

His Mate and His Mistress 2 Rise of a Luna

Chapter 35- "Kade and Darrell"

* Third person's pnt of view*

Nine months later, Adelina and Demitrey welcomed their daughter, Anna-Marie, into the world.

"It's a girl!" Announced aunty D, and the cheers of the pack could be heard all around the castle.

Demitrey looked down at his wife and baby, as he kissed her on her lips and whispered "thank you. I love you so much."

Adelina chuckled and said, "yeah you better." Then she added, "I love you too."

Then Adelina looked down at her baby as she said "You are going to make a great Luna, and you don't need an alpha to ordain you as such. You're already a queen."

"Yeah, and daddy is not going to let any man come and take away your crown. I'll scare them all off." He said, kissing his daughter's head. Earning a laugh from Adelina.

A few months later, the pack celebrated a year where their Luna had defeated a threat that was set on wiping out their pack.

As the people danced and celebrated, Adelina and Kade where having a conversation when Adelina asked, "So you never told me, what exactly happened between you and Darrell?"

Kade sighed and said "Well, when Demitrey met me, there's a secret I've kept from him since that day. His brother was sent to my pack at the age of five, after Aunty D gave birth to him, but Darrell never felt welcomed, he would always sneak off and visit his father, but they made sure that he stayed away from Demitrey. Darrell arranged with his father to have my pack attacked, so that could give him an excuse to join his father's pack. Everything went according to plan, except before Darrell could be found, I was found." Explained Kade.

"Demitrey and I instantly bonded, we did everything together, while Darrell remained in the shadows of the forest, watching us and becoming bitter than ever. Whenever we were going somewhere, I made sure to always be a few inches behind Demitrey, watching his back. The day that they claimed I stole from the pack was also Darrell's doing. I saw Darrell watch as Demitrey took a beating for me. And though I threw myself on Demitrey to protect him, I did also as proof to Darrell that Demitrey and I were also family. Brothers. I called him brother loud enough for Demitrey to hear, but I also knew that Darrell listened on the conversation, because before I also blinked out, I saw the anger and hatred in his eyes, and I couldn't have been a prouder person and beta at that moment." Smiled Kade.

"I've kept this secret from my best friend, and unless he asks, I think that's a rock better left untouched." Said Kade as he looked on at his alpha and best friend playing with some of the children.

"Well as your Luna, and as your friend and sister, I thank you. Because had you not been there, I probably wouldn't be where I am today." Smiled Adelina as she kissed Kade on the cheek.

"Adelina you have to see this!" Said Cilia as she grabbed her and ran her to the portable play area where both Joseph and Anna-Marie were.

When they arrived, both children were laying down, asleep, but their fingers were intertwined.

Adelina smiled and looked at Cilia as she said, "You don't think...?"

"Does this mean?" Added Cilia.

"I think it might..." finished Anila, as the ladies looked among themselves then laughed as they walked away.

"What?" Asked Demitrey.

"What does it mean?" Yelled Kade after the sauntering girls.

"It's probably a secret girl joke that they share." Finished Kade, and the men all shrugged simultaneously, and laughed.

Selene looked on proudly at the young family, that was brought together by heartbreak, pain, hurt, and loss.

Yet somehow throughout all that, they found each other.

It was a good season.

Then she also looked down at the two children who held hands, and she waved a hand above them, as an invisible knot tied around their wrist, binding them together.

A future power couple thought Selene as she smiled.

Yes, it really was a good season.

Their family thrived for years to come, and as cliché as it may sound, they lived happily ever after.

The End!
