The second prince looked around and found nothing, and continued to play with the prince of Lao Guo Primary School. The two little boys were at their best when they were playing, climbing up and down, where do they care about their big brother and little one? Where did my sister go!

Looking at the grievance and stubborn face of her little sister, the crown prince felt big.

"Where will I go?"

"Go ... Go to find your aunt." The little princess looked at her elder brother's posture, and she no longer said wisely, thinking about it.

The so-called aunt is Qin Yiyan. Today's Yiyan Junzhu is now living alone in Yuci's Junzhu Mansion. For so many years, this Yiyan Junzhu has not found a suitable one, so he is still alone.

"Well then, you have to be good with your aunt," said the prince, scaring the princess with a stern face. "The disobedient child, the old monster likes it best."

The little princess nodded like a chicken pecking rice. She nodded her head hard, and the little puppies in her hair were scattered, showing its seriousness.

For the little princess, the oldest monster who eats a child is the biggest thing in life.

In front of the candy man's booth, there were a few children. The prince drew his little princess's chubby hand to the back, looked at the candy man, and made the hot sugar into various looks. Not only did the little princess answer the saliva Yes, even the prince thought he could actually eat several pieces.

Finally it was their turn. The little princess ordered a few patterns on one side, including animals and human figures, and all kinds of things. The little princess was stunned.

She really likes it.

When I got the sugar man, the little princess was very satisfied. There were father and emperor, mother-in-law, big brother, second brother, and the little princess herself. The little girl's sugar man, the little princess was the favorite. She couldn't bear to lick it in her hand, but it was so sweet, she just licked it a little.

The little princess was dragged by the little prince. At this time, she didn't know where to go. She just knew that she would go forward. All she could see was the sugar man in her hand. Or should I eat now?

The prince took the short princess to take a shortcut, and went directly to the county's main house. Wen Xichi followed all the way. It looked like a passer-by between the looks. Only he knew that he had been paying attention to the surroundings. still is

A child, he was really restless.

Along the way, when we saw the house number of the county government in front, Wen Xichi stopped. The prince and the princess entered the county government of Yiyan, but they didn't need to worry too much. It was time to go back to see the time.

The prince put down the little princess's hand, turned around, walked in front of Wen Xichi, who was about to leave, and gave him a deep respect: "Thank you, Tai Fu, for protecting me all the way!"

"Prince must return to the palace early!" Wen Xichi smiled gently. Such a clever and wise prince, Wenxichi really liked it.

"Thank you Taifu, you know! Go back too, it's not too early!" The Prince said in a serious way, the appearance of the little prince looked good and beautiful, and those eyes seemed to have met each other. Heart swayed, hurriedly lowered his head, covered the loss of his eyes, and said goodbye to the prince: "His Royal Highness, retreat for the minister first!"

"Prince, please!" Said the Prince with a smile, and then watched Wen Xichi leave.

Turned around, but heard a "wow" cry behind him, the smile on the face of the prince was stiffened, and he ran to the little girl who was crying in front of the county main house, and sighed helplessly, I knew what I had to do today and I had to throw my sister to my mother, and let my sister follow her ...

The little princess was crying into the county's main house. It was a miserable cry, and she cried all the way in. When she saw Qin Yiyan, she opened her mouth and said, "Aunt Aunt!"

Small body rushed up.

Qin Yiyan didn't respond, so he was hugged and looked at the sticky sugar stains on the clothes he had just changed. Qin Yiyan felt that he wanted to cry too.

Looking at the little princess like a porcelain doll, Qin Yiyan felt so angry that she couldn't make it out at this time.

Under the little princess's long eyelashes, a pair of big eyes crying and swollen and aggrieved.

"What's wrong?" Qin Yiyan squatted helplessly.

"I ... my head is gone ... gone ..." The little princess was still twitching, her crying body trembling.

"What's the problem?" Qin Yiyan reached out and touched the little princess's head, mildly rebuking, "Isn't it good to say something!"

"My head ... well ... I just licked it ... just ... it's gone ..." The little princess was still sad and went upside down

These two sentences, Qin Yiyan heard more and more unintelligible.

Looking up at the prince with a strange smile, Qin Yiyan stood up and gave a gift to the prince.

The prince coughed and whispered, then pointed at the little princess's hand with a smile: "Aunt Aunt, her candy man's head has fallen!"

Qin Yiyan bowed his head and fell to the sticky hand of the little princess holding her sleeve. Sure enough, she saw a piece of sugar that was no longer visible and stuck to her delicate and beautiful sleeves.

Qin Yiyan was extremely helpless. He reached out and squeezed the little princess's chubby face gently. Looking at the little princess's mouth, he seemed to be crying again. Wouldn't it be nice if I bought you later? "

"To ... much ..." The little princess thought about it, and thought she could discuss it.

"Two!" Qin Yiyan said.

"Three ... three are all right." The little princess said, she said, the mother and her mother taught her before. !!

"Two, you can't have more. You eat more. There will be bugs in your mouth." Qin Yiyan threatened the little princess.

The little princess immediately covered her mouth when she thought of the worms crawling out of her mouth. She looked at Qin Yiyan with a bone in her eyes, her face swollen, and she looked like crying again.

The elder brother always said that she would become fat and ugly if she eats too much, and that worms will grow in her mouth. This is the second scary thing for the little princess, and it is not worse than the old lady who eats children.

"Let 's eat less, we wo n't grow bugs, and we will grow beautiful teeth!" Qin Yiyan said at a glance that the little princess was clamoring, and hurriedly grabbed before the little princess Hao.

"Really ... is there really no bug?" The little princess still covered her mouth, looked left and right, her eyes were red, and she looked extremely pathetic.

"Of course it is true, but the principal is obedient and cannot eat more sugar." Qin Yiyan said.

"I ... I'm obedient, don't eat too much, just ... just two!" The little princess bit her lip gently, said, and then stretched out her hand and threw Qin Yiyan, pulling her sleeves hard, Pulling her down vigorously, "Aunt Cousin, I'll tell you something, something very important."
