

Mr Conrad 1251

Chapter 1251-Jane Yi spent the day at Nathan's house, tirelessly training Pupu to use the toilet outside, but this is not something that can be done quickly in a short time, it needs to be walked out at about the same time of day to slowly develop a habit.

Jane Yi, however, doesn't have that much of a chance.

When she got home, she took the pee pads she bought for Pupu, put them in the bathroom, and said to him, "You have to be good from now on and not pee or poop anywhere, okay?"

Pupu listened to her and wagged his tail at her as he sat on the pee pad.

Jane Yi laughed, shook his head gently, then got up, cleaned all the places she had been, and left with her things.

She walked down the street and let out a small breath.

Not so long ago, she was happy that she would finally have a home.

Now it is not sure where it should go.

Jane Yi was walking past a store when she saw in the reflection of the glass that she was still wearing Nathan's clothes.

She stopped and walked into a women's clothing store off to the side, and when she paid, she turned on her phone that had been turned off all night.

On top of the countless phone calls from Kane, there were concerns from friends and colleagues asking her what was wrong and why she didn't show up for work.

Jane Yi replied to those colleagues one by one, saying that she had some family matters recently and needed to take some time off.

Just after she replied to the message, a friend's phone call came through and Jane Yi got through.

My friend said, "My God, you finally turned on the machine, in the end what is the situation? Kane ran to my house early this morning to find you, and crazy like a psychopath, how he is like that ah, before is not"

Jane Yi said, "It's a long story."

"Where are you now, I'm coming to you."

An hour later, Jane Yi and a friend were sitting at a roadside cafe.

After listening to Jane Yi's experience over the past two days, my friend sighed in awe: "Kane, he actually threatened you with your father? I thought the wedding was over and done with, but I never thought so much would happen."

Jane Yi sipped his coffee and said lightly, "They feel that they can't save face, so of course they have to find a way to get back their dignity."

But after last night, the Bates Group can be said to be in disgrace, and it's no wonder Kane is unabashedly mad.

Friends and doubts: "So where did you live last night, as far as I know, Kane everywhere to find you, and even went to your hospital blocked a day, but did not find people, where you hide."

"I", Jane Yi said after a moment of silence, "a friend."

My friend was suspicious: "Which other friend do you have that I don't know about?"

"It's just that we've only known each other a short time."

My friend probed a hint of gossip from her evasive face as she asked further, "Boyfriend or girlfriend?"

"Male"

"Ohhhhhhh, you must like this friend of yours, right?"

Jane Yi said, "Don't be ridiculous, it's just a normal friend."

"That's not necessarily true. A normal friend still takes you in for the night, huh? And that's at the risk of offending Kane."

Jane Yi lost his smile: "How is it possible, I am now a mess, to put it nicely is a timely stop, to put it nicely is just divorced, not to mention, I have not seen him a few times with him, how can he like me, it should be sympathy."

"Sympathy?"

Jane Yi nodded: "He was there at the wedding, and he saw me at the roadside later and thought I couldn't think of anything to jump off. From this period of time with him, I think he is a very kind person, so only want to help me a hand."

My friend is still not very convinced: "Then kind, also will not leave you to live in his home, and this action also just shows that he is single. What does single mean? It means that he most likely fell in love with you at first sight, so he will help you."

Jane Yi: "....."

With her hand on her cheek, she recalled, "When we first met, I thought he was an irresponsible man who had lost his sister, so I scolded him for how he could fall in love with me at first sight."

"Fate is like that sometimes, it comes and can't be stopped, and it just so happens that you and Kane's wedding blew up, so that means it's all just the way God intended it to be."

Chapter 1252-The friend originally wanted Jane Yi to stay at her place tonight, but Jane Yi was afraid that Kane would go after her again and didn't want to get her friend involved, so she made up a refusal.

She can just find a small hotel for the night on her own.

After her friend left, Jane Yi was just about to leave when she received a call from Nathan.

He said, "I have to work overtime today and will be a little late getting back."

Jane Yi hand tucked in his shirt pocket, silent silence before saying, "I have left"

Nathan paused slightly, "Is Kane looking for you."

