have to go on a business trip for a while. During this time, all the company's projects should continue as usual. There is no need to start a new project. Just wait for me to come back."

"Understood." Cathy nodded.

Sylvia put down the documents in her hand, took the invitation, and got up directly. She said goodbye to Jenny and Lisa, and left the company.

Sitting in Jenny's office, looking at Sylvia's back, Lisa opened her eyes wide and asked curiously, "Mom Jenny, what's wrong with Mom Sylvia? I feel that she is very unhappy, and dad hasn't been back for a long time."

"They are very busy." Jenny didn't know how to explain the situation to Lisa. "By the way, didn't you say that you miss your little friends? I can take you to play with your friend in the afternoon."

"Yes." Lisa nodded her head vigorously.

Jenny looked at Lisa who sat there and laughed foolishly. She sighed. Children at this age were just a piece of blank paper. They didn't have complicated thoughts like adults. Happiness would be reflected on their face, and unhappiness would also be displayed on their face.

In a villa in Luxury Village of Yinzhou, a wooden pavilion was placed in the centre of the courtyard. This pavilion was moved all the way here. It could be seen that the wooden pavilion had been through a lot. At least it had been present for more than ten years. It was very puzzling why the people living here would move this pavilion here.

Far away from China, in Sosasmo desert which was also known as a "dead-end". It was a huge uninhabited area. When Felix bought this place, the local government imposed a ban that no one was allowed to approach it.

After all, someone paid a lot to buy such a forbidden area of desert. The people from Africa were so happy, but they were also afraid that the financier would go back on his word. To put it bluntly, in the eyes of the African people, buying this desert was equal to wasting money.

There were not many valuable things here. What everyone valued most were ores. And this land did have some ores.

A huge island slowly descended from the sky and landed above the desert.

With a "boom", the ground under people's feet trembled, and the island and the desert connected. The quicksand that had not stopped for a moment became still because of the colossus that suddenly appeared.

"Future, you need to immediately research the sand here and think of a way to extract the various substances contained in it. At the very least, you need to make sure people could step on it wearing shoes."

"Felix, make arrangements immediately. No matter how much it costs, I'm going to turn this place into a place where people can live. I'll give you a blueprint later. You can arrange for someone to see how deep the sand here is."

"Valentin, inform everyone that from today onwards, this place will become our base."

Henry gave orders one by one.

Although Felix and the others didn't know what Henry was going to do, they still obeyed him unconditionally.

"Boss, the base will be here?" Wade asked in confusion. He looked up at the dazzling sun and said, "Is there anything worthy here for our family?"

The city wall around Radiant Island slowly fell down, allowing everyone to see the endless desert.

Henry looked to the near distance and said, "There's a natural barrier that will keep us safe."

Chapter 756

As the head of the underground forces in the world, the influence of Radiant Island was not only visible in the underground world, but it also had an extremely high status in the society of every country.

As soon as Felix made a phone call, he immediately arranged for a construction "Group" to fly to Sosasmo desert and rebuild the whole desert. Future also took some sand as a sample and started to examine it.

A few hours later, the construction "Group" that Felix arranged arrived at the border of Sosasmo desert. There was a total of several thousand people. This construction team didn't know who the people on the island were. They only knew that the one that called them was a large financial group behind Felix, a large financial group that was as rich as a country.

As for the reconstruction of the entire desert, it had to begin from the very edge.

Future provided Felix with the method of processing sand. It only took Future a few hours to investigate the sand and find a solution.

Everyone thought that Radiant Island had been completely destroyed, but what they didn't realize was that deep within the desert, Radiant Island was building a brand new foundation.

How fast could the construction team of thousands of people remodel an area?

In Felix's opinion, the number of people was not even enough. They needed more people, and for Felix, money was not the problem. His money source was simply endless. To put it bluntly, even if Felix bought a limited edition supercar every second, his spending speed would not be as fast as the speed of his family earning the money.

All kinds of large mechanical equipment were transported to the edge of the desert by planes.

Henry took a glass of juice and laid leisurely on the edge of the island, looking at the changing desert under various large-scale mechanical equipment in the distance. Almost every hour, the things in front of him would change a lot.

"Boss, what are you going to do next?" Wade sat down beside Henry and asked.

"Wait." Henry replied with one word.

"Wait?" Wade didn't understand.

Henry took a deep breath of the iced watermelon juice in his hand and said, "For an opportunity to enter the Recluse Association. The Recluse Association will arrange for the new prison guard to come here. The previous guard died half a month ago, so they will arrange for people to come and check this place out. What do you think their reaction will be when they see that I have come out of the prison that no one managed to escape from before?"

Wade did not even think about it before replying, "They will take you back for interrogation."

"Yes." Henry nodded.

Wade said with some worry, "Boss, I heard from my father that the Recluse Association is not kind-hearted. If they really want to take you back for interrogation..."

