

Chapter 293 Fooling Him

Isaac had been abroad for some time, leaving Travis to hear rumors of a feud between him and Camila.

However, there was no conclusive evidence to support this rumor.

Was there really a disagreement between Isaac and Camila?

"I don't believe it." Travis found it hard to believe, even as Isaac hung up on him without a word.

Did this mean that Isaac was indifferent to his wife's well-being?

Or was he up to his old tricks again?

This situation really confused Travis.

"Did you have a disagreement with Isaac?" He looked at Camila and asked.

She knew Isaac was devastated by his mother's death.

She understood him.

But her heart broke when he said he could never fall in love with the person responsible for his mother's death.

Camila was devastated.

She tried to hide her sadness and asked, "Didn't you hear what he said? Why are you still asking me?"

Travis gazed at Camila and could tell that she was genuinely upset.

But Camila was cunning, as was Isaac.

He couldn't tell if he was being fooled or not.

He had been outwitted by Isaac before and couldn't let that happen again.

Whether or not Isaac cared for Camila, Travis wasn't willing to let her go.

He dialed Isaac's number once more.

Meanwhile, Isaac had already met with Alick.

The GPS on Camila's phone showed that she was headed south.

Isaac narrowed his eyes and asked Willie to bring him the map.

As they studied the map, they realized that the south was a prosperous area with administrative buildings.

This location was not ideal for Travis to commit crimes.

"Is everything alright? Our men have been tracking her location constantly..."

"Does this seem normal to you?" Isaac asked.

Alick studied the map and fell silent for a few seconds. "It's definitely not normal, but..."

"Maybe she doesn't have her phone on her," Willie interrupted him.

Alick had overlooked the details in his anxiousness.

It was suspicious that the tracking had gone smoothly. Travis had likely prepared well for this.

Travis had made full preparation. There was no way he could allow Camila to take her phone with her.

"We need to find the person holding the phone. Only then will we know the truth," Willie said determinedly.

Alick quickly instructed his men to take action.

Suddenly, Isaac's phone rang loudly.

He stared at the caller ID, and saw it was Travis' number.

"Don't answer it," Willie warned.

He bet Travis was calling to threaten Isaac once again.

It was preferable not to answer so that Travis would give up contacting them.

Then he would be cornered.

Isaac gave Willie a cold look, but he still answered the phone.

He couldn't risk not answering and provoking Travis. If he did, Travis might hurt Camila and Joe.

Although Isaac knew he would be controlled by Travis, he had to face it.

He just couldn't keep calm.

Camila and Joe were his only family now.

Without Cathy, they were all he had left.

He couldn't let anything happen to them, even if it meant facing Travis and risking his own life.

With a deep breath, Isaac answered the phone in a cold tone. "I've made myself clear. Which part of my words don't you understand? Or do you lack the ability to understand them?"

Travis became visibly irritated and lashed out. Isaac's mocking tone only added fuel to the fire.

How could he not be angry?

"I'll give you one hour to give me Mercury Corp. If you don't comply, I'll tear Camila apart and feed her to the fish in the river," Travis threatened before hanging up.

Travis' voice interrupted Camila's thoughts. "Do you think Isaac will give me his company so you can be safe?"

"You're mistaken. I'm not that valuable," Camila replied coldly.

"I think he will come." Travis chuckled, leaning back in his seat. "I know Isaac. Even if he doesn't have feelings for you, you're still his woman. He'll do whatever it takes to save you and save face."

It would be better if Travis didn't say anything because Camila felt sadder when she heard his words.

Isaac's rescue attempt was just a way to save face? Camila felt disheartened.

"I don't think you're right. Isaac wouldn't put himself in danger for me. You should just give up," she said.

Travis chuckled. "Wanna bet?"

"Bet on what?" Camila asked and stared at him vigilantly.

Chapter 294 Bomb

"If Isaac comes to your rescue, I'll let you go with him. If he doesn't show up, you'll be my woman forever," Travis said with no emotion in his voice.