"No, I just think" Jane Yi said, "Don't worry, I don't have anything to do in the next few days anyway, I'll be in charge of training Pupu."

On the other end of the line, Nathan lost his voice.

Jane Yi said: "Thank you for the past few days, seriously, I am actually quite embarrassed, obviously we have not met a few times, you not only took me in, but also helped me to bring my father out, in the future there can be anything I need to help, you just ask."

After a long time, Nathan said, "So where are you staying tonight."

Jane Yi lied: "Staying at my friend's house."

Immediately after, she added: "Kane has gone to her where to find me in the morning, so her place is now very safe these two days also gave you a lot of trouble, so I will not bother you to work, I left before, there to Pupu change water and add food, so you do not have to worry. "

Hanging up the phone, Jane Yi let out a long breath.

Although she didn't believe her friend's claim that Nathan liked her, but after all, she did meet him a few times and she couldn't just accept someone's kindness with such peace of mind.

If Nathan thanked Grace because of her, the score was settled a long time ago.

Conrad Group.

After the meeting, it was already 10:00 pm.

Plus it was the day of the assistants' room get-together, so they customarily asked Nathan if he was going.

Nathan replied bluntly and simply: "You guys go ahead, I'm going back to walk the dog."

Crowd: ".....?"

What did he just say.

It's not the dog walking thing that's unbelievable, it's the fact that it happened to Nathan.

A person who usually even lives a life focused on work, suddenly has a dog and has to go back to walk it, always feel where steals a strange.

Facing their astonished eyes, Nathan did not explain too much and just took the file and left.

On the way home, Nathan looked outside the streets of people, never before, the heart appeared empty feeling.

When we arrived home, Pupu still immediately pounced on us.

Nathan turned on the lights and the house was tidied up and a bouquet of flowers was placed.

Jane Yi's training probably paid off, as Pupu went to the bathroom on the pee pad, but Nathan watched him wag his tail hard enough to take him out anyway.

Pupu obviously prefers the outside, if not holding the leash, it is estimated that a slip of smoke will run away from the shadow.

At that moment, a Boomerang ran over, sniffed each other with Pupu, and then rubbed his nose.

Holding Boomerang, a girl, greeted Nathan: "Your girlfriend isn't with you."

Nathan froze, "What girlfriend."

The girl looked down: "Isn't this Pupu, your girlfriend came out to walk it in the morning, right?"

Nathan said, "You misunderstood, she is not my girlfriend."

The girl sniffed and quickly apologized: "Sorry, I thought"

"It's okay."

Nathan hung his head and saw Pupu playing with the little boomerang.

Chapter 1253-This one night, Nathan did not sleep much.

In fact, he really couldn't answer Mr. Conrad's question, even though he knew in his heart that it was more than worth it to go into the Bates Group's mess for someone he had only met a few times.

But he can't seem to stay out of it either.

What exactly he feels for Jane Yi, even he can't say it himself.

If this is like, it comes too unreasonable and not within his knowledge.

Nathan thought that maybe it was because Stella always gave him blind dates some time ago and took another month off that gave him the effort to think about the relationship aspect, and Jane Yi just happened to appear at this point in time.

Inevitably, they just bump into each other.

This sentiment, in fact, should not be valid and is somewhat strange.

Since Jane Yi has already expressed that she doesn't want to bother him anymore, he shouldn't meddle anymore.

It is better to keep your mind on your work.

These problems, naturally, go away.

Early the next morning, Nathan sent Jane Yi her father's address.

Received another thank you from her.

Nathan looked at her reply and put his phone down.

What he should have done, he has done.

In the days that followed, Nathan resumed his normal routine, except for the additional task of walking his dog every day.

As for the Bates Group, the stock price continued to fall for a few days and then did not move.

After half a month, when Nathan went to Clarence's office to deliver the documents, Clarence handed him a contract: "The contract with Bates Group is about to expire, here is the contract renewal they sent, you go there."

Nathan nodded, "Good."

In the evening, when Nathan arrived at the private room, Tom greeted him with a smile on his face: "Mr. Lance, it's been a long time."

Nathan responded politely.

