Chapter 03: Quest Completed

Hastily departing from my wooden cabin, I made my way to the small lake that exists on my land. I don't know why, but I began sprinting toward the lake, and upon reaching the lake's edge, I leaped with abandon, plunging into the waters with a splash.

The cool water enveloped me, sending a refreshing shock through my body. I swam deeper, relishing the sensation of the water caressing my skin. The sun shone brightly overhead, reflecting off the lake's surface and creating a dazzling display of light.

For a moment, I simply floated, allowing myself to relax, and reflecting on today's events.

With a mischievous chuckle, I voiced my thoughts aloud, "I've been reborn as a captivating girl with a dick, my sole purpose is to breed. And to top it all, a wolf woman broke me with her big pink cock, planting a baby in me." I licked my lips seductively, adding, "Oh boy what a first day...I love it!"

As I floated in the lake, I couldn't help but feel a sense of excitement and wonder. My new life as the Breeder was certainly unconventional, but it was also exhilarating. I had never felt so alive, so connected to my body and its desires.

After a while, I swam back to the shore, feeling refreshed and rejuvenated. As I emerged from the water, I noticed that my cock was still hard, and my pussy was still wet. I chuckled to myself, realizing that my body was still responding to the encounter with the wolf woman.

I swiftly attended to my hygiene, noting the absence of blood. "Come to think of it, I didn't feel the rupture of my hymen," I mused, inspecting my nether regions. "In fact, I didn't feel much pain." With two fingers, I examined my inside, discovering that my pussy was tight like a virgin despite the intense encounter with the wolf woman.

"I suppose this is one of the advantages of my new Breeder race," I mused with a sly smile. Standing there, basking in the warm sun, I allowed my body to air dry before making my way to the Birth Barn.

Stepping inside, I lay on the hay and surprisingly it was soft, almost like cotton, which was odd and unexpected, but HEY! I'm not complaining here, okay!

I opened the system, curious to review my status:

As I lay on the soft hay, I couldn't help but feel a sense of excitement and anticipation. I was pregnant with a Wolf-kin offspring, and I had no idea what to expect. But with my new Breeder body, I was confident that I could handle whatever came my way.

I spent the next few minutes examining my status, marveling at my new abilities and skills. The Breeder's form skill was particularly intriguing, and I wondered if I could transform into something like that wolf woman. After all, she possessed a wild allure that captivated me.

"Especially her cock and the way she thrust...hehehe," I murmured, a mischievous smile playing on my lips.

Next to my 'Pregnancy Status,' I noticed a plus sign. Intrigued, I pressed it, and a translucent blue window appeared, presenting me with an option.

[Apply Birth Barn Slot]

[Yes/No]

Without hesitation, I selected 'Yes,' and another message appeared.

[New Pregnancy time: 10 days > 3 hours]

[Please Confirm to Proceed]

Wow...from ten days to three hours, this shit is great! I don't have to suffer from a big fat belly full of babies all the time...well at least for my first birth. I still have to wait ten days to use it again.

As I confirmed the message, I felt a strange sensation wash over me. My body began to glow with a soft, golden light, and I could feel my pregnancy accelerating at an incredible rate.

"AHHH!...SHIT!" I exclaimed, looking down at my belly, watching in awe as it began to swell and grow at an alarming rate. My skin stretched taut, and I could feel the Wolf-kin offspring moving inside me, growing stronger and more active by the minute.

I lay back on the soft hay, my hands instinctively cradling my expanding abdomen. The changes were rapid, yet there was no pain, only a sense of warmth, fullness, and a little bit of pleasure. My body was adapting, stretching to accommodate the rapid development of my wolf-kin offspring.

I couldn't help but think about the wolf woman. I wondered if she would be proud of me and if she would be happy to know that I was carrying her offspring. Maybe we can have sex again, and breed more offspring.

The thought sent a shiver down my spine, and I felt a sudden surge of desire. I wanted to see her again, to feel her touch and her passion. I wanted to know if she would be a part of my life and if she would help me raise our offspring together.

As the hours passed, I watched in awe as my body transformed. My breasts grew fuller, my hips wider, my skin glowing with a vitality I had never known. I was becoming the epitome of fertility, a living testament to the power of the Breeder.

The sun dipped below the horizon, casting a warm glow through the open barn door. The light danced across my skin, highlighting the curves of my new form. I felt powerful, beautiful, and above all, ready to embrace my role as a mother.

As the third hour struck, I felt a sudden urge to push. My body was ready to give birth, and I was both excited and terrified.

Bracing myself against the soft hay, I focused on the task at hand. The Breeder's body skill was working overtime, ensuring that my body was primed for childbirth. I could feel the wolf-kin pup moving into position, its small form eager to enter the world.

"Phew...okay here we go." With a deep breath, I pushed, the muscles in my abdomen contracting with incredible force. The sensation was unlike anything I had ever experienced, a mix of pressure and an indescribable sense of fullness. I gritted my teeth, my fingers clutching at the hay as I bore down once more.

"Come on, little one," I murmured through the effort, a sheen of sweat breaking out across my brow. "You can do it."

