Chapter 331 What an Affair (1)

When he left, Chuxue Ye quickly put on her clothes. Zhao Nangong was very thoughtful and he had prepared everything she needed.

This is a dangerous place and if she kept staying here, she would definitely suffer a lot. It was better for her to slip away. However, where were her phone and car keys?

After searching the bedroom and the living room, she didn't find them. Zhao asked deliberately, "Where are you looking for? Your phone?"

"Give it to me." Chuxue said to him while putting her hand out.

With hot rice porridge in hand, Zhao said, "I'll give it to you after you eat this. There is no taxi outside my apartment. You can't sneak away."

Chuxue stamped and sat at the table, ready to eat.

"I save your life, don't you remember? Eat with me, OK? I don't think it's a hard thing for you." Zhao added two dishes to the dining table, one was mashed potatoes and the other was mushroom with vegetables. "I don't cook very often, so there are very few vegetables in the refrigerator. That's it."

She didn't feel hungry just now, but when she smelled the aroma of the food, her stomach growled, so she said awkwardly, "You know how to cook? You surprise me!"

"Is it strange if I know how to cook?" Zhao gave her a spoon.

Chuxue took a sip, which tasted good. "Anyway, you don't make me feel that you can cook."

"Can you?" Zhao suddenly asked.

Chuxue shrugged, "No, my father doesn't allow me to learn it."

Zhao raised his eyebrows and took a glance at her, "He is right. You don't have to know I, cause I will do it for you."

"Hey! Zhao, I literally don't need you to do it for me, OK?" Chuxue stopped eating.

Zhao didn't want to piss her off and he laughed, "It's just a joke. Don't be so serious."

Strangely, Chuxue still got mad. She then said ironically, "Well, you are the most famous paly boy in Sky City. Of course you love joking, don't you?"

Zhao froze and blamed himself inside. Why did he say that?

"I mean cooking for you was not a joke," Zhao tried to make up for it.

Chuxue sneered, "It doesn't matter. It's none of my business, anyway."

Zhao was sad to hear this. He gazed at her, "Chuxue, I am serious."

"Zhao, how many girls have you said this to? I believe you don't remember, right?" Chuxue said with "admiration". "Take them home, cook for them, and then tell them that you like her. Are the girls greatly moved?"

"I have never taken any woman back, nor have I cooked for them. You are the first one." Zhao explained seriously.

Chuxue didn't expect this and muttered, "Hum, who knows?"

After all, everyone in Sky City knew he was a playboy.

From the look on her face, Zhao knew she did not believe him, so he said, "Since I met you, I have had no contact with other women. I can swear."

It's okay if he didn't mention this. When he talked about this, Chuxue got mad again. She spread out her hand and asked, putting the porridge aside, "Where are my phone and keys?"

Zhao knew that he had pissed her off again. Why did he mention other women? He was really an idiot. How could he regard himself as a master of love? How did he become an idiot in front of Chuxue? He really didn't know what he should say or not.

"The last time, my phone and keys, where are they?" Chuxue's face was cold, and she did not know why she got so angry.

Finding she was really angry, Zhao had to take out two things from his pocket and said, "Let me take you home."

"No need." Chuxue grabbed her things and walked to the door.

Zhao hurriedly took off his apron and followed her. When he got into the elevator, he found that both of them were wearing slippers.

The atmosphere in the elevator was very embarrassing. Chuxue turned her head away all the time and did not take a look at him. Until they got to the first floor, Zhao grabbed her wrist, "There is really no taxi here. Let me take you home."

Chuxue did not shake off his hand while glaring at him, "Zhao, why are you so annoying?"

Zhao suddenly was not that worried. Because he thought when girls said this, this meant they already forgave him.

"Yes, yes, I'm annoying. It's late, so let me send you back, OK?" Zhao gave her all his patience and gentleness in his life and he even did not know where his bottom line was.

Chuxue raised her eyebrows. "Are you not afraid that my father might break your leg?"

"I don't care. I don't want you to go back so late alone. It's not safe." Nangong gently shook her wrist. "Let's go. My car is outside."

Hesitating for a moment, she agreed.

It was indeed not safe to go back alone. She gave herself an excuse.

On the way back, Chuxue kept silence all the time. Zhao was afraid that he may say something wrong again, so he also chose to say nothing. Therefore, inside the car was very quiet.

Arriving at the gate of Ye's villa, Chuxue got off the car without hesitation. But Zhao stopped her by pressing down her hand.

"What?" Chuxue looked at him with caution.

Zhao felt a little awkward because of her such reaction and he said with concern, "Your foot hasn't recovered yet. Remember to use ointment when you go home. You have a family doctor, don't you?"

"Yes."

"OK. The doctor should have everything you need. Walk slowly and be careful."

"OK." Chuxue grumbled after getting off his car, "It's none of your business."

But Zhao heard this, making him a little sad. He had never thought that he would be so into Chuxue that he even changed into another person.

Seeing Chuxue going into the villa in the mist, Zhao was ready to leave when Chuxue was out of his sight.

What he didn't see was that as soon as the car turned around, Chuxue turned back to look at him.

Walking into the villa, Chuxue thought that whether she was too harsh on him? At least Zhao saved her. The more she thought about it, the sorrier she felt. She stopped to take out her phone and sent him a message with only one simple word.

When she heard the beep, Chuxue regretted it immediately! Why should she thank him? How did she forget that this guy had seen her n.aked body?

"Ah!" Chuxue cried out and received a reply from him when she was blaming herself. She then read the message with squinted eyes, only to see—For you, I would do anything.

"Psycho!" Chuxue then put her phone into her pocket, but didn't find that she was actually smiling.

As soon as she stepped into the villa, Chuxue felt it was strange. His parents and brother were sitting on the sofa without saying a word and the looks on their faces were very serious.

What was going on again?

Chuxue limped to the living room and carefully asked Jingyan Ye, "Brother, what's going on?"

Venus Mu gave her a stare, "Why do you come back so late?"

Chuxue got nervous. Had they already known that Zhao and herself...

No, no, no. She would never admit anything.

"Well..." Putting her hands behind, she explained, "Today...I..."

Chapter 331 What an Affair (2)

After she said that, Kerry Ye suddenly asked, "You didn't wear this when you were out in the morning, right?"

Chuxue Ye was frightened but she smartly replied, "Dad, it's like this. It's raining hard today and the front wheel stuck into the sewer without a manhole cover. My foot also accidentally stuck in it. See, it's swollen..."

Kerry and Venus Mu changed the look on their faces all of a sudden and Venus asked, "What? Stuck? Does it still hurt?"

"It hurts!" Chuxue wanted to take this opportunity to let her parents just ignore what was exactly going on, hoping that they wouldn't blame her.

Venus held her hand and said, "You need to be careful, OK? Come here and sit down. I will bring some ointment for you later."

Chuxue found that the situation didn't seem to be what she had thought. Was she wrong?

Slowly sitting down on the sofa, Chuxue tentatively asked, "Mom, what happened?"

"Well..." Venus sighed, "You haven't checked your phone, right?"

Chuxue shook her head, "No, I've been busy. What's going on?"

Chuxue then took out her phone. As soon as she opened an app and saw the news title on the top, she suddenly jumped up.

The headline was "Yehuang's new president caused his girlfriend to miscarry. Was he cheating on a soldier?"

"Fvck! It's total nonsense!" Chuxue cursed, completely forgetting her parents sitting next to her.

"Ruyi, watch your mouth." Kerry reminded her, although he had already cursed.

Chuxue angrily browsed the news, which reported that according to Yehuang Group insiders, Xuan Zhao is Jingyan's girlfriend, pregnant for more than two months, but Jingyan now falls in love with a soldier during his girlfriend's pregnancy. For some reason, Xuan Zhao had an unexpected miscarriage...

At the bottom of the page, there were pictures of her entering Ye's villa, going to the hospital to have a pregnancy test and Jingyan's showing up at the military hospital. The last one was a GIF of Jingyan carrying her out of the emergency room last night.

Fortunately, there were no photos of Yiyao Duan, otherwise Jingyan would have already rushed to the news headquarter.

"The one who wrote this was standing by her side. Obviously, she did this." Chuxue was arbitrary.

Venus frowned, "This is impossible."

“Mom, why are you still speaking for her?”

“I am not. Think about this, if she did this, how would she know that she would have an accident yesterday and that she was so coincidentally photographed by reporters?”

Chuxue thought her mom was not wrong. No matter how well Xuan Zhao had planned, she would not risk her baby’s life. Chuxue knows how much she values this child.”

“Then...that is who wants to muddy my brother up?” Chuxue asked nervously.

Kerry said with seriousness, “Over the years, Yehuang has grown so fast that we have made a hard time for many people. Now Pingan has just come to power but someone wants to take advantage of this to bring him down. It seems that the one was determined to do so.”

Chuxue was filled with indignation, “They are so disgusting. They can’t defeat us in the business world, so they want to use dirty tricks.”

“So, what can we do now? Someone who did this should make an apology to my brother and Yiyao.”

“I’ve already asked someone to look into it.” Jingyan’s voice sounded as usual but Chuxue could sense his rage.

“Well, think about how to deal with the media tomorrow. Tomorrow will definitely be a tough day.”

“Good night and I’m going to the hospital,” said Jingyan, who got up and walked out.

Kerry shouted, “Stop! If you go there now, you will be caught by those reporters. It’s suicide, OK?”

“So what? Will things get worse than they are now?” Jingyan didn’t stop, “Do they think they can use such shitty trick to force me to give in? They don’t know me.”

Looking at her brother’s back, Chuxue suddenly felt that he was great.

“Dad, my brother is right. To be honest, this is just a playboy’s affair. Though it does harm to my brother’s reputation, as well as to the stock price, it can do nothing to our family.”

Hearing this, Kerry and Venus looked at each other in silence. It seemed that they were overreacted. Indeed, Ye family’s position today couldn’t be influenced by the scandal.

In that case, why did they need to worry so much? The worst was to lose few tens of millions.

“Let’s go. Go to sleep. Let Pingan do this on his own.” Kerry finally relaxed after worrying all night.

Venus nodded, “That’s right. We are fifties. And why do we care about this so much? Let’s go to bed and sleep.”

Venus turned around, “Ah, I forgot to bring you the ointment.”

“Mom, I can do it myself. Go to sleep before Dad blames me again.” It was not easy to divert their attention away from her, so she must seize this opportunity.

“Okay then, it’s in the medicine kit. Go get it.”

“Thank you, mom!”

When they went upstairs, Chuxue was completely relieved. Fortunately, they didn’t ask what had happened afterwards. Otherwise, she didn’t know how to answer.

On the way to the hospital, Jingyan drove fast. Soon, he lost the doggies following him. These guys were like the fvcking sticky gum.

It had rained all day and the air was unusually humid, just like his heart.

After arriving at the hospital, Jingyan went straight to the sixth floor, where Yiyao had already returned to her former ward, with the light on.

Pushing open the door, Yiyao was surprised by his arrival, “Why are you here?”

“I missed you, so I come to see you.” Jingyan came to her bedside.

Yiyao was reading a book related to war. Seeing he was not looking good, she closed her book, “What has happened?”

Jingyan didn’t intend to hide it from her, so he told her everything after sitting down on the chair next to her, “Something did happen. I’m sorry I get you involved.”

“Me? What does it have to do with me?” Yiyao didn’t understand. After she entered the hospital, she didn’t even go out of the courtyard door.

Looking deeply into her eyes, he said calmly, “Don’t get so excited, OK?”

Yiyao laughed, "Heh, it's quite serious this time, right? Go ahead, I'm not afraid at all."

Chapter 332 She Was Not The Other Woman (1)

After pondering for a while, Jingyan said, "Xuan had a miscarriage last night."

"What?" Yiyao was surprised, she didn't expect to hear this, "What happened?"

Jingyan briefly told her about this. The more Yiyao listened, the more sullen she got, after Jingyan finished his words, she glared at him, "How could you do that?"

"I didn't mean to do it." Jingyan explained with a pale face, then he sighed and said, "Well, it was indeed my fault, I can give her whatever she wants, except for the marriage."

Seeing his frown and red eyes, Yiyao knew he was telling the truth, so she didn't blame him and asked, "Is there anything to do with me?"

"Here's the problem," Jingyan flipped out the gossip news on his phone, "Just have a look."

Yiyao would know this sooner or later, so he'd probably tell her now.

After seeing the news, Yiyao felt speechless, then she threw the phone and said, "Shit! How could they say that?"

Hearing this, Jingyan said firmly, "You are my only lover, someone wants to frame me, so they choose you as the target, I'm sorry."

Then Yiyao finally understood, "No wonder several nurses looked at me weirdly tonight, it turned out this is the reason, I thought my face was dirty."

"I'm sorry, I didn't know someone would do such dirty things. Actually, I don't care about those comments, what I worried most is you." Jingyan felt very depressed, he loved Yiyao very much, how could those people say that?

It was the first time for Yiyao to meet such things, she actually didn't know her feelings, so she said, "Well, I've always been a popular people of our army's internal publications, I didn't expect that I could be a character in the gossip news."

"Aren't you angry?" Jingyan was a little surprised.

"Of course I'm angry." Yiyao pointed to the headline and said, "It is a smear for soldiers. Our relationship with the public would be affected as well."

Hearing this, Jingyan was stunned, he didn't expect her to think like that.

"I've sent someone to find the owner of this news company, this article will be withdrawn soon."

Yiyao frowned, "Then why are you coming here tonight? You can just tell me on the phone."

"I" Jingyan was speechless and then he said slowly, "I want explain it to you myself, I'm worried that you may think too much."

"Well, I know this, you can leave now." Yiyao directly drove him away.

However, Jingyan still sat there with no sign of leaving at all.

"What do you mean?" Yiyao asked coldly.

"Yiyao, I haven't slept for two days." Jingyan said pitifully.

Hearing this, Yiyao felt nervous, "So what? What does it have to do with me?"

"Can I sleep here for just one night?" Seeing that she was about to object, Jingyan quickly pointed to the sofa and said, "I'll just sleep on the sofa."

"Aren't you afraid of those reporters? If they know this, nobody would listen to my explanation." Yiyao was still a bit angry and sneered.

"You're not a mistress, and there's no mistress at all. I will hold a press conference tomorrow to make this matter clear."

Yiyao glared at him and picked up the book to read, it seemed that he wouldn't leave tonight.

Jingyan acted normally, he directly walked into the bathroom to wash his face, then he lied on the sofa in a comfortable position. However, he was tall and the sofa was not long enough, so he could only curl up his legs.