After sitting in his seat, Tom poured Nathan a drink: "I've made Mr. Lance laugh about what happened before, I've also been confused by this matter for a while, and I'm taking this opportunity to apologize to Mr. Lance."

Nathan blocked the glass: "You're welcome, Mr. Bates, I just represent the Conrad Group to attend the wedding, the rest, is your family business, you don't need to apologize to me."

Tom put down his glass: "Yes, yes, yes, Mr. Lance is right."

Nathan also thought about going back to walk Pupu, put down the contract renewal documents and said, "Mr. Conrad and I have read the contract, some other details, when the time comes, with the legal affairs right, and then sign it."

Tom nodded and smiled in response, and as Nathan got up to leave, he said, "Mr. Lance, since you're here, it's better to eat before you leave. I have a contract here, Mr. Lance, take a look."

Nathan turned back to see him placing another file on the table.

Nathan laughed, "What does Mr. Bates mean by that?"

Tom said, "Mr. Lance, we have also worked together for so many years, the Bates Group has always had a good relationship with the Conrad Group, it's just a few small issues that I would like to optimize again."

Nathan didn't have to read that file to know what he was planning to do.

Tom continued: "I know now Mr. Conrad very trust Mr. Lance, Conrad Group large and small matters you can make decisions, Mr. Lance do not worry, this contract according to the new one, I will not treat you badly."

Nathan said, "Mr. Bates, are you doing this without fear of me telling Mr. Conrad."

Tom laughed: "Mr. Lance, I am a businessman, naturally, I am profit-oriented, I am so here to find Mr. Lance today, there must be my reasons."

Chapter 1254-Nathan looked at him and his face sank a few points: "What does Mr. Bates mean."

Tom poured wine in a glass, smiling and spoke: "Mr. Lance, I also have some people means, you took my daughter-in-law away at the appreciation party this thing, you really think I did not receive news at all?"

Nathan didn't say anything and sat down.

Tom saw the situation, a satisfied look on his face, he pushed the glass to Nathan: "Kane's character is rather impulsive, I have not told him about this, he loves Jane Yi, if he knows that it was Mr. Lance who took the person away that night, he will inevitably make a fuss, which also has an impact on Mr. Lance's reputation, right?"

Nathan laughed coldly, "Is Mr. Bates planning to threaten me with this."

"Mr. Lance serious, how dare I threaten you, you are at least Mr. Conrad's right arm, I just hope that this contract you can turn a blind eye and let a little profit to us, this is not any loss to you, Conrad Group's capital running so much, less us this, is not any problem."

"What if I don't agree."

"Then Mr. Lance interfered in the marriage of my son and daughter-in-law, I can't suppress it, and then the Conrad Group will not be able to save face if it is known all over the city."

Nathan looked at the glass of wine in front of him and spoke without slowing down: "As far as I know, Bates Group's share price has only recently regained stability, and once this matter is known all over town, it will not cause any loss to Conrad Group, and even if there is a reputational impact, it will be for my personal reasons, and I can resign."

At the sound of his voice, Tom's face suddenly changed.

Nathan continued, "Mr. Bates should think clearly, the big deal for me is to resign, and the Bates Group will be in the whirlpool again, you so set up the Conrad Group, you think Mr. Conrad will be so forgettable."

Tom in the end is a long experience in the mall, see this approach does not work, immediately returned a smile: "Mr. Lance, do not be so serious, I just joked, how also mentioned on the departure, like you so good talent, even if Mr. Conrad agreed, I do not agree ah. I punished myself with a drink to apologize to you"

Nathan glanced at him, "Mr. Bates if there's nothing else to say, I'll go first."

“Mr. Lance.”

Tom called out to him again.

Tom probably also knows that he can not threaten him, can only make the last move.

He slipped a room card to Nathan: “I hope Mr. Lance will not tell Mr. Conrad about today’s incident, and I will sign the contract according to the original one.

Watching his endless little antics, Nathan became less and less patient.

However, before he could say anything, Tom said meaningfully, “Mr. Lance, if you don’t go, you’ll regret it.”

After the words, he got up and left the private room.

