

God, the Real Miss Hated Everyone Equally

Chapter 91

Chapter 91

Brielle frowned. “Why are you running? Am I that scary?”

“Come back!”

The big white tiger ran even faster.

Not going back.

Even it was beaten to death, it wouldn’t go back!

The last time it’s dick was crushed by her, he had lost his male demeanor.

It had even been kicked to death by her, and it couldn’t even pull out a perfectly shaped shit.

Its head was also smashed by her. And it was not smart as before!

If it got close to her again, it might be able to hurt by her again.

The painful past told him that it would be unlucky to get close to the female upright ape!

When Brielle saw the big white tiger running away without looking back, she was instantly angry.

She lay flat on the ground, her limbs swaying quickly as she crawled towards the big white tiger in a dark and twisted manner.

She had a sinister smile on her face as she stared at the back of the big white tiger with malicious eyes. She let out an excited and strange laugh.

“Hahaha... You have aroused my desire to win. I will play with you and see who is faster!”

The big white tiger was so scared that it stumbled and fell again. It was so anxious that it screamed loudly. It seemed that it was about to cry. It completely lost the demeanor of the king of beasts.

Seeing this, Brielle’s laughter became more and more strange.

“Hurry up and run. If you get caught by me, you’ll be beaten.”

“Roar...!” I love peace and don’t love fighting. Don’t chase me!

Behind them.

Tana and Lov stared at Brielle’s distorted back.

Her sinister laughter lingered in their ears.

Ridiculous!

It was too outrageous!

Why was such a big tiger afraid of Brielle than a mouse seeing a cat?

It was the king of animals!

No, with its size, it was no exaggeration to call it the king of all animals!

But it was actually scared by Brielle and ran away?

Abig tiger that was close to five hundred kilograms was actually chased by a human who didn’t know if it was fifty kilograms.

Chapter 91

It was simply outrageous!

Jeb! and the other contestants were also shocked.

It was as if they had been paralyzed. They stood still, watching the strange scene in shock.

Why was it like this?

Shouldn’t the big white tiger be able to kill Brielle with a single slap?

Why did it run?

It had a weight of five hundred kilograms, yet it was actually afraid of a small human?

Could it be any more cowardly?

Jeb! was so angry that his chest heaved violently, and he tightened his fists. His face alternated between green and red.

He had originally thought that after the big white tiger came out, he would be able to wash away his previous shame and regain his former glory, allowing Brielle to kneel down and beg for protection.

But the result was like this...

He was about to explode in anger!

What was the boss behind the scenes planning?

At this time, the boss behind the scenes was also dumbfounded.

In the room, there was a deathly silence..

Everyone’s faces were extremely ugly. They watched as the big white tiger that they had placed all their hopes on was chased by Brielle and fled through the forest. They were so angry that their faces turned green.

Especially John, his expression was the most ugly.

This was a secret killing weapon that he had bought only after he had pulled down his face and begged others, and even, spent fifty million to buy it!

As a result, the big white tiger, which could scare people to the point that their legs went soft with just a tiger’s roar, was actually scared to the point that it couldn’t even walk away from that Oscus woman!

His fifty million was wasted!

Now, not only did it not save Widi’s face, it even made Widi lose face in front of the entire world’s audience.

What was even more outrageous was that it even made Brielle grow her prestige in front of the entire world’s audience!

His fifty million was actually all for Brielle!

He racked his brains, but could not figure out what went wrong.

Fuck! Why did it become like this? Why would the big white tiger be afraid of Brielle? And why would it be chased by Brielle? It should be afraid of Jeb!

He stood up in anger and walked around the viewing room, constantly smashing things to vent his anger.

The bearded man trembled and said, “Sir John, calm down. Don’t be angry and ruin your health...”

John said angrily, “Fuck! I spent so much money to prepare a big killing weapon, but it turned out like this. How can I not be angry?”

Chapter 91

“Not only did I lose money, but you also lost face. If it was you, would you

not be angry?”

The bearded man stopped talking.

Even if he did not spend his money, he was still angry when he saw that Brielle was not frightened and instead had the upper hand.

Toofucker said, “Despicable Oscusian. Brielle must have used hypnosis to hypnotize the big white tiger!”

“When she participated in the recording of Wilderness Survival, the monkey and Martes flavigula listened to her. They must have used some kind of hypnotism!”

“Otherwise, it is impossible for humans to communicate with animals without any obstacles!”

The rest of the people also began to find various reasons to slander Brielle in order to comfort John.

But John did not calm down.

Fifty million dollars!

He bought a trash!

No, if he only bought a trash, he would not be so angry. He was spending money to help other show off in front of the whold world!

Damn it, the more he thought about it, the angrier he became, and he couldn’t calm down at all.

Oscus’ live broadcast room.

[Classic Sister E is online.]

[Hahaha, god damn “classic style Sister E, but it has indeed been a long time since I’ve seen Sister E laugh so abnormally as she crawled. The same posture and expression when she was chasing the monkey...]

[Shit! Stunned my whole family! What’s going on? Why would the big white tiger be afraid of Sister E?]

[Stunned! The monkey in Wilderness Survival was beaten several times by Sister E before he recognized Sister E as the boss. But I didn’t see Sister E beat up this tiger. Why was this tiger afraid of Sister E as well? It was even more afraid of Sister E than the monkey that had been beaten several times.]

[Could it be that Sister E’s reputation has spread in the animal world?]

[Don’t be too outrageous. It’s so far away and it’s another species. How can this be spread?]

[Although I don’t know what’s going on, I want to say Sister E is too cool!]

[Sister E is mighty and domineering. She ruthlessly slapped Widi in the face!]

[I’m dying of laughter. Just now, Jeb! wanted to force Sister E to beg for his protection. Sister E don’t need his protection.]

[Hahaha. Looking at their faces that are uglier than death, I’m too happy!]

The broadcast rooms of other countries were quiet and silent.

It was too shocking.

They did not want to praise Brielle.

However, this shocking scene made them unable to go against their conscience and scold her. They could only silently watch this heaven–defying scene.

In the forest.

The big white tiger who was running away did not hear the eerie laughter behind it. It thought that the terrifying upright. ape did not catch up to it and wanted to look back to see how far away it was.

As a result, when it turned around, the tiger was almost scared to death, and its anus suddenly tightened.

That terrifying upright ape actually gave up on walking with its legs and crawled towards it with its four limbs!

Moreover, the expression on her face was so terrifying!

At this time, she was already very close to it, just a little bit more and she was about to hit its butt!

The big white tiger wailed and quickly retracted its gaze, using all its strength to continue running.

However, Brielle suddenly flicked her legs, and her body shot up three meters high. She grabbed a tree vine with both hands and leaped, directly pouncing onto the back of the big white tiger.

The big white tiger bared its teeth in fright and swung its body forcefully, wanting to throw down the upright ape on its back.

“Pa!”

Brielle threw a big punch at its head.

“Behave yourself. If you dare to swing it around again and again, I will hammer your head with a latte. If the hammer hits you, you will lose your life.”

The big white tiger was so scared that its whole body trembled, and it let out a low and deep roar.

The voice did not sound domineering at all, but had a sense of grievance.

The tiger felt wronged.

Its two front paws dug the ground a few times, and then it crouched down. The anus was tightly attached to the ground, and its big tail hung down to block it, preventing the fate of being hit again.