Perhaps because he was relieved, Jingyan quickly fell asleep.

Hearing the soft breathing, Yiyao turned to look at Jingyan, he seemed to be more haggard with scruff on his face. The T-shirt he worn was also creased. She felt sorrow for him, now a small matter was totally out of control.

She could forgive him, but just felt unpleasant. When thinking of that child, Yiyao felt that she was the indirect killer.

If she hadn't returned to the hotel and didn't contact Jingyan, he might still be with Xuan, then the child would still be alive.

She knew Jingyan well, he wouldn't push Xuan downstairs.

The cool breeze blew inside, even though it was summer, Yiyao still felt a sense of coldness. So she sent a message to Azure Dragon and asked him to bring a thin blanket and a pillow here.

"Are you cold?" Azure Dragon came in with a thin blanket in his hands.

"Keep your voice down," Yiyao said, "Cover him with the blanket."

After seeing Jingyan, Azure Dragon was shocked and said, "When did he come here?"

"Only a few minutes before, I failed to drive him away." Yiyao was speechless.

Hearing this, Azure Dragon felt strange, he threw the blanket and the pillow on the bed, and said, "Just do it yourself, it's weird for me to do that."

"Stop right there." Yiyao was a bit angry, "All your partners are male."

"Well, I haven't done that in the army. Just do it yourself, I have to play the game." After saying that, he quickly ran away before Yiyao could finish her words. Although he didn't know what happened between them, he knew that Jingyan really liked her and so did Yiyao. They must have some misunderstandings.

Yiyao was speechless, then she covered the blanket on Jingyan and had him sleep on the pillow, it was then she felt better. After doing this, she continued reading and didn't see the smile on Jingyan's face.

Although, the sofa was a bit short for Jingyan, he slept very well this night.

"Be careful about those reporters." Jingyan reminded her as he left.

Yiyao picked up a bun and said, "Well, they can just try. Those safeguards are very powerful, besides, Azure Dragon is just living beside."

"Well, that's fine, then I have to go to the company, call me if something happens. I'll come back soon."

“Well, I can figure that.” Yiyao said in an arrogant manner, that was her style, she wouldn’t bother others if she could handle it. However, Jingyan misunderstood her, he thought that she didn’t need any protection.

After hesitating for a while, he said, “Then I’m leaving.”

Yiyao kept eating the porridge and remained quiet.

“What’s wrong?” Azure Dragon was confused.

“The security of the hospital is too bad, it’s time to strengthen it.” Hearing this, Azure Dragon said, “Well.”

On the way to the company, Jingyan received a message, “Boss, the news has been withdrawn, but we haven’t found the tipster.”

“Keep searching.” Jingyan said lightly.

“Copy that.” After hesitating for a while, the man continued, “But boss, we just found that those news had been posted on blogs.”

“Fvck!” Jingyan cursed, and then said angrily, “I know, find the tipster as quickly as possible.”

“Yes, sir.”

Jingyan threw the headset fiercely on the passenger seat. He looked very angry with gloom eyes. He would definitely give that man a lesson.

Chapter 332 She Was Not The Other Woman (2)

Before arriving at the company, Jingyan saw several reporters waiting at the entrance, some even stopped the employee to ask about the matter.

However, this was the boss’s private business, if they dared to say something, they would be fired.

The car drove directly to the underground park, then Jingyan took the private elevator to the president’s office, and immediately called Secretary Wang and the Manager of the Publicity Department to his office.

When they came, Jingyan said, "Invite all those reporters, provide them with food and tea, I'll hold a press conference at ten o'clock."

Hearing this, they were all stunned, President Ye was really a brave man.

"What are you waiting for?"

The Manager of Publicity Department was a bit confused and asked, "President Ye, we can just ignore this, they will forget this quickly, there is no need to"

"What?" Jingyan raised his eyebrows, "They say Yiyao is a mistress, do you think I can still keep quiet?"

Hearing this, they quickly answered, "Copy that, we'll do as you said."

After leaving the president's office, Secretary Wang whispered, "Well, it seems that President Ye really likes that female officer."

"You are right, I didn't expect him to be so angry." The Manager suddenly admired President Ye, "He is as spoony as his father."

"Definitely."

Twenty to thirty reporters downstairs were quickly invited into the company's conference room, the Manager asked someone to serve them tea and bread, then he said, "Thank you for concerning about President Ye, since you've waited for such a long time, eat some food first, he is dealing with an urgent document, we'll hold a press conference at ten o'clock."

"May I ask if the things reported on the Internet are true? Did Xuan really has a miscarriage?" A reporter asked hurriedly.

Hearing this, the Manager smiled and said, "Please wait, President Ye will answer your questions later."

Those reporters were discussing about this, they felt a bit weird for Yehuang Group acted polite this time. A reporter who had some connections with the Manager asked, "Mr. He, the news had just broken out yesterday, and now you hold a press conference, do you do it on purpose?"

Even though the Manager wanted to curse, he still forced a smile and said, "Well, we really don't know how to deal this, if we keep silent, you blame us for acted negatively, now we want to explain this, you say that we have other intentions. What about you teaching us how to deal this?"

Then, the reporter kept quiet.

The atmosphere was a bit awkward, so the Manager smiled and said, "Well, our intention is simple. First, we want to thank you for your concerns. Second, we also want to stop those rumors."

"You are right." Someone echoed.

Today, all the members of Yehuang Group had no thought of working, they found different online streaming platforms to see the press conference.

At ten o'clock. The door of the meeting room was pushed open by Secretary Wang, Then Jingyan walked in, he was wearing a light blue casual suit with a white shirt inside. After shaving the beard, he looked quite energetic.

"Please sit down." Secretary Wang calmed those excited reporters, "Please ask one by one."

Jingyan sat in the middle. He looked calm and intelligent, like a king.

"President Ye, could you please tell us whether the news is true or not? Did you really have an external affair? Is this the reason for your girlfriend's miscarriage?"

Hearing their questions, Jingyan answered calmly, "First, Xuan is not my girlfriend, we had a one-night-stand, the baby was an accident. I'm sorry for that. Second, there's no mistress, the mistress you reported is actually the girl I love. I love her for more than twenty years, nobody can compare to her in my heart. This is why I hold the press conference, I don't want her to be slandered. Third, Xuan did have a miscarriage, this is a fact."

Jingyan's words were like a bomb that shocked them all, then someone asked, "President Ye, since you like that officer, why do have an one-night-stand with Xuan?"

Hearing this, Jingyan stretched his hands and answered, "Well, I was drunk and knew nothing at all. So I didn't know how it happened. You may probably think I'm a bad guy, that's also my thought."

"President Ye, someone said that you dislike Xuan and the baby, and this is just your plan. Is it true?"

Then the whole room became quiet, only the sound of those cameras could be heard.

Jingyan looked at that man and then said, "Frankly speaking, I think that the child is the result of love, although, he came to this world by accident, I have my principles, so I wouldn't do such things. I'm really sorry for Xuan, but it is just an accident. "

Then the room was quite again, people all thought that the man was reckless to ask such a question. However, those who watched the live streaming felt satisfied, they liked such frank questions. It was better than excuses.

Chapter 333 Affectionate and Domineering Man

“Mr. Ye, may I ask how you are going to compensate Xuan Zhao?”

“How to compensate her depends on Xuan’s own intention. I will fully respect her opinions. As long as it was acceptable to me, I will satisfy her. After all, it is my fault from the beginning.”

Jingyan Ye was being frank. Although his behavior was a bit of sc. um, his attitude of admitting mistakes instead made people feel that he was a man who dared to do and dare to bear.

“What kind of conditions is that you could not accept? Money or something else?” The previous reporter continued to ask.

“In terms of the amount of money, we will talk and she will be satisfied, but I will definitely not agree to one of the conditions,” Jingyan looked direct into the camera opposite him and said solemnly, “That is, marriage. There’s only one woman I love, and there’s only one woman I’ll marry in my life. It’s the third party in the rumor, and I won’t consider anyone else.”

The females on the scene inhaled heavily. Which woman didn’t like such an affectionate and domineering man?

Xuan, who was lying in the bed and watching the live broadcast, was so angry that she almost threw her mobile phone out. This time, it was a miscalculation. Originally, she wanted to force Jingyan to marry her under the pressure of public opinion, and destroy Yiyao Duan’s reputation by the way. Unexpectedly, Jingyan did not care for his own reputation at all, even if he was criticized by media and public.

On the contrary, Yiyao in the hospital was inexplicably moved somewhat. She couldn’t believe that Jingyan clarified her name in front of the public. How many people would scold him for being cruel when he confessed to drunken promiscuity and admitted that Xuan had miscarriage after drinking. For a woman who had miscarried for him, how could he have the heart to say that he would not marry her.

“Mr. Ye, I just find out that the news about you has been deleted. Did you do it?”

“Yes,” Jingyan said bluntly, “Shouldn’t this kind of inaccurate news be deleted? What’s more, don’t you find that some online forums have started to post about this matter again? It is obvious that someone is operating in the back. Here, I also warn the person behind, stop your behavior, otherwise, the lawyer letter from our legal department will be sent to you as soon as possible.”

With absolute confidence and charm, Jingyan completely suppressed the arrogance of all the reporters present. Facing all the cameras, he asked, neither humbly nor arrogantly, “Is there anything else to?”

A female reporter asked weakly, “Mr. Ye, I heard that your girlfriend is a military soldier? Could you disclose more information?”

Referring to Yiyao, his expression obviously softened a lot, with a light smile appearing in the corner of his eyes, “She is a soldier, and she is an upright and noble person, and cannot be stigmatized by anyone. But I’m sorry, I can’t give you more details, and please don’t bother her. It will make her feel very uncomfortable and cause her a lot of trouble.”

The reporter still didn’t give up and kept asking, “You said you’ve liked her since you were a child, so are you childhood sweethearts?”

The smile on Jingyan’s face was obvious, “We met in kindergarten, but later we used letters to communicate with each other. Is this counted as childhood sweethearts?”

Completely conquered by Jingyan’s traditional view of love, the female reporter immediately nodded and said, “Yes, of course.”

“Thank you, then she is my childhood sweetheart.”

Yiyao, on the other end, made complaints, “I’m not your childhood sweetheart, I’m your boss.”

At the press conference, all necessary questions were asked and a lot of unnecessary questions were also asked. Finally, Jingyan said, “My personal affairs attracted so many attentions and became the talk material for people after dinner. This shows that we Ye Group still has importance in your hearts. I hope everyone can pay more attention to Ye’s latest products. Of course, there should be a lot of people reproaching me in front of TV screen now. I will bear all the accusations and reproaches, and I will also be responsible for all the consequences. However, please don’t disturb others. That’s my bottom line. Thank you.”

Jingyan’s concluding speech was unanimously applauded by Ye Group. He was indeed the boss. When clarifying the scandal, he did not forget to publicize for the company.

Because it was a live broadcast, half an hour after the press conference, all the posts on the Internet disappeared in a moment. People began to believe what Jingyan said, it was a man-made slander.

After sitting at home and watching the whole press conference, Kerry and Venus looked at each other and laughed, "Well, we don't have to worry about our son any more. He is totally capable of taking care of himself."

"That's right. After this, I think we can rest assured to hand over Ye Group to him. We'd better consider which country to travel to."

"I want to go to Iceland to see the aurora," Venus said immediately. "Ask my brother if he and his wife want to go too, if they do, we'll go together."

"Darling, I listened to you." Kerry put his arm around her shoulder. If he was younger, he only wanted to go with his wife only. Now that he was older, it was better to enjoy life with family and friends.

In the hospital.

Yiyao, with her head resting on her arms, looked straight at the ceiling. She vaguely felt that she wanted to forgive Jingyan, but what he did was totally inconsistent with her values.

"Boss, something happened." Azure Dragon pushed the door in, face looking very serious.

Yiyao straightened up, "What's the matter?"

"Our men were caught while on duty."

"What?" Yiyao was stunned, "Who were caught? Where are they?"

"On the border with Myanmar, Zhuque and Xuanwu got caught. We didn't predict the situation clearly. A large number of mercenaries came from the other side..."

Yiyao said as she put on her shoes, "I'll ask the management to send a helicopter to pick them."

Gather the team at once."

"Boss, your injury is not well yet."

"What's so much nonsense? My injury is nothing."

Yiyao yelled at him angrily, "I will immediately report to above. Zhuque and Xuanwu are our men. We need to rescue them right away."

Solemnly, Azure Dragon said with an upright military salute, "Yes Madam!"

"You clean up first, I'll go to the dean." Yiyao went out with her mobile phone and contacted the helicopter while hurrying to the dean's office.

Of course, the dean didn't want to let her go, but Yiyao's personality was notoriously stubborn. It was hard for her to change the decision she already made. The dean could only ask the doctor to prescribe sufficient medicines for her in case of any accident.

An hour later, the helicopter arrived at the military hospital. Yiyao changed into her camouflage suit and stood in front of the window. After pondering for a long time, she called Jingyan, because after this farewell, she didn't know whether she could see him again.

The bell rang only once, and then it was connected. Jingyan's soft and deep voice came from the other end, "Yiyao."

Yiyao said after a long while, "I'm leaving and I'm telling you now."

From the phone came the sound of broken cup, followed by the sound of rapid footsteps, "When? Your injury is not recovered yet."

"In an hour. You don't have to come. This mission is urgent..."

"One hour is enough. Wait for me. I'll be there in a minute." Jingyan then hung up. He was afraid that she would refuse his request.

Yiyao sighed heavily and began to regret making this call. In fact, it was better to cut off the relationship clean and neat. Why couldn't she just put it down?

It was rush hour at noon, and the road was in a mess. Jingyan was so anxious that he wanted to fly over with wings. After honking countless times, he could not see the car in front of him moving an inch.

As time went by, Jingyan could not wait any longer. He got out of the car and ran in the direction of the hospital.

Twenty minutes, forty minutes... Seeing that it was too late, Jingyan took a turn and hid in a deserted alley. The next second, he disappeared.

Where his superpowers were stronger than Kerry was that he could control the location of his next appearance. As a result, few people could find his presence or absence. Even if someone saw him, the other person would feel that eyes were dizzy.

After three passes, Jingyan finally arrived at the gate of the military hospital. At this time, the roar of military helicopters came from the distance.

Was this to pick up Yiyao?

Jingyan was worried and ran into the hospital building.

Yiyao heard the sound of the helicopter and came to the rooftop with Azure Dragon. When the helicopter landed, she looked in the direction of Sky City and stepped up the ladder.

