

God, the Real Miss Hated Everyone Equally

Chapter 11

Chapter 11

"What happened? What exploded?"

Pearl panicked and hid behind Jordan in horror.

Jordan patted off the eggshell and sparks on his body. His face was full of panic, but he did not forget to pat Pearl on the back. "Don't be afraid. The egg exploded. It's fine now."

Pearl was surprised. "How could an egg explode?"

Jordan said, "I remember that the egg can't be placed into a microwaveto heat up. It will explode. I didn't expect it to explode even if it was placed in a fire."

Pearl was so angry that her liver was about to explode. She stomped her feet fiercely. "Those four eggs are our lunch. Now that the eggs have exploded, what are we going to eat?"

Jordan's expression was very ugly.

Pearl looked at Quinn angrily. "Why didn't you remind us?"

"You were born in the countryside. You must know this kind of common sense. You deliberately didn't say it and made me have nothing to eat, right?"

Quinn shook her head hard. "No, no, I also don't know it. I also didn't know that the egg would explode..."

"Do you think I will believe you?" "You are a farmer, how can you not know this common sense?"

Quinn said, "I have never roasted an egg before, I really don't know..."

Moreover, the current rural areas were not like the former rural areas, where people must do farm work when they were born in the countryside, right?

Although she was born in the countryside, her family doted on her and did not let her do much.

Her parents said that she only needed to study well and did not need to help her family work. Besides, she was young and could not help much.

Moreover, she used to live in the countryside in junior high school. When she was in junior high school, her parents took a loan to buy a house in the city in order to let her receive better education. Their family moved into the city.

She really did not know many common sense in the countryside.

Pearl said angrily, "You still dare to talk back!"

Quinn closed her mouth and did not dare to speak.

Pearl said impatiently. "Because of your negligence, my brother and I have no lunch. Now go to the forest to find food for us. If you can't find it, you don't have to come out!"

Quinn's face was full of panic. "... Am I going alone? I'm afraid..."

Pearl said, "Stop pretending to be weak here. You are born in a rural area. Why are you afraid of entering the forest?"

"Don't think that I don't know what you are thinking."

"You are deliberately pretending to be afraid. You want my brother to enter the forest with you and take the opportunity to seduce my brother, right?"

Quinn quickly denied, "I didn't..."

Pearl sneered. "Hehe, stop dreaming. Do you think you can seduce my brother? You are not even worthy of being a servant. Know your place!"

Quinn trembled with anger, but she still denied it. "I really don't mean to seduce your brother!"

Pearl said. "If you really don't want to seduce my brother, then you can go into the forest to find food and prove it with your actions, not with empty words!"

Quinn bit her lip.

In the end, she could only walk into the forest with red eyes.

"Hmph, how can you trick me?" Pearl snorted.

Jordan looked at Pearl in a daze, his eyes full of shock and unfamiliarity.

He did not recognize the Pearl in front of him.

Was this mean and unruly Pearl really his gentle and sensible little sister?

In the past, Pearl was only a little willful in private and had a little Princess temper.

But now, she was throwing a tantrum everywhere and did not treat anyone well, as if she had changed into a different person.

"Pearl, how did you become like this? Quinn is a girl. It is not safe for her to enter the forest alone. You should not have forced her to enter. What if she gets lost or something happens?" Jordan frowned and said.

Pearl pouted, her eyes red with grievance. "Third Brother, you actually taught me a lesson for an outsider?"

Jordan said, "You did something wrong. As your brother, I taught you how to correct it. This is not a lesson, it is for your own good."

Pearl's tears instantly fell down and she sobbed in grievance.

"Wu, I was left in this kind of broken place. My body was bitten by mosquitoes, and my face was swollen by that bad woman, Brielle. I almost lost half of my teeth. I slept on the grass at night, and my whole body was in pain. I haven't had anything to eat since yesterday morning."

"I was in a bad mood after suffering so many grievances. I lost my temper, and my tone was a little bad. Brother, you blame me for outsiders, and you don't care about me at all. Brother, you have changed, wu..."

Pearl cried sadly.

When Jordan saw her tears fall, he panicked in an instant and hurriedly wiped her tears. "I'm sorry. I was wrong. Don't cry. I don't blame you anymore."

"Everything Pearl did was right. It was the program team's fault. It made you suffer so much."

"The other people were also wrong. They saw you suffer so much and still didn't understand you. They didn't know how to follow you. They are all bad people. When we go back, I will help you vent your anger, especially Brielle!"

Pearl threw herself into Jordan's arms and cried, "Mm, alright. Brother, you have to keep your word."

"Forget about the others. You will definitely not let Brielle off!"

Jordan said firmly, "En, I will make Brielle pay the price!"

Pearl's eyes became sinister and vicious.

Brielle. I will not let you go. I will make you suffer a fate worse than death!

