

God, the Real Miss Hated Everyone Equally

Chapter 52

Chapter 52

Roman retracted his gaze, his face turning cold.

He turned around and looked at the young woman in the back seat.

This person was called Lola, an artist under his company.

Lola and Brielle had once filmed together, and the two of them had had an unpleasant time on set.

It was probably because Lola pushed Brielle into the water, and Brielle knocked her out with a slap.

In the end, Lola's face was swollen for several days, causing her to be unable to continue filming and her role was changed.

After Lola was kicked out of the crew, she was very angry and scolded Brielle for a month on Twitter.

Later, she also said a few sarcastic words from time to time.

Everyone knew that the two of them were not on good terms.

"Are you ready?" Roman asked in a low voice.

Lola's face was pale and her entire body was trembling violently. She asked in a trembling voice, "Mr. Galley, can... can we change the way?"

"Please change the way. I still want to live..."

She cried out in fear, her tears falling.

"With Brielle's current reputation and status, do you think there is any way to kill her in one blow?" Roman asked with a gloomy face.

Lola bit her lip, unable to think of a way.

Roman said in a deep voice, "If you don't want to go, I won't force you. Everything depends on your choice."

"But if you don't go, what I promised you will not be fulfilled."

Lola said anxiously, "No, President Galley, you can't go back on your word!"

"You promised to arrange for my mother to go abroad for medical treatment. If my mother's illness is not cured, there will be no cure. You can't go back on your word!"

Roman said, "Whether or not your mother can be saved depends on your choice."

Lola clenched her fists tightly, her face ashen.

Her father and grandparents valued boys more than girls. After her mother bore birth to her, because she was a girl, they kept beating and insulting her mother.

When she was a child, there were several times when her grandmother deliberately brought her to dangerous places and wanted to kill her.

Her mother couldn't take it anymore and left home with her.

Her mother had no culture. In order to support her, she could only do physical work.

The years of hard work, coupled with the factory's incompatibility, her mother was infected with a lung disease and some other physical changes.

Her mother's illness could not be cured by the medical conditions in the country, and there was only hope when she was abroad.

However, she did not have the channels to send her mother abroad for treatment and did not have that much money.

The money that her mother had been hospitalized was donated to her by Pearl.

However, Pearl had also requested for her to find trouble with Brielle.

Back then on set, she had pushed Brielle into the water because of Pearl's request.

However, after Pearl had an accident in the variety show, she no longer gave her money.

The day before yesterday, she braced herself and contacted the boss Roman, hoping to borrow some money to pay for her mother's hospitalization fees and medicine fees this month.

At that time, Roman had given her some money in advance.

But last night, he suddenly contacted her and said that he had investigated her mother's condition and found a medical team that could treat her mother's illness.

As long as she helped him, he would promise to cure her mother's illness and he would bear all the expenses.

However, he did not help her for nothing.

He wanted her to exchange her life for her mother's life.

To exchange her life for her mother's life.

Roman did not force her, but gave her a choice.

But did she have a choice?

She had no choice.

Her mother had done so much for her, and now it was her turn to do something for her mother.

"President Galley, you have to promise that you will cure my mother's illness and give her a sum of money, so that she can live out her old age peacefully..."

"Well, as long as you help me solve the trouble of Brielle, I will never go back on my word. I will let your mother live a luxurious life for the rest of her life and live a rich life."

Lola reached out and wiped her tears..

At this moment, a photo was sent to her hand phone.

It was a photo of Brielle entering the room secretly.

Lola saved the photo and deleted the message.

Then, she sent Twitter a message:

[I didn't expect to meet this bitch Brielle here today. It is really a narrow road for enemies. I will teach her a lesson today!]

Her Twitter didn't have many fans. After she posted this on, there were only a few comments.

Even if someone saw it, no one cared.

Because in the past, Lola often cursed Brielle on Twitter.

They only thought that she was venting her dissatisfaction on Twitter this time.

After Lola finished sending Twitter, she put away the phone, got out of the car, and walked into the hotel.

Brielle, Kayden, and the others were eating in a private room on the 18th floor.

They also ordered a bottle of red wine.

When the waiter poured the wine for Brielle, the red wine accidentally spilled onto Brielle's clothes and wet them.

"I'm sorry, I'm sorry. I didn't do it on purpose..." The waiter panicked and kept apologizing.

George said unhappily, "Are you new here? Why are you so clumsy? How can the manager arranged for you to come to our private room?"

Kayden said in a deep voice, "Go and call your manager over!"

Brielle glanced at the clothes on her body and said, "Just blow it dry. There is no need to make a fuss."

The waiter was moved to tears. "Thank you for your generosity, Miss Galley. I will take you to the lounge outside to deal with it."