“Yiyao -” came Jingyan’s voice in the huge wind. Yiyao looked back, Jingyan running to her way.

Yiyao gestured to the people inside and returned to the platform. Jingyan held onto her tightly as soon as she came up, with a strong reluctance to let her go.

“Is your wound better now? Have you brought enough medicine?” Jingyan closed to her ear.

Yiyao’s body was a little stiff, nodding and saying, “Yes.”

“You...” Before Yiyao could finish her words, her lips were blocked by Jingyan’s lips. He didn’t want to hear what she said “you don’t need to wait for me” etc.

The kiss was full of bitterness and deep affection, which was telling his endless reluctance and love in his heart.

“Don’t say anything,” Jingyan released her and stroked her face with his fingers, “When you forgive me, come back to me. No matter how long, as long as you look back, I’ll be here waiting for you.”

Yiyao’s heart trembled in the wind. An impulse came up and she nodded, “I’m going.” Maybe she would break through the tangle in her heart and forgive him when she came back this time.

“Take care of yourself.” Jingyan helped with fixing her short hair, which was disturbed by the wind, but just after it was fixed, it was disturbed by the wind again.

"I'm going." Yiyao turned around and walked to the helicopter without looking back. Her companion soldiers were still waiting for her. Staying for more moments would mean that their lives were put into more danger.

Jingyan watched her leaving. The propeller blew up the wind and made waves, but he stood still in the wind.

She left, taking away his last tenderness.

However, he did not know whether she would come back or not. At this time, he only hoped that she could be safe.

Returning to Ye's villa in the evening, Jingyan was tired and threw himself on the sofa. His mind was full of Yiyao. He wondered where she was now and whether she had been dedicating to a fierce battle.

Chuxue Ye came over as gnawing an apple. Seeing his listlessness with no trace of vitality, she squatted in front of him and asked concerned, "What's the matter with you?"

Jingyan turned his head to look at her smiling face and said in a low voice, "Why do some people live a simple and warm life, while some people have to fight hard in a barrage of bullets?"

Chuxue didn't know what to say. She sat on the carpet and stretched her chin, "Yiyao is gone?"

It was a long time before Jingyan said "yes".

"No wonder you seem losing your soul. Yiyao is a soldier. She has her own pursuit and belief, which is not something that people like us can understand. That's why I like her so much. I think she is different from all women. She is like a female general who goes to battle to kill enemies in ancient times, while we are just ordinary people." There was admiration in her tone.

Looking at the crystal ceiling over his head, Jingyan sighed, "If she had not been a soldier, she should have grown up healthy and happy like you. Then, she wouldn't have to bear so many responsibilities?"

Jingyan didn't understand why she wanted to be a soldier. If he knew why, he might feel more painful.

"Well, don't think about it. You still have one important thing unfinished now." Chuxue reminded him.

"What?" Jingyan's brain was dull. All he thought about was Yiyao, no time for him to think about anything else.

Chuxue pointed to the third floor, "You forget that? There's another one for you to deal with, come on, you can't drag on the issue any longer."

Oh right, Xuan Zhao was upstairs.

"You are being very decisive in the press conference today. All the female employees in our store become your fans." Chuxue said with a smile.

Jingyan smiled bitterly. That was not the result he wanted.

Taking a breath, he went upstairs to negotiate with Xuan, which was a matter that should be done a long time ago. When he reached the door of the guest room, he heard a voice coming from inside, as if she was talking on the phone.

"You had been ignoring me for a while. It turns out that you are focusing on the president of Ye Group. Xuan Zhao, you are good." A familiar voice came from the phone.

"We used to be a couple, how can you talk so sarcastically to me?" Xuan said plaintively.

"I'm not being sarcastic. I just want to congratulate you on jumping to the high branch. Although the child is gone, the Ye family must pay you a large amount of compensation. In this case, it is much better than being with me, a little white-collar worker." Her ex-boyfriend's tone was full of sarcasm.

Xuan clenched a corner of the quilt. "If you are calling to make fun of me, you have achieved your goal. Goodbye."

"Wait..." Ex-boyfriend stopped her, "Xuan, what's the hurry? I haven't asked you something."

Xuan's heart startled, "What's the matter?"

Her ex-boyfriend jokingly said, "I don't understand. Since you had been with Ye long ago, why were you always calling for me? Just to sleep with me? Can't Ye satisfy you?"

Xuan's heart beat more and more disorderly. She was afraid that he might suspect something. She said in a hurry, "I was just playing with you. Don't call me again. We've already broken up. Goodbye."

With that, Xuan immediately hung up.

Chapter 334 I'm not Serious

Xuan Zhao understands the character of her ex-boyfriend more or less, although he earns little money, but he's a good man. If he knew that she's pregnant with his child, and she had lost the baby, he would certainly come to question her. At that time, the cat would be out of the bag.

At the doorway, Jingyan heard what she had said, he doubted, who was she talking to? What did she mean by just for fun?

Usually, having fun means get laid

But he asked someone to investigate Xuan Zhao's background, she didn't have other mates other than an ex-boyfriend.

Could it be that he thought too much?

As he was wondering, the door was suddenly pulled open from the inside, Xuan Zhao was so shock to see him standing here that even her face went pale.

"You why are you standing here?" Xuan Zhao stammered and asked.

Jingyan observed her expression and said in an indifferent voice, "I came to talk about what I said yesterday."

Xuan Zhao tried to calm down and recalled what she had just said quickly, and she thought that she didn't say critical information, so she let out a sigh of relief secretly, "Where?"

"Where are you going to just then?"

"Oh, it's too stuffy here, I'm going out for some air."

Jingyan said plainly, "Then let's talk tomorrow."

Xuan Zhao changed her attitude, "Right, tomorrow, call your lawyer, you don't want to delay this matter any longer, right? After the talk, we can hand over formalities directly."

The suspicion in Jingyan's heart grew, "Why are you in such a hurry?"

Xuan Zhao smiled coldly, "Now I have lost my baby, can I continue to stay at Ye family so brazenly? You all dislike me long ago, why should I still live under your roof?"

"Good, I'm free tomorrow afternoon, I will bring the lawyer back home."

Jingyan turned around and went downstairs. Xuan Zhao leaned against the wall and took a deep breath. She must win the largest compensation since she didn't have the baby to force him, and the sooner the better, because the truth would finally see the light of the day. Once she signed the contract and grabbed the share and money, Jingyan couldn't do anything to her, and she felt she had done enough for her baby.

At dinner, Kerry and Venus came back, both in low spirits.

"Mom, what's wrong?" Chuxue Ye asked worriedly.

Venus sighed and said, "The old man of Xiao family, he's not in a good condition again, you can visit him tomorrow when you're free, maybe it's the last time."

"I thought he was basically cured at the military hospital, wasn't he?" Jingyan asked.

Venus was sad and helpless, "When you're old and the time comes, you are just hanging on to life with medicine."

Kerry patted the back of her hand and said, "You've been depressed for so long, everyone has to experience this day, you can see that since how many emperors and generals at ancient times, how many celebrities and aspirants returned to the dust."

"But I can't help that, I have feelings." Said Venus sitting at the table without any appetite.

Kerry shuffled away and asked his son who was also depressed, "What's wrong with you, you're sullen."

"Oh, nothing." Jingyan poked at his bowl and spoke feebly.

Kerry was startled, "Is she alright? What about her wounds?"

"Not well, but she had an urgent mission and left."

Kerry said after a moment of silence, "Compared to this girl, we are all considered to be living a happy life."

When Jingyan heard this, he felt even more uncomfortable, he put down his chopsticks and said, "I don't have an appetite, I don't want to eat."

"I don't have an appetite either," said Venus, who also put down her chopsticks.

"I see that everyone is not much in the mood to eat tonight, so why not" At this moment, his cell phone rang, it was Tianye Mu who's calling, Kerry has a bad feeling in his heart, he picked up the phone. "Hey, brother, okay, we'll come over right now."

After he finished speaking, strength left Venus that she even couldn't stand up, Kerry held her up quickly, "Be strong, you have to comfort sister-in-law later."

Venus was on the verge of tears, "I know, I know"

Henry drove a slightly larger SUV for the family, Jingyan sat on the passenger's seat, Kerry hugged his wife who was weeping silently, next to Chuxue who was also red-eyed.

Kerry and Venus have no elder relatives, so they treat the old man and lady of Xiao family as their biological parents, the two elders also love their children, especially Chuxue as the only girl in their family.

Jingyan looked at the dim road, his heart was in turmoil, he was worried about the old man, worried about Yiyao, and also planned to have someone investigate Xuan Zhao's ex-boyfriend again.

When he came to the manor of the Mu family, the lights were all on, the old man was still holding his breath, and when he saw them coming, his eyes showed a little glow, Chuxue went up and held his withered hand, tears rolling down her face.

"Grandpa." Chuxue cried out.

The old man murmured several times, but they couldn't hear clearly what he said. Then his hand fell off from Chuxue's hands, he's gone.

Xiran Xiao cried out loud in a second, kneeling in front of the bed, she felt her heart had broken, other people all kneeled down, they couldn't help but cry.

The old lady was calm, she murmured while holding the old man's hand, "It's good that you're gone, you don't have to suffer anymore, old man, remember to wait for me over there, don't forget me"

All of them were crying into tears due to sadness, even Kerry, who seldom cried, also shed his tears.

Because the old man has told them not to make a big deal of his funeral, just sent him away simply, so the next few days, the Mu and Ye families were busy for the old man's funeral.

It took three days after the condolences, funeral, burial, and so on. Xiran Xiao has been downed for these days, Venus accompanied her every step of the way, she handed Xiran tissues when she was crying, let Xiran have a rest against her when she was tired due to crying.

It was not until she saw the blackened tombstone with her father's name engraved on it that she finally realized her father had really left her and her mother.

At first Xuan Zhao didn't know what had happened, she was wondering why the Ye family didn't come home for several days, only when she saw the news did she know Xiran's father had died.

It seemed that they would have to delay to sign contract of money and shares for a few more days again.

This afternoon, the SUV carried the family back, Xuan Zhao was acute enough to serve them tea and water, she also comforted Venus, "Auntie, don't be too sad."

Venus leaned on the sofa depressingly, then it suddenly occurred to her that Xuan Zhao had been living at their home for these days, she forced a smile and said, "I've been too busy these days, are you doing well?"

"I'm fine," Xuan Zhao said in a good manner, "Tomorrow, I only have the last course of treatment to go."

She really didn't need to give Venus the impression of reverse without warning, every dog has its day, it is possible that one day, she would come to the Ye family again. It couldn't be wrong to impress Venus.

Venus thanked her wearily, "That's good, you can stay in our family for a few more days after the transfusion, and then recuperate, the consequence of a confinement can be very damaging."

"No need," Xuan Zhao refused her kindness, "I have disturbed you for too long, it's time to go back."

"Then you choose for yourself." Venus wasn't in a mood to settle her down, she rubbed her forehead and said, "I'm going to take a nap."

"I'll go with you." Kerry accompanied his wife, he was so tired these days.

Chuxue was like a couch potato now, her purple eyes lost the luster, she looked at the chandelier and wondered what was going on.

Jingyan got up and said, "I have important things to do tomorrow, I'll call my lawyer the day after tomorrow."

"Okay." Although she couldn't wait to do it today, it was obviously not the right time.

Jingyan nodded and kicked Chuxue's leg as he passed by, "Go sleep in your room, it's easy to catch a cold here."

Chuxue casted a glance at him, she saw Xuan Zhao just as she wanted to use her superpowers to transfer to her bedroom, so she dismissed the idea instantly and reached out to her brother and said, "Give me a hand."

Jingyan dragged her up, and the two were like rotten beggars holding each other as they walked toward the stairs.

Everyone was exhausted during these days, they could only sleep until two or three o'clock in the morning, so they were extremely lack of sleep that as soon as they fell into bed, they passed out.

However, just as Jingyan was sleeping, Yiyao Duan led her comrades go through the tropical rainforest at the border of China and Myanmar.

"Captain, the Mekong River is ahead, we need to find a shoal to cross." Azure Dragon said as he crept next to her.

Yiyao tightened the bandage on her arm and said, "It's too late, Zhuque and Xuanwu are seriously injured and they can't walk far, those guys behind us are chasing closely, if there is no other way, we can only fight them here."

"Good." A murderous desire flashed in Azure Dragon's eyes.

"Have you made contact with the troops?" Yiyao asked him.

"Two signal flares were released, but the forest is so deep and woods are dense, I don't know if they can see it or not."

Yiyao spit blood in her mouth, "Shit, I want to let them a way out, yet they have to seek for death, do they think we are cowards? Brothers, prepare for the battle."

"Yes, captain."

"Zhuque, Xuanwu, don't be reckless, hide yourself and don't to be discovered by the enemy, then your task is completed." Yiyao said while loading bullets into the gun.

Zhuque and Xuanwu were full of injuries, although they were reluctant, they knew that they couldn't trouble their captain at this time, so they gritted their teeth and said, "We understand."

"Everyone, spread out. Listen to my order, wait for our enemies to get closer before making a move, and don't show any mercy."

"Roger that."

Originally, Yiyao planned to save her comrades and then retreat quickly, she didn't want to cross into fire, but the enemy chased after them as if they had taken several tons of gold from them. Since this was the case, they shouldn't be blamed for being ruthless.

Soon, more than a dozen people disappeared in the dense woods quietly, even the sound of the wind has stopped.

A few minutes later, they heard the leaves were shaking gently. Yiyao hidden in a large tree, keeping her eyes and ears open, finally, dozens of people appeared in her sight, all carried heavy machine guns in their hands. At the front of the group was the guide who followed Yiyao and her squad closely with his accumulated experience in the tropical rainforest.

Yiyao was fully concentrated on their moves and waited for them to walk into their ambush little by little, and then she made a sound like birds.

Immediately afterwards, incessant screams were heard in the woods, and when they looked back, their companions were either having their throats slit or their hearts pierced, but the killers were nowhere to be seen, so they were lost and panicked.

Getting the hardest part done first, Yiyao aimed at one of the leaders and pulled the trigger without hesitation, and with a bang, the leader fell to the ground with a gunshot in his forehead.

Although they were mercenaries, they were ranked in different level, but Yiyao had brought all the elite soldiers, with her order, more than thirty people fell down on the ground in a second.

When the battle was over, Yiyao jumped down from the tree, and all hidden comrades also showed up. Azure Dragon said disdainfully, "I thought they were so strong, they've been chasing us for two days, if I knew they were such a trash I should have solved them yesterday."

