

Mission To Remarry Chapter 796

Roxanne felt conflicted as she realized she had inadvertently betrayed Lucian. I wonder what Lucian will say when he finds out...

"Come on, Roxanne. We're going to be working closely together from now on, so it'd do us good to spend more time with each other," Larry chimed in as well.

Left with no other choice, Roxanne recomposed herself and assented with a smile. The three of them left the private room and went straight to the banquet hall on the third floor.

Roxanne was shocked when she stepped out of the elevator. Everyone involved in the project was already waiting for her in the banquet hall. It was as though they already knew the signing of the contract would be successful.

They all flocked over to Roxanne with their glasses raised. "Mr. Damaris says you played a huge part in resolving the issue with our supply of medicinal herbs, Dr. Jarvis! Here's a toast to you!"

"It's truly amazing how a young woman like you could make such great accomplishments in the medical field!" Just like that, they surrounded Roxanne and kept raising toasts to her.

their toasts. Jack and Larry helped receive some of the toasts on Roxanne started feeling a buzz from all that drinking.

to what Cayden told me, Damaris Group and Herbscape Group should be signing the contract on the second floor. With that in mind, they had finished signing the contract long ago. The look on Lucian's face turned gloomy when he heard that. Did Roxanne go straight home after signing the contract, or is she when his phone started ringing all of a sudden. With a reluctant frown on up yet?" Elias asked in a cold voice. "I just arrived at the hotel. I'll be with you in a minute," Lucian replied before hanging up the phone see Roxanne and clear things up with Elias. However, Roxanne was nowhere in sight, and Elias had the circumstances, Lucian had no choice on the top floor where Starlight sitting by a window the moment he stepped both had expressionless looks on their faces whenever they weren't