"Our hotel is equipped with a strong dryer and iron. The thin summer clothes can be dried in about ten minutes."

Brielle stood up and followed the waiter out.

When they arrived at the lounge, Brielle went to the bathroom to take off her clothes and let the waiter take them.

She put on the hotel bathrobe and waited in the room.

In less than ten minutes, the waiter brought her clothes back.

The clothes had been cleaned and dried.

Brielle changed her clothes, walked out of the lounge, and walked in the direction of the private room.

But when she walked to a corner in the corridor, a woman suddenly rushed to her with a knife in her hand and stabbed her.

Brielle reacted quickly and kicked the woman away.

The knife in the woman's hand did not touch her at all.

"Lola? What are you doing?" Brielle frowned and asked after seeing who the woman was.

Lola fell to the ground after being kicked, and the dagger in her hand fell from her hand.

She looked up at Brielle and smiled bleakly.

Then, she suddenly stood up and quickly turned around to run to the other side of the corridor.

Brielle raised her foot and followed.

Unexpectedly, the other end of the corridor was an open balcony.

As soon as she walked over, she saw Lola climbing over the guardrail.

Brielle's eyes narrowed, and she quickly walked over to stop her.

However, she was a step too slow.

Before she could walk over, Lola resolutely jumped down.

It was the height of the 18th floor.

There was no doubt that she would die.

Brielle stood by the railings and looked down. Lola's body fell to the ground and blood quickly spread under her.

The people around her screamed in fear and quickly spread out.

Someone looked up and saw a person standing on the balcony. He raised his hand and took a photo.

Soon, Twitter revealed the hot search of Lola's death when she fell from the building.

The Twitter that Lola sent to settle accounts with Brielle before she fell from the building was also hung up.

In addition, there was also a photo taken by a passer-by. The photo of Brielle standing on Lola's balcony was also exposed.

All of a sudden, the entire net exploded.

[What's going on? Why is Sister E standing on the balcony where Lola fell from? It's hard not to think too much about it...]

[Could it be that Brielle pushed Lola down the stairs? I remember that they have always had conflicts...]

[Brielle is so crazy. It feels like she can do it.]

[You don't need to think about it. It was definitely Brielle who pushed it! Lola just said that she was going to teach Brielle a lesson, then she fell off the building and died. Brielle just happened to be standing at the place where she fell off the building. If it was said that it had nothing to do with Brielle, who would believe it?]

[My god... Although we have been online saying that we like Sister E who doesn't care about the life and death of others, she can't really ignore the life and death of others and kill people?]

[It hasn't been long since she becomes popular.]

[Although I like Brielle very much, if she really killed someone, I will immediately turn into a anti-fan. In any case, the law is the lowest line!]

[She was so cruel in the show. She fought against everyone and didn't even let go of animals. She has a violent tendency at first glance. It is not strange for her to kill people!]

[Brielle is too much. Even if Lola really goes to find trouble with her, she can't kill her!]

I life for a life. That poisonous woman, Brielle, is definitely going to pay with her life!]

[I think before the investigation results of the police come out, it is better to not convict the Internet. I don't think Sister E is someone who would do such a thing.]

[Hehe, Brielle's son of a bitch fans have appeared. The evidence is in front of you. How are you going to investigate?]

[What kind of evidence is that? It's just a photo of her standing on the balcony. They didn't take a picture of her pushing someone.]

[Hehe, brainless fans are really scary. They are still defending themselves even though they are like this. I wonder if you are so filial to your parents?]

There was a heated discussion on the Internet.

A lot of people saw the photo of Brielle standing on the balcony. Combined with the Twitter that Lola had sent before, they all concluded that it was Brielle who pushed Lola off the balcony.

They cursed at Brielle.

They wished they could convict her online.

Although many people liked her very much during the live broadcast.

However, murder was already a crime, and most people chose to maintain the dignity of the law.

There were also a small number of people who believed that they could not be convicted based on this little bit of evidence.

However, the people on the Internet were more irritable, and it was easy to be led by public opinion, lacking the ability to think independently.

Once someone took the lead and said something, the more people there were, the more they began to follow the trend, completely ignoring the authenticity and rationality.

When the netizens kept arguing, Mount Entertainment's official account sent a message:

[Lola is an artist with potential under our company. We are all very sad that something like this happened to her.]

[At the same time, we don't believe that she committed suicide. Because our company had a meeting yesterday, we chose her as a supporting artist. She also told us many of her dreams. She couldn't commit suicide.]

[She also has a mother who needs her to take care of. She has a very deep relationship with her mother. She can't leave her mother alone.]

[The guardrail of the hotel was so high, and with Lola's height, it was already under her armpit, so it was impossible for her to lose her foot and fall down.]

[I hope the police can uphold justice and give justice to the deceased!!]
