

Chapter 838

As Sylvia looked at these people who had arrived, the expression on her face gradually turned ugly.

These people always talked about themselves using their identities, and occasionally mentioned the name of Robert, which meant that they wanted to take advantage of their seniority in front of them!

"In the past few decades, what went wrong with the Lins Group's internal affairs? When did you start letting the Bureau intervene?" The old man in traditional clothing said discontentedly. "Do you mean that even though we, the old guys, are not dead yet, Robert's descendants already look down on us? If that's the case, Robert's promise to us back then was nothing more than empty talk!"

"Sylvia Lin, you little girl. The last time I saw you, you were still wearing diapers. Now you're going to ride on the heads of old guys like us?" Another old man said.

"You're the president of the Lin Group, but you should know that if we don't agree, your decision does not count!" The old woman in a velvet dress said, "What, do you, the president of the Lins Group, want to draw a line with us old people now?"

All the people present were speaking up for Penn.

The fact that Sylvia was standing here was obvious that she had become the target of everyone's attention.

Two of them started to look extremely proud when they saw that they were almost done with the suppression.

"Girl, this is an internal affair of the Lins Group. Get all the policemen dispersed. Let the Lins Group resolve this problem itself."

"Jeremiah is a good boy. If he did something wrong, we'll teach him a lesson!"

"Let the policemen go and hand over the one who injured Jeremiah. We'll pretend as if nothing happened. Otherwise, you will have to give us an explanation for today's matter!" said the old woman.

Sylvia lowered her head. When she heard the voice coming from her ear, her face turned increasingly cold.

"Ha, ha, ha!" A loud laugh suddenly sounded from the side. "Everyone, we haven't seen each other for a long time. As a result, you have gathered together for such a little thing and decided to make it difficult for a child!"

As soon as the laughter sounded, the founding members of the Lins Group all looked toward the source of the laughter.

Sylvia also raised her head abruptly and looked at the person who had arrived. "Grandpa!"

Robert Lin walked out of a Maybach, with his hands behind his back, and strode toward them.

"Robert, you've really taught your granddaughter in the right way! She broke my grandson's leg so easily!" Penn looked at Robert with a gloomy face. His words were full of questions. It was he who called Robert.

"Robert, what do you mean?!" The old woman also said, "At that time, we had an agreement that we don't care about the affairs of other parties. Now you, from Yinzhou, directly reached out to Ningzhong City. Isn't it a violation of the rules?"

"You're the ones who broke the rules!" Sylvia spoke again, "Jeremiah, in the name of the Lins Group, has done all kinds of illegal things. He's a criminal!"

"Shut up!" The old man in traditional clothing scolded, "Sylvia Lin, your grandfather is here. You don't have the right to speak now!"

"Me!" Sylvia was about to speak, but she was stopped by Robert's gesture.

Robert chuckled and said, "I've heard about what happened here. Penn, if you don't take care of this grandson of yours, someone else will."

Penn snorted, "No matter how my grandson is, it's our Rong family's own business. It's not up to your younger generation to interfere. Robert, do you mean that I, Penn Rong, have to listen to the Lins? Do we, the elders, also have to listen to the Lins?"

"Penn, we're already so old. Control your temper." Robert smiled. "We're all old friends. I, Robert, was the one who made us become friends back then. This is not a quarrel, but a solution."

"Control his temper?!" The old woman's face was full of dissatisfaction. "Robert, your granddaughter's leg is not broken. If your granddaughter was crippled today, let's see if you could still control your temper!"

"Eh?" Robert, who always had a smile on his face, suddenly changed his expression. His eyes were like torches as he glared at the old woman. "What do you mean? Do you want to cripple one of my granddaughter's legs? If you want to, I'll stand here and watch. I'll see who dares to come here!"

Under Robert's gaze, the old woman held her breath subconsciously.

Robert's ability to stand up meant that he had the ability to crush everyone. However, some people's sharpness would be forgotten after a long period of time.

When the founding members saw Robert's anger, they looked back and forth and saw some fear in the other party's eyes.

The old man in the Chinese tradition suit hastened to smooth things over. "Robert, don't be angry. It's Penn's grandson who got hurt. We're all in a hurry. To put it bluntly, we're all brothers. Penn's grandson is everyone's grandson. If your Silvia got hurt, all of us would go crazy. How can there be anything wrong with your Silvia?"

"Really?" Robert sneered and said, "Then what do you want to do with this junior? If you have anything to say, you can come to Lin's Manor. I'll treat you with good tea!"

