

God, the Real Miss Hated Everyone Equally

Chapter 44

Chapter 44

"Do I look like I'm joking?" Brielle looked at Matt calmly.

Matt's heart trembled.

He swallowed his saliva and suppressed the shock in his heart. "Okay, then I will contact the people in the arena to pay attention."

"But you have to guarantee that you can really call God J to participate in the competition!"

"I will help you pay the registration fee first. If God J comes, I won't ask you for it. Just take it that I invited God J.

"If God J doesn't come, you have to give me the registration fee and the penalty fee!"

"But she didn't participate in the registration. She has to pay ten times the penalty fee and is banned by the competition for three years."

"Yes, I know." Brielle nodded.

Matt didn't say anything more and went to the side to make a phone call.

After arranging everything, they began to play with Joy Villa.

The area here was very large, and there were many entertainment facilities.

There was a golf course, a racecourse, a shooting range, and some extreme sports facilities.

Brielle was more interested in riding a horse.

She walked around the circle and was disappointed when she saw the horses:

These horses were raised quite well, but none of them were horse racing, so there was no point in riding them.

Brielle randomly picked one and prepared to run a few laps.

"You can change to another one. This horse has a fierce temper and is not easy to tame. Moreover, it also injured people." Matt advised.

Brielle looked at him in confusion. "Fierce?"

Matt smiled bitterly. "Yes. When I bought it, I saw that it was tall and strong. I thought that the customers would like it, so I spent more than one million to buy it. Who knew that after I bought it, several horse trainers did not tame it. There were also a few horse trainers who were kicked by it and were still not fully recovered."

"Kayden has tried it before, but even someone as powerful as Kayden can't tame it."

"I can only raise it as an ornamental horse."

As soon as he finished speaking, he saw that the "fierce horse" he was talking about had actually knelt down in front of Brielle and even let out a horse cry.

Brielle sat on the horse.

Only then did the 'fierce horse' stand up, and then slowly began to walk.

Brielle patted its horse's butt, and then it sped up to run.

Everyone was stunned.

After a long while, Matt came back to his senses and rubbed his head in confusion. "Did Brielle do something? She didn't do anything, so why did the horse submit to her? It even tried to curry favor with her?"

Kayden said with a smile, "All animals have spirituality, especially horses. Horses with spirituality will recognize their own masters."

"When ancient wars are frequent, those horses with spirituality will carry their master's body back home after their master dies in battle."

If the master fell off the horse before he died, the horse would take the initiative to bend down and let the master climb on the horse.

If the master could not move, some horses would continue to rub against the master's body until they carried the master's body on their backs and then carry him home.

George looked at Brielle who had already ridden far away and sighed, "Someone who can make so many animals like her must be a good person."

Micah nodded in agreement. "Yes, children and animals all rely on perception to decide how much they like a person. They can sense the energy field on a person. The purer the energy field, the more they can attract the love of children and animals, because it will be very comfortable to be close to them."

Brielle rode for a while and lost interest.

This horse was not strong enough, and its speed was not fast enough. It was meaningless to ride it.

Brielle rode back to her original position.

The horse knelt down eagerly again, allowing her to dismounteasily.

Matt smiled and said, "This horse seems to like you very much. Why don't I give it to you? No one else can ride it anyway."

"You can keep it here and come back to play when you have time."

The horse seemed to be very happy and called out twice again. The skin on both sides of its mouth was flying.

Brielle shook her head. The conditions of this horse are ordinary. I don't want it.

The corners of Matt's mouth froze.

This was already the best horse in his horse field, but she actually said that the conditions were ordinary?

He was a little unconvinced and said, "You can't even fancy such a good horse. Have you ever seen a better one?"

Brielle smiled and did not answer.

"I'm going to play with other projects. You can lock this horse up."

She handed the reins to Matt and went to the other places to take a look.

As soon as Mall took the reins, the horse kicked its hind legs angrily.

It was Kayden who pulled him and dodged.

If he was kicked, even if ge didn't die, he would still be crippled.

Matt was furious. He glared at the horse. "I provide you with food and shelter. Is this how you treat me?"

"You are like a grandson in front of Brielle, but she doesn't even like you. How dare you be fierce to me, a person who treats you well!"

Chapter 44

What are you fighting with a horse for?" Kayden's mouth twitched.

I'm going to accompany Brielle. You guys can play by yourselves."

After saying that, he walked towards Brielle.

However, when he caught up to Brielle, Brielle was already riding a bicycle with a girl. They were flying freely on the

She had already stepped on the bicycle to a speed of thirty yards.

Kayden:...

Isn't this a couple project?