Nathan looked down at the room card in his hand and frowned slightly.

Suddenly, he realized something, his face changed and he walked into the elevator with big steps.

Nathan stood at the door of the room and knocked hard on the door a few times, but there was no response from inside.

He dialed Jane Yi’s number again. There was no answer, but inside the door, there was the faint sound of a phone call.

Nathan just wanted to rush in, and felt that this matter is not so simple, Tom the old fox, since all have had this idea, it is impossible to just forget.

He turned around and kicked right through the fire glass, and then the alarm went off.

The guests in the hotel room, not knowing what was going on, ran out and stood in the hallway looking on.

At this time, Nathan quickly opened the door with his room card.

Chapter 1255-In the hotel room, Jane Yi curled up in the corner, hugging herself tightly, shivering, her face an unnatural red flush.

Probably heard the footsteps, her mouth unconsciously chanted, “Don’t come over don’t come over

Her voice was completely mute, and she should have been struggling for a long time.

Nathan took off his jacket and knelt down in front of her, resting it on her body and gently patting her face to try to get her to wake up a little: “Jane Yi, it’s me.”

Jane Yi looked up blankly, she seemed to be unable to distinguish between people now, just clutching her arms hard and whimpering in pain.

Nathan pursed his lips and bent down to pick her up.

Jane Yi almost reflexively struggled, and his mouth hissed as hard as it could, but no sound could be made.

Nathan comforted, "Don't be afraid, don't be afraid, I'll take you to the hospital, just go to the hospital."

Jane Yi also does not know whether she understands, or has completely no strength, so quietly nestled in his arms, half-closed eyes, all over the hot powerful.

Nathan held her and just as he left the room, he saw the people Tom had arranged to come hovering not far away, they tried to come over but were blocked by people in the hallway who were panicking and didn't know what was going on.

He turned around and walked toward the security channel.

This is the twenty-fifth floor, and Nathan just carried her down hard.

The nearest hospital was only five minutes away, so he put Jane Yi on the passenger side and pushed the gas pedal to the floor and sprinted off.

Now Jane Yi's medication has completely taken effect, she just feels hot from the inside out, and can't help but reach out and pull at her clothes.

Nathan's jacket that originally covered her also slipped down her legs, and the buttons of the shirt she was wearing were ripped open, exposing half of her shoulders.

Her hand is still going down-

Nathan yanked her wrist with one free hand and sank his voice, "Jane Yi, wake up."

Jane Yi probably heard someone calling her name. Faced with such a situation, a wave of shame rose up in her heart, and the movement in her hands stopped, looking ahead in confusion.

Nathan quickly pulled his jacket up and back over her body.

The original five-minute journey was froze by Nathan in only three minutes, then rushed to the hospital entrance.

He ran in with Jane Yi in his arms, "Doctor, call the doctor!"

Nurses at the hospital immediately rolled out a stretcher and picked Jane Yi up.

When he arrived at the emergency room door, Nathan was stopped.

He looked at the red light that lit up in the emergency room, took two slow steps back, leaned against the wall, and exhaled heavily.

At this time, the cold air in the hospital was coming from all directions, but he did not feel cold.

The back is covered in sweat.

Nathan pulled out his cell phone and after calling Maxwell first to take care of the rest of the hotel, he dialed Clarence's number: "Mr. Conrad"

He told the whole story of the night.

Clarence said, "Where are you now."

Nathan's breath caught in a slight gasp, "Hospital."

"Okay, you don't have to worry about the Bates Group, stay there."

Nathan answered and hung up the phone.

He waited in front of the emergency room for about two hours before a doctor came out inside.

Nathan saw this and immediately went forward, "Doctor, how is the person inside?"

"The situation has been stabilized." The doctor said and took out the medical record sheet, "Are you her husband, sign here."

Nathan said, "No."

"Boyfriend?"

"Neither."

The doctor looked at him with a gradually strange look and said warily, "That drug wouldn't have been given to her by you, would it?"

Nathan said, "Of course not, I am her friend."

Chapter 1256-Jane Yi woke up with unfocused eyes staring at the ceiling above the hospital.

