

Ex-husband Loves Me Again (Miral)

Chapter 40: Don't Care About Someone Like Mr.Dalton (1)

"Venice!"

Venice's hand did not reach Danica's face as Theo stopped her halfway.

Theo grabbed Venice's wrist and shouted in anger, "What are you doing?!"

Due to embarrassment, Venice's face turned red.

"Theo, why did she come here in the middle of the night to talk to you about work? Have you forgotten how she fooled you?"

Danica was thankful for Theo's assistance in blocking Venice's hand.

But in reality, she stopped when Theo called her by her nickname, causing her to regain her senses.

Yes, they were about to get married and be a family.

Theo stopped Venice, just like what he did to Thalia the last time.

It was not because Theo wanted to protect her.

Danica believed that it was because Theo wanted to protect Venice.

Venice was also a popular actress, and she was also the future Mrs.Dalton.

If she really slapped her in the face, it would look bad for Venice's image, most especially for the Dalton Family.

Having thought about this, she took a step back and asked Venice with a smirk, "Miss Jones, why don't you ask Mr.Dalton why I'm here in the middle of the night to talk about work?"

Danica's tone was mocking, prompting Theo to tell Venice the truth.

"I asked her to come here" he said to Venice seriously.

Venice could not believe what she had just heard.

She didn't think of Theo as the type of man who would invite a woman to his office in the middle of the night to discuss work.

What was worst was that this woman was his ex-wife, the same ex-wife that he once looked down on.

Danica did not care if Venice believed Theo or not, but she tried to explain in a calm way, "Venice, the moment that I decided to divorce him, I already forgot everything about us.I don't have plans to go back in his life nor interfere with his affairs.I've never imagined crossing paths with him again."

"If you could live a happy life on your own, then you should just focus on yourself.Theo is a selfish man with an excessive amount of confidence.I really despise him"

"To be honest, I don't give a damn about President Dalton.Who cares if he's wealthy and attractive? If he's uncaring, none of it really matters."

Danica used this opportunity to establish the boundary between herself and Theo so that Venice would stop targeting her anymore.

Danica was only focused on her career.

She believed that People like Theo and Venice should just mind their own business and should stop bothering her.

If Theo wanted to marry someone, he should go ahead and do it.

If Venice wanted to marry a wealthy man, then she should go out and find a nice man as well.

Danica's words made Theo extremely mad and confused.

During their relationship, Danica made every effort to make love with him.

She also told him she loved him.

She also did everything for him, but now she was saying that she despised him.

'I'm arrogant and selfish?'

'I am also uncaring?' Theo felt like his internal organs were being rearranged due to his anger after hearing what Danica thought of him, but aside from anger, he also felt disappointed and frustrated.

Could it be that Danica did not really care about him at all? After Danica gave them a piece of her mind, she looked at Theo.

She smiled as if they were in a board room and said, "President Dalton, I think we no longer have anything to discuss tonight.Allow me to leave first"

After Danica finished speaking, she calmly packed her laptop and walked away.

After walking a few steps, she seemed to remember something and turned around to speak to Theo, "By the way, President Dalton, the next time that you want to discuss anything work-related, please call me during the day.And please choose a more suitable place, preferably with other people.Otherwise, Miss Jones will be jealous and will ruin her image'

"After all, Miss Jones looked down on me when I was in her position.It was all due to jealousy.Don't let Miss Jones become the kind of person to be looked down on."

After saying this, Danica took her bag and left, feeling satisfied.

This exactly was the look and the feeling of jealousy.

All those side remarks made by Venice to Danica back then were now returned to her.

'Itis incredibly satisfying; Danica thought.

"Danica!"

Venice shouted angrily at Danica.

She did not want to let her go, but Theo grabbed her wrist, and she was unable to move.