Henry stood behind Sylvia and couldn't help smiling when he saw Robert suppressing all the elders present by himself. He had known Robert for such a long time, but this was the first time he had seen Robert show such a look. To be honest, Robert did have some power and influence. At least, Henry had seen many business giants, but few of them could compete with Robert in terms of power and influence. It seemed that Robert was not easy to deal with when he was young!

However, it was easy to understand that public security in the past was not as good as it was now. If one wanted to do business, one not only had to have a business brain but also had to have undeveloped land like the northwest.

Penn took a look at his grandson, who needed someone to support him with his broken leg. He took a deep breath and said, "Robert, I understand that it was Jere's fault. But you know, Jere is the only successor of my family. If he is disabled like this, not only will I lose my face, but your reputation will also be damaged. I don't blame Sylvia. I just want to make the one who disabled Jere pay the price."

When talking to this point, Penn looked at Henry, who was standing behind Sylvia. Just now, he also heard that someone had already known who disabled Jeremiah.

"Yes, Robert. Jeremiah can't be disabled in vain. If Jere is disabled like this, and as the leader, you don't say a word, I'm afraid no one in this world will respect you!" The old woman threatened him.

Robert glanced around with a faint smile on his face. If these people were going to ask Sylvia to give them an explanation today, Robert might really fall out with them, which would damage his reputation. However, these people were looking for death. They wanted The Conqueror to come and apologize to them!

Were they worthy of The Conqueror's apology?

Chapter 839

The founding members of the Lins Group saw that Robert did not speak, so they only thought that Robert was considering their offer.

"Robert, you have to give us an explanation for this matter, no matter what." The old man in traditional clothing walked to the front of Robert and said softly, "Your granddaughter ordered the policemen to capture so many members of the Rong Family. You can just take out an insignificant member and throw him in prison. The Rong family's reputation will remain good, and so will yours. What do you think?"

Robert remained silent as he looked at the grandfather and grandson of the Rong Family. This was not in order to give the Rong Family face. If The Conqueror were to give them an explanation, the Rong Family would be gone.

"Robert, don't hesitate. Today's matter is neither big nor small. You'd better let it go. Today, so many old brothers are watching. Don't make it hard for everyone." The old man spoke again.

Robert looked at Jeremiah and caught the haze in his eyes. Robert had seen this kind of haze many times in his life. He fixed his eyes on Henry and cast an inquiring look.

Henry was a smart man. With a simple look in Robert's eyes, he knew what Robert wanted to do. So he nodded at Robert.

Robert, who had been silent for a long time, said, "Okay! I am not unreasonable. If you want an explanation, I will give you an explanation. Sylvia, let's go!"

As Robert spoke, he went forward and grabbed Sylvia's arm with one hand.

"Grandpa?" Sylvia looked at Robert with a puzzled face.

Robert secretly winked at Sylvia.

Sylvia turned back and looked at Henry. She found that Henry was also winking at her, which made Sylvia suddenly understand that her husband and grandfather had already reached some kind of tacit understanding without her knowing it.

Thinking of this, Sylvia did not say anything more, but let Robert pull her to the Maybach.

As for Henry's safety, Sylvia did not worry about it at all.

At the same time, Robert asked Captain Richard who had personally led the team here and asked him to withdraw all of them.

Many founding members of the Lins Group were standing there. When they saw Robert getting in the car with Sylvia, they all smiled proudly. Robert's surrender made them understand that Robert really cared about his reputation. At the same time, they also confirmed their deterrent power. With this deterrent power, why would they worry about not getting any benefits from the Lins Group?

Seeing the Maybach leave, all the people turned their eyes to Henry.

Jeremiah wore a cruel sneer at the corner of his mouth. "Boy, weren't you very arrogant? I will give you another chance to be arrogant! Without support, you are not even a dog in front of me. Do you know?"

Henry stood there and just made a gesture of putting his mobile phone into his pocket.

With a cold face, Penn waved his hand behind him.

Immediately, two bodyguards in black walked up, grabbed Henry's shoulder, and pulled him directly to a vehicle without saying a word.

Henry did not resist and let the two people take him to the car.

"Jere, what are you going to do with him?" Penn asked his grandson.

"It's very simple!" Jeremiah said with a sneer, "I'm going to grind his limbs and torture him to death bit by bit!"

"Jere, you can play as you like, but you should pay attention to one thing." The old woman said, "You just need to watch from the side. Don't do it on your own. Don't let anyone get something on you."

"Don't worry, I understand." Jeremiah nodded.