It took a long time for her thoughts to slowly come together.

A few moments later, she sat up violently, a dense fear rising up all over her body, full of shocked hindsight.

The nurse came in, "You're awake, are you uncomfortable anywhere?"

Jane Yi subconsciously shook her head and tried to speak, but her mouth felt dry.

The nurse said, "You want some water, don't worry, I'll pour it for you."

Jane Yi took the glass of water she handed her and hissed, "Thank you."

"You're welcome." The nurse turned her head to look around and said, "Huh?" "Is your boyfriend out."

Jane Yi holds her cup: "Boyfriend?"

"Yeah, he was here last night guarding you all night."

The nurse said while changing the hanging bottle for her, "After this bottle is infused, you can be discharged if you don't feel uncomfortable anywhere."

Jane Yi nodded her head, still saying, "Thank you."

After the nurse left, she put the cup down and leaned gently against the head of the bed.

Although she had almost lost consciousness when Nathan rushed into the room yesterday, she was still able to get a vague idea of what had happened.

Knowing that he carried her downstairs, knowing everything she sat on in the car, knowing that he held her hand and kept her awake.

Jane Yi took a deep breath, and even her breath trembled.

She dreaded to think what would have happened later if Nathan hadn't saved her yesterday.

This half month, she has thought very clearly, since Kane refused to let her go, she also does not have that ability to fight with the Bates Family, the only thing that can do, is to leave City N.

She submitted her resignation to the hospital, and the hospital, knowing her situation, didn't ask her to make a handover or anything and gave her the procedure directly online.

Jane Yi lived alone in a small hotel during this time.

She didn't know if Kane had found her, but she didn't dare bet on it either, so she didn't dare go to the hospital to see her father at all.

Until yesterday, her friends in B City said they had helped her find a good job, and when the time came to go directly to the hospital to work on it, she went home to get the important things, ready to go to the hospital in the evening, directly pick up her father to leave.

Which I know just arrived home downstairs, was taken to the hotel.

Jane Yi thought it was Kane at first, but based on last night, it shouldn't be.

Her brain is now in a mess, and she feels the pull of raw pain when she thinks about things.

Jane Yi felt that Doko was not very comfortable either, lifted the blanket and went into the bathroom.

Nathan opened the door and saw the ward was empty, his nerves instantly tightened and

He put down the meal he had bought, turned and rushed to the door, asking the nurse outside, "Where are the patients in here?"

The nurse said, "Inside, I just saw her."

Nathan frowned, "But there's no one inside."

The nurse looked inside: "Did the bathroom go ah."

Nathan turned back immediately and stood at the bathroom door and knocked, "Jane Yi."

After a few seconds, a faint voice rang out inside: "I'm at"

Nathan heard that she sounded off and took a step forward, "What's wrong with you, are you uncomfortable somewhere?"

"No that, you call a female nurse in for me."

Her voice was small and a little muffled, so Nathan didn't quite catch it, "What?"

Jane Yi increased the volume a little: "It's you call a female nurse in for me, I'm not very comfortable."

This Nathan heard, his hand hanging in the air slightly stiff, after a two-second pause, rushed out, looking for the nurse just now.

He stood in the doorway, still unable to stop worrying, and raised his eyes to look in.

The nurse stood at the door of the bathroom, Jane Yi did not know what to say to her, she nodded and answered, and left in a hurry.

As she walked to the door, Nathan stopped her, "What's wrong with her, should we go call a doctor."

"It's not calling a doctor, and you don't have to worry about it, it's what girls often encounter."

After saying that, she ran away.

Nathan looked at her back: "Often"

When the words came to his lips, he suddenly realized what was going on and stepped back in silence.

It didn't take long for the female nurse to come back.

A little later, Jane Yi finally came out of the bathroom.

She took a few steps and her eyes fell on the doorway.

Nathan leaned his back against the door and looked across the white wall, wondering what he was thinking.

Suddenly, Jane Yi's voice came from the side: "You you come in."

Nathan retracted his thoughts and turned back to say, "Are you better."

Jane Yi nods gently.

"But you don't look well, I'd better go and get a doctor to come and look at you."