"We're not prophet, we can't do the math." Yiyao said to him, "Alright, let's go, find a wide area and send another flare, Zhuque and Xuanwu are too badly injured, we couldn't delay any longer."

“Okay.”

When Yiyao just turned around, she saw at the corner of her eyes that a black metal light was flashing, when she fixed her eyes, the man’s fingers have hooked on the ring
.....

“Get down!” Yiyao shouted, then without thinking, she rushed to press Azure Dragon who was the closest to the grenade under her body

“Boom!” A huge explosion blew their ears, and it felt like the entire rainforest was trembling.

Two minutes later, everyone woke up from a brief coma, Azure Dragon rolled over to see that Yiyao closed her eyes tightly, and her ears were bleeding.

Yiyao was awake by Azure Dragon’s shaking, she opened her eyes dazedly to see several mud-covered faces opened and closed their mouths one after another, however, she could only hear booming sound.

It should be her eardrums were broken, Yiyao thought to herself, then opened her mouth to say, “I’m fine”, and passed out again.

“Captain!” Azure Dragon yelled and put her on his back and said, “Come on, let’s go to the shoal.”

She didn’t know how long she had slept, but when Yiyao woke up again, she was in a hospital and she couldn’t hear anything.

Azure Dragon came closer to her excitedly and said something, but Yiyao just couldn’t hear it.

Shit, am I a deaf from now on? She thought to herself.

As soon as Azure Dragon spoke, a bunch of men swarmed in from outside, all of them were her comrades, including Zhuque and Xuanwu, all of them were talking and chattering. Yiyao was in a daze, she suddenly felt that it’s better if she’s deaf. Noisy.

Azure Dragon took out his cell phone and typed a few words, then held his phone in front of her eyes. Yiyao glanced at it and it said, “The doctor said you just can’t hear for a while, you will be fine in a few days.”

Yiyao nodded her head to indicate that she knew.

Azure Dragon wrote a few more words for her to read, "Captain, are you feeling well?"

Yiyao nodded her head.

When Azure Dragon saw her tiring face, he waved at brothers and said, "Okay, okay, go out, Captain wants to rest."

Yiyao turned her head and looked out the window, there was a cherry tree outside, the cherry blossoms were in full bloom at this time, it was very beautiful.

Chapter 335 When Did You Have Se.x for the First Time

Suddenly Yiyao Duan thought of Jingyan Ye in Sky City. "Will he dislike me if he knows I am deaf?" Yiyao thought.

As Yiyao missed Jingyan, Jingyan sneezed. "Mr Ye, are you ill?" Secretary Wang asked.

"No." Jingyan said. Then he looked up at the blue sky and white clouds outside. "Yiyao, are you missing me?" Jingyan said in the heart.

Jingyan's phone rang and he gave the signed document to secretary Wang. Then Jingyan answered the phone. "Boss, I've found the man you asked me to find."

"Send me his photo, cell phone number and company address." Jingyan looked stern and said.

"Yes, boss."

Glancing at the messages on the phone, Jingyan continued to work.

Now that Jingyan had a doubt in his mind, he had to get it out of his head, or he would keep awake at night with worry.

When it's about time to get off work, Jingyan drove to the address which was sent to him on the phone.

This is a medium-sized mobile phone software company and most of its employees are male who engage in information technology. Jian Xu, who Jingyan looked for, is a small supervisor in the company's research and development department. He was single.

Jingyan parked his black Land Rover on the side of the road in front of the company and it's eye-catching. Jingyan honked the horn when he saw Jian walk out of the company.

Jian stopped his step subconsciously and looked at the Land Rover. Seeing it's not a car he knows, Jian walked on. But no sooner had he taken a step than the horn sounded again.

Jian felt a little strange. The man walked with Jian smiled and said, "Manager Xu, your friend has a nice car."

"He is not my friend. I don't know him." Jian answered with a smile.

"Oh, I thought you..." The man walked with Jian said. But before he finished what he wanted to say, the horn sounded again. "This is your friend. You see, the window is rolling down." The man walked with Jian said.

Jian was confused. Jian saw vaguely a man sitting in the car, but he didn't know the man by his profile. Jian wondered if the man's looking for himself. After being hesitated for a while, Jian walked up to the car. He froze when he saw the face of the man in the car.

"Hello. It seems that you know me, so there is no need to introduce myself. Please get on the car." Jingyan said.

Jian regained his senses. He seemed to understand why Jingyan had come to him. "But what does he want with me as I have broken up with Xuan Zhao?" Jian thought.

"You don't have to be so vigilant. I just want to have a talk and eat with you. Get on the car." Jingyan said.

Jingyan's repeated invitation made it's hard for Jian to refuse. Not wanting to appear too timid, Jian pulled open the front door of the car and got on the car.

"What do you want to eat?" Jingyan asked. Jingyan treated Jian like an old friend, without formality or alienation.

"Everything will do." Jian said. As it's the first time Jian saw the youth talent in person, he was somewhat nervous.

Jingyan smiled and said, "There is good sashimi nearby. Is that OK with you?"

"OK." Jian said. Jian had butterflies in the stomach. "What on earth does he want with me? But his attitude is good." Jian thought.

They didn't speak all the way. Jingyan drove to an expensive seafood restaurant. Sitting in a private room, Jingyan ordered some of the restaurant's signature dishes.

After the waiter left, Jian asked, "Mr Ye, what do you want to see me about?"

With an indifferent smile on his face, Jingyan said, "Well, let me be blunt. What kind of Xuan is in your eyes?"

Jian became serious and said, "Mr Ye, although I have broken up with Xuan, I'm not a villain and I won't speak ill of my ex."

"You misunderstood me. I'm not asking you to speak ill of Xuan. I just want to know something more about her." Jingyan said.

"As far as I know, you have publicly stated that you won't marry Xuan a few days ago, so why do you want to know something more about her?" Jian said. Although Jian had broken up with Xuan for a long time, he still cared about her. When Jian heard what Jingyan said publicly that day, Jian couldn't help feeling wronged and indignant for Xuan.

Jingyan didn't care about Jian's attitude. "There are some things I have doubts about, so I want to know more things about her. Since you don't want to criticize her, why don't you tell me about your love story?"

Jian looked straight into Jingyan's colored eyes, but he didn't know what on earth Jingyan wanted to do. He thought it's OK to tell Jingyan about the things of the past.

"Xuan and I met in college. We were both juniors that year. I rode my bike to the library and bumped into her on the way. Then we knew each other in the course of contacts. I thought she is a nice girl, so I confessed my love to her and she agreed to be my girlfriend." Jian recalled their past and said. He thought it's a long story, but it's over in a few words.

At the moment, the delicious dishes were served. There were huge and fat lobsters, the salmon sending out cold air, and the tasty sea cucumber soup...

As Jingyan shelled the lobster, he asked, "Your love story has a good start, but why you broke up later?"

Jian smiled wryly and said, "When we were in college, we were carefree. Apart from studying, we spent all the time together, so we got along quite well. But when we stepped into society, we had different outlook on life and values. She always resented the fact that my job is too normal and my salary is too low. After a few arguments, I broke up with her. But as I still cared about her, so every time she came back to me crying and saying she was bullied by others, I reconciled with her. But we argued not long after we reconciled..."

"Ah!" Jian shook his head and sighed, saying, "Women are always so realistic. She came to see me some time ago, but then she disappeared. I just know what happened to her on the news a while ago. How could she..."

The words were all in Jian's throat, but he didn't say them out. As Jingyan was with him, it's disrespectful of him to say that.

Jingyan knew Jian wanted to say something like finding a sugar daddy.

"You said she came to see you some time ago. When was it?" Jingyan asked.

Jian frowned and thought for a while, saying, "Almost two months ago. Was she with you then?"

Jingyan's heart stood still. He gripped the silver chopsticks tightly, but he pretended to ask casually, "What do you usually do when she came to see you?"

Jian looked up at Jingyan in surprise. Then Jian smiled and said, "You are a man. What do you think a man and a woman can do when they are together?"

Jingyan almost stopped breathing. What a man and a woman can do when they are together? As Jingyan is an adult, of course he knows what a man and a woman can do when they are together. "But why Xuan said she's a virgin and there is blood on the bed...Has Xuan been lying?" Jingyan thought.

"When did you have sex for the first time?" Jingyan asked. He knew this question is abrupt and even silly, but he had to ask it.

Sure enough, Jian's facial expression was ugly. After being stunned for a long time, Jian said, "Mr Ye, I didn't expect that you have such a special hobby. But I am sorry. It's my private and I refuse to answer."

"I have to declare that I have no such a special hobby. The reason why I asked that is because Xuan told me she's a virgin." Jingyan explained embarrassedly.

"Ah?" Jian was so surprised that he raised his voice, saying, "She told you she's a virgin? No. Didn't you have sex with her? How don't you know if she is virgin or not?"

Jingyan was almost sure of a fact. "I was drunk that night, and she was in my bed when I woke up. I couldn't remember anything." Jingyan said with a cold face.

The more Jingyan said, the more surprised Jian was. "Mr Ye, you are so gullible. How can you trust her so easily?" Jian said.

"There was blood on the bed and she said she's..." Jingyan said.

"Ha, ha, ha..." Jian burst into laughing and said, "Xuan has a lot of tricks. To tell you the truth, we had sex when we were together for three months. She was a virgin that time."

"That means it's probably that nothing happened between us that night." Jingyan said to himself.

Jian nodded and said, "Maybe. If you did have sex, why she pretended to be a virgin? Now we are in a society..."

Jingyan interrupted Jian and said, "I haven't touched her since that night, but she's pregnant..."

A few seconds later, the smile on Jian's face froze. His heart beat fast. "How long's she pregnant?" Jian asked.

"The fetus was 56 days old when she aborted." Jingyan said.

Jian recalled the days when Xuan came to see him and he looked sullen. He threw his chopsticks on the table and looked straight into Jingyan's eyes, saying, "That's when she came to see me for a week."

An identical answer arose in the minds of Jingyan and Jian. In fact, the child is Jian's.

"Bang!" Jingyan clenched his fist and smashed it on the table, saying through gritted teeth, "She is so vicious."

"Fvck! Though I am poor, I can afford to raise my child. What rights did she have to do that?" Jian said angrily.

"Just think about the time carefully." Jingyan reminded Jian and said, "Her pregnancy was planned. She wanted to use your child to get huge rewards, but not to get pregnant by accident and then frame me."

After hearing that, Jian was angry. "Where is she now? I'll go to find her and ask." Jian said through gritted teeth.

"She is at my home. Calm down and listen to me first." Jingyan comforted Jian and said, "My lawyer will discuss the compensation with her tomorrow. Give her another chance. She lost her child after all."

"Do you want me to be there to give evidence?" Jian asked.

"It will be better if you are there." Jingyan said.

“OK. I will be there tomorrow.” Jian said.

At that moment, Jian was so angry that he wanted to kill Xuan. Jingyan, on the contrary, was mad with joy. “If all this is true, it means that nothing has happened between me and Xuan, and I am innocent and I have never betrayed Yiyao.” Jingyan thought.

Jingyan really wanted to share this fact with Yiyao, but he didn’t know where she is.

Looking at Jian, who sat opposite him with a red face out of anger, Jingyan thought Jian is an upright man. “Thank you for telling me the truth. It means very much to me.” Jingyan said.

“Don’t mention it. It gives me a chance to see Xuan’s nature and break up with her completely.” Jian said. Jian shoveled lobsters into his mouth, as if he took the lobsters as Xuan to vent his anger.

Jingyan was happy and he said with a smile, “Our company has been hiring a head of mobile phone research and development department, and there has been no suitable candidate. Are you interested in it?”

Jian stopped his chopsticks and stared at Jingyan blankly, saying, “Are you doing that to thank me?”

“That’s only one reason. I also think you are an upright man. When we are hiring employees, we not only focus on ability, but also the quality. Will you come to Yehuang Group to work?” Jingyan said.

Without thinking, Jian said, “I will do that.”

Jingyan smiled and said, “You can go to Yehuang Group at any time after you finish handing over the affairs of your current company.”

“Thank you, Mr Ye.” Jian said sincerely.

“I hope for a pleasant cooperation between us.” Jingyan said.

Everyone will have one or two big opportunities in life. If you seize it, your life will be changed completely. Jian is wise and he needs the opportunity provided by Jingyan. Although his position will not be changed, the platform of Yehuang Group is much bigger than the company he works currently.

If he seizes this opportunity, he will not be the poor budget man Xuan called him, and his career will be promising, so he has no reason to give up.

After dinner, Jingyan sent Jian home. They exchanged phone number by the way and agreed on the time and place to meet.

Everything's ready for tomorrow.

At night, Jingyan was excited and he tossed on his bed. He looked at Yiyao's photo with tenderness in his eyes. Then he kissed the photo and sighed.

"Yiyao, will you be happy when you know the news? There is nothing blocking us anymore. I will love you with all my heart. Will you send me a message when you finish the task?" Jingyan said to himself.

That night, Jingyan fell asleep with the photo in his arms. Just as the saying goes, what you think about in the day, you will dream of it at night. He dreamed of Yiyao that night. She was wounded all over in the reign of battlefield.

Standing in a pool of blood, Yiyao looked at Jingyan tenderly. She smiled and said, "Goodbye, Jingyan." Then she fell softly to the ground limply.

Jingyan was terrified and ran towards her desperately, holding her in his arms. After calling her name several times, Yiyao's cold body turned into nothingness gradually in his arms...

"Yiyao!" Jingyan awakened from his dream with a shout. Then he realized it's a dream and he wiped the sweat from his forehead. Jingyan turned his head to look out of the window and found it would be daylight soon.

Jingyan's heart beat fast and the bloody appearance of Yiyao emerged in sight. After covering his face with his hands to calm down for a while, Jingyan got up and went downstairs to run.

The early summer morning is very cool. There were crystal dewdrops on flowers and grass, which sparkled under the sunlight.

Jingyan's mind was full of Yiyao. He wondered if Yiyao really got injured and fell down to the ground as he dreamed.

"What dream did you have?" Henry asked.

"A very bad dream." Jingyan frowned and said.

“Dreams are opposite to reality. For example, if you dream of someone passed away, it means that this person is going to be promoted, or get rich and live a long life.” Henry said.

“Really?” Jingyan said with a lighter frown.

