Bique the latest chapter of the Prince of Medicine is updated as soon as possible!

"I will tell my mother, interrupt his ... his dog legs!" The little princess suddenly remembered the story that the second prince secretly told her, saying that the bad guys would interrupt the dog legs.

As for why it is a dog leg, not a human leg, the second prince also said that if a person is too bad, he will have a dog leg, and those who have a dog leg are all broken.

The second brother must have a dog leg now.

"Okay, break his dog leg!" The prince comforted the little princess.

"Both are interrupted." The little princess still felt deflated, and added it after thinking about it.

"Okay, interrupt!" The Prince smiled and nodded again, and gently wiped the tears for the little princess with a papa. The father said that he was the eldest brother and had to take care of his second brother and sister.

"Brother." The little princess wiped her face clean, pink and tender, delicate and cute, and pulled Prince's clothes. "Let's go immediately after we go back to find the mother."

She can't play by herself, and she can't let the second brother play, she will now go to the court to sue.

At the first glance, the Prince Prince knew his sister's thoughts. Seeing him pulling his clothes, he suddenly felt very aggrieved. He also wanted to return to the palace, and he wanted to be with his mother. The mother was so good, so gentle, even if she was with her. It's good to listen to her around, but the problem is that the mother is not in the palace now.

He was taken out of the palace by his unscrupulous father.

The prince felt tired and tired.

I was tired when I was a child. When I was thinking about helping my father in the Imperial Study Room alone, the father could secretly take his mother out of the house, and he was wronged.

It's nice to say what to say, so that you are familiar with the matter of approving the offenders early. It is clear that after intentionally occupying the mother, he only became aware of it. After the father emperor robbed him, he grew up to prevent the mother from comparing with himself. He is so good, Father Huang is so naive.

When he was a child, the prince basically couldn't remember it, but when he looked at his father's shame after grabbing his mother with his second brother and younger sister, he knew how his father had grabbed himself.

This time when the second brother had an idea to go out to the Prince Lao Kingdom to play, he specifically encouraged the second brother to come out, and then asked the second brother to find himself, and finally brought the younger sister out again. The three brothers and sisters said yes The palace came to Prince Lao Guo, who was obviously packed and thrown out of the palace, so he could go out with his mother and secretly. The father is really too much.

Share it.

The prince was very angry. He felt that he was still a child. He also said that when he was his age, how could he be so tired. Sometimes his mother still played with him. Even if he was reading, he was reading his own book. You don't have to help your father.

"Brother!" The little princess raised her head, staring at her elder brother eagerly, shaking his hand vigorously, reminding him, "brother, let's go to the palace."

"Brother takes you to shopping, okay?" The prince sighed helplessly and coaxed.

"But, I don't want to go, I want to go back to the palace!" The little princess whispered, and she was going to sue now, just to sue.

I don't want anything else, the second brother is too much.

Of course, the little princess felt that she should not tell the upright brother. She told her in private. She likes the big brother most. Not only is she good-looking, but she is also good to herself. She will also coax herself when she cries, unlike her second brother. That "stinky boy".

Of course, the young little princess did not understand that there is another kind of creature called the black heart bun in the world. It is tender and delicate, and gentle to others. It is good everywhere, but it is black.

When the little princess grew up, I found out how naive the original thought was. Of course, I found that the little princess was also very fortunate. Fortunately, she is the sister of the black heart bun. Do n't worry about being bullied by the black heart bun. Very secure.

"I really want to go back to the palace now? I heard that there are still performances on the street. Many people have come here, and they are all dressed differently from us." The prince pulled the clothes on his body. This set of clothes looked ordinary, of course. It's to go out of the house.

Although the father-in-law intends to drive them away from his mother-in-law, he certainly took the opportunity to play for a while, so he didn't want to go back to the palace so quickly. The father-in-law does not have to be the father-in-law. It is best to play outside for a long time. Played longer than the Father Emperor. After the mother-in-law returned to the palace, she did not see a few of them, and she will definitely find the Father Emperor.

He must let the emperor know that he was not casual.

Give him a lesson.

With this wonderful idea, His Royal Highness was in a good mood, and patted the sister-in-law's head, and looked at Wen Xichi, who was standing aside, "Taifu, take your sister alone to take a look outside."

"His Royal Highness is going on a trip, Emperor

Do you know with Queen Mother? Wenxi asked gently, in fact, when he saw His Royal Highness wearing his clothes, he knew that His Royal Highness was probably thinking of going out today.

"The mother-in-law knows that." The prince said to the prince in front of him, the prince was very respectful. The prince not only learned well, but also had a good character, and he was devoted to him, even in the presence of his father and emperor. Unintentionally protecting himself.

"The prince will go back soon, lest the emperor and the queen mother worry!" Wen Xichi urged, and the student he taught himself knew clearly that His Royal Highness in front of him, although young, was careful. Travel must have been prepared early. When entering the door, there were not many guards, but there were a few familiar ones in the crowd outside.

There are many guards secretly guarding.

"Thank you Taifu for your trouble!" The prince nodded his thanks.

"Thank you, Mrs. Tai!" The little boy looked at him, and looked at Mrs. Tai, and twirled his skirt with a chuckle.

She wore a long skirt, so she didn't know where it was, and she slammed under her feet and sat down on the ground with a "thump".

Then I still didn't understand why I suddenly fell, a pair of big water eyes, looked a little embarrassed!

The prince chuckled out with a chuckle. The younger sister was so cute. Compared to the second brother's kid, she looked a little aggrieved and didn't seem to understand how she saluted. Why did she suddenly sit on the ground? .

"Brother, it hurts!" The little princess was in tears, looking at her own good brother.

"Be careful next time!" The prince held back a smile and pulled her up, knowing that she couldn't laugh at this time, and smiled at this little crying bag, she would have to coax herself.

It's hard to come by, but I can't cry with this little crying bag all the time.

"Brother, it still hurts!" Although the little princess stood up, it wasn't very painful, but she always felt that she was missing something, looking at the prince with big eyes, Baba said.

"Brother bought a lot of delicious food for you, okay?" His Royal Highness thought about it.

"A lot?" The little princess felt sorry, swallowed, and ate in the palace. The father and queen all stared at her, not letting her eat more. She really wanted to eat.