"No" Jane Yi took his arm, "I just have a stomach ache, I'll be fine after resting for a while."

Nathan was silent: "Do you want to eat anything else, I'll go buy it."

Chapter 1257-Jane Yi pointed to the side: "Isn't there something here."

"Those may not fit too well, I'll go back and get some more."

"No, just those, they're fine."

After her strong refusal, Nathan eventually did not go.

Jane Yi had not eaten for almost a day and a night, and the moment she opened the paper bag and smelled the aroma of food, she did feel hungry.

The food in this is light and nutritious.

Jane Yi took out her spoon, "Have you eaten."

Nathan immediately nodded, "I ate it."

Jane Yi smiled and bowed her head to eat.

Nathan, probably a little uncomfortable sitting there, got up and said, "I'd better get the doctor to check you out."

Jane Yi responded, "Good."

Nathan went out and didn't return with the doctor until she had almost finished her meal.

Nathan retreated back outside while the doctor examined Jane Yi.

The test results were all normal.

The doctor put down the stethoscope, glanced at the door, and said meaningfully, "This friend of yours is quite concerned about you. All right, nothing is wrong, you can be discharged after the infusion."

"Thanks."

As the doctor left, he stood in the doorway for a moment, presumably talking to Nathan about the results of the test he had just performed.

After a few minutes, Nathan went in and looked at the vials, "It should be over in an hour."

Jane Yi said, "Don't you have to work today?"

"The boss gave me the day off."

Jane Yi nodded and didn't say anything more.

Nathan sat in the couch next to him and didn't know what to say, the atmosphere was a little awkward for a moment.

After a while, both spoke at the same time.

"Where are you living all this time?"

"Thank you for yesterday"

And again, simultaneous silence.

Jane Yi said, "Ah I'm staying in a small hotel this time."

Nathan said, "You're welcome."

The conversation seems to have ended once again.

Whoever went through that situation yesterday would have been embarrassed.

Nathan was silent before saying again, "Your place should be unsafe by now, Tom has found out your whereabouts, is there anywhere else you can go."

Jane Yi shook her head gently.

"Then you can stay at my place, I'll stay somewhere else."

Jane Yi shook hands, half a long time before saying: "In fact, we have only known each other for a short time, and not much familiar, you do not have to do this for me."

Nathan pursed his lips, "I just think it's nice to know that you're experiencing these things and not doing anything about it."

"So are you sympathizing with me."

Nathan didn't say anything, or maybe he didn't know how to answer.

Jane Yi laughed: "It's okay, there are many people who are worse off than me, my situation is still good."

"I was going to take my dad away from here and start a life in another city, but now it seems like running away won't solve anything, they'll just get worse."

Nathan frowned slightly, "Then you"

"Don't worry, I'm not going to fight them hard, I just want my life back on track."

"So is there anything you need from me."

Jane Yi looked up at him, and there it was.

She said slowly, "I want to find the woman who is pregnant with Kane's child, can you help me find her."

Nathan said, "No problem."

Jane Yi smiled, "Thank you."

"You're welcome" Nathan got up, "I'm going out, wait, I'll be right back."

After Nathan left, Jane Yi leaned against the bed and looked out the window, not knowing what she was thinking.

Chapter 1258-An hour later, Nathan went to check Jane Yi out of the hospital.

Once in the car, Nathan asked her, "Where is the address where you lived before."

After Jane Yi gave the address, Nathan entered the navigation.

The car drove for a long time before stopping at an isolated alley.

The environment here is very poor, even in the daytime also seems particularly dark and damp, the car simply can not drive in, can only be parked outside on the road.

Nathan looked around and frowned, "Is this where you live."

Jane Yi said, "This place doesn't do much ID checking, Kane won't find his way here."

Nathan pursed his lips, "You go up and get your stuff, I'll wait here."

Jane Yi opened her mouth as if she wanted to say something, but finally just nodded and went, "Good."

Jane Yi opened the car door and went down the alley into the damp residential building.

She didn't have a lot of stuff, so she packed it up quickly.

When Jane Yi went down, Nathan was already out of the car, leaning against the door and looking ahead.