"Well, there's no rush to do it today." Penn said to the middle-aged man in his fifties, "Arrange a few people first and take the young master to the hospital. As for the aftermath, you take care of it yourself."

"Yes, Master Rong."

The middle-aged man turned around and walked toward the vehicle where Henry was.

Penn glanced around and said to the founding members, "Let's go, everyone. Today, the old thing Robert bowed his head, and we should celebrate it. Then we will negotiate again. In recent months, the Lins Group has been developing well. Without us old guys, the company would not be like today. If the Lins Group doesn't award us, we will appear in public."

"Of course we have to discuss it!" The old man sneered, "Robert really regards himself as the elder brother. If we don't do anything else, Sylvia will really be arrogant in the future."

"Yes." The old woman said, "She looks like a crestfallen girl. I don't know what she will do in a few years. In my opinion, we should call out all the brothers and sisters from the past. It's time to reshuffle the business circle in Western China."

"We have to give the matter further thought and discuss it later. But one thing is for sure. We can't let this go. That Sylvia has to pay the price sooner or later!" Penn said firmly.

"Grandpa, if you want to overthrow the Lins Group, you must let me deal with that Sylvia!" Jeremiah stuck out his tongue and licked his lips, lust flashing in his eyes.

"Jere, don't worry." Before Penn could say anything, the old woman took the lead and said, "You can punish all the members of the Lin Family!"

"Hahaha! Let's go have some tea!" The old man laughed.

"We can't drink tea, but we must drink today." Penn waved his hand aggressively, as if they had seen the day they pushed the Lin Family down.

The rest of the founding members all smiled.

A long Benz stopped at the side of the road, and Penn led a group of elders to the car.

Two Benz led to the road ahead. All of them were black luxury cars, which were like a black dragon, and were mighty on the road.

The off-road vehicle Henry was in was also in this motorcade.

Henry, who was sitting in the back seat of the car, was held by two bodyguards. He closed his eyes and did not say a word, as if he had accepted his fate.

The two bodyguards looked at Henry sitting in the middle with sneers on their faces.

"You don't know what's good for you? How dare you touch Master Rong?"

"You're destined to die today!"

The two bodyguards kept making sounds. Just when the two bodyguards were laughing, the off-road vehicle that was speeding suddenly stopped. The people in the car, including the driver, all unconsciously leaned forward.

No one noticed that Henry, who was sitting in the back seat, did not move at all in such a fierce situation.

"What's going on?" the middle-aged man in his fifties sitting in the seat asked.

"I don't know, the car in front of us..." The driver answered, but before he could finish his words, he suddenly opened his eyes wide, and his eyes became dull. He stared at the front, muttering, "Tan... tank!"

In front of this black fleet, there was a heavily armoured tank, blocking the middle of the road. The pitch-black cannon holes were facing the entire fleet.

 Watch Ads to Get 15 Vouchers

Chapter 840

The heavy-loaded tank stopped in the middle of the road. It looked like a steel beast.

At the front of the motorcade, two Benz cars worth millions of yuan stopped and the driver looked at them in horror.

In the longer version of the Benz, Penn and a group of founding members had just opened a bottle of red wine. Jeremiah was lying in the arms of a young woman, and two pretty and lovely nurses were squatting aside, treating Jeremiah's injuries.

"What's going on? Why did the car suddenly stop?" Feeling the sudden stopping of the car, Penn shouted discontentedly.

"Master Rong, something happened in front." The driver opened the window so that the people sitting in the back seat could see what was happening.

"Is this a manoeuvre?" Penn frowned and looked ahead, then said to the driver, "Let's take a detour."

Although Penn had a high status in Ningzhong City and was driving arrogantly, he was not stupid enough to come into conflict with the manoeuvre.

The driver slowly moved the steering wheel. When he was just halfway through, he suddenly stopped. "Master Rong, we can't go further."

Yet another heavy tank was heading towards them from behind. From the bottom of his heart, he could feel a sense of pressure emanating from the tank.

A loud noise came from above them.

In the sky, more than a dozen armed helicopters came from the horizon and hovered above the fleet.

The gun barrels on the armed helicopter were currently slowly spinning. This was a sign that they were already warm-up, ready to fire at any time.

On each helicopter, there was a rope. One fully-armed soldier slipped down from the rope, pulled out the semi-automatic rifle behind him, and aimed at every car in this fleet.

On the tank in front of them, the loudspeaker emitted some sounds.

