

Mr Conrad 1271

Chapter 1271-In the evening, while Lulu was cooking in the kitchen, she secretly took a picture of Kane when he wasn't looking and sent it to Jane Yi.

Lulu: [Thank you for the reminder, Kane is now home with me for dinner, we are a good family, he won't go back to you in the future].

After editing, Lulu sent it straight out.

This text message is more like a provocation than a thank you.

Jane Yi frowned slightly when she received this message.

Nathan saw this and asked, "What's wrong?"

Jane Yi showed him the text message, "I always feel that things are not that simple, Lulu will never just compromise if he threatens Kane with what happened two years ago."

Nathan looked at the text message: "Kane this person, although not as calm and steady-minded as his father, but he also has a segment to do things, the year the matter was handled so clean, definitely more than just rely on his father."

"So then ..... Lulu could be in danger?"

"I can't say, it depends on how they talk or how much she has found out about it all."

Jane Yi shook her head: "According to what I've learned about Kane afresh during this time, no matter how much Lulu has found out, as long as it's related to this matter, he won't show mercy."

Said Jane Yi and murmured, "But Lulu is at least still pregnant with his child ....."

Nathan said, "Do you think that a man like him would care about a child."

Jane Yi looked at him sharply.

Lulu finished the last dish and brought it to the table, "Honey, come and try my cooking."

Kane walked over, looked at the large table of dishes and laughed, "So much?"

Lulu took his arm: "Of course, these are all my best dishes, you haven't come to me for a long time, come and try them, see if my skills have gotten better."

Kane sat down at the table and looked around, "No wine?"

Lulu immediately turned towards the wine cabinet, "Yes, this is still left over from your last drink, there's still half a bottle."

Kane looked at the glass of wine in front of him, "Aren't you going to drink."

Lulu rubbed her only son, full of happiness: "The doctor said, for the sake of the baby in my belly, not to let me drink."

Kane laughed, refilled a glass and pushed it in front of her: "Now those doctors' words just have to be heard, it's okay to drink less."

Lulu thought of Kane's difficulty in eating with her, and did not want to spoil his mood, so she immediately agreed: "Then I'll drink a little with you."

Halfway through the meal, Kane looked at two-thirds of the wine left in Lulu's glass: "That information you showed me today, and showed it to others."

Lulu said, "No, I went to investigate all these things myself, how could I show them to others."

"Oh?" Kane spoke nonchalantly, "So what made you suddenly think to look into these things."

Lulu paused before saying, "Then you can't get mad when I say that."

Kane laughed, "Of course, how could I possibly be mad at you."

Lulu said, "Actually it was Jane Yi who came to me a few days ago, she said that if I do this, you will marry me. As for me, I don't expect you to marry me now, I just want you to treat me and the baby in my belly well."

At that, Kane's face immediately went cold: "What else did she say to you?"

Chapter 1272-Lulu was so asked by him, eyes unconsciously dodge, holding a glass of wine pouted: "Today so happy, do not mention that spoilers, OK, we ... ah!"

Kane swatted the glass out of her hand, and it fell to the floor and cracked with a crash.

He no longer even bothered to disguise himself with a shady look on his face: "I'll ask you again, what all she can say."

Lulu was frightened, and only after a long time Weng moved her lips and said, "She said that you have many other women, and I am just one of them. She also said ... that if I could marry you, you wouldn't go after her, so that's why she ..."

Before she could say anything, Kane had already lifted all the dishes on the table to the floor, spilling soup and water all over the floor.

Lulu sat there with a frightened face, her nerves tense.

Kane half mocked, half laughed: "Did I tell you to stay away from her? You didn't listen at the wedding, do you know how much trouble you caused me, and now once again!"

"No no!" Lulu hurriedly went to pull his arm, "I didn't find her this time, she took the initiative to find me, it was her ..."

Kane shakes her off hard, and the next second, Lulu falls to the floor covered with pieces of cutlery.

Her eyes widened incredulously, and before her body could react, she saw blood flowing out along the way.

Lulu just felt her scalp tingling: "Child, my child ..."

Kane half-crouched in front of her: "I'm asking you one last time, the information, who else has read it, or rather, who else knows about it."

Lulu looked at Kane in front of her, only to feel strange and scary, she shook her head hard: "No no ... absolutely not, only I have seen it alone, and I definitely did not tell a third person."

