

God, the Real Miss Hated Everyone Equally

Chapter 92

Chapter 92

Brielle asked, "Why did you see me running away? Am I that scary?"

The big white tiger roared and nodded.

Brielle pinched her chin and said with a puzzled face, "I think I am quite friendly. I am not fierce to you. What are you afraid of?"

Big White Tiger: "... You crushed my egg, kicked my anus, and made me unable to pull out the shit in a perfect shape.

Brielle said, "Forget it. Don't scream. You just say some words that I don't understand. Carry me back. Follow me for the next few days."

The big white tiger howled and stood up dejectedly. It turned around and walked back.

His King's Dream was broken.

As it walked, its tail hung down, sticking to the two sides.

[Shit! I can't describe my feelings with words. Sister E actually slapped the tiger? And used the tiger as a mount? The tiger actually understands Sister E's words?]

[Sister E, tell me honestly. Are you the god? This is too incredible! The amter of Monkey and Martes flavigula, it could be said to be a coincidence, but now the tiger can understand it. It is hard for me to believe that this is a coincidence...]

[Why is this tiger walking strangely? Why is its tail so close to its butt?]

[Sister E, please start a class. I like animals very much. I also want to communicate with animals, especially my cat. I want to know if it is scolding me every day...]

When Brielle returned to her original position on the big white tiger, everyone was shocked and frightened.

Especially the people on Jebi's side.

In a short time, they were shocked several times by Brielle's operation.

She actually caught up with the huge beast and even took it as a mount!

They didn't even dare to do such a thing in their dreams.

But Brielle, a woman who they looked down on, actually tamed a tiger as a mount?

Now they didn't dare to look down on Brielle.

In their eyes, Brielle was a ridiculous existence.

Brielle looked coldly at Jebi. She took the bow and arrow from her back and aimed it at Jebi. She wanted to kill him.

When she took the bow and arrow, Jebi had already reacted and quickly ran away.

When he was running away, he used the trees in the forest to block his body, and Brielle could not hit him.

The rest of the people took advantage of the fact that Brielle was aiming at Jebi and fled in panic.

Brielle

pul down the arrow and had no intention of chasing them.

It was getting late and it was time for dinner. She had to eat on time.

Brielle put away the arrow and looked at Tana and Lov.

Chapter 92

The two of them retreated a little in fear, distancing themselves from her..

To be exact, it was to increase the distance between them and the big white tiger.

"Roar!"

The big white tiger saw that someone was afraid of it and felt that it had recovered its dignity. It bared its teeth and roared at them domineeringly.

Tana and Lov were so scared that they took a few steps back.

Just as the big white tiger was feeling proud, Brielle slapped it on the head.

The big white tiger immediately felt his brain buzzing.

"Behave yourself. If you dare to scare them again, I will pluck all your hair!" Brielle threatened unhappily.

The big white tiger growled twice and drooped its head again.

Brielle looked at Tana and Lov and said to them, "You don't have to be afraid. With me here, it won't dare to hurt you."

Tana still didn't dare to get close. She nervously swallowed her saliva and asked in a trembling voice, "Brielle, how did you tame it? It looks so terrible, but it is actually afraid of you and is willing to be your mount. It is too incredible!"

Brielle thought for a moment and smiled. "Maybe I look kind. Animals like to be close to kind-hearted people.

Tana: "..."

Lov: "..."

Do you think we believe you?

Brielle said, "It's getting late. Let's find a place to stay and then prepare dinner."

Lov said, "Okay, find a good spot first, then I'll go hunting."

Brielle smiled, "There are ready-made labor, why do you need to find it yourself?"

As she spoke, she flipped over from the back of the big white tiger and landed on the ground.

Then she patted the big white tiger on the head, "Go catch a deer and come back. Suddenly, I want to eat deer meat."

The big white tiger cried twice and turned to run away.

Lov and Tana were stunned.

It was a while before they came back to their senses.

Tana asked, "Can... Can it understand? And if it runs away, will it come back?"

Brielle said, "I'm not sure, but it probably won't run. If it runs away, catch it and teach it a lesson."

Tana:

She looked at Brielle and did not know what to say for a moment.

Brielle took them to find a place to stay at night.

They walked for half an hour and found the riverside. They repaired a flat ground by the river to make it convenient for them to rest at night.

Lov also went to pick up some dry wood and came back.

Brielle and Tana took the opportunity to go to the river to wash their bodies.

By the time they finished everything, more than an hour had passed and the big white tiger had not returned.

Tana said, "Did the big white tiger really escape?"

She felt that the probability of it escaping was very high.

That was the king of beasts, how could it be willing to be a human mount?

Once it found an opportunity, it would definitely run away without looking back.

Before Brielle could answer, a rustling sound came from the forest.

A big white tiger jumped out.

Then, one tiger after another jumped out from behind it.

Brielle counted, there were six tigers.

"What are you doing? Are you trying to rebel?"

The big white tiger cried out.

Brielle: "Don't scream, I don't understand."

The big white tiger closed its mouth and looked at her with a faint gaze.

Brielle asked tentatively, "You brought them back for me to order?"

The big white tiger nodded.

Brielle smiled and said, "You are a good tiger."

"Alright, but there's no need for so many. Just leave two behind and give them both a ride tomorrow."

"Don't be idle for the rest. Let them follow the group of people you met today and report to me tomorrow."

The tigers began to communicate.

After a while, the two tigers, who were the same color as the big white tiger, but were much smaller than it, were left behind.

The rest ran into the forest.

Brielle looked in the direction of the depths of the forest and curled her lips.

None of those people could escape.

Brielle came back to her senses, looked at the big white tiger and asked, "Where is the prey I asked you to hunt?"

The big white tiger looked at the two tigers, and they immediately ran into the forest. Soon, they dragged a deer that had been bitten to death back.

Brielle asked Lov to deal with the venison.

Lov was stunned again. He stretched out his hand and slapped himself. "Am I dreaming? I still live on Earth, right? I actually obstacles?" saw humans being able to communicate with tigers without any

As he doubted life, he carried the deer to the river.

Tana was also in a state of shock and was dizzy.

Brielle sat on the grass and looked at the three tigers with great interest.

Of the two tigers that were left behind, one of them was a female and seemed to be in heat. She was still very fond of the big white tiger and did not consider the size of the tiger at all.

It kept sticking to the big white tiger and even facing its buttock.

The big white tiger was so angry that it bared its teeth at it, but it was unwilling to give up such a good gene and continued to invite it.

The big white tiger angrily used its head to knock it away and then lay on the grass with a depressed face.

It was no longer a complete tiger and could not give it what it wanted.

The tiger shed tears.

When Brielle saw this interesting scene, she could not help but laugh.
