

God, the Real Miss Hated Everyone Equally

Chapter 112

Chapter 112

After climbing for nearly three hours. Brielle finally climbed to the top of the mountain.

There was a flagpole about ten meters high on the top of the mountain. Widi's national flag was hanging on the flagpole.

The national flag was already a little old. It was raised by the champion of the last session.

Brielle lowered the national flag of Widi, tore it up and stepped on it.

Then, from the box below the national flag, she found the national flag of Oscus and raised it.

The national flag rose to the top and fluttered in the wind.

In Oscus' live broadcast room, when everyone saw this scene, countless people were filled with tears.

[I can't believe that this is true. Our Oscusian can actually win against Extreme Survival which is full of dirty tricks. Our Oscus' national flag has really risen!]

[Woo, I'm crying!]

[Sister E is awesome! Sister E, you will always be my god!]

[Sister E is too awesome. She reached the top in less than half a month. Not only did she win, but she also refreshed the record!]

[Ah, I couldn't bear to jump up at home just now. I was worried that it would affect the neighbors, but the next second, the whole building shook and shouted. Everyone was very excited, hahaha!]

[Humph, who dares to question Sister E's strength now? I want to see what they have to say this time!]

[Sister E, hurry back to the country and have a fan meet—and—greet online. I want to see in reality whether Sister E is real or not. She is too awesome, so awesome that I don't believe that she is real!]

[Please have the fan meet—and—greet, I will definitely be there!]

Those who had participated in Extreme Survival but were targeted and disabled could not help but shed tears when they saw the red flag flying in the video.

"Brielle, thank you for helping us win back our dignity. Because of us, our Oscus has been ridiculed for so many years, and now we have finally won back a round!"

In a luxurious villa.

Kayden looked at the figure of Brielle raising the national flag on the screen, and a smile appeared on his face. His heart, which had been hanging in the air, finally relaxed at this moment.

During this period of time, he spent every day watching the live broadcast in the live broadcast room.

During the time when it was in the black screen in the broadcast room, he couldn't eat or sleep, and he was very about Brielle's safety.

worried

Fortunately, she was fine, and everything was just a false alarm.

"Ow... Brielle is too powerful, this time we will be rich!"

"Sister E is too awesome, she will always be my goddess!"

Kayden looked towards the source of the sound. George, Matt, and Micah were screaming in excitement, still crawling on the ground.

The corners of Kayden's mouth twitched.

These three guys had been completely assimilated by Brielle.

During this period of time, they had to come to his house and watch the live broadcast with him.

When they were excited and angry, they had no way to vent their anger. They were crawling on the ground with their twisted limbs, and they could not bear to look at the scene directly.

If it were just Matt and George, it was better; but for a psychologist like Micah, he actually messed around; it was something he did not expect.

At first, Micah suspected that Brielle's behavior was due to psychological illness, but now he was also led astray.

Brielle's influence was really great.

"Kayden, are you unhappy? Come and celebrate with us!"

Matt ran over and grabbed Kayden, trying to pull him up together.

Kayden kicked him away. "Get away."

On top of the mountain.

Brielle rested under the national flag for a while, then found the security rope prepared by the program team on the mountain.

After securing the safety rope, she grabbed the safety rope and began to descend the mountain.

With the support of the safety rope, it only took her more than ten minutes to reach the foot of the mountain.

When Tana and Lov saw her come down, they immediately stood up and walked to her. They asked with concern, "How is it? Are you alright?"

Brielle said. "It's fine. The national flag has been raised."

"Congratulations!" Tana said with a sincere smile.

Lov also gave his blessings.

The big white tiger circled around her.

"Don't turn around, I'm dizzy." Brielle slapped its forehead.

The big white tiger stopped and stood beside her, feeling wronged.

Brielle said to it seriously, "I will be leaving here soon. I can't take you away with me. You can go back to the forest yourself."

The big white tiger turned around and faced her with his butt,

The big tiger was angry.

"Anyway, have made it clear. Whatever you go back or not. It has nothing to do with me even if you die in the desert."

The big white tiger was even more aggrieved, its two claws frantically digging the ground.

Brielle was too lazy to pay attention to it. She walked to the side and waited for the helicopter to pick them up with Tana and Lov.

They waited for several hours until the sun was about to completely set, but they did not wait the program team to sent a helicopter to pick them up.

Tana could not help but ask, "Why hasn't the program team sent a helicopter to pick us up after such a long time?"

"In the past, the

program team would send a helicopter over every time a contestant reached the foot of the mountain. After the contestant went down the mountain, the helicopter would quickly arrive and then take the contestant back to give the award."

"Why did it take so long this time?"

Lov mocked. "Could it be that the program team saw that the one who won was not Widian and could not afford to lose, so they deliberately did not send a helicopter to pick us up?"

Brielle did not speak.

They waited for a while and suddenly saw the shadow of a helicopter flying in the distance.

"Look, the helicopter is coming!" Tana pointed in the direction of the helicopter and said excitedly.

After a while, the helicopter came closer, but she frowned. "This helicopter is not from the program team. The helicopters. of the program team are all pasted with a purpose poster."

Brielle looked up and saw that it was indeed not a helicopter from the program team.

Everyone was a little puzzled and stared at the helicopter vigilantly.

Soon, the helicopter landed on a flat ground about a hundred meters away from them.

The door of the helicopter opened.

A man in a deacon uniform came down from the helicopter first.

The helicopter ladder was a little high from the ground. He held a box and put it under the ladder.

Then, a slender man walked out of the cabin door.

The male deacon carefully reached out his hand to support him walking step by step from the helicopter to the ground.

The man was dressed in black casual clothes, and his unique temperament made him look cold and detached.

Tana took a deep breath and said in surprise, "What a handsome man. He looks like an eastern person, but he doesn't look like someone from the program team. What are they here for?"

Lov said warily, "Be careful. Be careful that they don't come with good intentions."

Brielle looked up and paused for a moment. Then, a smile appeared on her face.

"Don't be afraid. They are not bad people."

Tana and Lov looked at her and asked in confusion, "Do you know them?"

Brielle smiled Yes, that is my weak little brother who can't take care of himself."