Jane Yi couldn't help but stop and just look at him.

She could actually feel that Nathan might like him a little, he just didn't even notice it himself.

If it were a few years ago, Jane Yi would have responded to the relationship with enthusiasm and initiative.

But now, her life is a mess.

Deep in such an environment, she herself can not see hope, nor can she see what the future is.

And having only met a few times, she really didn't know why Nathan, such a wonderful person, would like her.

Just as she was lost in thought, Nathan looked over, took a big step closer, and took what she was holding, "Let's go."

On the way back, Nathan said, "You'll stay at my place for the time being, and when things are done, you'll go somewhere else and I'll go out to stay."

Jane Yi said, "That is okay, I still sleep on the couch, you don't have to go out to live."

With that, she immediately added, "I won't be used to living alone in a strange place."

Nathan was silent: "Good."

Neither spoke again the rest of the way.

When we arrived home, Pupu immediately pounced on us. He hadn't seen Jane Yi for a long time and kept circling around her feet, especially enthusiastic.

Jane Yi bends down and picks it up.

Nathan said, "I'll get the guest room packed up and you can stay there."

Jane Yi said, "I'll go."

"No, you just play with Pupu for a while."

Nathan said, putting down what he was holding and walking in.

The house has always been his own living, and over time, things became more than enough.

After Nathan packed up for a while, Jane Yi also came over, and together the two quickly became faster.

The room was packed and Nathan said, "Let's go to the supermarket and buy something."

"Good."

When we arrived at the supermarket, Jane Yi only wanted to buy a little bit of simple necessities, but Nathan put everything he saw that was suitable for girls into his shopping cart.

Jane Yi cried and laughed: "It really doesn't take that much"

"It's okay, it's better to buy and not use it than not have it when you need it."

Jane Yi feels that this is also the case.

After the shopping, Jane Yi looked at the three big shopping bags and felt, in a trance, as if she had a feeling that she was going to live there for a long time.

On the way back, when they got downstairs, they met the girl walking Boomerang again and she greeted them, "Hi again, you guys are living together?"

Jane Yi: "....."

Nathan: "....."

Chapter 1259-Just after he got home, Nathan got a call from work.

He put his things on the dining table and answered the phone while walking outside to the balcony.

After Jane Yi fed Pupu a snack, she started to pack up the things.

By the time Nathan returned, she was pretty much packed up.

Nathan said, "It's getting late, go pack, I'll do the rest."

"It's okay." Jane Yi said, "You go ahead and rest, you have to work tomorrow, and I don't have anything to do anyway."

She had just put a box of fruit in the fridge when Nathan said, "That woman, Lulu, was Kane's assistant when she first joined the company and hasn't worked since six months ago."

Jane Yi's hand movements slightly paused: "Six months ago"

"Yeah, but she's been with Kane longer than that I think, she's only been with the company for less than two months and she was seen" Nathan paused before continuing, "seen disheveled coming out of Kane's office unclothed."

Jane Yi asked, "When did she come into the company?"

"Two years ago."

At that, Jane Yi couldn't help but laugh at herself.

Kane also said earlier that he had to go to someone else because she was too busy, making himself sound like a victim.

But what about the reality.

At that time two years ago, they had just gotten together.

The timeline is a little blurry, and Jane Yi doesn't even know if Lulu was with him first, or if she was.

Nathan looked at the disappointment on her face and after a silent moment still said, "Jane Yi, there is one more thing."

Jane Yi looked up, her eyes full of confusion, "What?"

"During these two years, Kane has had other women in succession besides Lulu, whose tactics are higher than others, which is why she still remains by Kane's side after two years, and as for the pregnancy, probably because she heard that Kane is about to get married to you, so... .."

Jane Yi listened to his words and found herself more and more amused.

She has blamed herself more than once in the past two years, she is really incompetent as a girlfriend, and Kane has spent too little time together, and he has complained more than once, asking her to quit her job and stay home to spend time with him.

But which thought, these days, Kane is not at all idle, and he may even be a little overwhelmed.

Nathan said, "Lulu is going to the hospital tomorrow for a maternity checkup and Kane won't be there, so this is a good time."

