

Mogul 821

Chapter 821 Tell Vera Harding About I

Janet could tell that Kelly had no intention of leaving even after Garrett and Laney had gone. She took a deep breath and compelled a smile. "Miss Astley! I wish I could invite you in for a cup of tea or something, but the studio is only open to staff."

"You!" Kelly was furious at Janet. "Forget it. It's not worth my while to argue with a rude woman like you."

Snorting, she turned around and walked away with the documents.

Back in the car, Kelly flung the document onto the passenger seat, trying to suppress her anger. She had expected Laney to be a hooligan and that her companions, insolent.

Chapter 822 Vera Is Mad

Garrett could tell that Laney was not as jolly as she used to be. He had been learning a lot ever since Laney got pregnant. Apparently, many women often felt depressed during pregnancy. At the thought of this, Garret became even more concerned about his wife.

"If something's bothering you—"

Before he could finish his words, his phone on the table vibrated.

Laney glanced at the phone screen and handed it to Garrett. "Your mom's calling. You should answer it. She might have something important to tell you."

Garret stroked Laney's hair and did as told.

Chapter 823 Queasy In The Stomach

Vera didn't look well. She set down her teacup on the table with a bit of force. The sound of it hitting the saucer was very clear.

Laney moved about cautiously. She racked her brains, but she couldn't figure out what had happened that made Vera upset

"Let me get you some more tea," Laney offered. She bent to take the teapot off the table and started to walk towards Vera.

Chapter 824 Did The Trick Work

Laney was anxious that her deception would be discovered. Her anxiety rose though when she saw the doctor looking so serious. Something must have really happened to her baby.

Meanwhile, Vera was beside herself with worry that she nearly passed out. She was already blaming herself for what might have happened to Laney and most of all, the baby. All she hoped to do was make Laney learn to be more sensible so she wouldn't be a hindrance to Garrett's career. She didn't want anything untoward thing to happen.

Chapter 825 Let Kelly Attend The Charity Ball Instead

"Laney!" Garrett said, laughing. "Don't worry about that. Our baby is very healthy. I arranged everything with the doctor after leaving the restaurant. He works for me. He agreed to my idea since he thought it was in your best interests. Of course, he will assist you if you are really unwell or in need of anything. He will take care of your wellbeing."

Laney couldn't believe Garrett would be able to pull this charade off. More so, she was surprised that he would be so considerate of her. "You seem to have changed a lot."

Garrett, if anything, became more steady.

Chapter 826 Pretending To Be Sick

Vera looked up at Kelly.

Kelly had been chosen by Vera to work for Garrett from the very beginning. She was slim and stylish and radiated natural beauty.

Though Kelly had graduated from a famous university, she'd been born into an ordinary family and was easy to control. Vera made her the Harding family secretary.

Chapter 827 Putting On A Show For Vera

Vera had a feeling of what was going on.

She had discovered that the maids were sneaking snacks—and junk food at that—to Laney.

As a lady, she believed Laney shouldn't eat any junk food. It was disgraceful. But Vera didn't say anything. She reasoned that it would be best to catch Laney on the spot.

That night, Laney told her that she was not having dinner and she wanted to go to bed right away.

Vera was quite certain that Laney would get up at midnight to eat junk food since she skipped dinner. So she turned off the light in her room and waited quietly.

Chapter 828 Kissing In The Kitchen

Squatting down in front of Laney, Garrett held out his hands to her so she could get out from under the table.

Red in the face with embarrassment, Laney explained herself, "I haven't had dinner tonight. I was very hungry, so I came here to grab a bite. Your mother wouldn't allow me to eat fast food. I had to hide it from her."

Garrett bit into her pizza. "This tastes good." He then gently touched his wife's face and said, "You don't have to hide any more, just let me know when you want to eat something. I'll come here and take you to it."

Chapter 829 Move Ou

On the following day, Garrett called his assistant as soon as he arrived at the office.

"Hire some people to clean my villa near the company. My wife will be moving into that house.

The Harding family didn't know that Garrett owned a villa near his company. He used to live in that villa by himself and he would just make do with things. If Laney was to move in with him, he would have to ensure that the place was cozy enough for his pregnant wife.

Garrett handed a file containing information about the villa to his male assistant.

Chapter 830 Caught Laney Feigning Illness

Vera then thought it over and managed to suppress her anger.

She knew her son well. Although Garrett had always had a rebellious streak, once he made up his mind about something, nothing could put him off.

Her son had promised that he would come back to take over the family business, and Vera believed him.

Vera hadn't forgotten about Kelly deliberately starving Laney. It was possible that Kelly was once again exaggerating things now.

This girl was probably up to no good, telling tales all the time.