

Read Medical Princess: Touching Porcelain with Small Texts (3) MTL

Bique, the latest chapter of the Prince of Medicine is updated as soon as possible!

Although he was only eight years old, he seemed to have a firm temperament. A small face was exquisite like a jade doll, but he brought a little bit of seriousness.

This is His Royal Highness today!

Seeing Wen Xichi, he hurried forward two steps, respectfully gave a gift to Wen Xichi: "Fufu!"

"His Royal Highness, why are you here?" Wenxi Chi asked, looking slightly pale.

"Prince Fu, the second brother and Prince Guo were fighting and hurting others." Prince Chu Junsheng, the little man, said with a smile, his eyes were a little gentle, his appearance was like Chu Liu I don't feel angry, but some people think that like Wen Xichi, Wen Xichi always feels gentle.

The high emperor, when you laugh, makes you feel like a spring breeze. Once your face is flat, it is called a cold and ruthless.

"Can the second prince be injured?" Wen Xichi was also the prince of the two princes, and naturally had to ask about the second prince.

"The second brother was not injured. This is not a break in the palace. He injured Prince Guo. He was actually very embarrassed and deliberately let Gu Gu come to take a look." Chu Junsheng said scrupulously, looking extremely Rules, if one is not clear about his temper, he may be confused by his appearance.

Wenxichi shook his head helplessly, stepped forward two steps, walked to the carriage, opened the curtain of the carriage, and immediately inside the two white and tender little dumplings, two pairs of black eyes were exposed together.

Well, this was discovered, Chu Junsheng extremely reluctantly reached out and pressed his nose. I felt that at this time I still don't want to participate well. Take a step back and simply don't care about the two scared little dumplings.

The carriage was a pair of exquisite little dumplings, about four or five years old, who looked tender and chubby. One was a boy. After his smart eyes flickered, he suddenly flew from the carriage to Wenxi. Come over, "Tai Fu, I'm so glad to see you!"

With that said, the whole person rushed up, and Wen Xichi, who was under heavy pressure, took a step backward, and almost fell. Fortunately, Xiao Yan reached out and pressed the button behind Wen Xichi, so that Wen Xichi, who was caught by surprise, stood firm.

The other danzi in the carriage was a girl with a delicate little face, which was a bit more feminine than her brother. Seeing her looks, it goes without saying that in the future it will be another nation-wide and all-out.

Fortunately, it was born in the royal family. If it was born in ordinary people, it may not be a good thing.

She turned her eyes and saw Wen Xichi. She didn't pounce, but only opened her hand at Wen Xi: "Fu, I want to get out of the carriage."

Wenxi Chi put down the second prince and reached out and hugged the little princess. The two are twins. The little princess is actually not like the second prince.

The two of them seem to be the reduced version of the emperor and the queen maiden. Although each has its own unique beauty, they are not very long.

"How did the little princess get out of the palace? Did the queen mother-in-law know?" Wen Xichi put the little princess down and asked unhappily.

"Fai Fu, I like Tai Fu the most!" The little princess blinked, stretched out her hand and hugged Wen Xichi's legs, and raised her head to please.

"Yes, I like Tai Fu the most!" The second prince understood immediately, holding Wen Xichi's other leg, and blinked at his elder brother, hinting him.

The prince raised his head to look at the sky. He was an adult. How could he do such a shameless thing?

"Faifu, my sister must go out of the house. I will accompany her to take a trip." The second prince saw that the elder brother ignored him and knew that he could only rely on himself. He and his sister secretly left the house. If the father and queen knew, No meal was allowed. In order to avoid this meal, His Royal Highness felt that he was very hard.

"Second Brother, what you say is that you want to go out of the house, you said that it is not fun to play with others." The little princess is not a fool, when the second brother wants to push things to himself, flattened Mouth, wronged.

"What are you doing here?" The little prince of Wu Guo was only six years old. Hearing that the second prince was coming, he ran out and went to the second prince with his hands on his hips and glaring at the second prince. Road, there is still a scar on his forehead, although it is not big, but it can be seen that it was injured.

"I came to see you. I heard that you were hurt a lot. I didn't mean it on purpose. My mother asked me to apologize to you." The second prince arched his hands, and learned how to look like an adult, and made A solemn look, it looks cute and cute, especially the child is so good.

Even if the messenger of the kingdom felt that his own Prince had suffered before, this

I also felt that I couldn't be angry with a child.

However, it was naughty among the children. Besides, when fighting, it was actually His Royal Highness accidentally accidentally hitting a tree fork on one side and hurting his head.

The prince of the elementary school looked at the second prince, and his face was still bulging. He did not want to forgive the second prince.

"The second brother really didn't do it on purpose, so forgive the second brother!" The little princess looked at her serious second brother and took her brother's hand forward.

She felt that the second brother wanted to play with the prince of Lao Guo. If the prince of Lao Guo did not play with him, the second brother would be sad.

"But ..." The little prince of Wu Guo glanced at the little princess and then the second prince, and suddenly felt that this matter was not a big deal. The mother queen said that he was a prince and could not be stingy or have general knowledge of others. Nodded, "Okay!"

"Then let's go play now? I haven't been here before!" The second prince's eyes lighted up, and he took hold of the prince of the elementary school, "Do you have any fun here, take me there?" Take a look. "

"Then ... okay!" Prince Lao Guo looked at the little princess again, and said with some contortion, "Come with the princess!"

"What is she doing here, a crybaby!" The second prince despised her twin sister, and opposed it if she didn't want to, and then ran away with the little princess who was holding the country before the little princess had responded.

The little princess opened her round, black eyes, barely believed her pink lips, and watched her second brother throwing herself away as rubbish.

"Wow!" The little princess raised her head, opened her mouth, and burst into tears.

She doesn't like second brother. She hates second brother most. She said she took her out of the house with her. He also said that he had taken her to the street after losing the gift to the Prince of Lao Guo. Gone.

After going back and telling her mother, she broke her brother's legs and saw him dare to throw her away.

The little princess was aggrieved, and the more she thought about it, the more sad she felt. She felt like a child abandoned by her mother.

Seeing the little girl cry like this, the prince smiled, squatted down and comforted his sister: "After returning to the palace, tell the mother-in-law."