He didn't say that because he liked Camila. He didn't even have feelings for her to begin with. It was because she was once Isaac's woman.

He wondered what Isaac would do if he had his ex.

Would he find it shameful upon himself?

Or would he feel humiliated?

Nevertheless, Camila was never going to agree to such a bet. "You need to see a doctor! You're nuts!"

Travis's face darkened immediately he heard that. He held her chin so hard and yelled back, "Don't you dare raise your voice at me!"

Camila wasn't shaken by that at all. She didn't even flinch one bit. She looked him directly in the eyes and said with fearlessness in her voice, "You know nothing but how to threaten people. You threaten me with my mother and child, right? Just wait and see what will happen to you! You will be disgraced even if you win. You can do whatever the hell you want, but I'll never be in bed with you! Never!"

Travis's eyes burned with rage at that moment. "No wonder Isaac wanted you. You have backbone!"

Any fragile woman would have burst into tears after hearing that.

Turned out Isaac didn't like her just because she was pretty.

Travis was also impressed by what was in front of him.

"Alright, then. You keep acting tough. Let's see what you're really made of." He shoved her as he said, "Get the hell out of the car!"

Camila didn't like the idea of staying in the car with him, anyways.

She felt a lot of pain in her chin.

However, she stayed strong and refused to cry out in pain.

She knew that if she did, Travis would be very much contented.

She stood quietly beside the car and the breeze blew her hair around, leaving it in a mess.

Travis got out of the car, walked to the back and took out a bomb vest from the trunk. Then he walked up to her.

Camila widened her eyes in horror when she saw the vest. "What the hell do you think you're going to do to me?!"

Travis was finally happy after seeing a hint of fear on her face. "You won't believe what I went through to get this. Take a good look at the vest. It's full of bombs. It even has a nice little controller. Guess who's going to wear it."

Camila was in no way interested in knowing who it was for.

All she wanted to do was get it as far away from her as possible.

All of a sudden, he made a gesture to his men to hold her still. "Do you know what it is called? I'll tell you. It's a bomb vest. Do you know who uses it?"

Camila was so infuriated that all she wanted to do was spit on his face.

However, Travis paid no attention to her anger. "It's used by terrorists who want to kill their targets by all costs that they could even blow themselves with them. It actually looks good, you know. I bet it would suit you so perfectly!"

Travis slowly walked closer and closer to her with the vest in his hands.

Camila was powerless in the hands of the two huge men who had held her down.

Even if she could nudge a bit, she simply couldn't resist.

Travis put the vest on her without any trouble and raised the controller in the air.

A cunning smile appeared on his face as he said, "Do you know what would happen if I were to press this button? Even a child knows. You'll explode into a billion pieces. Your family wouldn't even be able to identify you!"

He sighed before continuing, "This is the only way I can control you, since you don't want to be with me."

All of a sudden, his phone rang.

He sighed and picked up the phone.

The cunning smile on his face grew even brighter all of a sudden.

He was very happy and full of confidence as he threatened over the phone, "If you come here with one more person, you won't find any piece of Camila to bury! Try me and see!"

After that, he put down the phone and laughed maniacally. "It seems that Isaac still cares about you."

Camila didn't even know what to say, or how to react. She only kept mute.

"The more he cares about you, the more power I have over him. Isn't that wonderful?! I don't only want him between my fingers just because I want him to transfer Mercury Corp to me. I want to take revenge for my mother!"

Camila clenched her fists in anger. She wished that Isaac wouldn't come.

Seeing how prepared Travis was, it was obvious that Isaac would suffer a lot if he came.

She just hoped that he would be able to rescue Joe and Rowena.

Meanwhile, a black SUV appeared from out of nowhere not far away from Camila's location and stopped by the roadside.

The door was opened immediately after they pulled up.

Coming out of the car was a young and slender man.
