

Chapter 276 The Way To Entertain Guests

Aldrin was standing close by with Laura beside him when Forrest turned around.

For a brief moment, Forrest's expression seemed to change to something unusual, but eventually, his gaze settled on Laura.

Standing in close proximity to her, Aldrin sensed her trembling, so he took her hand and whispered to her, "Don't be afraid. I'm here with you."

Forrest's fists clenched when he noticed Aldrin holding Laura's hand.

Camila observed that Forrest was struggling to control his emotions, so she hurriedly approached Laura strategically obstructing Forrest's view and said, "Now that I've located them, I think I should escort them out. Forrest, you can return to your work."

Forrest didn't leave. Instead, he walked purposefully toward them and said, "I need to speak with Laura."

Laura lifted her eyes with an emotionless expression. Then she said in a calm voice, "There is nothing for me to discuss with you. It's your wedding day, so take care of yourself. I don't want to disrupt your special day. To be honest, if I had known it was your wedding day, I wouldn't have even been here. Aldrin tricked me into coming. He said that it was his friend's wedding and asked me to be his date for the occasion. I didn't come here with the intention of ruining your wedding or causing any trouble."

After she finished her words, Laura tugged at Aldrin's hand and declared, "I think it's time for us to leave."

Forrest caught up to them and forcefully removed Aldrin's hand from Laura's grip. He immediately proceeded to shove Aldrin to the side.

Laura took Aldrin as a friend, so she couldn't fathom why Forrest would treat him in such a manner.

"Forrest, what exactly do you think you are doing?" Laura asked, perplexed by his behavior. "As the groom and the center of attention today, you are supposed to be welcoming and nice to the people who have come here because of you. Instead, you hurt and mistreated him. Is this how your esteemed family treats its guests?" She couldn't hide her disappointment with Forrest's conduct. One could tell from the chilly tone she used as she Forrest didn't respond to her. He took hold of her wrist and swiftly led her away.

"Get your hands off me!" Laura demanded fiercely.

Aldrin rushed over and attempted to separate Forrest's hand from Laura's wrist. "Let her go!"

Camila lunged forward to stop Aldrin.

"Why are you trying to stop me? Can't you see Forrest taking Laura against her wish? He's already bullying her for crying out loud!" Aldrin exclaimed, frustrated by Camila's interference.

"He won't bully Laura. Let them sort things out between themselves. We shouldn't get involved," Camila replied, trying to calm Aldrin down.

"What is left to talk about? They've broken up, haven't they?!" Aldrin retorted.

"You know nothing," Camila challenged back.

Their relationship had been so intertwined for an extended period that even if they were to end it, they would still cherish each other in their hearts.

Oh, dear!

A sigh escaped from her lips.

"I have to look for her!" Aldrin disregarded Camila's advice and made it clear that he did not want Laura to associate with Forrest anymore.

He took off in the direction the duo had taken.

Camila knew she couldn't prevent a grown up man like Aldrin from going after them even if she tried. He was too determined.

"Aldrin!" Camila called out.

She knew he wasn't going to stop, so she lifted up her dress and ran after him.

Aldrin came to an abrupt halt.

At that same moment, Camila ceased her sprint and advanced slowly.

At a corner of the corridor, Laura was trapped between Forrest and the wall and was sharing a kiss with him.

At that point, no one mattered to them. Everyone was expendable.

She extended her hand to grasp Aldrin's and murmured, "Aldrin, come with me."

However, she got no response from him.

He just stared blankly at Forrest and Laura.

It appeared as though he was about to sprint over and yank Forrest away at that moment. After that, he would likely give Forrest a severe thrashing.

Camila, on the other hand, was just speechless and unsure of what to say.

As she pondered on ways to convince Aldrin, her attention was drawn to a figure appearing on the glass door. She swiftly turned around to find a young woman adorned in a beautiful wedding gown standing not too far away. The lady's makeup was skillfully done and she had a lovely and charming appearance.

Could it be that the lady she saw was indeed the bride for the wedding that was taking place that day?

She had definitely caught a glimpse of Forrest and Laura.

Flustered, Camila began stammering at Forrest, "Forrest, what are you doing?! You must have mistaken someone else for the person you're looking for."

She hoped she could alert him of the mess he had gotten into and quickly take Laura away.

As Forrest turned around and caught sight of Divya, he slowly released Laura's hand.

Suddenly, the atmosphere became tense and quiet.