

Mr Conrad 1261

Chapter 1261-After leaving from the cafe, Jane Yi didn't go far, but watched Lulu get into a car on the side.

She tugged tightly on the bag strap, and her expression gradually firmed up.

Lulu was right, she really wasn't that kind to help her marry into the Bates Family, and she had a vague feeling that Kane wouldn't marry Lulu at all.

If he had that intention, he wouldn't have ignored the person who was pregnant with his child until now.

Jane Yi gave Lulu those words because she really had no other choice.

Her contact with Kane is only in life, but by now, she finds that the Kane in life, too, is all fake, and Lulu, who has been Kane's secretary for a year and a half, naturally knows a lot of important things about him.

Once this matter, is something that Lulu can threaten Kane to marry her, then it means that she also has a direction.

Now it's just a matter of waiting and waiting for Lulu to get to Kane.

Jane Yi exhaled deeply, thought better of it and took out her phone to send Nathan a text message, telling him that she was done here.

Meanwhile, in the Conrad Group office.

Clarence and Stella are sitting on the couch, and Nathan is standing across from them, wanting to say something.

Stella face is suppressed excitement: "You continue to say ah, she lived to your home, and then what"

"And then there was no more then."

"Why didn't you then?"

Nathan coughed and turned a pleading gaze to Clarence, who looked away sideways.

Since Stella heard about Nathan and Jane Yi from Clarence yesterday, she was so excited that she didn't sleep all night and came over early this morning to ask the parties involved about the specific situation.

Nathan said half-heartedly, "She just treats me like a friend, which then."

Stella said, "It doesn't matter what she takes you for, what matters is whether you like her or not."

She didn't want Clarence to ask as politely as she did, but rather to cut to the chase.

Nathan was silent and did not speak.

Stella saw this and frowned at the thought, "Are you emotionally disturbed? Why don't I go with you to a doctor this afternoon, or should I call Archer for advice first?"

Nathan: "?"

That's not so much.

At this point, Nathan's phone rang and Clarence finally did open up: "He's not emotionally disturbed, he's afraid that people will think the plot is wrong."

Stella was filled with confusion, "Why?"

"Someone who has only just experienced betrayal, do you think she'll be in the mood to start her next relationship immediately."

Stella gently pursed her lips and felt that he had a point.

But –

Stella looked at Nathan and said seriously, "You've been with Clarence for so long, you really haven't learned anything about his cheekiness and stalking, but if you've learned one percent, none of this is a problem."

Nathan: "....."

Clarence: "....."

Stella added: "No kidding, I'm serious, feelings like this, not only about fate, but also about timing, since she has agreed to live in your house, it proves that she has a good feeling for you. Although I do not know what level of good feeling, but now is your best chance."

"But her life is a mess right now and I don't think it's quite the right time to go and say"

"Who asked you to say, it is because her life is a mess, there is the opportunity to reflect your role, you have to brush up on your goodwill next to her more, sometimes feelings grow by osmosis."

Nathan nodded slowly and learned.

Chapter 1262-After Nathan was out of the office, Stella was ready to leave as well.

She had just gotten up when she was yanked back.

Clarence's thin lips pressed against her forehead, "Make it clear, what do you mean I'm thick-skinned and stalkerish?"

Stella said, "Isn't that the truth."

"You tell me instead how I'm stalking."

"You Well!"

Before she could say anything else, her lips were blocked.

After the kiss ended, Clarence raised his eyebrows gently, "Like this?"

Stella: "....."

Immediately after, Clarence wrapped his hand around her waist and held her down in his arms, his thin lips trailing down the corner of her lips, "Or is it?"

Stella's breathing gradually became restrained and she pressed her voice, "You're almost line, this is an office."

"I have thick skin anyway, so what am I afraid of."

Stella gritted her teeth: "Okay, okay, I take that back, all right."

Clarence's fingers ruffled a strand of her hair and repeated her last three words, "All right?"

Stella: "....."

