

God, the Real Miss Hated Everyone Equally

Chapter 26

Chapter 26

At this moment, a familiar figure slowly walked out from the forest.

"Ah... Brielle is here! The ghost is here! Brother, save me..."

Pearl threw herself into Jordan's arms, her whole body trembling violently.

She buried her face into Jordan's chest, not daring to look, but she could not help but peek to see if Brielle's ghost was approaching her.

When Jordan saw Brielle's figure, his face was also extremely pale. His body was tense, and he could not help but tremble slightly.

"Brielle, is that you? Are you a human or a ghost?" Jordan asked with a trembling voice.

With such a high cliff, even if Brielle was lucky enough to survive, she could not be unscathed.

But now, there was no trace of blood on Brielle's body. This was absolutely impossible.

Therefore, it was impossible for her to be human....

"What do you think?" Brielle asked with a fake smile.

Her flashlight shone from the bottom to the top. She smiled, revealing her white teeth, which were even more terrifying.

"Brielle, please let me go. I didn't push you on purpose. Since we are a family, please spare me this once!"

"I swear, as long as you let me go, I will burn a lot of money for you when we go back, so that you can be the richest ghost in the Underworld!"

"I will also be filial to your parents and brothers for you, and I will be filial to them for you!"

"Please let me go!"

She directly knelt down to Brielle, crying and repenting while kowtowing.

"I really didn't do it on purpose. I just wanted to pat your back. I didn't expect that you couldn't stabilize and fell off the cliff. This has nothing to do with me. You can't take my life, otherwise you won't be able to have another life!"

"Even if you want to blame me, you have the responsibility. Who asked you to sit by the cliff and hang your feet outside the cliff? Even if I don't push you, you will fall down yourself!"

"Since you fell down and died, it means that your life should be like this. You can't blame me!!

Seeing that apologizing was useless, she began to shirk responsibility.

Jordan said in a trembling voice, "Brielle, since you are already dead, go and reincarnate properly. Don't make a trouble for us. If you kill us, you will fall into the evil ghost path, unable to reincarnate."

"If you have resentment in your heart, you can't reincarnate. When I go back, I will find someone to recite Buddhist scriptures and accumulate merit for you, so that you can reincarnate in a good family in your next life."

Brielle did not speak. Her face was still smiling, and her eyes were full of mockery.

Jordan gritted his teeth and continued, "Pearl was just careless. She didn't mean to harm you. Don't hurt her..."

At this time, the audience in the live broadcast room was shocked.

If they were only suspicious in the beginning, then through the "confession" of Pearl and Jordan, they could be sure that

Pearl tried to kill Brielle and even made a move!

[My God, I thought that Pearl was just a little bit of angelic bitch and was just a bit hypocritical. I didn't expect her to be so vicious and kill people?]

[She actually pushed Brielle down the cliff? This is too cruel. Even if she hated her, most normal people wouldn't be able to kill people. She actually did it!]

[That's right. Although I often think that it would be good if the person I hate died, but I would dare to do it. This Pearl is really vicious!]

[I am so angry. How could she dare? She took over Sister E's identity as Galley family's daughter and enjoyed the life that should belong to Sister E. Now she even wanted to kill Sister E. How could there be such a vicious woman in this world!]

[Is there students majored in law in the live broadcast room? Can Pearl's behavior be sentenced to death? ]

[It is very difficult to sentence a death sentence. It is even difficult to sentence. After all, the camera did not record the process of her doing evil. Her current self-destruction may not be the evidence. Moreover, Brielle is not injured at all. This kind of situation is very difficult to sentence. If she denies it later, she will say that she is frightened to the point of spouting nonsense and no one else can testify. She basically can't be sentenced. Even if we thinks in a good direction, she can be sentenced to three years at most. ]

[ It is really infuriating. This kind of vicious woman is a scourge!]

[Compared to Pearl pushing Brielle down the cliff, what shocked me the most is that Jordan actually allowed Pearl to do this and pleaded for her? Brielle is his sister!]

[I am also very shocked by Jordan's reaction. From his words, it can be heard that he knew that Pearl pushed Brielle down the cliff, but he actually defended Pearl, pleading for Pearl, how could he speak!]

[Maybe pushing Brielle down the cliff is also part of Jordan's strength!]