A smile appeared on Kane's face, "That's good."

Lulu held out her hand almost pleadingly, "Ambulance, call an ambulance for me ..."

Kane stood up and found Lulu's phone from the floor, he glanced at it, "Since you want this kid so badly, die here with him."

After the words, he approached the kitchen, turned on the gas, and then left with a big stride.

All that was left was Lulu shouting behind her, tearing her heart out, "Kane! That bastard!"

She was covered in debris underneath her, and almost as soon as she moved, a cut appeared on her body, and the messy vegetable soup that was mixed together soaked into the wound, plus the painful tearing sensation coming from her belly.

Lulu crawled only a few steps, lost consciousness for fear of pain, and fell to the ground.

When Jane Yi and Nathan felt it, they smelled the smell of gas at the door.

Nathan said, "You go to the property, let them evacuate the occupants here, I'll try to see if the door can open."

Jane Yi nodded in a hurry, "Good."

Nathan kicked the door hard, but the security door did not move.

Soon, people from the property also arrived, and with their help, the door was finally cracked open.

As soon as the door opened, a strong smell of coal hit the nose.

The next second, they saw Lulu lying on her back in the middle of the living room, touching the ground.

Jane Yi ran over: "I've called the police, the police will be ... soon"

Nathan immediately pulled her back and covered her eyes.

Jane Yi froze, and then stood quietly.

Even without asking, she could tell what was going on here.

Finally it was the people from the property who combined their efforts to carry Lulu out and put her in the ambulance.

Chapter 1273-Lulu spent the whole night in the emergency room. When she came out, Jane Yi was told that the baby in Lulu's belly was gone and that she had multiple infected and festering wounds all over her body.

Although it is saved, but the next life is estimated to be bad.

Jane Yi only felt cold hands and feet, even though she thought that Kane might Lulu to do it, but did not think it would be in such a vicious way, she did not dare to imagine that she almost married with such a person.

If it's not Lulu lying here today, it's her.

Nathan held her arm: "Leave the rest to the police, let's go back first."

Jane Yi grabbed his hand, her body couldn't stop shaking: "You say, if I didn't ask Lulu to check on Kane, then wouldn't she ..."

Nathan said, "Don't think so much about it, this has nothing to do with you, even if you don't let her check on Kane, they won't be any better, this incident just intensifies the conflict."

"But ..."

"Well, you've done all you need to do." Nathan said, "If it weren't for you, she'd probably be a cold corpse by now, and you saved her."

Jane Yi heard him say that before she gradually regained her composure, her gaze was more determined than ever: "I will bring Kane to justice and make him pay the price he deserves!"

...

In the morning, when Nathan arrived at the office in a hurry, he heard the whole office discussing the news of the Bates Group's son's accident.

He froze slightly, then adjusted his mood and delivered the file to Clarence's office.

Clarence finished signing and looked up at him, "You didn't say anything to say to me?"

Nathan said, "You know all about the Bates Group?"

Clarence put a copy of the information in front of him, "This is all the evidence of Kane's crimes, as well as evidence of Tom's collusion with foreign companies, illegal financing, embezzlement, and transfer of property."

"Mr. Conrad ..."

"No need to thank me, you're moving too slowly." Clarence paused before saying again, "Newlywed gift."

Nathan: "..."

He laughed dryly twice, "Mr. Conrad is so funny."

The evidence, he already has half of it, but also looking for the right opportunity to expose, after all, Bates Group is not a small company, there are certain contacts and influence.

Nathan even never thought of using his position as CEO of Conrad Group to do so.

Mr. Conrad is the man to beat when things go wrong.

Clarence raised his eyebrows, "Not getting married? Then I take it back."

Nathan immediately went up and took it in his hand, "Thank you Mr. Conrad."

Clarence said, "All right, let's get this over with and get this over with as soon as possible, with the Bates Group and your personal business."

Nathan nodded, "Okay."

Nathan left the president's office and took the evidence directly to the police station.

As he sent it to the police, the people there did not dare to slow down, then launched an investigation, but a morning, Tom was taken to the investigation, Kane is at large, the entire Bates Group was also seized.

After the Bates Family's incident, many people who had suffered at their hands instantly came out to denounce the Bates Group, which was originally a beautiful and unlimited Bates Group, fell in an instant.