This man is so petty and hard to serve.

Stella came up to Clarence and kissed him, "Honey."

Clarence's hand around her tightened abruptly and his voice was muffled, "This is an office."

Stella raised her eyebrows, he had asked for it.

.....

The other side.

Jane Yi went back and played with Pupu for a while, then rolled up her sleeves and started preparing dinner.

She is actually quite good at cooking, but she is usually too busy at work and rarely has time to do it.

By the time Nathan returned in the evening, the meal was almost ready.

Jane Yi heard the movement at the door and turned back, "You're off work quite early today."

Nathan nodded, "No overtime today."

Jane Yi went to serve the food: "Then go wash your hands, you can eat soon."

"Good."

Nathan didn't move, though his mouth answered.

He stood there, remembering what Stella had said today.

Emotional disorder, indeed not.

Let's just say that the timing of their acquaintance is too coincidental.

From the first meeting, he is supposed to have a good feeling for Jane Yi.

But the second time we met, it was at her wedding.

This kind of good feeling is a bit strange.

But there was no expectation that there would be another change in the wedding.

This succession of events also seems to have caught him a little off guard.

But Mr. Conrad is also right, there are too many poor people in the world, and he will not help every one of them.

This is probably the destiny of the world.

By coincidence, they happened to have a one-sided encounter, and then witnessed, her failed wedding.

Nathan washed his hands and walked over to Jane Yi and took the utensils from her hand, "I'll do it."

Jane Yi did not notice his sudden approach and froze before releasing her hand, "Good."

The evening was a three-course meal.

Jane Yi sat at the table and smiled awkwardly, "I haven't cooked for a long time, try it, and I don't know if it's to your liking."

Nathan said as he served the soup, "It's appetizing to look at."

"That's not necessarily true, in case it doesn't look good or taste good."

Nathan said, "If you can make such a sale, it's definitely not tied to being unpalatable."

Jane Yi felt that he was quite good at talking and was in a better mood.

Halfway through the meal, she said, "By the way, it seems that I have never asked you, what kind of work do you do ah, always very busy look."

Nathan said, "I work for the Conrad Group."

Hearing this, Jane Yi instantly widened her eyes and muttered, "No wonder you're not afraid of Kane finding you in trouble."

The Bates Family would not dare to offend the Conrad Group, even if they were ten.

Chapter 1263-For this matter of identity, Nathan has never deliberately concealed.

It just seems like there hasn't been the right time to talk about it, and now that Jane Yi has asked, he's talking about it.

Nathan smiled, "Do you have any more questions for me that you want to ask?"

Jane Yi was silent: "So, what are you in charge of at Conrad Group?"

"Responsible for a lot of things, the boss's work, life, and occasionally mediating some of their couple quarrels."

Jane Yi: "?"

Nathan said, "Just kidding. Collectively, it's the special assistant, or more simply, the executive president."

Jane Yi's eyes widened again.

Executive President

She had just assumed that Nathan was just working for the Conrad Group, that's all.

Suddenly, Jane Yi remembered that day at the hotel.

At that time, she actually never figured out why the Bates Family people took her away, but just kept her there, and it was Nathan who finally showed up.

If she was right, the Bates Family, who had given her as a gift, gave her to Nathan?

Nathan said, "Is there more."

Jane Yi shakes her head.

Nathan continued, "So can I ask you."

Jane Yi retracted her thoughts and nodded her head.

Nathan said, "Why did you get together with Kane in the first place?"

Jane Yi thought about it and slowly spoke: "At that time, my father had an accident because of the Bates Group project, Kane at first came to visit him in the hospital on behalf of the company, then he often appeared in the hospital, occasionally sent me some things, some boo-boo, I know, he is probably interested in me, want to chase me."

"How did it all go after?"

"Huh?"

Nathan squared up, "It's okay, you go ahead."

