

God, the Real Miss Hated Everyone Equally

Chapter 54

Chapter 54

Brielle soon finished watching the developments on the Internet and the direction of public opinion.

Roman...

This time, the ones who benefited the most were Roman and Mount Entertainment, making it difficult for her not to suspect him.

Moreover, the look in Lola's eyes when she jumped off the building did not look like she did not want to die and commit suicide.

She seemed to have no other choice.

She also noticed something

It was just a cover for Lola to use a knife to assassinate her.

At that time, the knife in Lola's hand did not stab her at all. It was just a show,

From the beginning, Lola's goal was to deliberately create the illusion of a conflict with her, then commit suicide and then frame her.

Once this happened, no matter whether she would be convicted or not, in the netizens' mouths, she was already a murderer.

Only when she became a murderer, and Roman was "generous and kind" to make up for the family of the deceased for his sister who had made a mistake, could he gain a good reputation.

If she was dead, Roman could not turn over, but now, Roman had the opportunity to use public opinion to make a beautiful turnaround.

Although Brielle did not have any evidence, she subconsciously suspected Roman.

Roman was the most ruthless person in that family.

It was normal for him to make others use their lives to turn the tables for him.

After all, when he targeted on his real sister, he even did not blink.

Brielle immediately contacted Kayden and asked him to investigate why Lola was going to that hotel today.

Was she following her, or was she going there for a meal and met her by chance?

This was very important.

After figuring this out, she could determine whether Lola was plotting to frame her.

Kayden was very efficient.

In less than half an hour, he called her back.

"I asked someone to check it out. Lola went in less than five minutes after we entered the hotel."

"When the hotel attendant received her, she said she was in a hurry and borrowed the toilet. The attendant took her to the bathroom on the first floor."

"Later, she ran to the 18th floor by herself."

"But because the surveillance of the entire hotel has been attacked, there is no record of how she went upstairs."

Kayden paused and continued, "However, she did not ask any of the hostesses about your whereabouts, but she was able to accurately find the floor you were on. It is obvious that she came prepared. Moreover, she knows Matt and I very well. Only then would she know where the reserved room that the hotel left for us is and let her accurately find the location."

"But it's impossible for Lola herself to know about this."

"In addition to this, Matt also sent people to investigate the waiter who poured red wine on you today."

"Matt forced the waiter. Someone gave her a sum of money and asked her to deliberately splash things on you and let you leave the private room alone."

"But she can't remember who it is. That person suddenly appeared in the hotel and wore a mask and a hat. She can't recognize who it is."

"George also sent people to investigate the direction of public opinion on the Internet. Roman bought a lot of Internet Water Army to guide public opinion."

"In fact, there were a lot of people who remained neutral in the beginning. They wanted to wait for the result of the investigation.

"But those who said that they believed in you were all madly insulted by the Internet Water Army. They could only delete their posts."

"Some who have not been deleted are also suppressed by the public opinion of the Internet Water Army."

Kayden's voice sank a little.

"The Internet Water Army that guided public opinion moved out in time, as if they had been ready for a long time. In less than three minutes after the matter broke out, they had already taken over the public opinion highlands one step ahead."

"If Roman wanted to use this rumor to change his reputation and buy a water army to guide public opinion, it would be too late."

"He seemed to have bought a water army in advance. He was just waiting for the news to break out and the water army would immediately move out."

Brielle sneered. "It really is him."

Kayden sighed. "Although you can guess that it was him, there is no definite evidence that he did it."

Brielle sneered, "It is normal for that old fox to not reveal his tail."

"You don't have to investigate this matter. There won't be any results."

Kayden asked, "Are you going to let him go?"

This was not her style at all.

Brielle said with a faint smile, "Not investigating doesn't mean I will let him go."

Kayden asked doubtfully, "What are you going to do?"

Brielle said, "Fight him directly!"

Kayden, "..."

Brielle directly hung up.

After that, Kayden called again, but she did not pick up.

Chapter 54

Brielle changed into a black sportswear, a black baseball cap, and a mask before going out.

An hour later, Brielle climbed over the wall and entered Galley family's villa.

She avoided the surveillance outside the door and climbed directly into Roman's bedroom from outside the wall.

It was already ten o'clock in the evening and Roman had not returned home yet.

Brielle walked to the door and listened to the movements outside.

There was no one outside.

She quietly opened the door and walked out.

It was very quiet outside.

At this time, it was impossible for Galley family to rest so early. It was only possible that they were not at home.

But it was normal.

Robert was still in the hospital, and today was Robert's birthday. They might have gone to the hospital to see Robert.

Strangely, there was no sound of a servant downstairs.

Was the servant not here?

Brielle was planning to return to Roman's room and wait for the rabbit.