“Of course. If you don’t believe me, you can go to read the book Duke of Dream Interpretation.” Henry said. Henry knew what Jingyan’s thinking. He also knew that Yiyao went to perform a task and he thought Jingyan was too worried that he dreamed of bad things.

Then Jingyan smiled. As he ran, he said, “That’s nice.”

Chapter 336 Truth Be Told

During breakfast, Xuan Zhao also appeared in the dining room. Today she would leave Ye’s villa, with the reward she deserves.

“Come here and sit down to eat.” Venus, the only one of Ye family who had some favorable impression of Xuan said, “You have lost some weight these days, and your face became smaller.”

Xuan touched her face embarrassedly and said, “Thank you, aunt. As I will leave today, I want to thank you for your care during this period of time.”

“I ought to take care of you.” Venus said. Venus asked the maid to bring Xuan a cup of hot milk and said, “You should drink more soup when you go home, and you will get better and better.”

“OK.” Xuan said.

Jingyan Ye tore the bread in his hand and said, “Dad, mom, are you free in the morning?”

“Yes. What’s up?” Kerry said.

“The lawyer will come here later. I want you and mom to sit in on.” Jingyan said.

Kerry felt assured of his son and said, “It doesn’t matter whether I and mom will be there. You have the final say.”

“No. You and mom are the largest shareholders of Yehuang Group. If the largest shareholders are not there, I dare not make decisions.” Jingyan said. Then he paused for a while and looked at Venus deliberately, saying with a smile, "What if I give her too little money and my mother disagrees?"

Venus gave Jingyan a glare and said, "Boy, how dare you make me the laughingstock?"

"Mother, please forgive me. I dare not do that. Anyway, you are free this morning. It's OK for you to sit it on and be a witness." Jingyan said. Jingyan tried his best to convince his parents, because there would be such a wonderful scene in the morning and his parents should not be absent.

Chuxue Ye sensed something strange. Since all her family would be there, how could she be absent? "I also want to sit it on. I am also a shareholder of Yehuang Group." Chuxue said.

After hearing what Chuxue said, Jingyan smiled. "If Ruyi is also there, the scene will be more splendid. I have no reason to refuse." Jingyan thought.

After seeing Jingyan behave like that, Xuan was somewhat guilty, but she couldn't figure out where the problem lies in.

At ten o'clock in the morning, the lawyer came to Ye's villa with documents. In the living room, onlookers sat on the sofa and ate sunflower seeds, while Jingyan and Xuan sat on both sides of the table. At that moment, a young man walked into the door of Ye's villa. Led by Henry, the man came to a small room next to the living room.

"Miss Zhao, tell us about your demands." Jingyan came straight to the point and said. His time is precious. If Jingyan didn't want to give her the last chance, he would ask Jian Xu to show up now.

Xuan had already had the demands in her mind, but her heart still beat fast. "I want 10% of Yehuang Group's shares, and nothing else." Xuan said.

She had a thorough thought. She knew villas and luxury cars are not as valuable as shares. If she has 10% of Yehuang Group's shares, she could live her rest life without worrying about food or clothing even if she doesn't work, as long as Yehuang Group doesn't bankrupt.

As soon as Chuxue heard what Xuan said, she retorted immediately, "10%? You're dreaming. I only have 8%."

"Miss Ye, although you only have 8% now, you will be the major shareholder of Yehuang Group one day, but I will always have 10%." Xuan said with a hit of smile.

"What do you mean? Are you cursing my parents?" Chuxue said. Chuxue was so angry that she wanted to argue with Xuan, but she was pulled by Venus.

“Sit down. Isn’t this just the start?” Venus comforted Chuxue and said.

“But how could she say such things?” Chuxue said.

As it’s the last day Xuan’s in Ye’s villa, Xuan didn’t want to give the impression of weakness. “Miss Ye, what I said is true. Besides, is my lost child not worth 10% of the shares?”

As soon as Xuan mentioned the child, Chuxue’s morale sank lower. She turned aside and didn’t say anything.

With a sneer, Jingyan said, “Miss Zhao, I will be responsible for what I did. But the shares I have are the same as Chuxue’s. Can you lower your demand?”

After hearing that, Xuan was stunned. She didn’t expect that Jingyan only has 8% of the shares. After thinking for a while, Xuan said, “Well, just give me 8% of the shares. But you have to give me a villa and a car also.”

Without hesitation, Jingyan said, “No problem. Lawyer Tang, just draft the legal document. I will transfer my 8% of the shares to Miss Zhao. Besides, I will give a villa of mine in the east region and the Ferrari in the garage to her.”

Lawyer Tang was stunned. He couldn’t believe that Jingyan would agree to Xuan’s demands so readily.

“Brother, why you are so good-natured?” Chuxue said indignantly.

“She just asks for money. We can earn it back.” Jingyan said indifferently.

Kerry and Venus looked at each other. To be honest, neither of them can be as free and easy as their son. 8% of the shares mean 10 million yuan bonus a year. Jingyan just gave his shares to Xuan without even hesitating.

After hearing that Jingyan agreed her demands, Xuan was very happy. She pretended to be calm and said, “Jingyan, I have no other choice. I heard that it is very difficult for women who have aborted to get pregnant again, so I have to find a way out for myself.”

“I understand you.” Jingyan said with a modest and gentle attitude. When the lawyer was drafting the document, Jingyan asked suddenly, “Miss Zhao, I heard you had a boyfriend when you were in college. Why did you break up with him?”

Xuan was very nervous. She wondered why Jingyan asked her about her ex-boyfriend out of nowhere.

“Mr Ye, this topic seems to have nothing to do with what we are talking about today, right?” Xuan said. Xuan didn’t want to be entangled in this topic.

Jingyan shrugged and said, “I am just curious. We have our hands free anyway. Is it inconvenient for you to talk about it with us?”

There was a hint of nervousness in Xuan’s eyes. She managed to be calm and said frankly, “Of course I can tell you about that. We’ve been together for two or three years. We broke up because we have conflicting personalities. That’s it.”

“Are you not in touch anymore?” Jingyan asked.

“Yes.” Xuan said flatly, “As we’ve broken up, there is no need for us to contact again.”

Jingyan kept his countenance and took a look at the small room next to the living room. “Miss Zhao, you have a decisive attitude toward your ex-boyfriend.” Jingyan said with a smile.

Xuan smiled and didn’t say anything. The more she says, the more likely she will make a mistake.

Soon, the lawyer’s legal documents were drafted, in triplicate. Jingyan glanced them over and handed them to Xuan. “Take a look at them. Sign them if you have no objections.” Jingyan said.

Xuan took the documents over and read them through carefully. After making sure that there’s no loophole, Xuan picked up the pen and signed her name on them with shaking hands.

This is the first time in her life that she signed such important documents.

Jingyan looked at the three documents. When he picked up the pen and was about to sign his name, he laughed suddenly. He then raised his head and saw the nervous facial expression of Xuan. “Miss Zhao, I still have a few questions to ask you.”

“What?” Xuan was panic and said. It seemed that Jingyan’s eyes can see through everything.

Jingyan threw the pen on the table and crossed his hands on his chest, saying, “Did nothing happen between you and your ex-boyfriend as you have been in a relationship for three years?”

As soon as Jingyan said that, not only Xuan was stunned, the several onlookers were also stunned for a few seconds. They didn’t expect that Jingyan would ask such a question.

After hearing that, Xuan's put her hands, which were on the table, under the table unconsciously. "I don't know what you mean by that." Xuan said.

"I am just a little surprised that nothing happened to you during the three years you were together. As you are all adults, is it normal?" Jingyan said. Jingyan was frivolous and looked like a different man.

Kerry and Venus looked at each other and saw the surprise in each other's eyes. They wondered if their son found out something wrong.

Xuan clasped her hands tightly together and she became serious. "I think you knows best if there's anything happened between me and him. Did you forget what you saw when you woke up at the hotel that morning?"

"That's why I am curious. You and him have been together for three years, and you are still a virgin?" Jingyan said bluntly with an invisible smile.

Xuan looked ugly and she dared not looked straight into Jingyan's eyes. She pretended to be calm and said, "I am a traditional girl and I want to give my virginity to my future husband, so I ..."

"Ho!" Jingyan said sarcastically, "Then why you are so open to me? Why you brought me to the hotel when I was drunk?"

Chuxue couldn't help but laugh out. She was almost sure that Jingyan must have found something out, so he was interrogating Xuan.

After Chuxue laughed, the atmosphere became very weird. Kerry and Venus found it's both funny and annoying. With a complicated facial expression, Xuan quibbled, "I like you very much, and you insisted to go to the hotel at that time, so I ..."

Jingyan sneered and said, "You mean I dragged you to go to the hotel? But didn't I fall into a coma after drinking too much wine? Did I have the strength to do that?"

Xuan's heart beat fast. She didn't know why Jingyan asked that suddenly. As it's a lie, no matter how plausible she made it is, there are flaws.

At the thought of that, Xuan glared at Jingyan angrily and said, "Mr Ye, things have passed for so long and why you question me now? Are you repenting the promises you just made? If you do repent, you can just say no. Why you insult me here?"

"I just want to figure out the truth." Jingyan stared at Xuan and said. Then he said something shocking, "Miss Zhao, if you tell me the truth, I can give you some compensation for the sake of the lost child, but if you continue to lie to me, you may not get a penny."

After hearing what Jingyan said, Xuan was totally panic. As things have come to this, she was determined not to give in. "What if Jingyan's tricking me?" Xuan thought.

"Mr Ye, you don't have to dupe me like that. As things have come to this and I have lost my child, don't you want to be responsible for what you did? Don't you think it's too mean for you to do that?" Xuan said.

"Really?" Jingyan picked up the pen and circled it in his hand, saying, "So you don't want to admit it."

"Why should I admit things I haven't done?" Xuan said.

"OK." Jingyan said. Then he turned his head and shouted to the room next to the living room, "Well, come out."

Everyone looked at the door of the room. Half a minute later, a strange man walked out of the room. As soon as Xuan saw the man, she stood up from her chair suddenly.

"Let me introduce him to you," Jingyan said relaxedly, "This is Jian Xu, Miss Zhao's ex-boyfriend. There are some things we can't just listen to the statement of only one of the parties. We should also listen to what the other party says. Right?"

"Yes." Chuxue jumped up from the sofa and said happily, "Of course we should listen to the words of two parties."

"My brother is so wise. How could he just agree on all the demands put forward by Xuan so readily? It turns out that he has the trump card. Ha, ha. It's wise for me to stay at home to watch the scene. What splendid it is!" Xuan thought.

"Hello, Mr Ye, Mrs Ye." Jian said politely. Kerry and Venus nodded at him confusedly. Then Jian looked at Xuan and said coldly, "Xuan, we haven't seen each other for more than a month. How are you doing?"

Xuan was nervous and she held the edge of the table tightly with one hand. "What Are you talking about? We haven't seen each other for more than a year." Xuan said with a shaky voice.

"Oh? More than a year?" Jian sneered and said, "Is there something wrong with your memory? Last time you left in such a hurry and your pajamas is still in my closet. When will you go to my home to take it?"

"You..." Xuan didn't know how to retort and made a false countercharge, "Jian, although we've broken up, but we are not enemies. Why you join Jingyan to slander me? What benefits did he give you?"

Jian finally know how insidious Xuan's and said angrily, "What did I lie? Xuan, is the child that you aborted accidentally mine?"

Kerry and Venus were stunned. "How could the child be this young man's?" Venus thought. Chuxue was excited, because she hasn't encountered such a funny thing for a long time.

"No!" Xuan retorted immediately, "That child has nothing to do with you. It's Jingyan's."

"What proof do you have to prove that?" Jian said aggressively, "Xuan, do you forget that you came to my home for a week a month ago? We did nothing except for having se.x. I thought you wanted to reconcile with me, but it turned out that you just wanted to get pregnant."

Xuan's legs went soft and she almost fell to the ground. "You're lying. I have never been to your house."

"Hum," Jian took out his phone from his pocket and found the phone records and chatting records. Then he gave the phone to Chuxue, who was next to him. "This is our contact information at that time. Xuan, you've deleted it, but I haven't." Jian said.

Chuxue saw a few calls, which were made just a few days after the night when her brother was drunk. There were also some messages. But before she looked at them carefully, the phone was taken away by Kerry. "You are girl. How can you look at those things?" Kerry said.

Chuxue pouted. "I am 25 years old and I am no more a child." Chuxue said in her heart. Chuxue didn't want to give up, so she stretched her neck to look at the phone. She only saw something like, "Are you at home now?", "I will go to your home at night."....

After reading all the messages, Kerry and Venus handed the phone back to Jian. Then they looked at Xuan seriously, with doubts in their eyes.

Xuan still didn't want to admit everything. "What if I had se.x with you? I am the mother of the child, so I know clearly who is the father of the child." Xuan said harshly at Jian.

"Really?" Jingyan asked rhetorically, "Why you pretended to be a v!rgin as you are not at that night?"

"I was afraid that you won't like a girl who is not a v!rgin, so I pretended to be a v!rgin." Xuan said.

Chapter 337 You Don't Have to Wait for Her

"I don't think anything happened that night. You did that because you want to be the mistress of Ye family. You even treated me by saying your ex-boyfriend's child is mine in order to achieve your ulterior motives." Jingyan Ye said mockingly.

As Xuan Zhao's carefully arranged traps were exposed by Jingyan step by step, Xuan shook her head vigorously and quibbled, "No, that's not the case. I really love you, and that's really your child. How could I do things like that?"

"I also wonder how you, who was so strong and brave when you were a child, could do such things today." Jingyan looked at Xuan with disdain and lament, saying.

"I remember a few years ago when you were chased down the street by a gang of thugs to pay off the debts, I got off the car to save you. I didn't expect that I saved an ungrateful person." Chuxue Ye said.

Xuan's heart sank into the abyss of depression. She took a look at the indifferent Jingyan. Then she turned and wanted to turn to Venus, but she found that Venus's looking at herself coldly. She knew there's no use in her sophistry.

Filled with anger, Xuan walked up to Jian Xu and said, "Jian Xu, I treated you quite well when we were together. And I didn't speak ill of you to ruin your reputation after we broke up. Why did you do this to me today?"

"Then why did you use my child to get what you want? It's a life. How could you be so cruel? Have you asked me for my opinion?" Jian shouted at Xuan angrily.

Xuan's brain was in buzz. Without thinking, she blurted out, "What can you give the child? You are a poor boy. Can you let the child go to a famous school, can you give the child the best environment, and can you afford the child to study abroad in the future?"