Jane Yi retrieved her thoughts, took a deep breath and forced a smile, "I know, thanks."

Nathan looked at her a little uneasy: "Do you need me to go with you."

Jane Yi shook her head, "No, I'll just go by myself."

Nathan knew that if he went to such a thing, he wouldn't be able to help much, and Jane Yi would only feel worse.

He said, "Then you can call me anytime if you need anything."

"Good."

At night, in both rooms, both were equally tossing and turning, unable to sleep.

Jane Yi although is long dead to Kane, but in hearing him and her together for those two years, she once thought, they are the sweetest happy those two years, but actually all is also false.

It turns out Kane didn't change all of a sudden, he's always been like this.

Thinking about this, Jane Yi suddenly wondered if Kane, like this, would really visit her father in the hospital out of kindness and guilt.

The likelihood is almost zero.

And what Tom did yesterday, she has always respected and admired Kane's father, can skilfully do something like that, it is estimated that the previous means will not be less.

Chapter 1260-After Nathan left, Jane Yi went down to walk Pupu without hurry and tidied up the house before she left the door.

Even so, she sat in front of the maternity ward for half an hour before waiting for Lulu.

When Lulu saw her, she thought she was trying to harm the child in her belly and immediately became wary, "What do you want? I'm telling you, this is Kane's own son in my belly, if you dare to do anything to me, he won't let you go."

Jane Yi smiled at that, "I just wanted to talk to you."

Lulu looked at her with a questioning look on her face, "What do you have to talk to me about?"

"Talk about Kane, talk about the baby in your belly, talk about how you can marry into the Bates Family."

Lulu frowned, keeping her face wary, clearly not believing what she was saying.

Jane Yi said, "Believe it or not, I've long since stopped trying to marry Kane, and he's the one who hasn't let me go, not only to threaten my friends, but also to go to my place of work and make trouble all the time."

Lulu still believes in what she says.

During the two years Lulu and Kane were together, every time she tried to get Kane to break up with Jane Yi, Kane would have a big tantrum with her.

The fact that it has come to the point of marriage also proves how much Kane likes Jane Yi.

Otherwise Lulu would not have designed to conceive a child.

In the cafe behind the hospital, Lulu was already in the posture of Kane's rightful wife: "What do you want to say, you tell me, how can I marry into the Bates Family?"

Jane Yi laughs, not saying anything.

Lulu said, "To get Kane to be so devoted to you, and to get him to marry you, I guess you must be very clever in your tactics."

Jane Yi placed a paper bag on the table, "You can see what's inside."

It was given to her by Nathan before he left, and it was full of intimate actions between Kane and different women, as well as many images of him going in and out of the hotel.

Lulu opened it with a disdainful face, but when she saw what was inside, her face suddenly changed: "What is this, where did you get it from?"

Jane Yi picked up her coffee and took an unhurried sip: "I just want to tell you that Kane has other women besides you at the same time, and you are just one of them."

"You think that's going to make me leave him, you do"

"If you just want to marry into the Bates Family under threat of having a baby, that's absolutely impossible." Jane Yi said, "You have already made the Bates Family the laughing stock of the whole City N at the previous wedding, how much more tolerance do you think, Kane has for you."

Lulu's face stiffened for a few moments and she didn't say anything.

During this time, she really couldn't contact Kane at all.

Although he said he would keep the child, who knows if he would backtrack later.

Jane Yi continued, "I know, you worked for him as a secretary for a long time, have you ever thought that these are the bargaining chips for you to marry into the Bates Family."

Lulu raised her eyes, "What do you mean."

"You're smarter than me and know what I mean."

Jane Yi got up and left on the spot.

Lulu called out to her, "Are you really that nice to tell me that?"

"I don't count it as kind, it's just that if you can marry into the Bates Family, Kane won't come after me anymore, so why not."

"The opportunity to marry into the Bates Family, and you're just going to give it to me for nothing?"

"For me, it wasn't THE Bates Family that I wanted to marry, it was love." Said Jane Yi with a self-deprecating laugh, "Although that sounds ridiculous now, I did once think that way."
