

Ex-husband Loves Me Again (Miral)

Chapter 36: Spill The Tea

Danica was also contented with this ending, but she still felt a little worried, so she asked, "Do you think Theo will ask to change the script because of Miss Venice?"

Danica could guarantee that she had never drawn on her own real depressing experience of being Theo's wife when she wrote this script.

She rationally planned the script from the rich plot, the audience's perspective, from what they wanted to see, and so on.

Despite everything, she did not expect that Venice would be dissatisfied.

"That depends on how much Miss Venice weighs in Theo's heart" Manuel faintly replied.

Danica lowered her eyes and nodded slightly.

"Yeah, I got it" she mumbled.

No matter how much Danica convinced herself that she wouldn't have to write this script again, she could feel that Theo would let her rewrite it.

Theo and Venice were very close to each other, so how could he not listen to Venice? Aside from that, Theo attended the meeting with Venice today.

There was a huge possibility that Venice could interfere in this script.

Venice was Theo's fiancée.

If she was worried about the Dalton family's image and it was inconvenient for her to continue acting in public, maybe this time was the chance that Theo would help her become a producer.

"Go back and have a good rest first.I will contact you right away if there is any news."

Manuel, who was a bit disappointed, comforted her.

Danica nodded slightly in response.

This was not the first time she had come into contact with the playwright industry.

She had already been in the industry for more than four years.She knew that the scriptwriter could not fight against those people who held high positions.

Even an influential person like Edmund sometimes had to compromise with those people with high positions.

What more with an ordinary person like her? She definitely had nothing to do with it.

When Danica returned home, she took a shower first before she decided to sleep well.

She was not in a good mood today, so she needed rest to forget the awful things that happened to her.

Her mother's death was already an unfortunate thing for her.

She also encountered a thrilling car accident, and she faced the crisis of being asked to change the script at any time in her career.

Those things were undeniably miserable for her.

No wonder she was physically, emotionally, and mentally exhausted.

While Theo was having dinner with Venice at night, they did not talk that much during the meal.

Theo was in a bad mood all day.

It seemed that he hadn't been in a good mood since Danica returned to the country.

"Didn't you say you had an upset stomach?" Venice asked him.

"Have some porridge."

She helped him fill a bowl of porridge and handed it to him.

Theo reached out to take the porridge and thanked her.

Venice looked at him.

"Theo, tonight I..."

She felt a bit ashamed.

Venice originally wanted to say that she would like to go to his house to spend the night with him, but Theo's phone suddenly rang.

This phone call instantly suppressed the words she had been mulling over for a long time.

Theo put down the porridge in his hand and stood up to answer the phone.

While he was not looking at her, Venice angrily clenched her fists under the table.

Ever since she found out that Danica had returned to the country, she immediately felt a strong sense of crisis coming her way.

Because of that, she wanted to give herself to Theo no matter what would happen.

"Bro, have you seen the news?" the man from the other line asked.

It was his friend and colleague, Patrick.

Since Theo had no idea about it, he answered, "No, what's wrong?"

"The news that just broke out on Twitter has now become the number one hot topic.It's about a popular young man spotted in an old apartment.As far as I know, Danica lives in that apartment."

Patrick did not wait for Theo to say anything and just continued, "The reporters have already rushed over after hearing the news.Some fans have surrounded the building where he went.He probably won't be able to come out tonight, you know"

"If he stays in the same room with Danica in the middle of the night, we didn't know what would happen."

Patrick expressed disapproval by uttering a tsk after saying all those words.

Theo gritted his teeth and tightened his grip on the phone while clenching his other hand.

He felt that Patrick's gossip was asking for a beating.