Henry smiled and said, "It's an interrogation. But whether it is torture or sugarcoated bullets, the initiative has always been in the hands of the interrogators, isn't it? If I want to say it, then I will say it. If I don't want to say it, then they will have to listen to what I want to say."

Wade was stunned for a moment, but immediately reacted and understood Henry's meaning.

If the Recluse Association took Henry back for interrogation, then the question should be how Henry got out of the cage. Henry could say anything about that place. Even if he said that there was a five-clawed golden dragon in the cage, who would dare to go and check? Would someone dare to take the risk of never coming out of the cage?

"Boss, you want to use the Recluse Association..." In the middle of the sentence, Wade suddenly stopped and widened his eyes. "Boss, you said that the prison guard would come here. Is the cage here?"

"It is." Henry stretched out his hand and pointed to a place not far away. There was a desert area, which had been marked as a restricted area by Henry. No one was allowed to enter. As long as someone stepped on the restricted area, he or she would sink immediately. Those who had reached the Qi-controlling realm would go down, and they might not be able to come out for the rest of their lives.

"That's the cage?" Wade's face was full of doubt. It was clear that he didn't expect that there would be some heavenly passage beneath this yellow sand.

Henry put the iced watermelon juice aside and stretched himself. He made a carp flip and stood up. Then he suddenly jumped over 20 metres in the air.

Henry's hands grasped the void, and two dark golden energy balls appeared in Henry's hands. Henry threw the energy balls toward the sand with force.

The two energy balls collided with sand, raising up a large amount of dust. The quicksand began to frantically gather toward the centre and gradually formed a quicksand vortex. This quicksand vortex had a radius of ten meters. If a person was swept into it, he or she could not get out unless he or she was in the Transformation realm and was able to walk in the air.

As the quicksand vortex travelled, quicksand around the vortex quickly gathered toward the centre. Soon after, an enormous black pit appeared in front of Wade. Even Future, Moon Goddess, and the rest of the people could see it clearly.

Just when everyone was still wondering what was in the pit, they heard a voice coming from the deep pit. The sound was like the ringing of a bell, and it made people's hearts tremble just by listening to it.

"Which Punishment Messenger dares to come here again? Come down and have a drink."

Dark clouds gathered in the sky. A big black hand, at least 20 metres long, stretched out from the clouds and went straight to Henry.

At the sight of this giant hand, Wade and the others felt helpless.

"Boss, watch out!" Wade shouted anxiously. Holding his machete, he waved a ray of light and went straight toward the black hand. But before the blade could get close to the hand, it dissipated in the air.

The enormous hand pressed down from the sky above everyone's heads, producing a pressure that made it difficult for those who were already in the Qi-controlling realm to breathe. Everyone's faces looked as if they were facing a great enemy.

At this moment, Henry laughed and said, "Silas, I'm here to talk about the old days."

As soon as Henry's voice sounded, the dark clouds in the sky suddenly dissipated, and the big hand that made everyone unable to breathe disappeared. Silas's voice came from the bottom of the desert. "Haha, kid, are you addicted to playing with us old people? Come down quickly and tell us your results."

Henry responded. He plunged into quicksand and disappeared in front of everyone.

When Henry sank into the quicksand, the huge quicksand vortex calmed down, and the sun was again shining brightly. However, many people felt cold sweat on their backs. The pressure given by that big hand was too strong.

Wade stared at the place where quicksand vortex appeared and swallowed. He turned around and looked around at some islanders who were closest to him. He could clearly see the fear on their faces, but in their eyes, there was a look of surprise.

Wade immediately understood why Henry was doing this. First, he wanted to remind everyone that the restricted area was truly dangerous. Second, he wanted to display his power.

Recently, news about Radiant Island had spread all over the world saying that Henry had disappeared for another month. Although he had returned safely, the people on the island no longer had the confidence that they had before. Now that Henry had a direct conversation with such an extremely powerful person, the people on the island regained their previous state of mind and knew that Radiant Island was still invincible.

 Watch Ads to Get 15 Vouchers

Chapter 757

Late into the night, the construction team that Felix brought over was still working. They were divided into groups that could carry out non-stop construction for twenty-four hours, ensuring that they could complete this desert task as quickly as possible, as well as guarantee the quality of their work.

A figure emerged from the quicksands beside the island. Henry strode out from the quicksand.

Late at night, the desert was not as dry and hot as it was in the daytime. There was no cloud throughout the night. The ground was full of radiation and the heat dissipation was fast. Henry felt that the temperature of the air was about 12 degrees Celsius, which was a bit chilly.

When they arrived at an unfamiliar place for the first time, the people on the island would not sleep completely. Some people were patrolling the edge of the island. When they saw Henry, they all greeted him.

Henry nodded and drove a type of off-road vehicle to the edge of the desert.