Xuan's words made the scene quiet down immediately. Everyone looked at her with complicated facial expressions. It suddenly dawned on her what she had said. She admitted that the child is indeed Jian's.

Xuan fell apart and sat down on the chair with numb facial expression.

Venus felt as if her heart had been thrown to the ground. "Miss Zhao, how could you do such things? I treated you so well and stood by your side to help you. You..." Venus said angrily.

"It turned out that the child is not Jingyan's. I shouldn't have treated her so well." Venus thought.

"Mom, I told you there's something wrong with her, but you don't believe me." Chuxue said.

Kerry shot Chuxue a glance and said, "Just as the saying goes, cats hide their claws. You mother just took pity on Xuan. How could you say that?"

"OK. It's my fault." Chuxue said.

Looking at Xuan's pale face, Jingyan said, "Do you have anything else to say?"

After being silent for a long time, Xuan said coldly, "I confess the child is not yours, but you caused my accidental abortion. It an una.ssailable truth."

"It's indeed my fault." Jingyan said unhurriedly. Jingyan was in a bad mood then and he pushed Xuan, who rolled down the stairs.

"Just give me a million yuan to compensate for my lost child." Xuan said shamelessly.

After hearing that, Jian bristled with rage and said, "Xuan, how can you be so shameless to ask for money?"

"It has nothing to do with you. The child is mine, and of course I can ask for money." Xuan said. Xuan didn't care about her self-respect anymore. "I have planned this for a long time, and I almost killed myself. I can't leave without getting anything." Xuan thought.

"I will only give you 500000 yuan." Jingyan said calmly.

"Jingyan, you are too mean. 1 million yuan is not a big amount to you." Xuan said.

"1 million yuan is not a big amount to me, but you don't deserve so much." Jingyan stared at Xuan mercilessly and said, "You'd better take the half a million yuan, because maybe I won't give you a dime the next second."

Xuan saw the hatred in Jingyan's eyes and she suddenly thought of Yiyao Duan. "As I have played a trick and made Yiyao broke up with Jingyan, Jingyan must hate me. Jingyan has known everything and I can only at his service." Xuan thought.

"Well, just give me half a million yuan. I want it now." Xuan said.

Jingyan threw the check he had prepared in advance to her. The amount on the check is exactly 500000 yuan. "Miss Zhao, please leave my house at once. By the way, I want to inform you that you have been dismissed by Yehuang Group for your bad conduct. Your personal effects will be delivered to your home later. You can pack up and leave now." Jingyan said.

Clenching the check in her hand, Xuan stood up out of her wits and walked limply. That's not what she wanted. She just wanted Jingyan to love her, but why did it come to this?

Jian was indignant, because the girl who he fell in love with is so repulsive in countenance now. It was as if there was a huge stone in his heart. After a sigh, Jian said, "Mr Ye, there's nothing for me to do here. I'm leaving now."

As Jingyan was in a good mood, he said trippingly, "Thank you for your coming."

"It's just a lift of the finger. Goodbye." Jian said. Then Jian turned and left the living room and strode toward the gate of Ye's villa.

He didn't want to see Xuan anymore this life, because she destroyed his beautiful yearning for love.

When Xuan and Jian left, Jingyan smiled, because the matter finally came to light.

"Brother, when did you find there's something wrong? Why didn't you tell me about that? I, father and mother were filled with apprehension. We were afraid that you would sign the document in a thoughtless moment." Chuxue said. Chuxue was also in a good mood, because she wouldn't see Xuan in Ye's villa anymore.

"One night I heard her talking on the phone in her room. She said something strange. So I went to find her ex-boyfriend to know something more about her. I didn't expect things to become as such a big surprise." Jingyan said with a smile.

"Why didn't you take me with you to do such a funny thing?" Chuxue pretended to be angry and said.

"You know it now, don't you?" Jingyan said.

With an apologetic look, Venus said, "I am dim-sighted from old age and I can't tell good people from bad people. I even argued with you for that..."

Jingyan walked up to Venus to put his arm around her shoulder and said, "Mom, it's not your fault. Xuan is a deep person."

"Then tell Yiyao about it and you two can get back together. It's to the satisfaction of all." Venus said.

"I can't contact her while she's on task, in case something goes wrong." Jingyan said somewhat disappointedly.

Chuxue, Kerry and Venus were all silent.

At the time, Henry walked into the living room and said, "Sir Kerry, Venus, Xuan's things are packed. Should we send her home?"

“No.” Kerry said coldly, “Let her go by herself. She almost made me lose such a good daughter-in-law.”

“OK. I see.” Henry controlled himself from laughing and said.

A few days later, Yiyao was transferred to the best military hospital in Capital City by plane because the condition of her ears was not improved. Azure Dragon accompanied Yiyao. As Yiyao was wounded to save him, he would keep awake at night with worry if he doesn't see Yiyao recovers.

“She just had a ruptured eardrum. Why did she stay deaf for so long?” Azure Dragon asked the doctor anxiously.

“Let's talk about it after the patient does a thorough examination.” The doctor said.

“Doctor, how about my captain?” Azure Dragon asked worriedly.

“She has a sensorineural hearing loss. The condition is serious.” The doctor looked at the X-ray in his hand and said, “And it's a long-term treatment. I am not sure what the treatment effect will be.”

After hearing that, Azure Dragon was sad. “I beg you to heal her, or she will feel unhappy.” Azure Dragon implored the doctor.

The doctor knew who Yiyao is. He patted Azure Dragon on the shoulder and said, “Don't worry. We will do our best to treat her.”

After went back to the ward, Yiyao stood quietly at the window. She felt the world's so quiet, quieter than Kunlun Mountains at night.

Looking at her straight back, tears welled up in Azure Dragon's eyes. “If my captain can't hear again, I will take care of her for the rest of her life, as long as she won't abandon me.” Azure Dragon thought.

Wiping the tears away, Azure Dragon walked up to Yiyao. With a brilliant smile, Azure Dragon took out his phone and typed, "The doctor said you are in a good condition. You will recover soon if you cooperate with the doctors."

Yiyao read those word quickly. Then she looked at Azure Dragon and smiled knowingly. As Azure Dragon has been her comrade for so many years, Yiyao knew him very well. Seeing the unnatural smile of Azure Dragon, Yiyao knew things were not that case.

After knowing her condition was not optimistic, Yiyao was down in the dumps. She couldn't imagine how boring the world would be if there were no sounds in it. One of the first things she had to do was to get out of the army.

Seeing Yiyao knew the truth, Azure Dragon lowered his head in silent depressedly and sadly. Yiyao didn't want Azure Dragon to feel guilty, so she took Azure Dragon's phone over and typed, "I'm fine. At worst, I can't hear anymore, but I am alive."

After reading that, Azure Dragon's tears rolled down from his cheeks. He typed with shaking hands, "Captain, if you can't hear anymore, I will take care of you for the rest of your life."

Yiyao smiled and typed, "I will have a boyfriend."

Yiyao just said that to comfort Azure Dragon. She made up her mind that if she really can't hear anymore, she will spend the rest of her life alone, because she doesn't want to be a burden of others, Jingyan especially. He is such a brilliant man and he should have a perfect wife.

"It's a good thing that I promised him nothing when I left. That's a good farewell. Just think I died." Yiyao thought.

In the following time, Yiyao has been cooperating with the doctors. As she is a positive person, she will not give up as long as there is a glimmer of hope, so no matter how painful the treatment was, she stuck to it.

Gradually, the treatment worked. One of her ears could hear some sound, but she still couldn't hear what others say clearly.

One afternoon, Yiyao saw her father. They haven't seen each other for a long time.

Jun Duan was thinner and darker than he used to be. He looked at his daughter lovingly and for the first time he decided to let her discharge from the army.

He had lost his wife and he could not afford to lose his daughter.

Yiyao was so happy that she wanted to ask her father all kinds of questions, but she didn't know how to speak after opening her mouth. Then she picked up the tablet and wrote, "Is the task finished?"

Jun nodded and said slowly, "Yes."

Yiyao understood Jun's lip language and she was happier. "I know my dad is the most powerful one. Don't worry, I'm fine. Now I can hear a little in my left ear." Yiyao wrote.

Jun held Yiyao's thin shoulder and he was sad. He took the pen in Yiyao's hand and wrote, "You are my pride." Then Jun paused. Jun wanted to ask Yiyao to demobilize, but he felt it's not a good time to do that, so he only typed "Cooperate with the doctors".

Yiyao nodded her head with a smile. Jun rubbed her hair and smiled kindly.

"I need to think about what Yiyao will do when she leaves the army. Of course, I can afford to take care of her even if she won't work, but she is unwilling to be an unoccupied person. How about I help her find a position in Sky City? In this way, she doesn't have to be separated from Jingyan anymore. But will Jingyan mind if Yiyao can't hear anymore?" Jun thought.

Jun and Yiyao are both very proud people. Jun would not marry his daughter to Jingyan if Jingyan hesitates a bit.

"You want to let you daughter work in Sky City? There's absolutely no problem. No matter what position she wants to work, I will help her make it." Jun's comrade-in-arms said.

"By the way, do you know Jingyan of Yehuang Group?" Jun asked casually.

"Of course I know him. Everyone in Sky City knows him. Why..." Jun's comrade-in-arms broke off in the middle of a sentence. He seemed to remember something and after being silent for a few seconds, he said, "As you mentioned Jingyan, I thought of something happed some time ago, which has something to do with Yiyao."

Jun frowned and said, "What's that?"

"I'm not very sure of it. You can search the internet." Jun's comrade-in-arms said.

"Well, go ahead for your staff first. I will let you know when everything's ready." Jun said.

"OK." Jun's comrade-in-arms said.

After hanging up the phone, Jun searched Jingyan Ye of Yehuang Group on the Internet curiously. After a glimpse of the news, Jun was inwardly furious.

“Son of b!tch, he had a child with another woman. I used to think Jingyan is a nice man, but it turns out that my first intuition is right. Businessmen are unreliable. Well, now I don’t even have to think about letting Yiyao go to Sky City. I wonder how sad Yiyao was when she read the news. She finally fell in love with a boy, but he is such a bad guy.” Jun thought.

Jun was in a rage. If he was in Sky City at that moment, he would go to Ye family to give Jingyan a good beating.

As there was no where to vent his anger, Jun called Azure Dragon over and said, “Tell me in full detail what happened in Sky City some time ago. What did Jingyan, the son of b!tch, do to Yiyao?”

Azure Dragon has never seen the chief so angry. Being surrounded by the powerful aura, he stepped back. “I, I don’t know.” Azure Dragon said stutteringly.

“Nonsense!” Jun threw the phone to him and said, “How dare you say you don’t know about such a big thing?”

Chapter 338 She Was Dead

After seeing the breaking news on the phone, Azure Dragon was first confused and then shocked, finally he grew sullen and cursed, “Damn! I know that’s the truth or how could Yiyao faint?”

“What did you say? What happened to Yiyao?” Jun grabbed him by the collar and asked anxiously.

Azure Dragon was also very angry and explained, “Chief, please listen to me. I’ll tell you about the matter.”

Then, Azure Dragon told Jun about the things happened in the hospital in detail, including Xuan’s visit to Yiyao, Yiyao’s surgery, Jingyan’s repentance and Yiyao’s weeping. He almost told Jun everything except Jingyan’s supernatural powers. He promised Yiyao to keep it a secrete.

The more Jun listened, the angrier he became. He knew how strong his daughter was. She never cry again after her mother passed away. No matter how she wounded, she would just comfort him. Now, she cried for Jingyan, she must like Jiangyan very well.

Hearing this, Jun snorted, “How dare him to ask Yiyao for forgiveness? Just give him a punch the next time you see him.”

“Well, it’s an order.” Jun yelled.

“Copy that!” Azure Dragon saluted uprightly.

Jun took a while to calm down, he wouldn’t allow Jingyan to be his son-in-law. Mistakes always come in pairs. He really hated this kind of person. However, he was afraid that Yiyao would be seduced by Jingyan. He must find a way to pump the brakes on such thought.

But what could he do? He must think seriously.

Sky City, in Ye family villa.

Jingyan was fishing by the lake, however his mind drifted and he didn’t even notice the movement of those fish.

“Well, the fish is coming.” Chuxue quickly pulled out the fishing rod, however, it was gone. After packing the rod, Chuxue teased, “Are you fishing or meditating? The fish have all run away.”

“Then what are you fishing for?” Chuxue hung the worm on the hook and then threw the rod into the water.

“Just send her a message,” Chuxue squatted next to him, she had a long hair and no make up at all, looked just like an innocent girl.

“I’m afraid to disturb her.”

“It’s been a month, the mission should be over,” Chuxue looked at him and then said, “Give me your phone, I’ll help you.”

After pondering a while, Jingyan refused her, although he wanted to do that.

Chuxue knew the thought of her brother, so she directly took out his phone and opened it with password. Then when she was about to send a message to Yiyao, a call came in.

“Well, someone calls you.” Chuxue gave him the phone.

Jingyan looked at the number but found it was unfamiliar, he picked it up and said “Hello? “

Then a deep voice was heard, “This is Jun.”

Hearing this, Jingyan quickly stood up from the chair and said politely, “Hello, uncle.”

Then Chuxue also stood up and felt nervous.

“I’m calling to inform you that” In order to perform more vividly, Jun hesitated for a while and continued, “Stop waiting for Yiyao.”

Hearing this, Jingyan was stunned with his brain went blank, then he asked dumbly “Why?”

“She died for the country.” After saying this, he quickly hung up the phone.

Jingyan was in panic, he couldn’t think anymore and the phone had slipped to the ground from his hand.

Seeing this, Chuxue knew something was wrong, so she quickly asked, “What happened?”

Jingyan was dumbfounded and could not say a word,.

“Brother, what’s wrong? Please don’t act like this.” Chuxue shook his arm, but didn’t expect that the next moment, Jingyan fainted.

Hearing the scream, Kerry rushed here and was shocked by what he had seen, "What's wrong? What happened to him?"

"I don't know," Chuxue cried with tears on her face, "Yiyao's father made a phone call just now, after hanging up the phone, brother fainted."

After hearing this, Kerry felt nervous and helped Jingyan up, then he said, "Just bring him to his room first, there must be something wrong with Yiyao." Then they took Jingyan away.

After a while, Venus came in, seeing that Jingyan was lying on the bed with a pale face, she asked anxiously, "What happened to Pingan?"

Chuxue told her about the matter again, Venus's reaction was the same as Kerry, and she said, "Something must happen on Yiyao."

"It must be something very important or brother won't faint."

