

Mission To Remarry Chapter 876

Before she could get out of the car, Roxanne saw that Colby was already waiting at the entrance of the research institute.

She was surprised.

It's the weekend today, so no one should be working at the research institute, including Colby. There's not much going on here for him to work overtime. Although I need to move the medicinal herbs and devices, I didn't ask him to come. What is he doing here?

"Mr. Damaris." Upon seeing the two get out of the car, Colby walked over and greeted Jack first politely before turning to Roxanne. "Dr. Jarvis."

Roxanne sensed something amiss, but she dismissed it as her overthinking. She smiled and greeted in return, "Dr. Galloway."

Colby nodded in acknowledgement.

"There's nothing much to do at the research institute today, so why are you..." Roxanne could not help but ask.