If one wanted to transform a desert, the biggest difficulty was not only the endless sand, but also the supply of soil and the lack of rain. In general, even if there was a large amount of money to support the project, it was not possible to transform it into a suitable area for living in just 24 hours.

Fortunately, Radiant Island had come to the desert in one piece. The density of soil on the island was very high, enough for the islanders to grow some vegetation. By the time the nutrients of the island's soil had been exhausted, the transformation of the area surrounding the island would be completed.

Henry's off-road vehicle, which had been modified by Future, had an excellent performance. It was no less efficient than those sports cars. Henry stepped on the gas and soon arrived where the construction team was.

As soon as he arrived, Henry found that there was something wrong. The construction team was more than ten kilometres away from the island.

There was a myth about clairvoyants, but those who had carefully thought about it would find that it was not a myth, but an ability that everyone possessed. Normally, the farthest distance that human eyes could see was not limited. At night, people could see the stars thousands of solar years away, but when they looked straight in the desert, their vision would be severely hindered. However, when Henry was on the island, he could clearly see the working progress of the construction team.

Henry came to the conclusion that there was only one reason for this. Not only did Qi change the strength of his body, but it also strengthened his eyesight, which allowed him to see more clearly.

The improvement that the Qi could bring to the people was not only manifested in the little things on the surface, but it also had some magical effects. They had not been discovered yet.

Henry looked at the progress of the project. As long as the construction here was completed, Henry would be able to transform this into a fortress. As long as he broke the seal of the upper layer of the quicksand, Silas would be able to launch a short-distance attack.

Henry couldn't imagine how strong Silas was. He believed that even if Silas was locked in the Hell Prison and he could only use temporary Qi, the power that would be formed at the moment of breaking the seal would be so strong that even Henry would not be able to resist it.

With Silas guarding here, Henry did not have any worries about safety when he would have to go to deal with other things. Now the most important thing was to solve the problem of the Recluse Association. Once this matter was solved, he could go to Sylvia and the others. At that time, even if the clans were to appear together, even if the world was in chaos, this place would become the toughest fortress.

During this period, Henry had been considering things about the future.

Just as Henry was still thinking about these questions, a violent explosion sounded from not far away.

At the same time, the ground was shaking.

"The self-propelled bomb!" Henry's face changed. Although the warlords had ruled Africa, the whole situation had almost been stabilized by him many years ago.

The year when the revolution started, more than a dozen mercenaries belonging to Radiant Island were fighting to the death with the King Region's mercenary group. The battle finally ended with the victory of Radiant Island.

But now, how could there be such a strong weapon?

There was an expanse of fiery light at the place where the explosion sounded. The intermittent shouts of war sounded from the distance.

The people who were working on various mechanical equipment had experience in this aspect. They had done it more than once in Africa.

Almost at the same time, all of them stopped working and found the safest place to hide.

Henry looked into the distance and narrowed his eyes. Suddenly, his new mobile phone rang, and the call was from Wade.

"Boss, something happened at the construction site." As soon as he picked up the phone, Wade's anxious voice sounded.

Henry looked in the direction of the island and saw clearly that many people were coming towards him.

Henry immediately said, "I'm at the construction site. I will go out and have a look. You arrange things here."

"Understood." Wade responded.

Henry hung up the phone and quickly rushed toward the direction of the rocket.

Due to the special geographical position and climate of this area, the terrain of this area was extremely strange.

It was a desert, but before one knew it, he would enter a jungle that spread over a few kilometres.

Before, Sosasmo desert was an adventure point, and this jungle had also been taken care of, so it wouldn't make people lose their way.

However, when Henry arrived, the whole jungle was already in a mess, and the broken wood was burned. Some trees were already on fire because of the dry climate.

Not far away, words spoken in English passed into Henry's ears.

"Let's blow them up! Kill all these Chinese!"

Only by this accent, Henry could tell that these words were spoken by the black people who lived there.

"Hurry up, dodge. Don't fight them head-on. Something is wrong. They have heavy weapons!" An urgent shout sounded. The words were spoken standard Mandarin, and the voice was about 20 meters away from Henry.

Henry frowned. How could people from China come here? The range of the heat should not be here.

While Henry was thinking, a bomb accurately landed beside Henry's feet.

At the moment when the bomb fell, Henry rushed out and formed a thick wall of Qi around him to resist the impact of the bomb.

The bomb smashed the Qi wall, and Henry also fell to the ground. His clothes were covered with dirt.

Although his Qi was powerful, it was still weak when facing this heavy weapon. According to the intensity of the explosion, Henry knew that if he wanted to completely offset the impact of the explosion, he would have to be twice as strong at least.

Henry got up and as soon as he looked up, he saw a graceful figure running past him.

"Helen!" Henry exclaimed in a low voice.

Hearing this, the person who was dodging was suddenly stunned. She looked back at Henry and asked, "Why are you here?"

 Watch Ads to Get 15 Vouchers