But at this moment, she suddenly heard some strange sounds coming from the third floor.

The third floor was where Brooks and Sarah's bedroom was located. Brooks' study was also on the third floor.

The siblings all lived on the second floor.

However, she had just heard a strange sound.

A woman screamed.

It did not sound like Sarah's voice.

Brielle's

eyes

flashed and she walked upstairs.

On the third floor, she was sure that the voice came from the study.

That voice sounded a bit like a fantasy...

Although Brielle had never done the thing between a man and a woman, she had seen the film and could tell what it was that made the sound.

Brielle narrowed her eyes thoughtfully.

This sound did not sound like the sound from a phone or computer.

Did Brooks play so much?

He actually stole woman at home?

It seemed that the servants in the villa were not there. Maybe Brooks deliberately sent them away to make it easier for him to look for excitement.

Brielle suddenly became interested.

Chapter 54

She entered a room next to the study and climbed out of the window. With the window edge and pipes and air conditioning, she nimbly climbed up the wall and easily climbed out of the window of the study.

The window of the study was closed, but it was not closed, so it was not locked.

Brielle quietly opened the window a crack.

There was a little sound, but it was not very loud. It was completely covered by the cries of the woman inside, so it did not attract the attention of the people inside.

After the window was opened, she opened a corner of the curtain and looked inside.

When she saw the scene inside clearly, she was stunned for three seconds, and a flash of surprise flashed through her eyes.

Before she saw it, she had already determined what was going on inside through the sound.

But she did not expect that the person Brooks was secretly doing with was actually... Pearl!

This family was indeed rotten from top to bottom, rotten to the bones, rotten to the point of making people nauseous.

Brielle took out her phone from her bag and recorded a high-definition video.

Then, she turned all the functions of her mobile phone to silent mode.

Then, she turned on WhatsApp, pulled out Roman, Robert, Jordan, and Sarah from the blacklist and added them as friends.

She didn't wait long before all the friend requests were accepted.

Roman: [Brielle? Aren't you in the police station? How can you still use a mobile phone? ]

Robert: [Little Sister, have you forgiven me?]

Jordan: [Brielle, did you push Lola down the stairs? You are too impulsive. You hit people, but how can you kill people?]

Sarah: [You bastard, you caused your second brother to be amputated. Why don't you die? Your eldest brother said that you were caught by the police. How can you still contact me? Did you escape from prison?]

Brielle ignored their information and directly pulled them into a group.

Everyone who entered the group.

Roman: [?]

Robert: [??]

Jordan: [???]

Sarah: [You bastard, what the hell are you doing? Go back to the police station and turn yourself in. Don't think you can run away!]

Brielle sent a group video call invitation.

She invited the four of them to join the video call.

She turned off the volume in advance, and the prompt was also turned off. She was not afraid of making any sound.

Soon, they all joined the video call

In the four columns, their faces appeared.

They all frowned and looked puzzled.

Chapter 54

Sarah was a little angry.

Brielle saw their mouths open and close and kept talking.

Unfortunately, she turned off her voice and couldn't hear anything. She was not interested in listening.

Brielle curled her lips and turned the front camera on her side into the back camera. The camera was aimed at the two people overlapped in the book room.

Immediately, the expressions of the four people on the phone screen were stunned, and their eyes were full of shock and disbelief.

It was as if her world view had suffered a violent shock.

She saw that Sarah's expression had become distorted.

Even if she couldn't hear the sound, she seemed to have heard her angry roar and scream.

In the end, she collapsed and cried, tearing her hair and falling to the ground.

The few of them seemed to be together, and very quickly, Jordan rushed to help Sarah up.

After Sarah stood up, she pushed Jordan away forcefully and rushed out of the ward with an angry face.

Jordan hurried to chase after her.

Roman said something to the screen with a gloomy face.

Brielle curled her lips and ended the video call.

“可恶”

In the book room, Brooks quickly ended the round of 'battle' with Pearl.

Pearl had used all her acting skills on this and had always praised him for being awesome.

Brooks was praised so much that it seemed that he was trying to show off his strength. He took a prop and continued to play with Pearl...

It fully reflected what was called incapable.

After about half an hour, the door of the study room was suddenly pushed open from the outside.

With a loud bang, the two people in the study room were shocked.

"Ah..."

Pearl screamed and reflexively hid in Brooks' arms. Then, she looked at the door in panic.

When she saw who the person walking in was, she was so scared that her face turned pale and her face was full of panic.

"Mom... Mom? Today is Second Brother's birthday. Aren't you and Eldest Brother and Third Brother going to the hospital to celebrate Second Brother's birthday? You... Why are you back so early?" Pearl asked with a trembling voice.

Her voice was trembling and filled with panic.