[I feel sorry for Sister E; she saved a white-eyed wolf who stabbed her!]

[Jordan is not worthy of being a person!]

[This pair of scum and bitch, go to hell! Just looking at them makes me lose my appetite!]

At the scene, Pearl was still kneeling on the ground, continuously kowtowing and begging for mercy.

"Brielle, please spare me. I really didn't do it on purpose. I just wanted to say hello to you. I didn't expect that I used too much force and slapped you down. Wu... I know I was wrong. Don't kill me. I can still help you burn paper money while I'm alive. Dying won't do you any good!"

Brielle suddenly stopped and frowned. Then she quickly retreated a lot and pinched her nose in disgust.

"What is it that smells so bad?" Brielle asked in disgust.

Pearl and Jordan froze for a moment.

In the next moment, Jordan also smelled a stench.

It was very smelly.

It was so smelly that he could not help but retch!

Pearl also smelled it.

At the same time, she also felt that her underwear was full of heavy things.

She was actually... scared of shit

Pearl's face alternated between green and red. She was both afraid and embarrassed.

She really hoped that she could pull the shit out, but she didn't want to pull it out in such a humiliating way!

She had lost all of her face!

Pearl bit her lips. Because of the shame, her tears flowed even more fiercely!

At this time, Quinn ran in front of Brielle and looked at her with surprise and joy. She asked excitedly, "Sister Brielle, you are finally back! Where have you been for such a long time? We have been worried about you!"

Brielle looked at Quinn. The flashlight was still shining up, making her face look gloomy and horrible. She did not answer but asked, "They all say that I am a ghost. Aren't you afraid of me?"

Quinn pointed at the shadow on the ground and said, "How could Sister Brielle be a ghost? You have your shadow under your feet. According to the TV, ghosts do not have shadows!"

"Looks like you are smarter than them." Brielle smiled.

"Hehe, thank you, Sister Brielle, for your praise." Quinn giggled.

Brielle threw the two wild rabbits to her and also threw her dagger to her.

"Take it and deal with it. Don't lose it. If you lose it, there won't be anything to eat tonight."

Quinn hurriedly caught it and asked, "Can I call Brother Jaxson and Austin together?"

Brielle nodded.

"Okay, we will deal with it now!" Quinn happily carried two heavy rabbits to Austin and Jaxson, handing them over.

At this time, Jordan and Pearl were dumbfounded.

They looked at Brielle in disbelief.

Brielle was not a ghost?

Jordan asked anxiously, "Brielle, you are not dead? You fell from such a high cliff, how can you not die?"

There was a hint of joy in his eyes that he did not notice.

Although he was very shocked, he felt a sense of relief in his heart. He was glad that Brielle was still alive.

Ever since Pearl pushed Brielle off the cliff, although he promised to help keep it a secret and also convinced himself that it was Brielle's fate, he still could not help but feel guilty and sad. He had been uneasy this day.

Now that he knew that Brielle was still alive, his wandering heart finally returned to its original position.

Pearl shrieked, "How is that possible? You clearly fell off the cliff, and we also heard the sound of you falling down the cliff. How could you still be alive at such a high height? You must be a ghost! You must be a ghost!"

Brielle mocked, "I know you want me to die. Unfortunately, the God did not accept me. My life should not have ended."

Pearl shook her head hard, her eyes full of unwillingness and resentment, "Impossible, you should have fallen to death, why are you still alive?"

Brielle was too lazy to argue with a madman.

She said with an insincere smile, "Even if you can't accept it, it is a fact that you didn't kill me. The attempted murder can also be convicted. Just wait, I won't let you go."

There was fear in Pearl's eyes, and her body trembled even more.

Brielle looked down and glanced between her legs. Her expression was disgusted and mocking. "Before that, you should clean up your feces. It stinks like a biological weapon."

Brielle pinched her nose and swam upwards.

She wanted to go upstream to find a place to bathe.

"Ah, Brielle, you will die a horrible death! Since you are not dead, why are you deliberately pretending to be mysterious to scare me

Pearl screamed and cursed loudly.

Brielle caused her to shit in public. Where was her face?

Although there were only a few people here, she was still extremely ashamed and angry. She wanted to find a crack in the ground or kill all the others!

Jordan took two steps to the side and distanced himself from her.