Kane seems to have noticed like hiding, ID cards and passports all taken away, even Tom does not know his whereabouts, but the only thing that can be determined is that he is currently still in City N and has not left.

Chapter 1274-The next period of time, Jane Yi every day is the mental hospital and Lulu in the hospital to run both sides, under her careful care, David also gradually improve, he is not like before so mute, occasionally will look at Jane Yi brought the past photos, to Jane Yi as a child Jane Yi chattering about something.

And Lulu woke up a week later with her whole body wrapped around the couch except for her head.

Lulu was lying on the bed, her eyes without the slightest focus on the top of her head.

Jane Yi sat next to her: "The Bates Group is bankrupt and Kane is absconding. Don't worry, he'll get what he deserves."

Lulu did not speak and could not say anything.

She closed her eyes slightly and tears slipped from the corners of her eyes.

Half a month later, Lulu, who had recovered a bit, gave the police a clue that Kane had a small apartment on the east side of town, which his deceased mother had left him.

Lulu has been there a few times with Kane, so she knows.

By the time the police arrived, Kane had just jumped out of the window and left.

But he has nowhere else to go, and being caught is just a matter of two days.

In the morning, when Nathan went out, he saw Jane Yi had also changed her clothes, and he said, "Lulu's side, are you still going?"

Jane Yi shook her head, "No, I'm not going, I'm going back to work."

"At work?"

"Yes, and now that things have come to an end, it's time for me to go back to work."

Nathan said, "Then I'll give you a ride."

Jane Yi said, "Good."

Jane Yi went back to the hospital where she worked before, and after she rejoined, she received a lot of interest from her colleagues in all directions.

In the afternoon, Jane Yi had just finished checking the wards and was about to go back to her office when she felt like someone was staring at her behind her, she looked back but only saw an empty corridor.

She walked over to the nurse's desk, "Did you guys just see any strangers around here?"

Both nurses shook their heads, "Dr. Yi, we've been here the whole time and haven't seen any strangers."

Jane Yi smiled slightly, "Yes, thank you."

Then maybe she's overthinking it.

In the evening, when she went back, Jane Yi couldn't ignore the strange feeling she had today.

She always felt that someone was following her.

Jane Yi made a point of taking the bus and heading for a more crowded area.

She would also turn around from time to time, but everything was fine behind her.

Could it really be that she was overthinking it.

Once inside the neighborhood, Jane Yi pulled on the bag strap and walked a little faster.

She was alone all the way up to the elevator.

When she got off the elevator, she walked to the door and was just about to open it when a sudden stinging coldness hit her neck: "Don't make a sound!"

The bag in Jane Yi's hand fell to the ground.

Inside, Pupu heard the commotion outside and screamed frantically, but couldn't get out.

Kane held her hostage with a dagger and descended the stairs through the security tunnel.

Worried all day, to this time, Jane Yi suddenly feel more calm than ever, she walked while saying, "Kane, you go to turn yourself in, can be lighter ..."

"Shut up!" Kane was filled with hostility, "If it wasn't for you, I wouldn't be in this situation today. Jane Yi, do you know how much I love you, I gave everything I had for you!"

At that, Jane Yi only felt ridiculous: "If you really love me, why do you want to be with Lulu."

"It's all because that woman forced me to, she and I were just playing games!"

Jane Yi didn't want to anger him and eased up, "Okay, I believe what you're saying."

Chapter 1275-Nathan got off the elevator, saw the bag at the door, and felt something was wrong.

After he approached quickly, he heard Pupu calling from inside and none of Jane Yi was in the house.

Nathan turned his head and scanned the surrounding area, finally resting his eyes on the safe passage.

He took Jane Yi's bag and went downstairs while calling the property: "Help me to retrieve the surveillance within half an hour ... No, now, switch to all exits and parking lots."

This bag are still warm, they should have just left not long ago.

After hanging up the phone, Nathan immediately dialed the police again.

He chased them all the way downstairs and found Jane Yi's mark on the wall where she had scratched it with her bracelet.

Underground parking.

As expected, Nathan just ran down and received a call from the property, saying that they had just seen a figure behaving strangely at Exit 2 while looking at the surveillance footage, and they had sent security over.

Before the words were out of his mouth, Nathan saw a black Jetta coming at him fast.

