

God, the Real Miss Hated Everyone Equally

Chapter 88

Chapter 88

Brielle said, "No matter how cold a person is, his rectum is still warm."

Lov: "..."

He understood.

He walked in front of Fukuyu and squatted down.

Right now, there was no place on Fukuyu's body that he could lay his hands on. Just a touch would cause his hand with bleed.

Brielle was also very powerful. She was actually able to keep people alive after making him like this.

This was definitely a technical job.

Ordinary people could not do it.

"Don't... you can't do that..."

Fukuyu screamed weakly with a face full of fear.

However, no matter how he shouted, Lov did not have the heart to be merciful.

Lov quickly followed the requirements and sent the snake to where it should be.

Fukuyu screamed again and again.

None of the three people present were soft-hearted.

Brielle found a small medical kit from the material package and found a stitching thread to give to Lov. "Give him two stitches, lest the snake runs out."

Lov nodded and used the sewing method to sew a few needles.

Fukuyu screamed even more miserably.

Brielle said kindly, "When I went to find the ginseng, I saw a small bamboo forest there. We moved him there so that he could cool down under the bamboo forest."

Lov and Tana both felt that Brielle would not have such a good heart.

However, at this moment, they were already full of admiration for Brielle. They had no objections to any of her suggestions.

The two of them lifted Fukuyu and followed behind Brielle.

Soon, they arrived at the small bamboo forest that Brielle had mentioned..

There were only about twenty bamboos here, and there were not many of them, so they could not be called bamboo forests.

Brielle pointed to a piece of ground with four or five sharp bamboo shoots and said, "Put him on there."

Lov and Tana quickly understood what Brielle meant.

Fukuyu also understood.

His face was full of horror and his body trembled violently.

You are so vicious... You are a devil..."

Lov and Tana put him on the bed.

In order to prevent him from moving his own position, they also found a few branches that were five centimeters thick to be a wooden stake and stuck his hands and feet on the ground to solidify.

"Let's go." Brielle no longer cared about Fukuyu and turned to leave.

Lov and Tana also followed her footsteps.

Behind them. Fukuyu's weak begging came.

He begged them to kill him before leaving.

Bamboo in prosperous seasons could grow up to ten to twenty centimeters a day,

In a tropical forest like this, the rain was sufficient, the land was fertile, the temperature was suitable, and it only grew faster.

And the bamboo shoot had a very strong penetrating power, even if the cement floor was blocked above, it could still pierce through the cement floor, let alone a mere human body.

He could already imagine how miserable and painful it would be for him...

When the bearded man saw Fukuyu's miserable appearance, he was so angry that his entire body trembled.

"Brielle is too cruel. She has already made Fukuyu shed a layer of skin, yet she still used such a vicious method to torture him. She is simply not human!"

Even though he knew that the big white tiger had been released and that Brielle could not be arrogant for long, he still could not control his anger when he saw how miserable his own people were.

At the same time, he could not help but be afraid.

Brielle is so ruthless. If they fall into the hands of Brielle, the consequences are unimaginable...

John said, "Don't worry, she will not be able to be arrogant soon."

"Ask someone to start the live broadcast online again. I want her to be frightened by the big white tiger in front of the whole world, and then kneel down to Jebi and beg for mercy!"

"I also want Jebi to conquer the big white tiger under the witness of the whole world. Let the whole world know that our Widi is the best. No one can shake the world status of Widi!"

"Whether it is national strength or personal strength, Widi is the best!"

Everyone praised.

In the forest.

Another new drone flew in front of Brielle.

The camera on the drone was flashing with red light.

The live broadcast started again.

Brielle did not say anything about this.

Usually, when the live broadcast was on, let it be on. As long as it was closed at a critical moment, it would be fine.

Although what she did was legal in Noglia's underground world.

However, it could not stop the public from talking about it.

She might still be raped by the domestic audience because of her cruel means.

No one would want to be scolded, and she was no exception.

Although she did not particularly care, she avoided it if she could.

In Oscus' live broadcast room.

[The live broadcast finally turned back to Brielle. What happened just now? Why did the live broadcast change?]

[It can't be that Sister E tortured Fukuyu and the program team felt that the scene was not harmonious, so they turned off Sister E's camera, right?]

[Sister E taught Fukuyu a lesson? Why didn't he broadcast such a good thing?]

[I contacted Baga's friend and asked him. He said that Baga's live broadcast room has already turned to Widi, Fukuyu should have already gone offline.]

[Hahaha, happy. Fukuyu deserves it. He deserves it!]

[Am I the only one who thinks that Brielle is too much? Although that was taken abroad, as Oscusian, Brielle should abide by Oscus' law and maintain our Oscusian's upbringing and demeanor. She said dirty words and even hurt people with her hands. This is damaging our Oscus' image in the world. I think that when she comes back after filming the program, the country should punish her. It can't be ignored.]

[I also think that Brielle is a bit too much. This is a global broadcast. She actually used an arrow to hurt people in front of the camera. She is too violent and too extreme. It is easy to teach a child bad.]

[Our Oscus country has always been friendly. Now, Oscus' image has been ruined by Brielle. From the moment she appeared, she insulted the people of other countries and casually hurt people. I have long wanted to complain, but there are 100 many brainless fans of her. I have never dared to say it.]

[Upper, you are useless. You like to be cowards. You hide in the dark ditch and continue to be a turtle. Don't accuse a brave person here! Brielle scolded people and hurt people with her hands. She only fought back when the other party provoked her first. When other countries provoked Brielle and said that they insulted our Oscus, why didn't you open your mouths and shout twice?]

[Point at your own compatriots, when facing foreign discrimination and insulting our country, none of you dare to make a sound. People like you are really cheap, I even feel shame for you.]

In the forest.

Brielle and the other two continued to move forward in the forest.

During this time, they encountered a lone lion.

Brielle originally wanted to shoot it to death with an arrow.

But Lov quickly rushed over and used the old method to hold the lion.

Brielle could only raise the hammer and smash it on the lion's head.

It was already noon, so they cut some lion meat and roasted it to eat.

The taste of lion meat was similar to beef, and it tasted very good.

In addition, there was a small bag of seasoning in the material bag. After sprinkling the seasoning, the meat tasted even more fragrant.

After eating their fill, the three of them rested in place for a while before continuing their journey.

At the same time, the big white tiger at the edge of the forest had already woken up from its sleep.

It seemed to be very irritable.

As soon as it woke up, it let out a long roar towards the sky.

"Roar —"

The strong voice had a very strong penetrating power and was very intimidating.

The animals within a radius of two kilometers were all frightened and anxious, running away in panic.

The birds resting on the trees were also shocked and flew deeper into the forest. They subconsciously distanced themselves from the source of this dangerous sound,

The big white tiger stood up from the ground and growled as it walked into the forest.

SEND GIFT