Chapter 11

[Shit! I am so angry that my blood pressure has risen. Why is Pearl so bad? She actually drove Quinn to the forest alone to find food. If this is really a wilderness, without the program team secretly driving away the danger, will she be responsible for Quinn when he is in danger?]

[Is Jordan's brain a decoration? He will believe whatever Pearl says?]

[Brielle is his biological sister. He actually wants to take revenge on his own sister for a fake sister. Is his brain okay?]

[It's too disgusting. I suspect that there is a problem with Galley family's education. Their thoughts are the same, so they are incompatible!]

[I think so too. Otherwise, why would Galley family support Pearl and plot against his real kin for Pearl?]

[How does Jordan want to retaliate against Brielle?]

[Did you see Pearl's sinister smile? It made my back turn cold. It's too scary.]

[Hahaha, this program has captured her true face. I really look forward to the day she finds out the truth!]

Quinn searched for three to four hours in the forest, but she did not catch any prey.

She was a girl, and her physical fitness was not good. It was already good enough that she could walk in the forest. Even boys could not catch prey, let alone her.

She saw that the sky was a little dark and was afraid to spend the night in the forest, so she could only return the way she came.

However, it was not that she had no gains. She picked up two eggs.

When Pearl saw that she had only brought back two eggs, she was so angry that she cursed at her and then snatched the eggs. She and Jordan each had one, and Quinn continued to starve.

Quinn did not dare to complain at all.

With his afternoon experience, Jordan did not dare to put the eggs directly into the fire to roast.

He found a relatively flat slate, put the slate on the fire to heat it up, and then knocked the eggs on it, barely making fried eggs.

After eating an egg, Pearl became even more hungry.

She angrily cursed, "What happened to the program team? Why haven't they come to pick us up yet?"

Jordan's expression was also very ugly.

He also felt that the program team had gone a little overboard.

It was a serious dereliction of duty to forget them for so long!

"It smells so good. What is Brielle roasting again?" Pearl suddenly smelled the fragrance again and could not help but say sourly.

Jordan was drooling crazily.

Why didn't he find out that Brielle's cooking was so good? She always roasted the roasted meat so well. He was so hungry.

Pearl stood up and said to Jordan, "Brother, let's go and take a look."

Jordan nodded.

The three of them began to walk in the direction of Brielle.

Brielle's food tonight was fish.

She caught the fish in the river.

A grass fish that was at least ten pounds heavy.

She divided the fish into two, one half for roasting, and the other half for cooking with mushrooms.

The fragrance of the grilled fish made one drool.

The fragrance of the food attracted many birds to hover around the nearby trees, and squirrels also ran over to look around.

Brielle was puzzled.

There was no such thing as grilled fish in the recipes of birds and squirrels.

What were they here for?

Suddenly, Brielle noticed a few uninvited guests.

Jordan, Pearl, and Quinn walked towards her.

Brielle only looked up at them indifferently, and then treated them as air.

The three of them stopped less than two meters away from her, and their eyes were glued to her food.

Brielle continued to do what she was doing and ignored them.

If they like to watch, let them watch enough.

After more than ten minutes, the grilled fish and mushroom fish were all ready.

Brielle took out a bowl and chopsticks, scooped a bowl of mushroom fish soup, and took a sip. She narrowed her eyes in satisfaction.

So fresh.

"Gulp!"

Pearl and Jordan swallowed their saliva in unison.

The sound was so loud that it drowned out the sound of Brielle drinking the soup.

After Brielle finished drinking the soup, she picked up the grilled fish and took a bite.

"Gulp!"

They swallowed their saliva again.

The fragrance of the food magnified their hunger infinitely.

Seeing Brielle eat so well, Jordan finally couldn't help but say, "Brielle, you have cooked so many dishes. You can't finish them all by yourself. Give us some."

Brielle said concisely, "Get lost!"

Jordan said, "There are so many things. It will be a waste if you can't finish them all. We have to save food and not waste food. Otherwise, it will damage our morals. Brother also wants to help you!"

Brielle spoke again, "Get lost!"

Chapter 11

Jordan was a little unhappy, but his tone was still gentle. "Brielle, we are a family. You can't eat alone. Give some to your brother."

Brielle sneered, "Don't try to get my food. We are not a family for a long time."

"Have you forgotten what I warned you? If you meet me outside in the future, don't say that you are a family with me. I feel bad!"

Jordan gritted his teeth and said, "Can I pay for it? Let Pearl and 1 eat a little. I'll pay you when we get back!"

Brielle looked up and looked at him with a forced smile. "You really want to buy it?"

Jordan's eyes lit up. Brielle was tempted and agreed to sell it?

He quickly said, "Yes, I really want to buy it. Name a price. Even if it's higher than the market price, I can afford it!"

Brielle said, "One person for 10 billion, two for 20 billion. If you agree, I will give it to you."

Pearl and Jordan widened their eyes in anger. "Are you crazy? Even if you cook gold, it is not worth this price!"