Jane Yi recalls, "During that time, because of my father's affairs, I was actually quite stressed, plus my work was not very smooth, always asked by patients to change doctors, and he happened to be with me a lot, I thought he was quite nice, and gradually began to rely on him, and then he confessed his love to me, and I agreed."

Nathan said, "So, in the last few years, he hasn't shown anything unusual?"

Jane Yi gently shook her head: "He was every bit as nice as he could be except for the occasional dissatisfaction with my work, and even if I was sometimes too busy, often working overtime for days on end, he was never unhappy."

Jane Yi said, laughing self-deprecatingly: "I also only now know that he was not at all idle at that time, every day I would like to leave him alone, how can not happy."

Nathan was silent for a moment: "And do you regret it."

“It is certainly false to say that you do not regret, but there is only one chance in life, there is no possibility of a do-over, you can only consider yourself once blind.”

Nathan didn't say anything else, and after dinner, they each went to their rooms.

Lying in bed, Nathan felt that the method of taking advantage of the situation seemed to be working.

But it's just a little too inhuman.

But feelings, if you can control it, the world would not have so many people who love but can not.

Nathan thought about it for a long time and sat up suddenly near midnight.

Kane went to visit Jane Yi's father?

According to Kane's character, the possibility is almost zero.

It makes sense that Kane went to visit Jane Yi's father and saw Jane Yi at first sight, thus making several trips to the hospital.

But where it doesn't make sense is in the motivation for his first visit.

Nathan recalled Jane Yi's comment that her father had an accident because of a Bates Group project.

He rolled out of bed and opened his computer, looking up information related to the Bates Group.

Chapter 1264-The next day after Jane Yi walked Pupu, she went out shopping with her friend.

In the mall, a friend bought a bunch of things: “It's almost Christmas, you choose one thing, I'll give you as a gift.”

Jane Yi froze: “It's Christmas.”

My friend sighed: “Yeah, this year is almost over, but you've had a messy year, next year will definitely be better.”

Jane Yi silent, did not speak.

The friend pulled her into the clothing store: “You choose it, clothes and bags, or shoes?”

Jane Yi looked around and then unconsciously walked over to the men's section.

A friend found her with a bag: “What are you doing here? You don't want to buy clothes for Kane again, do you? You're all”

“No.” Jane Yi didn't have a problem saying, “What am I buying for Kane, I am”

The friend immediately found the blind spot: “So who are you buying for?”

Jane Yi withdrew her eyes: “No, I was just looking around.”

My friend said suspiciously, “Pull back, I see you do not look like a casual look.”

Jane Yi said, "Really and truly, have you chosen, choose and go buy the bill."

"No I'm letting you choose the gift."

"I looked, nothing I like, not to mention it's not Christmas yet, let's talk about it on that day."

My friend "tsked": "I have to spend Christmas with my husband, who will talk to you."

The two of them joked and laughed as they exited the clothing store.

When we arrived at the downstairs of the mall, my friend took out the car keys: "Where do you live now, I'll take you back."

Jane Yi laughed dryly: "I suddenly remembered that I forgot to buy something, so you should go back first."

"Eh, hey!"

Jane Yi ran two steps and waved to her, "Take care on your way back, see you next time."

In fact, Jane Yi is not lying, she really has something to buy.

She had always wanted to thank Nathan before, but couldn't find the right opportunity.

A few days later is just Christmas, buy a gift for him, just right.

Jane Yi browsed around the mall and found nothing suitable, just when she was about to give up, she saw a men's watch.

Jane Yi walked in and the staff inside said, "Madam, may I ask what type of watch you need to buy?"

"I I gave it away."

"And is the other person a man or a woman?"

"Male."

The staff expressed their understanding, and while leading her forward, said, "So are you giving it to your elders, or your loved ones?"

Jane Yi: "....."

"I'll just give it to a friend." She made a point of emphasizing, "Friends in general."

The staff member thought about it and took out a watch: "How about you look at this one?"

Jane Yi look at the style feel okay, but look at the price, feel not so good.

It's too cheap.