Why is Brielle playing with a girl?

Also, she shouldn't know that girl, right? Why are they playing together?

Was her social ability so strong?

The girl sat behind Brielle, screaming all the time. She looked very happy and very excited.

Kayden looked outside the venue and was actually a little jealous of her.

grass.

Brielle seemed to like this project very much. She played for more than an hour and created all the bicycles on the ground.

The people who were knocked away were not angry, and they even took out their mobile phones to take photos excitedly.

When Brielle stopped, those people immediately ran over and surrounded Brielle to ask for photos and autographs.

Brielle smiled and helped them sign their names.

A few children in their teens crawled on the ground excitedly and said loudly as they crawled, "Sister E, do you think my climbing standard is good?"

"Many people in our class are your fans. We even had a crawling competition in our physical education class. I climbed the fastest in our class!"

"But my classmate said that I am still far from Sister E. There is no Sister E abstract. Sister E, can you give me some pointers?"

Kayden saw the corners of Brielle's mouth stiffen.

He couldn't help but chuckle.

He didn't expect that she, a social terrorist, would also have times when she was embarrassed.

They only left the amusement park at five in the evening.

He went outside to find a place to eat and then prepared to go to the arena.

Matt couldn't help but ask, "Sister E, where is your friend? Why haven't you contacted her yet? The competition starts at seven o'clock. It will be too late if we don't contact her."

Brielle said, "Don't worry, she can make it in time."

"By the way,

can I borrow a car to compete?"

Many racers had cars. When they participated in the competition, they would use cars.

Chapter 44

But she didn't have a car, and she had decided to participate in it at the last minute. It was too late to prepare a car now.

Moreover, the racing cars that participated in the competition had a certain standard for the shape of the car and the height. of the car. It was hard to find the right one now.

Matt said, "Yes. I have a few cars myself, but the car seats and so on are adjusted according to my physical condition. I don't know if it is suitable for God J to participate in the competition..."

Brielle said, "It doesn't matter, as long as it meets the standard."

Matt nodded and said, "Okay, as long as God J can participate in the competition, I will lend it to her for free. It doesn't matter even if it is broken!"

"The car that God J drove before, even if it is smashed, is still a precious piece of art!"

The corners of Brielle's mouth twitched.

It was a bit exaggerated.

Soon, they arrived at the arena.

Brielle signed the word "J" on the contestant book.

Matt and the others only thought that she was signing it on behalf of her friend and did not think too much about it.

Brielle asked Matt to take her to the car first.

She adjusted her seat in the car and drove around once to make sure that there were no more problems. Then she asked him to send the car to an inspection.

When they finished their work and came to the field, many people had already arrived. On the big screen at the scene, the names of the contestants and the grouping of the contestants were also displayed."

Some people saw the word "J" on the list of contestants.

Immediately, the scene was boiling with excitement.

Everyone was excited as if they had been injected with chicken blood.

But at the same time, there were also people who were suspicious..

"Am I seeing things? J? God J also came to participate?"

"Why would God J come to participate in such a small competition? Moreover, God J has long since stopped participating in the competition. How could she suddenly come to participate in the competition?"

Because sponsors were different, the amount of the competition varied, so even if it was a global competition, there was still a distinction.

This competition, the value was not high.

"It's fake, right? Someone impersonated God J to participate in the competition, right?"

"I also think it's fake. In the past, God J always participated in the competition with God E. This time, it was only God J alone. With one look, it was obvious that it was fake!"

J had an inseparable partner. The art was called E. The names of the two people were very casual. Regardless of whether it was a big or small competition, they would participate together. The last one or two would appear between them.

However, God J's overall technology was still better, so God J's reputation was greater.

However, anyone in the circle who knew God J would know about the existence of God E. Only the laymen who came to watch the show would know that God J was the only one.

Someone who knew Matt came to ask Matt about the situation.

Matt braced himself and said. "If nothing unexpected happens, it should be true..."

To be honest, he was not sure.

However, Brielle was so calm that he felt that he should believe in Brielle.

However, there was less than half an hour left before the start of the competition. God J had not come, which made him a little uncertain.

At this time, Robert also ran to find Matt.

Robert was very excited, and his eyes were so bright that they were about to shoot out light, and his body trembled uncontrollably.

"Mall, will God J really come to participate in the competition? Where is she?" Robert asked excitedly.

"You just need to prepare for the competition. The rest of the matters have nothing to do with you." Matt did not treat him well.

Suddenly, when Robert saw Brielle beside him, his face sank and his eyes revealed a look of disgust. "Brielle, what are you doing here? This is not a place for you to go crazy!"

曲