

God, the Real Miss Hated Everyone Equally

Chapter 137

Chapter 137

Brielle looked up and her face instantly sank. Her eyes showed obvious disgust..

“How unlucky. How can I meet this stupid thing here?” Brielle frowned with disgust.

The person who suddenly appeared was actually that idiot, Jordan,

Wasn’t Galley family at Ocean City? Why did he come to Aeldol?

When Jordan heard Brielle’s words, his face froze and his eyes dimmed instantly. He said bitterly, “Brielle, have you still not forgiven us? We have already realized our mistakes. Why are you not willing to give us a chance?”

“We are a family after all. Can’t you be more lenient to your family?”

“Dad and Big Brother have already paid the price of their lives. Second Brother has lost a leg. Mom feels very guilty about you. Now, her spirit is very unstable. She often apologizes to you in her dreams...”

Brielle’s eyes are very cold. She walks up directly and slaps Jordan in the face.

“Pa!”

Jordan was directly slapped to the ground and his brain was buzzing.

Before he could come back to his senses, Brielle kicked him again and punched him.

“Are you fucking crazy? I’ve warned you many times. If you see me, don’t say that we are family. Otherwise, I will beat you; are you addicted to being beaten?”

Jordan hugged his head with both hands and screamed.

Fleo also stepped forward and helped Brielle hit him.

Kayden was not to be outdone and joined them.

Jordan was beaten up by the three people and had no strength to fight back. He was very miserable.

Only after beating him until he could not move did Brielle stop. Fleo and Kayden saw that she stopped and they also stopped.

Brielle kicked him with anger and said, “If killing people is not against the law, I really want to kick your head to see if it is filled with shit. You are not only stupid, but you are deaf.”

“Get lost, don’t touch me in the future!”

After saying that, she directly stepped over Jordan and entered the hotel.

Fleo and Kayden were the same as her, stepping over Jordan.

Jordan rolled his eyes.

Why did she stomp on him?

His ribs were almost broken!

At this time, the hotel security came over and asked politely, “Sir, do you need help to call the ambulance and the police?”

After the security guard saw Jordan’s appearance clearly, his eyes showed disdain and disgust. Jordan had just come out wearing a hat and a mask. He did not recognize him, but now that Jordan’s hat and mask had been removed, the security guard recognized him at a glance. This person was Jordan, who had overturned his image in a live variety show two months ago.

The security guard despised Jordan very much, but as a security guard, he could not ignore the customer and could only ask perfunctorily.

Jordan shook his head and said weakly, “No need...”

He struggled to get up from the ground and looked at Brielle’s back with dimm eyes.

They were clearly a family; why did they become enemies?

They had already paid the price and realized their mistakes. They also wanted to compensate her. Why didn’t she give them this opportunity?

Jordan originally wanted to go out and consult in the hospital, but now that he was injured, he could only return to the hotel first.

After returning to the hotel room, Sarah saw that he was covered in injuries. She hurriedly walked forward and asked anxiously, Jordan, what happened to you? Why is your face swollen? Did someone hit you? Who hit you?”

Robert was also in the room. However, ever since he broke one of his legs, he became dispirited and listless. He was always immersed in his own world and was alone sad. He did not notice that Jordan was injured.

Jordan and Sarah brought him to the hospital this time to find a professional doctor to guide Robert and consult about the custom-made artificial limbs.

Jordan lowered his eyes and smiled bitterly. “I met Brielle downstairs just now. I just wanted to greet her, but I didn’t expect her to hit me the moment she saw me...”

When Sarah heard Brielle’s name, her body instantly tensed up and her face froze.

Many complicated emotions welled up in her eyes and finally it were finally covered with tears.

Her feelings for Brielle were very complicated.

On the one hand, she felt that she had wronged Brielle.

On the other hand, she also felt some resentment towards Brielle.

If not for Brielle, her Roman wouldn’t have died...

When she thought of Roman, the tears in her eyes fell uncontrollably, and her heart ached like a knife.

She covered her mouth and sobbed silently.

After a while, she controlled her emotions and asked with a choked voice, “Is Brielle still in the hotel? I want to see her.”

Jordan said in a low voice, “She just entered the hotel not long ago. She should be here for breakfast, but I don’t know which floor she is on and which private room she is in.”

“Mom, you shouldn’t go to see her. She is still taking revenge on us and treating us as enemies. She doesn’t treat us as a family at all. Even if you go to see her, she will ignore you and may even attack you...”

Sarah said, “Whether she recognizes me or not, she is my daughter. I want to see her.”

“Apply the medicine yourself. If your injury is too serious, go to the hospital. I will wait for Brielle at the entrance of the hotel.”

After that, before Jordan could stop her, she quickly walked out of the room.

Sarah waited at the entrance of the hotel for more than an hour before she saw Brielle and two tall men walking out of the hotel together.

When Sarah saw Brielle, she was very excited. She quickly rushed over and grabbed Brielle’s hand.