She asked, "Are there any more expensive ones?"

The staff brought her a few more models.

Jane Yi still thinks the price doesn't work.

Nathan is the executive president of Conrad Group, she gave a few thousand watches, he can not wear out.

The staff said, "Sending general friends, these prices are already very good oh."

Jane Yi coughed: "Can I see the most expensive ones in your store."

"Yes please wait a moment."

Jane Yi exhaled slightly when the staff went to get it.

She looked at her bank card balance.

The salary saved for so many years should be enough.

Soon, the staff came out with the watch: "Look at this one, ma'am, it's our latest model, and it's the only one we have left in the store."

It is really expensive to have an expensive look.

Jane Yi readily took out her bank card, "This is it."

Chapter 1265-When Jane Yi went back, she saw a lot of Christmas decorations on the road and bought some back.

When she reached the entrance of the neighborhood, she was about to go in when she was suddenly stopped in her tracks by the figure walking out next to her.

Kane looked at her sorrowfully, "You're really here."

Jane Yi's face changed slightly and she took two steps back: "I'll say it again, our engagement is broken, if you continue to pester me, I'll call the police."

Kane sneered, "Fine, you call the police. Jane Yi, I really can't believe that you actually hooked up with Nathan, you're quite capable, huh?"

"You have some virtue, I am innocent with him, do you think that everyone is like you."

"Innocent? You are living together and you are telling me that you are innocent? Then do you believe me when I say that I have done everything with Lulu?"

Jane Yi pursed her lips, "I don't want to talk to you about that."

She just took a step, Kane clutched her wrist: "Do you think that now that you have Nathan backing you up, you don't take me seriously anymore? Let me tell you, Nathan is the special assistant of Conrad Group, but in reality, he is just a dog of Clarence, you know, a dog that wags its tail when given food!"

Without the slightest hesitation, Jane Yi threw a slap at his face.

Kane was clearly not expecting her to do this and was stunned for a moment.

Jane Yi looked at him expressionlessly: “You really refresh my perception of you again and again, Kane, and now you, not only make me feel disgusted, but also make me feel ridiculous, how I was blind to fall for you in the first place.”

Kane was furious: “Who the fuck are you to talk to me like that?”

“I am unworthy, so please, noble Sir Wu, will you stop coming to me so as not to tarnish your status.”

“You think you can be with Nathan if you get rid of me? I’m telling you, don’t even think about it, we are married, the wedding, the appreciation party, there are so many pairs of eyes watching. if Nathan dares to take you, I will make him lose his reputation, do you believe it?”

With that, Kane slapped her face, “Don’t piss me off, you know, I’m capable of anything.”

Jane Yi didn’t say anything and looked at him expressionlessly.

Kane looked at the things she was carrying in her hand, and with another sneer, snatched them from Jane Yi’s hand, smashed them hard on the ground, and then took off.

Jane Yi closed his eyes, slowly exhaled, bent down and squatted on the ground, picking things up one by one.

This Christmas is probably not going to happen.

In the evening, Jane Yi was cooking in the kitchen when Nathan returned.

He looked at the dishes on the table, took off his suit jacket, pulled up the cuffs of his shirt and walked over: “There are so many dishes, do you still want to do it.”

Jane Yi turned back and said, “Not a few, just happened to be out today, so I bought some ingredients back you go sit and rest, I’ll just call you when it’s ready.”

“It’s okay, I’ll join you.”

Jane Yi put down the knife in her hand and pushed him out of the kitchen, “No really, I’ll do it, you can go play with Pupu for a while.”

Nathan was silent: “Good.”

At this time, Pupu was lying on the couch chewing on a toy.

Nathan walked over and teased him with his food.

After Jane Yi’s teaching, Pupu has learned the basic commands and rarely pees in the bathroom, but mostly goes out.

Nathan trained Pupu as he looked into the kitchen.

He felt that Jane Yi was strange today.

After almost half an hour, Jane Yi said, “It’s time to eat.”

