

Medical road

Chapter 77

Zhang Fan's transfer to a department of gastroenterology is much easier. The three deputy directors have been punished and transferred. Director Wang Yonghong doesn't know yet! He is also a god like figure. I went to the clinic in one day. No one was in charge of the Department. The director of the medical department asked Lao Hu to take charge of the Department first. They have begun to dig people hard.

General foreign affairs director of quark County, very enthusiastic. He introduced the General Foreign Affairs Directors of several surrounding counties to Zhang Fan. In addition to quark county's laparoscopy, it was mainly Zhang Fan who wanted to teach him hand-in-hand.

The other counties are much faster. Zhang Fan divides half of their hard-working expenses after the operation. They are happy. Even if they can do it themselves, the hospital will not give them half of the money. Of course I'm happy to take more money in vain.

One operation costs 1000 yuan, and Zhang Fan takes 500 himself. Others were given points on the spot. Although Zhang Fan is also very short of money and has a mortgage every month, he can't give up the money. No money, why do people call you? If you want to be famous, you have to fight for fame. Fortunately, Zhang Fan is young, the price is low and energetic.

On average, there is about one acupoint operation a week, which can fill the hole of housing loan. Li Hui is too chicken thief. He somehow found out the secret of Zhang Fan's cave.

"I'm not a person. I'm also transferred. I can't even get the bonus, but you start to earn extra money. It's unbalanced and extremely unbalanced. Invite me to a big meal, or I'll report you." Li Huilai plays dead dogs in Zhang Fan's dormitory.

Li Hui and Li Liang both have a hobby and like to eat braised meat. Zhang fan can't. It's OK to eat once in a while. I'm a little tired of eating all the time. Li Hui always ordered braised meat as his treat. In his words, "don't you like what Lao Mao likes to eat? Then you are too reactionary."

"Come on, just in time. I haven't talked for a long time. Let's talk while eating." Zhang

Fan and Li Hui came to little Sichuan. The two had a good relationship since they entered the county hospital. They were admitted to the city hospital together. Under the strange environment, the relationship between the two was closer. And Li Hui is naturally funny. He doesn't pretend and won't hide his discomfort. Zhang Fan gets along with him very easily.

Little Sichuan is on the back door of the hospital. Most of the people who eat are young doctors. It's a little greasy for patients. After entering the door, I found a lot of people, as well as several new female doctors. Li Hui's eyes lit up and whispered to Zhang Fan, "look, sister, isn't it beautiful. Why don't we go and spell the table. "

It was shameless of Zhang Fan to ignore him“ If people don't agree to go to a hospital, you won't be ashamed. "

"You're boring. It's fun to ignore it. it's totally up to you. Your dog is destined to live forever. " The white eyed Li Hui ordered several hard dishes.

"Can you be a little better. The braised meat is all ordered, and your mother has another stewed elbow. Have you finished eating? "

"I can't eat you several times a year. Why do I order more dishes. If I can't finish eating, I'll take it back. It's hot at night and can be an extra meal. "

"Well, if people don't want face, ghosts are afraid." Zhang Fan is reluctant to spend too much money on this guy. He doesn't appreciate it after eating. Never invite him to dinner unless you want to ask him something. Zhang Fan is also dead.

The food went on quickly, although the income of the municipal hospital was much better than that of the county hospital. But Li Hui's salary is natural and unrestrained, and the serious meal is not very delicious. Sometimes you have to live on instant noodles at the end of the month.

When the food was served, Li Hui jumped directly to the meat. The baby was greedy. It was terrible to eat and wolfed down“ As far as you're concerned, you have to fight with other girls. Aren't you afraid to scare others? " Zhang Fan couldn't eat after a few bites. It was very greasy.

"If you know a fart, you can eat and do it. Do you understand. It's too oily to eat meat alone. Order a beer to relieve your boredom. "

"OK, it's gout to drink any more. Drink some tea. It's an effect."

"I can see that you really have a state. You say you smoke. You don't buy it yourself. If you don't, you don't smoke. I can't drink wine. I get drunk when I touch it. My sister doesn't bubble. Is your life still interesting?" Li Hui couldn't drink beer, so he began to slander Zhang Fan.

He really has no money. If he didn't rely on the canteen meal card subsidized by the hospital, he would be hungry. Typical, big money at the beginning of the month, called huazi at the end of the month.

"Hehe, eat quickly. Let me ask you something." Zhang Fan ignored him and became more and more unreasonable.

"Ask." He also has a sense of superiority to solve Zhang Fan's doubts.

"Well, I like a girl, but people don't pay much attention to me. What should I do?" Zhang fan can't help it. He and Shaohua have made little progress, and he doesn't have much experience. I really don't know what to do. I happen to meet Li Hui. Let's ask first.

"Is it beautiful? The doctor or nurse in that department." Li Hui's eyes brightened a lot and went straight to the main points he cared about.

"Not from our hospital."

"Cut! You're so wooden. It's strange if you're not from the hospital. If you're not from the hospital, I'll pay for today's meal."

"No matter where it is, listen to me." Zhang Fan didn't follow Li Hui. Even if he knew it wasn't a hospital, he couldn't pay for the meal.

"Go ahead."

"I send text messages to people, but they don't reply. What do you think I should do?"

"It's simple. Smash it with money and throw out a pile of money. I like you. As long as I follow you, I'll be popular and spicy."

"Can you be more reliable!" Zhang Fan is dying of regret. This thing is not the object to talk about.

"First of all, tell me which department you are from. See if I've seen it. Maybe I like it too. I've given you some advice. I'm out of business."

"Eat quickly. When you're finished, go away."

"Which one is it? Talk about it. I really like it. I'll cut the meat and give it to you. Who makes us brothers. Right. Tell me. " Li Hui stopped eating, put down his chopsticks and said curiously.

"Thank you. Hurry up. I'm full. Can I eat. I can go if I don't eat. " When he couldn't count on it, Zhang Fan shut up. Li Hui scratched the cat in his heart, carrying the packed leftovers around Zhang Fan.

"Which one is it? We came together at least. It's half of your parents. I have to check it for you."

"Get out of here. I have to go to the Department." If Zhang Fan doesn't say, Li Hui can't help it.

"Then make an appointment to see you tomorrow."

"See your sister!"

"I have no sister, ha ha, you have a sister, ha ha!" Zhang Fan tried to hit him. He ran away laughing.

"Hey!" Zhang Fan shook his head and went to the Department with a bitter smile.

Lao Hu has the most patients, but he can slow down at the bottom of his hand. He can type a finger zen and make a case. He can't wait to eat the keyboard. He hasn't finished writing the medical records he left the hospital last week. If it were not for his old qualification, several former deputy directors of the Department would have to clean him up every day.

Lao Hu is good-natured and gentle. He is polite to everyone and looks like a Confucian doctor. He and Zhang Fanhe came. They talked happily when they were on duty.

He was slow, chatting with Zhang Fanyi. He couldn't write a case for a night shift. Zhang Fan is much more agile, and his speech does not affect him. He can paste, copy and type quickly.