Kerry frowned, and then said in a deep voice, "Perhaps she was dead."

As soon as Chuxue heard this, the tears burst out on her face, she kept shaking her head and said, "How could this happen? Yiyao is such a strong woman."

Venus wiped Chuxue's tears and said softly, "Keep calm, it's just your father's speculation. Pingan will tell us when he wakes up."

"Does he need a doctor?" Kerry asked.

"I've asked Henry to call the doctor, he will be here soon."

Seeing Jingyan's face, all of them felt worried, what if Kerry's guess was true? How could Jingyan accept that?

Jingyan had dreamed again, he dreamed that Yiyao was lying in his arms with blood all over her body. Then she finally turned into bubble and disappeared.

"Yiyao!" Jingyan suddenly yelled and sat up from the bed. He looked quite dumb.

"Brother." Chuxue called softly, then Jingyan woke up from his dream. Then Chuxue said, "Brother, what's wrong?"

Jingyan opened his mouth slowly, and said in a hoarse voice, "Yiyao was dead."

Hearing this, they were all shocked, their speculation was true.

“Yiyao was dead, how could this happen?” Jingyan just repeated the sentence like a soulless puppet. He lifted the quilt and was about to get off the bed. Seeing this, Kerry quickly stopped him and said, “What are you doing?”

“I’m going to find her, I don’t believe it, I must see it myself.” Jingyan struggled to stand up. Suddenly, someone hit him from behind. Then he fainted again.

Venus hugged her and comforted her softly, “It’s fine, you’ve done a good job.”

Hearing this, Chuxue quickly hugged Venus and sobbed, “How could this happen? How could Yiyao die?”

Venus patted her back and coaxed her as if she was a child, “Good girl, just vent your sorrow.”

Venus sighed lightly with moist eyes, “This world is indeed unfair.” Hearing this, Chuxue cried even louder.

Jingyan woke up at midnight, however, recalling Jun’s words, he felt heartbroken and tears rolled down his face again.

No wonder she did not contact him for so long. No wonder he would have such an inauspicious dream. It turned out that she really died. How could this happen? How could he accept the fact?

The three people downstairs were all silent, after a while, Kerry said, “I’ll make a phone call to Chief Duan so that Jingyan can see Yiyao for the last time.”

“Fine.” Venus agreed, “It’s good for him to accept the fact or he can’t get rid of this the whole life.”

Chuxue snuggled up to her mother and sobbed.

Kerry used Jingyan’s phone to make a call. After waiting for a while, someone picked it up. Then Kerry said, “Chief Duan, this is Jingyan’s father.” Kerry introduced himself.

“Hello.” Jun answered indifferently, he was completely disappointed to Ye family.

Jun kept silent, Kerry thought he was too sad to speak, so he just continued, "I'm calling for seeking your advice, could Jingyan perform his last duty and see Yiyao for the last time. After all, they"

"No way." Jun refused directly, "We have our rules. He is not allowed to attend the funeral. There's no leeway. That's it, I'm busy." After saying this, he hung up the phone.

Hearing this, Kerry put down the phone and sighed, "He refused me."

But he seemed to be angrier than sad. Could it be that he was preparing to take revenge?

"I'll go to see Pingan." Venus was ready to stand up, but was stopped by Kerry, "Well, just leave him alone. He can get over this."

However, Venus didn't think so, she said in a negative way, "Yiyao means too much to him, how could he accept this?"

"We have to trust him. He's a strong kid since he was a child, and he'll pull through this."

"Well, I hope so."

In the remote Capital City.

After many days of treatment, Yiyao's left ear could hear nothing except some loud voices. Besides, she had no hearing in her right ear.

Gradually, she felt depressed.

"Chief, we've tried our best, and this is the best result." The doctor said apologetically.

In just a few days, Jun had many white hairs and he looked haggard. Hearing the doctor's words, he asked, "So what do you mean?"

"Just have a rest at home." After hesitating for a while, the doctor suggested, "Just use the hearing aid so that she can hear those louder voices. In this way, she can communicate, if she keeps silent for a long time, she may lost her voice."

"Just do as you said."

Yiyao had experienced many difficulties, so she was a very positive person. When seeing the hearing aid, she just smiled and then accepted it.

Thanks to the hearing aid, her left could hear some voices. Besides, she also leaned !p language. If one spoke slowly, she could guess the meaning.

“Can you hear me?” Jun said loudly in a slow manner.

Yiyao finally heard that and nodded joyfully, then she said in a hoarse voice, “I can hear you.”

Long time of silence had already hurt her voice. It took efforts for her to speak. However, it was already a good result for she and her father.

“Fine.”

Their house in the Capital City was an old and valuable courtyard, which was passed down from the hands of her ancestors. Whenever they had a meeting in the Capital City, they would live here. It looked quite clean for it was cleaned frequently.

There was a large tank in the center of the courtyard. You could find carps and lotuses in it. The grape vines beside the tank had stretched its tentacles to half of the space of the courtyard with grapes hanging on it like emeralds.

Jun pushed open the room, which was still paved with the former large green bricks. Everything was fine, except the bed. There was no quilt. Thus, he opened a cabinet, took out the quilt and said, “Today’s weather is good, it is just fine to air out the quilt.”

He was not faced to Yiyao and said in a low voice, thus Yiyao couldn’t hear him. However, since his movement was obvious, she knew what he was doing.

They aired the quilt together and cleaned the rooms, then started to wash vegetables bought by Azure Dragon. It was his turn to cook for them.

Although, the furniture were simple, Yiyao was satisfied with such life.

Hearing this, both Jun and Azure Dragon stopped eating.

Yiyao had thought about this issue for a long time, she could do nothing in the army now. What’s more, she didn’t want others to show sympathy to her. It was better for her to demobilize.

Chapter 339 Winning the Favor of You

Looking at the forced smile of Yiyao Duan, Juan was distressed. Yiyao was supposed to be a military leader, but...

Tears welled up in Azure Dragon's eyes, because he thought it's his fault that Yiyao has come to this.

"Don't look at me that way. I did it of my own free will." Yiyao poked the rice in the bowl and said with a smile, "In a couple of days I'll find a suitable shop and open a flower shop. It will be nice to be a flower girl from now on."

"Yiyao, do you mean it?" Jun asked. Jun didn't know whether he should be sad or glad.

Yiyao nodded and said, "Yes. I like flowers. I will be in a good mood when I see beautiful things."

"OK. I will find you a shop this afternoon." Jun said.

"You keep my stuff in the army from the time being. Bring it for me when you come back." Yiyao said.

After hearing that, Azure Dragon was anxious. "Captain, won't you go back to the army to say goodbye to everyone?" Azure Dragon said.

Yiyao held back the tears and said with a smile, "I won't go back. I'll cry if I go back. I don't want to cry in front of you boys. I'm your captain."

A drop of Azure Dragon's tears fell on the table. Jun understood how Yiyao felt and said, "Don't be sad. In fact, Yiyao's choice is also very good. She'll never have to risk her life with you again. You can come to see her on holidays if you miss her."

Azure Dragon wiped his tears with his sleeve. He lowered his head and said with sobs, "I know it's good for captain, but I couldn't bear for her to leave the army. It's all my fault. If it hadn't been for me..."

"What are you talking about? As she is the captain, she should be responsible for everyone in the team." Jun scolded Azure Dragon, "Well, stop crying. Yiyao will be sad if you continue crying."

"OK." Azure Dragon said. He wiped his eyes again and then raised his head to smile at Yiyao.

In the afternoon, Jun went to find a shop, while Yiyao learned !p language and Azure Dragon cooperated with her to practice. When Yiyao repeated the words right, Azure Dragon was a little more relaxed.

Everyone has to make an effort to live. Yiyao was convinced that the present difficulties were only temporary. Even she's not a soldier anymore, she'll have a wonderful life.

In the evening, Jun came back with the famous roast duck of Capital City. Yiyao gobbled down the duck and said it's very delicious.

"I find you a flower shop near the college town. The people there are all students and teachers, and the social circle is relatively simple." Jun said slowly while he put the roast duck in Yiyao's pancake, "There happened to be a flower shop over there for sale and the price is right. You go with me to have a look tomorrow. We'll take it over if you like it."

"OK." Yiyao nodded while she ate, saying.

Late at night, Jun heard Yiyao's suppressed cries from the next door and he was grieved.

Yiyao grew up in the military compound and she went to military school. She went into the army after graduation. Being a soldier has become a part of her flesh and blood, and leaving the army is like to remove the skin and bones of her body. How could it doesn't hurt?

But she had to say with a smile, "Father, I'm fine"

Jun knew Yiyao was sad and Yiyao said those words because she didn't want him to worry about her.

Yiyao has been a good girl ever since she was a child.

The next day, Yiyao went to the flower shop with Jun and Azure Dragon. The flower shop is just across from a famous university. The decoration of the flower shop is tasteful. As soon as Yiyao entered the shop, she felt as if she had entered a sea of flowers.

The owner of the shop is a woman has an aura of elegance. Her husband is a teacher of the university. As her husband would go abroad for further study and she would go with him, she had to transfer the possession of the shop.

"I went to negotiate with all the suppliers one by one in person and all the flowers they provide are of high quality. If you take the shop over, they can keep sending flowers here. It will spare you some troubles." The woman said. When the woman spoke, Yiyao looked at her earnestly. Yiyao guessed the rough meaning of what the woman said by the Ip language.

"And this little girl." The woman beckoned the girl in the apron next to her and said, "She was hired by me. She can help you move flowers and arrange flowers and something like that. She is a good worker. She cried for days after knowing I am going to transfer the possession of the shop. If you think she is good, you can let her continue to work here, so she won't have to lose her job."

Yiyao took a look at the girl. The girl has a round face, big and bright eyes, and pink-and-white face. She seems like a girl who has her heart in the right place.

"Do you like the shop?" Jun asked Yiyao.

Yiyao nodded and said, "Yes. Let's take it over. This girl is good too. Just let her work here."

After hearing that, the girl was very happy. "Thank you, my new boss. My name is Xiaocui Hua, and you can call me Xiaocui." The girl said.

As Xiaocui spoke fast, Yiyao didn't hear her clearly. "My ears hurt. Please speak more slowly so that I can hear you clearly." Yiyao said.

It was the first time Yiyao had publicly acknowledged her physical limitations. It didn't seem that hard to talk about.

After hearing what Yiyao said, both Xiaocui and the woman were stunned for several seconds. Then Xiaocui repeated the words, with a slower speed and a higher tone. Yiyao heard clearly this time.

"Hello, Xiaocui. I'm Yiyao Duan, and you can call me Yiyao." Yiyao said with a smile.

Xiaocui is a person who knows how to behave in a delicate situation and she called Yiyao sweetly.

After the price was agreed upon, Yiyao and the woman went through the handover formalities that afternoon. So far Yiyao has a place of her own.

Jun wanted to buy a car for Yiyao, but he was afraid that she might be in danger on the road. Then he thought of hiring a driver for her. When Yiyao knew the thoughts of his father, she burst into laughing. "Dad, are you really raising me like a princess? I've checked the map and there's subway for me to get to the shop." Yiyao said.

"It will be toilsome for you to take the subway. We have the money to provide you with a good life." Jun said with a frown.

"It has nothing to do with money. It's just because I want to know more about the society. After all my years in the army, I fell I am disconnected from society." Yiyao said.

“Well.” Jun gave all his four bank cards to Yiyao and said, “There is all the money of us. You can withdraw money whenever you need. The code is your birthday.”

Yiyao took the cards away and said, “I see.”

After spending a few days with Yiyao in the flower shop, Jun’s vocation was over and it’s time for him to go back to the army. Before going back to the army, Jun told the address of Yiyao’s flower shop to all his old comrades-in-arms in Capital City and asked them to help with the business at ordinary times.

The head of patrol office said, “Mr Duan, don’t worry, I can assure you that Yiyao’s flower shop and your old house will be the safest places in Capital City.”

“I am relieved to have your word.” Jun said thankfully.

The head of receive office said, “Mr Duan, should I help with Yiyao’s business? How about I order all the flowers my working unit needs from Yiyao’s shop?”

Jun found what he said both funny and annoying. “It’s just her hobby to run the flower shop and she just wants to make some pocket money. If you order all the flowers your working unit needs from her shop, she will be terribly busy.”

A general manager of a public company said, “Mr Duan, how about I send some bodyguards to protect her?”

“No. None of your bodyguards are as good as her. Just go to the shop to buy some flowers when you are free. She will be bored to death if there is no guest.” Jun said.

“There’s absolutely no problem with that. I’ll have people buy two bouquets of flowers every day.” The general manager said.

After arranging all these, Jun was much more relieved. The other thing he concerned about is Yiyao’s marriage.

The next day, Yiyao bid farewell to her father and Azure Dragon.

Unprecedentedly, Jun hugged Yiyao. Jun hasn’t hugged Yiyao for years. Yiyao knew her father was worried about herself, so she said playfully, “Dad, you better get going, or you will keep me from making a fortune.”

“Go to find your uncles if you get into trouble. Take care of yourself without dad around.” Jun said.

Yiyao patted herself on the chest and said, "Don't worry. I am good at nothing except for the first-class ability to survive."

Tears rolled down from Azure Dragon's cheeks. Yiyao gave him a disdainful look and said, "You are a man and why you are crying?"

"Captain, don't forget us." Azure Dragon said with sobs.

Yiyao pushed Azure Dragon to get in the car and said, "I won't forget you. Come to see me when you are on holidays. I will bring you to the most luxurious place in Capital City to have fun."

"Yiyao, we're leaving now." Jun was unwilling to part and said. Sitting in the driver's seat, Azure Dragon cried like a child.

Tears welled up in Yiyao's eyes. She waved her hands at them and said, "Just go. This is not part for ever."

Then the car was started and it left the quadrangle courtyard slowly. Yiyao watched them go. It was not until the car turned a corner that the tears finally fell from her eyes.

Yiyao took a deep breath when she returned to the quiet courtyard. Her nose was full of the smell of green grapes. Everything was still strange, but her new life was about to begin.

Sky City faraway.

Jingyan slept for three days without eating and drinking. He finally woke up on the morning of the fourth day.

The last time Jingyan behaved like that was when Yiyao said they would go parted ways.

As the morning light fell on the carpet, Jingyan told himself that he couldn't be so depressed anymore. He's accompanied by his father, mother, Ruyi and Yehuang Group.

"As Yiyao is one who love life so much, she must be angry when she sees I am so depressed." Jingyan thought.