The car never slowed down, but when it reached him, it suddenly made a big, hard turn, then stepped on the gas and headed for the exit.

Nathan turned around, ran to his car, and chased after it as fast as he could.

Inside the car, Kane slapped one hand hard on the steering wheel and yelled at the top of his lungs, "Why did you save him, why did you save him? You're in love with him aren't you!"

Jane Yi, half of whose face had been slapped, huddled by the car door without making a sound.

Kane is now completely insane.

If she hadn't gone for the steering wheel, Nathan would have died.

Kane cursed as he sprinted out of the underground parking lot and headed down the road.

Along the way, he forced many cars to stop, laughing more and more maniacal: "Anyway, all this, I can not go back, then I simply die together, we can not live to do husband and wife, at least dead can still do a pair of lovebirds."

Jane Yi took a deep breath, "Kane, have you been to see my dad."

Kane wrinkled his brow fiercely, "What are you bringing this up for now?"

"Nothing, I'm just quite curious how you swore and said you loved me when my father was tortured by you like that."

Kane sneered: "Your father was just too stupid. I promised to give him a lot of money to shut him up, but he didn't. He had to report it, and what did he get? He deserved it!"

Immediately afterwards, he added: "If your father really did it for your own good, he would have died long ago, or it wouldn't have turned out this way between us."

"So you approached me on purpose because of what happened to my dad."

Kane's eyes were wide open: "I've told you many times, I love you and I love you! I'm with you because I love you, otherwise your psychotic father would have died long ago and would not be alive now!"

"Since you love me, pull over and I'll go with you to turn yourself in."

"Jane Yi, do you take me for a fool? If I go and turn myself in now, will I have a chance to live."

Jane Yi looked at the car that was driving faster and faster, reached out and grabbed the seat belt tightly, trying to calm himself down: "There is, as long as you go to turn yourself in for sure, but if you are like now, do not know repentance, there is no chance."

Kane laughed out loud at that, "Chance? I have no chance long ago, all because of you, because of Nathan, you were with me earlier, there would not be all these things at all!"

Chapter 1276-Kane car drove up the elevated, followed by many police cars, the sound of sirens every time in making his face become more ugly.

Despite this, he did not have the slightest intention to stop, instead he stepped on the gas and drove faster and faster.

This situation, the police car also dare not force him to stop.

Car after car on the road, Kane drove fast, there is no intention to avoid, hitting several bodies one after another.

Jane Yi was thrown into the corner, feeling pain all over her body, the world in front of her eyes was black and white for a while.

She had no more strength to struggle.

Just as she was about to give up, she suddenly saw in the right rearview mirror the car that had been following closely behind them not far away.

It's Nathan's.

Jane Yi suddenly felt very selfish for wanting to give up on the idea just now.

Even Nathan hasn't given up on her yet, so how can she just give up on herself?

Jane Yi suddenly regained her strength, she saw that not far away was a fork in the road, there was one blocked by several barricades, should be in the repair of the road or something else.

She grabbed the wheel when Kane wasn't looking and sent the car over the roadblock.

The black Jetta also lost its direction because of this move of hers and became swayed left and right.

The car following closely behind also found this.

Just as Kane and Jane Yi grabbed the steering wheel, Nathan's car quickly rushed up and alibi'd the black Jetta.

Kane was reluctant and was planning to rush out in the other direction when several police cars suddenly surrounded him and he had nowhere to run.

Kane took out the dagger he had on him again and put it against Jane Yi's neck, "Get out of the car."

Jane Yi gently pursed her lips and slowly opened the car door.

That's what Nathan saw when he got out of his car and ran over.

Kane shouted at him, "Stay back, all of you! If you take one more step closer, I'll kill her!"

Nathan lifted his hand, "Kane, calm down, don't hurt her."

The more he said that, the more Kane sneered: "She is my wife, I can do whatever I want to her, it has nothing to do with you, with any of you!"

Nathan said, "Let her go first, and we can talk about everything else."

"I don't want to talk to you!" Kane held Jane Yi hostage and walked to the bridge, "Nathan, it's all because of you, if you hadn't ruined our relationship, we wouldn't have gotten to this point at all!"

He said, his hand against Jane Yi's neck with force: "You tell him that you don't love him, that it was always me you loved, and that it was he who broke our relationship! Say it!"

Nathan looked at the deepening wound on Jane Yi's neck and coldened his voice: "Kane, I'll say it again, let her go."