"I warn you, you have been surrounded. Now, all of you leave the cars. I give you 30 seconds. Everyone leave the car!"

An unquestionable warning was issued from the loudspeaker.

The people in the car suddenly understood that this was not a manoeuvre. These tanks and helicopters appeared because of them!

In the Benz, Penn and the others looked back and forth with confused faces.

"I warn you, the last 20 seconds, all of you should leave the cars, otherwise, we will shoot without hesitation!"

The warning from the loudspeaker sounded again.

The two Benz at the front opened slowly. As soon as the driver came out, he was pressed to the ground by two fully armed soldiers.

Seven or eight soldiers rushed to the Benz and pulled the door open. Penn and the others were immediately pulled out before they could get off the cars. They were all pressed down on the ground and the guns were pointed at their heads.

Jeremiah, who had been enjoying himself in the car, was pulled out of the car and lay on the ground with his clothes in disarray.

"You! Who are you?!" Penn was pressed there. "We are all businessmen who do our business according to the law. You can't treat us like this!"

"According to the law?" A man in a traditional suit slowly came over and said, "Are you law-abiding businessmen? We will investigate that. But now, you are suspected of restricting the freedom of others. At this point, even if you have high status, you will be punished!"

Penn was about to refute when he saw the man's face. He was shocked by what he saw.

In front of him, eighty percent of Chinese citizens could call out this person's name. This was one of the top people!

Penn didn't understand why this big shot would show up in person and bring people to arrest him. Had Jeremiah's action already alarmed them? That was impossible!

The rest of the founding members were also trembling all over and did not dare to make a sound.

The soldiers opened the doors one after another.

"Come out!"

The door of the off-road vehicle that Henry was sitting in opened and two bodyguards who were escorting Henry were dragged out.

Henry walked out of the car, brushed the dust on his body, and said,

"Your speed is not bad. It seems that the promise you gave was not an empty promise!"

The man in the traditional suit smiled and said, "The ten people we have promised you are naturally not a joke. You are the first one, and you should report the remaining nine people at the same time. Otherwise, if you make such a big noise every time, it will easily cause panic!"

"Panic? How can a manoeuvre cause panic?" Henry shook his head. "These people are suspected of kidnapping. How should we judge them? I think you are clearer than me. I'll leave first."

After Henry finished speaking, he waved his hand, turned around and strode away.

Penn who was pressed on the ground watched Henry communicate with the man in front of him like an old friend, and his eyes were almost popping out.

The man in front of him was standing in the top position in China, and even at the peak of power in the whole world. What was the identity of the person who could chat with him like this?

At that moment, Penn finally figured out what had happened.

No wonder Robert let him go so easily. Robert wanted to get rid of him by using somebody else! In the end, Robert's reputation would not be damaged at all. However, how did Robert know such a person?

Penn's face was still red from joy a minute ago, but now it had turned grey.

He did not need to think about how he would be judged if he restricted the freedom of others. He only knew that he had offended such a big shot who stood at the peak of power. He was definitely doomed. Not only him, but the whole Rong Family was going to be doomed!

"Penn, you've done us wrong! You've done us wrong!" The founding member, who was in a traditional suit, shouted loudly. They were called here by Penn. If they were involved in this matter together today, they would definitely come to no good end.

Penn closed his eyes and shed a line of tears. He didn't say anything.

Maybach, in which Robert and Sylvia were sitting, stopped not far away.

"Master Lin, are you sure you don't want to get involved in this matter? Mr. Zhang..." Captain Richard from Yinzhou stood in front of the rear window of Maybach and advised him with an anxious look. As a result, before he finished his words, Captain Richard saw the tank that drove to the street and the armed helicopter hovering in the sky.

The shouts in the loudspeaker had clearly reached the ears of Captain Richard.

Shortly after, Captain Richard saw Henry, who had just been taken away by the Rong Family, walk out of the convoy as if nothing had happened. After Henry walked out, all the people in the convoy were taken away.

Watching such a scene, Captain Richard opened his mouth wide again.

Even though Captain Richard already knew that Henry's status was very high, every contact with Henry would thoroughly change his cognition of Henry.

Captain Richard couldn't imagine that there was nobody else who could have this kind of treatment, except for the top few people in China, since the people from the Ministry of Safety and Security had personally come to arrest people today.

At this moment, Captain Richard swore that if he met anyone related to Mr. Zhang, he would show his best behaviour. He must not allow any dissatisfaction from Mr. Zhang. People under him should also do their best to satisfy Mr. Zhang.

 Watch Ads to Get 15 Vouchers