

Medical road

Chapter 52

A month's activity in the countryside is over. It's almost the new year. It's not a thing for you to let doctors stationed in different places. Besides, there is not much snow this year. There is no mountain and road closure like last year.

Zhang Fan and his family came back to the city on a weekend, so they didn't have to go to the hospital. After Li Xiao's treatment, he returned the car key to her assistant. As soon as she left the community, she was caught up by Li Xiao's assistant. She panted and said, "President Li scolded me. Don't worry about returning the car first. You drive first." Then he handed the key to Zhang Fan. Zhang Fan didn't answer and said, "I've gone back to the city. It's no use asking for a car. You'd better take it back."

She was worried, "you'd better take it, otherwise I can't explain." As he spoke, Li Xiao called, "Dr. Zhang, my assistant is not sensible. Don't care. You can drive the car. Otherwise, it will be put in the warehouse and become an old car after a long time. Don't be polite to me. Don't mention one car. My waist is better. Ten cars are all right." People have said that if Zhang Fan doesn't take it again, he won't give face. Hung up the phone and said to the little assistant, "then go back and thank Sister Li for me. It's troublesome for you to run again."

On Monday, the whole hospital held a meeting. The era of Lao Huang was over. Witnessed by the leaders of the organization department and the Health Bureau, Ouyang Hong was promoted to the head of the hospital. The leaders affirmed Lao Huang's political achievements, praised his contribution to the hospital and expressed expectations for Ouyang. After the government personnel and Lao Huang withdrew, her first policy was issued and the transfer began.

The new doctor is wailing! Those who do not have a practice certificate cannot be given a subject, and those who fail to pass the examination within two years shall be dismissed. In the past, transfer was based on the wishes of new doctors and the choice of hospital departments. Internal medicine was transferred in each internal medicine, and surgery was transferred in each surgery.

"We are three hospitals. Many doctors have been on duty without professional training. Some doctors don't know how to be a doctor even if they catch a cold. Hasty division can only be a quack. The development of a hospital depends on a large number of young doctors with knowledge and skills. Either you can do a few appendixes or you can be a qualified doctor." The good days of surgery have come to an end. Several surgeons who have just decided to take a department have turned pale. Transferring to a department means no bonus and no other income. Only the basic salary. If you are better with your teacher, you can share some money. If you don't perform well or the teacher is stingy, there's nothing.

"All doctors without certificates report to the medical department in the afternoon and are assigned to transfer." After the meeting, Zhang Fan was worried. He didn't worry about less income. His salary was enough. The problem is that his system only opens general surgery and orthopedics. If he goes to internal medicine, he will miss more than half a year. Hurriedly called Li Xiao. As soon as Li Xiao heard it, there was nothing big. Ouyanghong was very familiar with her, that is, a phone call.

Li Xiao said hello, and Zhang Fan transferred to general education. Ouyanghong is seven or eight years younger than Lao Huang. In recent years, Lao Huang in internal medicine has not paid attention to it and has developed in general. Ouyanghong finally came out and began to vigorously develop internal medicine. This is not to oppose, it's just a different idea.

Originally wanted to go home for the new year, but Zhang Fan wanted to go to general surgery. He thought about it and insisted for a few months. When he went out of general surgery and went to internal medicine, he asked for leave. After Li Xiao called ouyanghong, Ouyang talked to Zhang Fan. He is a relative of the leader of the provincial Party committee and a big boss. Ouyanghong can't ignore it "Transfer is also for your good.

I have asked your director of orthopedics. I think highly of you. Don't waste a year, enrich your foundation, and a good foundation can develop better. Just tell me what's going on. After transferring to the Department, I like that department to tell me in advance. "

Grand Cherokee was a good car in 2009. Zhang Fan had no parking space in the community and could only park in the hospital. Once Xue Fei saw him stop the car. He was very angry: "you bastard, no wonder you don't worry about your income. It turned out to be the rich second generation. In the future, I'll use the car and get some profits to compensate my injured heart! "

Zhang Fan smiled without explanation and said, "received, I promise to complete the task. Didn't you play mahjong today "

Xue Fei looked depressed when he mentioned Mahjong: "I lost a lot yesterday. I was cheated by three old women. They worked together. I asked a lot of people to know. If you don't play in the future, you can also play sanitary mahjong with old men and women. " He still wants to play, but he thought so because he lost a little miserably yesterday.

There are three departments in general surgery, gastrointestinal, hepatobiliary and double gland. The double gland is the thyroid and breast department. Zhang Fan's first transfer was hepatobiliary surgery for a month. Zhao Jun, the director and deputy high school, were all familiar with the surgery in the operating room and didn't need to be introduced. When Zhang Fan was in the orthopedic department, he was directly used as the team leader. The attending doctors of general surgery were embarrassed to bring Zhang Fan.

They are all in the same hospital. Later, they don't look up and look down. Zhang Fan's orthopedic surgery level is not ordinary. He has a certain position in orthopedics. He is no longer an ordinary resident. The attending doctor of general surgery is also embarrassed to call him, so no one takes him. Zhao Jun asked for a long time and no one answered. In the past, there was a transferred doctor. Everyone was robbing him, because he could help with his work. It was convenient to write medical records, change dressing and run errands, but when he arrived at Zhang Fan, everyone was embarrassed.

Zhao Jun also knew the situation and said, "hehe, it seems that Zhang Fan's level is too high. I'll take you to the clinic first." The director of the Department generally does not take the group. The following three vice high schools take three groups. When the operation of that group is relatively large or can not be turned on, Zhao Jun will go to that group for operation. Anyway, the right to arrange the operation is the director of the Department.

When Zhang Fan went to transfer, Lao Gao was a little unwilling, but he couldn't help it. He didn't dare to say anything about the dean's first administrative order. Wang Yanan went directly to the respiratory department. This time, there was no way to stay. However, when Lao Huang decided to go to the Department, her name had been written in the first Department of orthopedics. In the future, as long as she wanted to practice in the examination, she would go back to the orthopedics department after transferring to the Department. There was no problem.

All the young doctors in the surgery went to various internal medicine departments except Zhang Fan. The development of hepatobiliary surgery in the municipal hospital is good, with many patients and many operations. Zhang Fan hasn't been an assistant in the outpatient service. On the first day, more than 60 patients have been writing checklists, prescriptions and hospitalization bills from morning to noon. There were many people in the morning. There was a crowd of people in Wuyang. He didn't even have time to go to the bathroom.

Zhao Jun's outpatient service is only half a day in the morning. There are several gallbladder operations in the Department in the afternoon. After lunch, Zhao Jun took a rest in the director's office and asked Zhang Fan to take a rest. It's OK to read books in the afternoon and help with surgery. He will go to a meeting in the afternoon. On Monday, the Department Director and the head nurse will go to the hospital office for a meeting. Ouyang Hong is new and has many meetings.

The operations are arranged. He doesn't even have the position of the retractor. Although these ordinary operations are very simple for Zhang Fan, he can't tell others that you go down and I'll come. I'll do better than you. Then boil it. If you want to transfer to another department, you'd better look at internal medicine, gynecology and the second department. Don't make no sense when you ask three questions.

At this time, Wang Yanan bowed his head and wrote the medical record. From time to time, he had to see the color of the patient's sputum and deal with all kinds of old men and women who came to the office to ask. Li Hui went to pediatrics. He had tinnitus all day. From entering the department in the morning to the afternoon, there were many children, and the cry was not small and almost never broken. When he got off work in the afternoon, the cry of the child was still echoing in his ears.