Nathan looked at the large table of dishes and spoke tentatively, "Is it your birthday, I'm sorry, I didn't know, I"

Jane Yi laughed and sat across from him, "It's not my birthday, isn't it Christmas in a few days."

"It's still a week away, it's not too early to pass."

Jane Yi kept the smile on her face and poured a little wine into his glass, "My friend found me a place to live and I'm moving out tomorrow, so it's an early Christmas."

Nathan frowned slightly, "So sudden?"

"I've been asking my friends to help me find a place to live, and I just happened to find a particularly suitable one here" Jane Yi picked up her glass of wine, "Enough about that, I wish you a happy Christmas in advance. Merry Christmas in advance."

Nathan took the glass but didn't drink: "Then I'll get off work early tomorrow and send you over."

"No really, my friend is coming to pick me up tomorrow morning."

Without another word, Nathan tilted his head and downed the wine in his glass.

Jane Yi said, "Thank you for this period of time, there should be no more trouble to you in the future."

"You're welcome."

Jane Yi smiled, "Let's eat."

Chapter 1266-After eating, Nathan was just about to clean up the dishes when Jane Yi got up and said, "I'll do it."

Nathan withdrew his hand.

He glanced at the balcony: "I'll go and put away the clothes."

"Good."

One of the two walked towards the kitchen and the other towards the balcony.

Nathan took the clothes off the electric drying rack and was a little distracted throughout as he folded them.

He wanted her to stay, but there wasn't the slightest reason to do so.

Folding the clothes, Nathan exhaled as he took Jane Yi's clothes and took them to her room.

After Nathan put the clothes in the small sofa, he was about to leave when he saw a paper bag sitting next to him.

And inside the paper bag, is a beautifully packaged box.

Nathan hesitated before reaching out and opening the box.

Inside the box is a men's watch, just the glass of the dial, has broken into many pieces.

Jane Yi washed the dishes and came over and saw it and said, "You"

Nathan took the watch and looked at her, "Is this for me?"

Jane Yi nodded, came over and took the watch from his hand and stuffed it into the box: "It's broken, I'll take it tomorrow and fix it, and then give it to you when it's fixed."

"How it's broken."

Jane Yi didn't say anything, just put the box back into the paper bag.

Nathan looked at her and said, "I looked at the date, it's today, you can't be out of the store on one foot and broken like this on the other."

Jane Yi said, "Just accidentally fell when I came back, so"

At that, Nathan's eyes went a few degrees colder: "Did Kane come to you?"

Jane Yi hurriedly waved her hands: "No, no, it's nothing to do with him, it's really my own fall."

"Where did you fall, before or after you got in the car, in the neighborhood or outside the neighborhood."

Faced with these questions, Jane Yi opened her mouth, but could not answer.

Nathan said, "Whether it's the neighborhood, or the store where you bought the watch, the mall, there's surveillance."

Half a minute later, Jane Yi hung her head, not knowing what to say.

"So the reason you're moving out isn't even about some friend of yours finding you a place to live, but that Kane has approached you?" Nathan's brow scowled colder, "Did he threaten you?"

Jane Yi silent before saying, "In fact, I moved away and he did not have much to do with it, I just think that I have troubled you enough, should not have been"

"It's not a problem if I say so."

Jane Yi looked up at him and gently pursed her lips: "I know, you are because I have helped you, and saw that scene at the wedding, you feel sorry for me, sympathize with me, I really thank you, in my most helpless time, can lend a helping hand, but really enough, we have not known each other for a long time, you do not need for me"

"I like you."

Jane Yi froze: "Huh?"

Nathan looked at her and spoke word for word, "I said, I'm not pitying you or sympathizing with you, I like you, so this is all willingly done by me."

Jane Yi didn't expect him to say that out of the blue, and with what happened to Kane today, her mind was in turmoil: "I"

“Jane Yi, I know it’s not the right time to say this, but I know my feelings very well, and I won’t let you move out at this juncture of injury.”

