

Chapter 343 Miscarriage

"She's from Azmar and has made a splash in our research institute. This time around, she's likely to become the attending doctor. Had it not been for a few tricks up my sleeve, she would've secured that promotion," the woman proudly explained. "I added some allergens to the medicine she used to bathe the man from Azmar. Word quickly spread that she was on the verge of being ousted. It must be that the shareholder from Azmar believed she was unfit for the position."

"Honey, go take a shower. This calls for a celebration," the man said with lust in his eyes.

"You're so annoying," she retorted with a wink.

On the way back, Camila sat in the car in complete silence.

"They'll be screwed if we expose the footage we captured to the hospital. So why the long face?" Jeff asked with a frown.

"I'm not a fan of deceit. I never expected they would resort to such underhanded tactics just to win."

"They'll do whatever it takes to climb to the top. The attending doctor at Madeline Research Center can be a physician-in-charge at other hospitals. No doubt, they'll scramble for it."

"Jeff, even if we release the videotape, do you have any idea about the likelihood of them being expelled from the hospital?"

"Those scums shouldn't be at Madeline Research Center in the first place."

"I'm so angry, but I can't help but feel sorry for them."

"It's only natural for you to feel that way."

Camila finally stepped out of the car near her residence, shut the door behind her, and said, "Have a safe drive."

"I will," Jeff assured with a smile.

Just as she was about to open the door to her home, Jaylen stopped her and asked with narrowed eyes, "Who sent you back?"

Camila explained it was her colleague. It had been a long day, and she was too tired for this. All she wanted right now was to take a rest.

"Jaylen, I'm sleepy."

"Don't you want to know about what happened to your brother?"

It was then that Camila remembered about this matter.

"Let's go inside," she urged with a sense of urgency in her voice.

"Will you think of kicking me out when you think I'm useless?" Jaylen asked with a bitter expression.

"How am I supposed to do that anyway?" Camila entered her home and settled into the sofa.

"Tell me everything that happened."

Jaylen pulled a chair, sat across from her, and explained, "The company's downfall is because of Aldrin's close association with Laura."

"What does it have to do with her?" Camila asked with a frown.

"Forrest, as you know, is Laura's ex-boyfriend. His wife had a miscarriage, and his mother connived with the Guzman family to pin the blame on Laura, causing the company's downfall."

Camila could no longer keep her calm.

"How could that be? Laura wouldn't do such a thing!" she exclaimed in disbelief.

"That piece of information came from a reliable source," Jaylen grimly stated.

Camila had personally witnessed Divya bribe someone to cause a commotion at her wedding and shift the blame onto Laura.

Laura's miscarriage...

Camila doubted what Jaylen said was true.

"So, what do you plan to do? Are you going back?" he asked.

Camila could not return, especially since it was at the height of her career.

Besides, there was no point coming back.

"Let me think," Camila replied while trying to calm herself down.

"You're pregnant. You shouldn't wear yourself down." Jaylen rose from his seat and continued, "I'll buy you some food. You haven't eaten, have you?"

Camila was too engrossed in her thoughts to hear what he said.

Without wasting any more time, Jaylen swung open the door and stepped out. He came across a good restaurant and bought a selection of nutritious food. Satisfied with his choices, he carried the food back with him.

Meanwhile, Alick managed to obtain Dr. Jane's address from the hospital. And now, he was on his way to pick her up and escort her to the hotel.

Isaac was in dire need of a soothing massage to help him sleep. But as he stepped out of the car, he caught sight of Jaylen carrying containers of food in his hand.

What was he doing here?

Alick could not shake off the strange feeling and decided to tail Jaylen as he entered the building.