He tried his best to hold back the urge to pinch his nose and sacrifice his sense of smell to preserve her last dignity.

"Pearl, don't say anymore. Go clean your body and change your clothes first."

Pearl looked at Jordan with red eyes and asked angrily, "Brother, why are you so far away from me? Do you dislike me?"

Jordan struggled for a few seconds, then shook his head. "I don't dislike you."

"Then why are you so far away from me?" Pearl bit her lips.

Holding back his anger, Jordan walked to her side, grabbed her arm, and pulled her up from the ground.

Because there was too much dung, there was not enough in her pockets.

Pearl stood up, and the filth leaked to the ground.

There was blood on the feces.

Although she did not feel any pain when she was scared out of her pants, the excessive force still tore her anus and bled a lot.

"Ah..."

Pearl was ashamed and annoyed. She screamed and stamped her feet, then pushed Jordan away.

With this stomp of her foot, even more feces fell.

Jordan felt a little nauseous and quickly said, "I will help you find clothes. You go to the river and wash up first."

He could take Hiis opportunity to stay away from her and not continue to endure the stink attacks.

Pearl bit her lips and endured the humiliation. She quickly ran to the river and directly jumped into it.

Quinn and the others originally wanted to go to the river to deal with the rabbits, but when they saw Pearl jump into the river, they stopped.

Austin said, "Let's go pick up some wood first and then go upstream to deal with it later."

They all nodded in agreement.

They picked up their things, avoided the filth that Pearl had left behind, and walked upwards.

They only stopped when they reached a place where they couldn't see Pearl at all.

[Hahaha, I'm dying of laughter. Pearl is actually scared out of shit!]

[Shit in public, this is too embarrassing, to the extent of moving away from Earth overnight! ]

[ Is a Thief Feeling Guilty!]

Jordan really loves Pearl. Everyone else is smoked to the point that they don't dare to get close. He still doesn't abandon Pearl. They are really a match!]

[Bitch Pearl deserves it! She wanted to kill Sis E; this is just a small punishment. After the filming, Sis E, please don't let her go!]

Upstream.

When Brielle finished taking a bath and walked back, not long after, she met Quinn and the others who had moved in.

After Quinn explained the reason, Brielle nodded in agreement and asked them to deal with the rabbit, without considering the two people downstream.

After dealing with the rabbit, Brielle began to roast it.

After the barbecue was done, Quinn and the others began to take the initiative to perform for Brielle.

Pearl and Jordan, who were downstream, listened to the happy atmosphere upstream and had mixed feelings in their hearts.

Especially Pearl, who was angry and afraid in her heart.

She leaned into Jordan's arms and cried aggrievedly, "Brother, what if Brielle prosecutes me after we leave this place?"

"Brother, you can't be Brielle's witness. If Brielle wants to sue me, just say that she falsely accused me. Don't say that I pushed her, okay?"

"At that time, there were only three of us at the scene. As long as the two of us don't admit it, she is framing me!"

Jordan frowned.

Pearl hooked her arms around Jordan's neck and forced him to look into her eyes. Tears hung from the corners of her eyes, and she said with tears in her eyes, "Brother, I don't want to go to jail. The prison is full of heinous villains. If I go in, I will die in the prison. Do you want to watch me die in prison?"

Jordan immediately said, "Don't cry. How can I help others harm you? You saved my life, and I will help you unconditionally. I won't let you go to jail. You didn't do anything wrong. No one can let you go to jail."

Pearl broke into a smile and excitedly pressed her face against his chest. "Thank you, Brother. I love you the most."

[Fuck! Pushing someone off the cliff You did nothing wrong. Young Master Galley's view of good and evil is really amazing. I

[Disgusting!/Two jerks!]

[ I will definitely send that bitch to jail! ]

[ Jordan should also be sentenced to a crime! ]

The seventh day.

Brielle was still the first to get up.

When she went to the river to wash up, she inadvertently looked into the distance and found that there was something on the surface of the lake in the distance.

Because it was too far away, she only saw a small dot and it was not clear.

Brielle waited by the river for a while, and the thing became bigger.

She also saw clearly what it was.

It was a cruise ship!

Moreover, it was the cruise ship that had sent them here!

It seemed that the program team had finally settled their matters and remembered that their group of guests who had been left in the forest had sent people to pick them up!