It was only after a long time that Jane Yi said, “Do you know that as long as Kane refuses to set me free, I will always be his nominal wife, and if I stay here, do you know what will happen.”

Chapter 1267-Nathan said, “He really did threaten you.”

Jane Yi looked away sideways: “I didn’t mean that, I

“I know that no matter what I say now, I can’t dispel your worries, but I hope you can trust me, I don’t want you to face all this alone.”

Without waiting for Jane Yi to speak, Nathan continued, “Jane Yi, this matter is far from being as simple as you think. Do you know why Kane visited your father in the hospital and why he repeatedly suggested that you put your father in a mental hospital.”

Jane Yi froze at the sound of her voice: “Why?”

Nathan lifted his leg and walked to the living room and took out a kraft paper bag, “This information, I still have a few places to verify the final results, but it shouldn’t be too far off, I didn’t want to tell you yet, but you can’t go face Kane alone.”

Jane Yi took it from his hand and opened it quickly.

Nathan said at the same time: “Two years ago, your father was responsible for that project in the midway, there has been a problem, your father sent the relevant data to the group headquarters several times, requesting the immediate cessation of construction, but all stone sunk. Not long after, your father lost his footing and fell off the building. And that project, which finally crossed directly over the subsidiary to Kane’s hands, has been stopped, claiming to the public that it had to be stopped because of your father’s accident.”

Jane Yi looked at the information and frowned more and more: “You mean, my father’s fall was not an accident?”

“The timing is too coincidental, and I went and checked the Bates Group’s books, and something is very wrong, and a large amount of that money went through that project that your father was in charge of, but the weird thing is that there is not a single penny left on that project.”

Nathan concluded, “So, I suspect that your dad found out that they were embezzling public funds and transferring assets before they were

He didn’t finish the rest of his sentence, but Jane Yi had understood it completely.

Her hands were shaking as she held the document, her whole face without the slightest hint of blood, biting her lips tightly.

If this was put in the past, others told her, she absolutely could not believe it.

But now, now

She's seen too many sides of Kane.

And she had suspected this aspect before, but how could she not have thought that it would be this answer.

Jane Yi was silent for a long time: "I want to go see my father."

In fact, every time her dad woke up, Kane was there when she went.

No wonder Kane wanted to send her father to a mental hospital by all means.

Nathan grabbed his jacket, "I'll go with you."

This time, Jane Yi did not refuse.

On the way to the hospital, Nathan said, "By the way, after Lulu was reminded by you, it seems she also went to investigate this matter."

Jane Yi always frowned, "So is she in danger?"

Lulu is not a good person either, but her badness is nothing compared to Kane and his son.

Nathan said, "Don't worry, since she can stay by Kane's side for two years, it proves that she is not that simple, what's more, she is still carrying Kane's baby in her belly, she will not be in danger."

Jane Yi didn't speak anymore, leaning against the car window, not knowing what she was thinking.

It's been two years, and she's only now learning about it.

She didn't know how her dad had spent the last two years in the hospital, under Kane's watchful eye.

She, the daughter, is really incompetent.

Chapter 1268-In the hospital, Jane Yi's father was sitting alone on the hospital bed with his head hanging and his eyes a little lax.

At the door, the doctor said, "He was like this when he was never, not a word was spoken, but relative to other patients suffering from the same disease, he was the quietest one, never made a scene, and every time he was treated, he was very cooperative. Cooperate so that I feel"

Jane Yi was already in tears watching the scene.

She looked to the doctor, "Think what?"

"Like a puppet on a string, without his own soul and mind, doing whatever he is told to do." The doctor said, "Usually when this happens, it should be because he had a strong resistance before when facing the treatment, and then"

The rest of the words, he did not say, Jane Yi also know.

She wiped her tears and gently walked up to David and slowly squatted down: "Dad, I'm Jane, do you still recognize me."

David acted as if he hadn't heard, still looking and in the same state as before.