Then Jingyan got up to take a shower and shave. He looked at the strange, familiar face in the mirror. The moment he bowed his head, a tear fell into the sink.

In fact, he hasn't been with Yiyao for a long time, and they spent most of the time together in the hospital. But when he knew Yiyao's alive and he could be a step closer to Yiyao each day, he was hopeful. However, now...

It took a long time for Jingyan to calm down. After managing to wash his face and rinse his mouth with an effort, Jingyan went downstairs dazedly.

Outside the sun was very strong, as if it would burn people.

After seeing Jingyan, Venus was surprised. "You finally get up." Venus said gently.

Looking at the row of straight and tall birch trees in the distance, Jingyan said in a hoarse voice, "Yiyao must want me to live a good life."

"You're right to think so." Venus said. Her eyes were somewhat red, because she has hardly fallen asleep these days. She worried about Jingyan sometimes and felt sorry for Yiyao sometimes. Venus raised her hand and patted Jingyan on the shoulder, saying, "Everything will be all right."

Jingyan turned his gaze. Time cures everything, but he didn't know when his empty heart could be filled again, and maybe it would be empty for the rest of his life.

After seeing Jingyan like that, Venus was very distressed. "You haven't eaten for several days. I asked the cook to make the porridge. Go to eat first. If you are in a bad mood, go abroad and have a rest, and come back when you are in a good mood." Venus said.

Jingyan followed Venus to eat breakfast. "No. It's the same everywhere." Jingyan was down in spirits and said.

Venus had nothing to say in reply.

After seeing Jingyan in the dining table, Chuxue Ye was surprised. She thought Jingyan was going to sleep another three or four days.

"Are you going to work?" Chuxue asked carefully.

"Yes." Jingyan said.

"I will take you to the company later." Chuxue said. Chuxue was worried about Jingyan. "What if he commits suicide on the way to the company? I only have one brother." Chuxue thought.

"OK." Jingyan said.

The employees of Yehuang Group were all aware of Jingyan's change when they met him. His aura was colder than the previous days, and his eyes looked bluer. It was as if his heart was filled with tears of sorrow.

Nobody knew what's going on.

When secretary Wang knocked on the door and went into the office to deliver the documents, Jingyan was staring at his mobile phone in a trance. Jingyan didn't regain his senses until secretary Wang put the documents on the desk.

"Mr Ye, there will be an invitation to dinner tomorrow night. It's..." secretary Wang said.

Jingyan interrupted secretary Wang before he finished what he wanted to speak. "I won't go."

"OK." secretary Wang said respectfully. Secretary Wang sensed that Jingyan was in a very bad mood.

Jingyan threw the signed documents to secretary Wang and said emotionlessly, "I won't take part in anything like this in the future."

After being stunned for a while, secretary Wang said, "OK."

Seeing Jingyan had no any orders, secretary Wang walked out of the office hurriedly. "It's strange that why the CEO's office is so cold while the temperature of the air conditioner isn't that low." Secretary Wang thought.

From that day on, Jingyan was isolated. He used to smile politely at women, but now he had no facial expression at all. Sometimes when he was out for meal and some girls accosted him, he gave the girls a fierce look to frightened them away.

He really closed his heart, and no woman within ten miles dared to get close to him.

After seeing Jingyan like that, Chuxue was worried. Though she understood how Jingyan felt, Yiyao's death. He couldn't spend the rest of life in single.

Only monks remain single for their life.

"What are you thinking about?" A male voice asked Chuxue.

“Nothing.” Chuxue said. Then she raised her head and saw Zhao Nangong. Chuxue gave him a contemptuous look and asked, “What are you doing here?”

“I’m here to buy cakes.” Zhao said. In fact, Zhao missed Chuxue, but he was afraid that Chuxue would kick him out if he told it to her.

“Which one do you like? Take it by yourself.” Chuxue said. Chuxue didn’t want to serve him. She sat on the sofa, putting her hand on the chin in a trance.

Zhao looked at Chuxue affectionately and said, “Aren’t you going to introduce the cakes for me?”

If there were other guests, Chuxue might agree to the request, but as for it’s Zhao...

“There is nothing to be introduced. My dessert is the best in Sky City.” Chuxue said somewhat proudly.

Zhao scanned the samples in the display cabinet and said, “Then make me one of each of these cakes.”

Chapter 340 The Woman He Likes

“Why do you buy so many cakes?”

Zhao sat down on the opposite sofa and said, “Well, I just want to buy something for my employees.”

There was no reason for Chuxue to refuse such a great deal, thus she said to the workers, “Just do as he said, one cake of each kind.”

“Okay.”

Then Chuxue turned back and said, “I’m not responsible for delivery.”

“That’s okay, I’ll have my assistant come to get it later.” Seeing that she looked depressed, Zhao was worried and asked, “What’s wrong with you? Are you unhappy?”

“Well, since you have nothing to do now, why don’t you talk to me? Maybe I can help you.” Zhao said happily. It was hard for him to seize such an opportunity to stay with Chuxue, he must stay longer.

Chuxue was silent for a moment and said, "No one can help me this time."

"How do you know if you don't tell me?"

Chuxue was indeed a bit depressed these days, since her two pets were sent to Europe, she needed one to be her listener. So after thinking for a while, she said, "You have to keep it a secret."

Hearing this, Zhao was happy, he quickly nodded his head and said, "I promise to keep it a secret."

Then, before speaking, Chuxue sighed, "Do you remember the gossip about my brother a few days ago?"

"Of course I know, he even held a press conference."

"He likes that sister since he was young. I like her too." When saying this, Chuxue felt sad and her eyes became moist, then she continued, "Two days ago, we heard that she was dead."

After saying this, tears burst out on Chuxue's face, which made Zhao felt very worried. He quickly took a piece of tissue to wipe her tears and said softly, "Don't be sad, just say it slowly."

Chuxue took the tissue from his hand and sobbed, "She had died when carrying for the mission." Then, Chuxue lowered her head and cried silently. Zhao didn't expect to hear such a thing and he didn't know how to comfort her. He just sat beside her and said, "It's all my fault, I shouldn't ask you about this. Please don't cry."

Chuxue gradually calmed down and then continued, "It's been a huge strike for brother. He is depressed and starts to take sleeping pill for he suffers insomnia again."

"It turns out that this is the real reason." Zhao suddenly realized it.

Chuxue was surprised, "No wonder what?"

"Well, my friend tells me that your brother has no desire at all, just like a monk."

"The news spread so fast."

"Indeed. I heard that many young ladies were all scared away by him."

Hearing this, Chuxue sighed, "I won't have a sister-in-law in the future. Do you have some ways to help him?"

Zhao immediately answered, "Well, just drink in the bar and get fun."

“No way.” Chuxue directly vetoed his proposal, “The flashpoint of his gossip was the bar, he swears not to go there anymore.”

“Then just go on a trip.”

Chuxue shook her head, “I’ve suggested him many times, he simply has no interest.”

Then, Zhao couldn’t think about other ways, after pondering for a while, he said, “He needs to see a therapist, he must be stressful and has no way to vent his anger. Maybe a therapist can help him.”

“Well, it’s not gonna to work. Unless he wants to say, nobody can force him.”

“Then what else can be done?” Zhao frowned, he really wanted to help Chuxue to solve this problem.

While they were thinking, a voice came over, “Why is he here?”

When looking up, they found Jingyan standing there indifferently. It was at this moment that Chuxue realized that she and Zhao were sitting close to each other, so she quickly stood up and said, “He just came here to buy cake, it is still making, so he waits here.”

Jingyan seemed had no interest in this matter, he simply said, “Give a cake to me.”

Hearing this, Chuxue frowned, “So, you’ve missed you meal again?”

“I’m not very hungry.”

“Every time you say so, you have to eat some even if you are not hungry. How can you just eat cake everyday?” Chuxue felt worried and took a fruit cake for him.

Jingyan spooned one to his mouth, after finishing the cake, he said, “What about making a cake with a spicy taste?”

Chuxue was confused about his words, “Since it is a cake, how can it be spicy? That will be disgusted.”

Jingyan took another bite and kept silent.

Yiyao was fond of spicy food, he still remembered her first blind date, she refused the man merely because he couldn’t eat spicy food. Actually since Venus disliked spicy food, he was also not good at eating spicy food.

After eating the cake, Jingyan put the box on the table, then he took a glance of Zhao and said, "You'd better pay attention to him for Mom and Dad have reminded you."

Chuxue touched her hair awkwardly and explained, "Well, we are not that intimate."

"I'm just reminding you, goodbye." After saying this, Jingyan left.

"Will brother tell Mom and Dad?" Chuxue murmured.

She scared nothing except Venus' s anger.

"He won't." Zhao said firmly.

"How do you know?"

"Well, I just know it."

Chuxue was in a mess, she dragged Zhao and drove him away, "You only cause trouble for me."

Zhao showed a look of innocence and smiled, "We do nothing."

"What else do you want to do? We'd better keep distance." Chuxue just waved her hands impatiently and said, "Leave here please."

"My cake, " Zhao attempted to stay a little longer.

"You can ask your assistant to get it, please don't come again, if my brother sees us again, it's hard for me to explain."

Zhao got into his sports car helplessly and said, "Just call me whenever you feel depressed, I'm willing to be your listener."

Chuxue was eager to send him away, and she subconsciously answered "I know". Then she went back to her dessert store.

She felt strange, how could she tell him the private affairs of her family?

Imperial Capital.

A month later, Yiyao had already remembered the types of flowers in the store and the meanings they expressed. She also learned flower arranging from Xiaocui. Of course, most of the time she worked as the cashier.

Xiaocui felt surprised. Before Yiyao came, it had poor business, there would be more customers only on festivals. Since Yiyao became the owner, there were many customers everyday, and most of them were rich people.

At the end of the month, Yiyao found that she earned almost 30,000 yuan a month. After deducing all the costs, she still had almost 20,000 yuan net income.

When she was in the army, her salary was counted by bank card, so she had no idea about such an amount of money, but she thought it is quite a lot.

Yiyao felt good for that, and then increased Xiaocui's salary. Xiaocui had really done a lot for this store and almost did all the works here including moving flowers, wrapping the bunches and pruning.

Seeing the extra money, Xiaocui felt excited and asked, "Is this my reward?"

"Yes, you've done a great job. I hope it can encourage you to work better."

Xiaocui cheered, "Wow! Yiyao, you are so nice. I'm really very lucky to meet you."

"Well, I'll treat you to dinner tonight. What do you want to eat?" Yiyao said very generously. She really helped her a lot these days, whenever she didn't hear the customers' words clearly, she would come to help her.

Xiaocui stomped her foot happily, "Can we eat hotpot? There's a really delicious hot pot nearby."

"Sure, I like spicy food. Let's go."

"OK!"

The night fell, when they decided to leave the store, a man walked in.

Yiyao didn't hear that, so Xiaocui quickly answered him, "Well, the shop's close now. Could you please come tomorrow?"

Only then did Yiyao realize that someone was coming and she looked up at the customer.

The man was about thirty years old, wearing a light blue shirt, a pair of white jeans and a pair of casual shoes. He looked smart, like a successful businessman. However, since Yiyao had seen too many handsome men, she had in interest in him.

Seeing Yiyao, the man felt surprised, then he said awkwardly, "Can you do me a favor? Today is my mother's birthday."

Xiaocui looked at Yiyao and she nodded and continued to deal the accounts. Her hair had grown a bit longer which was dark and shiny. It had just covered the hearing aid in her left ear.

"And what kind of flowers do you want?" Xiaocui asked.

"Just pink carnations." The man answered.

"How many do you want?"

"Well, depends on you." The man was obviously not very good at this.

Then, Xiaocui answered confidently, "How about thirty pink carnations? We'll send you two lilies?"

"Fine."

"Please wait a moment."

While Xiaocui was wrapping the flowers, the man looked around and found an oil painting made of flower petals hanging on the wall. It looked quite good so he turned back and asked Yiyao, "Is this painting for sale?"

Of course Yiyao didn't hear that, so Xiaocui answered, "It's drawn by our boss and is not for sale."

The man took a glimpse of Yiyao, her face was covered by the long hair. He was a bit confused, why didn't she answer his question?

The flowers were quickly wrapped, Xiaocui handed them to him, the man walked to the counter and asked, "How much is it?"

Feeling that someone was approaching to her, Yiyao looked up and found it was the customer, but she was confused, not knowing what he wanted.

Seeing this, Xiaocui quietly pulled the corner of her coat and reminded her, "He is going to pay the bill."

"Oh, sorry, I didn't hear clearly." Yiyao finally spoke up and after taking a glance of the flower in his hand, she said, "200 yuan."

The man thought she was dumb. However, her voice was clear and sweet. Besides, her eyes were beautiful and pure, like a spring of water.

He paid her 200 yuan and said, "Thank you, goodbye."

Yiyao also smiled politely at him and then said to Xiaocui before the man left, "Let's have dinner, I'm really hungry now."

"Copy that, I'm starving too."

The man smiled, he had never seen such a generous boss before, they were like friends.

When they arrived at the hotpot restaurant, Yiyao ordered many dishes, which made Xiaocui even more hungry.

The hotpot tasted good, and the two girls ate happily. At this moment, Xiaocui asked with a smile, "Yiyao, you are so pretty, there must be many men chasing after you."

Hearing this, Yiyao was confused and asked, "Am I pretty?"

"Of course! You're the prettiest woman I've ever seen." Xiaocui picked up a tripe and continued, "Don't you find that? The man in the store just now kept looking at you."

Yiyao smiled lightly, then a pretty girl appeared in her mind, she said, "You haven't seen a really beautiful one, you can't just praise her by words."

"Of course." Yiyao said sincerely.

After eating a tripe, Xiaocui picked up a mashed shrimp ball and continued, "Well, when do we change the subject. You still don't answer my question."

"Well, there was one, but we broke up." Yiyao said simply.

"Why?"

"We are not suitable."

Yiyao also thought about sending him a text message at night, but whenever she thought that he didn't even try to contact her. She simply gave up. Besides, she couldn't listen to his words clearly now.

Gradually, she didn't want to contact him anymore. She would only think that there was once a man who liked her very much.

Actually, the only ones that people can rely on are themselves.

A few days later, a customer visited the florist at noon.

Xiaocui went out to buy lunch while Yiyao was sleeping in a recliner and enjoying the air conditioner. It was too hot outside.

Seeing that she slept well, the man smiled, she was really a bold woman. Then he said in a louder voice, “Hello, I want to buy some flowers.”
