

Chapter 815

Winter in Yinzhou always seemed to be a torture.

Everyone was accustomed to the heat inside their houses. When they went out of the door, they felt that their bodies would freeze.

The pedestrians on the street were in a hurry, because they didn't want to be frozen due to such weather.

Holding his mobile phone, Henry walked on the sidewalk, giving orders one by one on his mobile phone.

Even if all the people in the underground world of China had surrendered to him, it was still not peaceful for the whole world.

Regarding the Recluse Association, there were still many things waiting for Henry to deal with. Whether it was good or bad, even Henry himself was not sure. At that time, in the Zhu clan, Henry asked forces to come and surrender to him. It was nothing more than to give Sylvia a reassurance.

The agreement between Henry and Sackcloth visitor was valid for two months.

Sackcloth Visitor helped Henry delay things two months. Two months later, Henry would leave for the headquarters of the Recluse Association.

During the past two months, Henry didn't do anything else because he wanted to spend some time with Sylvia.

Henry knew very well that he had been quiet for so long and now returned with such a high attitude, naturally, he would touch on many people's interests.

The hidden clans, the Recluse Association, and the mysterious origins of the Noble Berserkers were all problems he had to deal with.

However, Henry was very optimistic now. He planned to deal with these problems after two months. In these two months, he would live the life he wanted and stay with Sylvia.

Henry walked to a street between Lins Group and Luxury Village. Here, he opened a branch office of Collier Security Company. He started this company because he wanted to find an excuse to bring someone to Yinzhou to protect Sylvia. However, the company had just opened and there were all kinds of things to do. After Henry recruited a receptionist, he never came again.

When Henry arrived at the door of the company, he saw two middle-aged people walking out while swearing. They were a man and a woman. Judging by their appearance, they should be husband and wife.

Henry didn't deliberately listen to it, but his keen hearing still captured some sounds from the two groups of people.

"It's really a garbage company, and it works as a security company. They don't even dare to take such a simple task."

"Right. I'm really speechless after sending a message to my friends."

A man and a woman drove away in a Benz worth millions of yuan.

Henry came to the door of the company. Through the glass door, he could clearly see that the young man he had recruited was sitting behind a wooden table, staring at a laptop.

Henry pushed the door open and walked in.

"Mr. Zhang!" When Alvin saw Henry, he immediately put down what he was doing and stood up, his face full of excitement.

Since Henry recruited him last time, he hadn't seen him for several months. If Alvin hadn't known Henry's identity in Lins Group, and if his monthly salary hadn't been sent to Alvin's bank card, he might have suspected that he had been cheated. He had never seen a company's boss disappear for a few months.

Henry nodded and walked behind Alvin. Looking at the computer in front of Alvin, he said, "It seems that you're doing a good job. What happened to the two people just now?"

Alvin answered, "They were here to look for a bodyguard, but the task was too easy. I refused."

"Oh? How did you tell them?" Henry was a little curious. When the two people left just now, they were cursing.

"I said that we couldn't take this task. We don't have that ability." Alvin's expression was extremely calm. It was clear that he also said quite a bit.

Hearing Alvin's answer, Henry's face was filled with approval.

It was easy to answer, but everyone had vanity. Generally, when they encountered a mission they didn't want to accept, they would say some polite words. However, the fact that Alvin was able to say this so easily showed that he had let go of all the vanity. He only thought about the tasks and regulations that Henry gave him.

"Is there any mission that has been completed recently?" Henry asked again.

"Yes." Alvin nodded. "We have completed a few of them. They can be counted for the security grading."

"Very good, our..." Henry said. He intended to tell Alvin that the security company could be closed and that Alvin would get a position in Lins Group. After all, the enemies Henry was facing were the clans, the Recluse Association, and the Nobel Berserkers. Even the Qi-controlling masters were not enough to be placed as security guards. Ordinary Reapers could no longer protect Sylvia. Instead of wasting time here, it was better to send them out to improve their strength.

As a result, Henry received a phone call from Sylvia when he was just halfway through his sentence.

"Honey, is there anyone in your security company?"

"Yes." Henry replied without thinking. Those hundreds of Reapers had been waiting for him in Yinzhou all the time.

"Honey, why don't you come to the company now? I need you to do something for me."

"Okay." Henry answered, hung up the phone, praised Alvin for a good job, and strode away.

More than ten minutes later, Henry appeared on the top floor of Lins Group and walked toward Sylvia's office.

"Mr. Zhang, after you come back, President Lin's working style is different." Cathy, the secretary, said when she saw Henry at the elevator entrance.

"Really?" Henry asked curiously.

"Yes. I have worked as President Lin's secretary for so many years. How can I not know her? Some time ago when you were not there, from the time when President Lin came to the company to when she got off work, no matter how big the project was, she never smiled. But today..." Secretary Lee turned her head and looked at Sylvia's half-transparent office door. "Today, from the moment President Lin entered the office, the smile on her face couldn't be concealed. She only shows this kind of look when she is really happy physically and mentally."

At this moment, the door of Sylvia's office was opened from the inside. The corner of the woman's mouth was lifted and there was a faint smile on her face. When she saw Henry standing at the elevator door, the smile on Sylvia's face bloomed even more. "Honey, this way."

"Look, when President Lin speaks, she acts like a teenage girl. This is something that had never happened before." The secretary whispered in Henry's ear, and then walked into the elevator.

Henry smiled faintly.

Henry had a good attitude towards life and was full of expectations and hope for the future. At this time, Henry was like this. He strode over and said, "Honey."

"Come on, honey, let me introduce two people to you." Sylvia took

Henry to the office.

Henry saw a man and a woman sitting in the office. Both of them were in their thirties. At first glance, Henry found that there was some pride in the eyes of the man and the woman.

When Henry entered the door, the two sized Henry up from head to toe with a scrutinizing look. Finally, with some disdain, they looked away.