Jane Yi continues, "Dad, I"

When she opened her mouth, she couldn't help but choke up, and tears fell down.

No matter how many times she called out to David, he remained unresponsive.

Finally, Jane Yi leaned over his knee and let out a loud cry.

Nathan exhaled and walked into the ward and helped her up, "As long as your father is willing to cooperate with the treatment, then he will definitely get better slowly."

Jane Yi sobbed uncontrollably, "The last time I saw my father, he was clearly not like this, he still recognized me and could call me by my name, but he is now"

Nathan took her in his arms and patted her back, whispering soothingly, "It's all going to be okay."

The doctor also said, "At times like this, the family can't be discouraged, and if you're okay, you can come see the patient more often to stimulate his memory."

Jane Yi nodded, "I'll come over every day from now on."

The doctor said, "Too diligent also can not, once a week, and you can not come alone, must contact us in advance, the patient is now a quiet state, but does not mean that he will not appear to hurt people's actions."

Jane Yi hung her head, "I know."

Nathan said, "I'll come with you next time."

Jane Yi looked up at him, her eyes full of tears.

It wasn't long before visiting hours were over.

Nathan took her hand, "Let's go."

"Good."

Jane Yi followed him out the door, taking three steps back.

Just as she was about to walk to the door, she suddenly heard an inaudible voice: "Jane"

It's like a whisper, and it's like talking to yourself.

Jane Yi snapped back and ran to David: "It's me, Daddy I'm here."

David Ong moved his lips and made the sound again, "Jane....."

But his gaze was not or unfocused.

Jane Yi's nose tingled: "Dad."

The doctor said, "It's normal, he talks to himself like this occasionally."

Jane Yi took a deep breath: "Dad, don't worry, I won't just let go of the suffering you've suffered, I'll definitely find Kane and Tom to settle these accounts."

After the words, she got up and was about to leave when her wrist was suddenly gripped.

David's dry hands grabbed her, and there seemed to be more than a little fear in his hollow, cloudy eyes: "No, don't go, don't go to them"

Jane Yi hurriedly said, "Dad, are you remembering something?"

Yet David was the one who kept repeating the words, "Don't go don't go"

Chapter 1269-After returning, Jane Yi locked herself in her room alone.

Nathan stood outside for a moment, his outstretched hand eventually retracted.

She needs to be left alone now.

Nathan returned to the couch and pulled the findings on the Bates Group out of the kraft paper bag and re-flipped through it to see if he could find any other clues.

Time passed, and soon the sky began to turn light.

When Jane Yi came out, she saw Nathan leaning back in the couch, asleep, with the file in his hand.

Pupu was lying next to him.

Jane Yi pursed her lips, picked up the thin blanket next to her, and covered him with it.

She just looked at Nathan and remembered his confession last night.

Last night she was so focused on her dad that she didn't have time to think much about

Nathan was far better than she thought, and he could obviously find a girl many times better than her.

This time she was doomed to die with the Bates Family, and she wasn't willing to drag him into the mess.

Jane Yi turned around and went back to her room, grabbed her things, and left without a word.

The moment she closed the door, Pupu jumped out of the couch and screamed.

Nathan woke up with a start, opened his eyes and rubbed his temples.

He watched Pupu standing in the doorway wagging his tail and suddenly realized what was going on, got up and went in stride to Jane Yi's room, which was empty.

Should have only been gone a short time.

Nathan opened the door and gave chase.

Jane Yi had just walked downstairs when she heard someone calling her.

She turned her head, slightly surprised, and said, "How do you"

Nathan looked at the luggage in her hand and frowned, "Are you still leaving."

Jane Yi said seriously, "Before, when I didn't know about my dad's situation, I thought it was between me and Kane, but now it's obviously different, and I can't watch my dad get hurt like that by them and not do anything about it."

"Even if you want to go for revenge, you should think long and hard about it."