As if responding to my encouragement, the pup gave a strong kick, and with a final, powerful push, I felt it slide free from my body. The relief was instantaneous, followed by a rush of pure, unadulterated joy. I had done it. I was a mother.

"And a mother of two" I thought that I was carrying just one but it turned out I had been carrying twins.

With another strong push the second pup emerged from my body, I quickly reached down, my hands trembling slightly as I lifted them. They were identical to a human baby with only a small tail and two wolf ears. They don't have fur yet but the color of their hair hinted at their future appearance.

They gazed at me with wide eyes, one had red eyes like me and dark hair. The other one has bright yellow eyes and silver hair.

I couldn't help but chuckle softly when I saw that one pup inherited my eyes and his other mother's hair and the other pup was the opposite.

And as I read in the system's description before, all my offspring would be either female or futa. The black-haired one was a female and the silver-haired one was a futa and unlike me, I could see small testicles

[Congratulations on the birth of your Wolf-kin offspring]

[Quest completed: Breed your first offspring.]

NICE!...I did it...Now give me my rewards, please.

[Congratulations you have received the following Rewards]

[Wolves Den]

Oh, Home for my kids...good.

[Instant level up]

[All system's functions are now available]

I made a mental note to explore these later.

[New Skill: Lactation]

"Hmm?" immediately after I received this skill my nipples began to leak milk, and I felt a sudden surge of maternal instinct. I looked down at my breasts, which were now even fuller and more sensitive than before.

I couldn't help but laugh at the sudden change. "Well, I guess this is convenient," I said, smiling at my new ability to produce milk for my pups.

I gently lifted the pups to my breasts, and they began to nurse eagerly. The sensation was incredible, a mix of pleasure and satisfaction. I felt like I was doing exactly what I was meant to do, and it felt amazing.

As I fed them I continued reading my notification.

[Lactation: Your breasts produce a constant supply of milk, tailored to the needs of your offspring.]

I chuckled to myself, looking down at my pups as they sucked me with gusto, I guess they liked mommy's milk

[New Skill: Lustful Pheromone: Your body naturally emits a powerful pheromone that can attract potential mates and enhance the fertility of breeding sessions. This skill can be consciously controlled and intensified at will.]

The Lustful Pheromone skill was a welcome addition to my arsenal. It would no doubt prove useful in the future, especially when the time came to breed again. But for now, I reveled in the simple joy of motherhood, my heart swelling with love for my offspring.

As for leveling up, I didn't get a skill, instead, I got something called Breeder's point.

[Breeder's point: A currency used to buy items from the shop. BP can be earned through various activities related to breeding]

[Current balance; 1000 BP]

Wow...this is useful, I wonder if I can buy food from the shop, or more importantly clothes. I sighed, checking on the last notification.

[New Breeder's form detected: Wolf form]

[Requirement: Breed a wolf-kin offspring and place a den for them to live and grow]

Oh yeah, I forgot about this, the Breeder's form, the absolute reason that my past self came here. Hehehe.

Quickly checking on the system's other functions, I saw the shop, the inventory; a map of my land, and a page of my offspring. Opening the inventory, I spotted a small cave icon. Tapping on it, the map prompted me to select a location for the den.

After a few minutes of contemplation, I decided to place the den to the right of my main house, close to the lake, ensuring easy access to water.

However, I noticed that even the lake could be moved freely, allowing me to reposition it anywhere I desired at the cost of some Breeder's Points.

Confirming my choice, a notification appeared.

[Den construction has begun. Please wait for 1 hour.]

I nodded to myself, feeling a sense of satisfaction. I had done it. I had built a home for my offspring.

[Requirements have been fulfilled: Wolf form unlocked]

[Wolf Form: Transform into a wolf-kin creature, enhancing your physical abilities and granting you access to unique racial skills. This form is ideal for hunting, exploration, and safeguarding your offspring.]

Intrigued, I checked my status.

Breeder's form: [Wolf Form]

As I waited for the den to be constructed, I decided to explore my new abilities. I focused on my Breeder's form skill, and suddenly I felt a strange sensation wash over me. My body began to shift and change.

Two cute wolf ears sprouted atop my head, enchanting my hearing, and a smooth fluffy silver tail burst from my lower back. Silver fur slowly began to cover my whole body, except by my chest, belly, and a little bit between my legs around my pussy and anus, where I saw the biggest change that left me in awe.

My cock began to change into a beautiful, wolf-like penis. It was sheathed in sleek fur that matched the silver of my coat, and the tip was a delicate pink, reminiscent of the wolf woman who had first introduced me to the pleasures of this world, my hand instinctively reaching out to touch my new cock.

I let out a playful howl, feeling the sound resonate through my chest. My pups looked up at me, their eyes shining with excitement, and they began to howl along with me.

Together, we created a chorus of wolf-like sounds, our voices echoing through the barn. I lowered myself, playfully licking their soft cheeks, causing them to giggle and squirm with delight. It was a moment of pure joy, a celebration of our newfound bond as a family.

Seeing that the evening was closing in and knowing that I and my pups were perfectly safe inside the barrier, I held them close to me as I closed my eyes seeking some sleep.