Jane Yi was silent: "Nathan, I know you want to help me, but I don't want to hurt you either. I know it's impossible for me to shake the Bates Group by myself, but you have your own life and shouldn't be involved."

Nathan said, "It's been involved for a long time."

Jane Yi slightly froze: "You"

"Whether it's Kane, or Tom, they all know I took you away, do you think I'm going to be able to do it alone."

Jane Yi hurriedly said, "I will talk to them clearly, this matter has nothing to do with you, you just"

Nathan laughed, "If they were really as reasonable as you say they are, they wouldn't have come this far."

Jane Yi was speechless for a moment.

Nathan held her shoulders and said slowly, "I told you, I won't let you face this alone, just stay here without worry, Kane he can't do anything about you."

Jane Yi's eyes were a little moist: "Nathan, I really don't deserve"

"You're worth it or not, I'm the one who says so." Nathan looked at her, "Jane Yi, it's not you who's at fault in this whole thing, you're the victim, you're better than anyone else. So you don't have to come on yourself because of someone else's fault."

Jane Yi's tears fell without warning.

After what had happened during this time, she had almost lost faith in life and love.

But I never thought that at such a time, there would be someone who could stand firmly by her side and tell her that she was the victim and that none of this was her fault.

Nathan gently took her in his arms, "Go back and let me face all this with you."

Chapter 1270-On the other hand, Lulu also found out about this affair two years ago.

Once she had enough evidence, she went straight to Kane's door.

Kane looked at her impatiently, "Didn't I tell you not to come looking for me?"

Lulu petulantly snuggled up to him: "Oh, even if I don't come to you, but the baby in my belly misses his father, he can think about it every day, net toss me."

Kane pulled his arm out of her arms and didn't treat her any better just because of the baby: "I've been busy lately, so go back and I'll see you when I'm free."

Lulu was unhappy, "What do you have to be busy with, before it was because of Jane Yi, are you still not dead to her now?"

Kane didn't say anything, and his face grew harder and harder.

Although he now knows that Jane Yi is at Nathan's, he has never found David's location.

It's hard not to worry about this time bomb.

Lulu leaned back in the sofa and spoke up nicely, "If I say, I can help you, then can you have dinner with me tonight?"

Kane looked back at her, "What can you do to help me, stop it and hurry back."

Lulu hummed and took out a kraft paper bag from the bag she carried with her, "Look at this."

Kane unwrapped it even though he had some rice.

Lulu continued: "I said how you like Jane Yi so much, it turns out there are these reasons, this thing about that event all the information, are here, as long as you destroy, this thing no one knows."

With that, she leaned over Kane's shoulder and laughed, "Well, I told you I could help you."

Kane's face had begun to change when he saw that information, and he turned his head to look at Lulu with a shady look in his eyes.

Lulu probably also sensed a hint of danger, she stepped back a little: "I am trying to help you, I promise, what is in here, no third person has ever seen it again, I"

"How did you find out about all this."

At that, Lulu breathed a sigh of relief: "I have at least been your secretary for more than a year, although these things are not good to check, but with a little effort, you can still find out."

Kane put the information back into the paper bag, "It seems you do have some ability."

Lulu laughed, "Of course, if I'm not capable, how can I stay by your side for so long?"

"You're right." Kane tossed the paper bag on the table, "I really don't have anything to worry about anymore, let's go eat together."

Lulu was instantly delighted, "Really?"

"Really, but I don't want to go out to eat, go back to your place."

Lulu happily hugged his arm, and even the tone of her voice was suffused with joy: "Yes, yes, I'll make it for you when we get back."

While they were leaving the office, Lulu said, "What do you want to eat? I've learned a few new dishes recently."

Kane said, "Anything, just do what you know how to do."

Lulu was so happy that she didn't notice that Kane's attitude was very different from before.

Kane inclined his head to look at her and narrowed his eyes slightly.

This world, not to mention the third person.

No one, not a single person, can know what's in it.

Since she wants to bump into it herself, it's not his fault.