Kane nudged Jane Yi: "Say it!"

Jane Yi closed her eyes and said to Nathan, "Take care of my dad for me."

After the words, she quickly turned around and jumped off the bridge with Kane in her arms.

Kane was obviously unprepared for this situation, the whole person is too late to react, the body just leaned back over.

The fastest reactor was Nathan, who rushed over and grabbed Jane Yi's hand in an almost lightning-fast moment.

Jane Yi also did not expect him to catch himself and looked up incredulously.

At the same time, with a thud, Kane fell into the river under the bridge.

Bars sprouted on Nathan's arm as he said, "Don't let go."

Jane Yi said, "Let go or you'll fall off too."

Nathan gritted his teeth and said in one word, "No release."

Chapter 1277-Soon, the surrounding police officers rushed over and together they pulled Jane Yi up.

Jane Yi had just stood on the ground when she was hugged tightly in someone's arms.

In her ears, all that remained was the wind howling around her.

Nathan said dully, "Next time, don't do something so stupid."

Jane Yi pursed her lips and gently placed her hand on his waist.

She didn't actually think she would survive.

Kane is clearly planning to pull her down with him, so instead of sticking around, she should just die with him.

But she seems to have, once again, ignored Nathan's feelings.

Jane Yi said in a muffled voice, "I'm sorry."

Nathan let her go and looked at the blood on her neck, "Go get the wound taken care of first."

In the hospital.

Jane Yi emerged from the doctor's office with a wrap of gauze around her neck.

At the same time, Nathan received a call from the police that Kane had been found and was on his way to the hospital.

Jane Yi looked at the sky outside and suddenly spoke, "I miss my dad."

Nathan said, "I'll walk you to him."

When they arrived, the doctor was examining David.

Up to now, he has completely recovered from the old injuries he used to have, and now all he can do is heal slowly.

Jane Yi sat down next to David: "Dad, I'm here."

David at first are still very normal, until he saw Jane Yi neck spilled blood, suddenly became anxious a few: "blood, blood ... Jane, blood ... "

Jane Yi took his hand: "Dad I'm fine, just a small injury, I'll be fine soon."

David looked at her, tears sprang up in his eyes, and it took him a long time to say a complete sentence, "It's dad who didn't take care of you ..."

Jane Yi couldn't help the sourness in her nose as she got up and hugged David: "Dad, you've done so well, I've done you a disservice."

Saying that, she took a breath, "But don't worry, Kane and Tom, father and son, have been caught, they will get what they deserve, and the Bates Group has gone bankrupt."

David froze and regained his silence.

Throughout the night, Jane Yi stayed by David's side, even when he was asleep.

And after taking a few calls and dealing with Kane's follow-up, Nathan sat down on a bench outside the hospital room.

In the morning, when Jane Yi came out of the ward, she saw Nathan leaning against the wall, asleep.

His white shirt was stained with blood.

Jane Yi noticed that he seemed to have an injury on his arm.

It should have been left by him to save her when she fell off the bridge.

Jane Yi went to the nurse and asked for iodine and cotton swabs to disinfect the wound, then went back to Nathan and used small scissors to cut open his shirt at the arm, then used a cotton ball with iodine to treat the wound.

Despite her gentle movements, Nathan woke up.

He maintained his original posture and leaned there, looking at her without a moment's hesitation.

Probably Nathan's gaze was too intense, Jane Yi noticed that he was awake and looked up at him: "Your wounds are scabbed over, it may hurt a little, you bear with it, I ..."

Without speaking, Nathan inclined his head and kissed.

Jane Yi, still holding something in her hand, froze in place.

After a moment, Nathan backed away, looked away sideways, and coughed, "Sorry."

Jane Yi hung her head and continued to medicate him, then picked up the gauze and wrapped it around in a circle.

She said, "Do you have to go to work today?"

Nathan glanced at the wound: "Just go back and change your clothes."

"So ... what do you want to eat tonight? I'll make it for you."

Chapter 1278-Even though Nathan went back to change his clothes and didn't show anything unusual while working, Clarence still looked at him after the meeting, "Hurt?"

Nathan froze, "How did Mr. Conrad see that?"

Did the wound split open? It shouldn't have.

Clarence said, "I watched the news."

Nathan: "..."

Clarence lifted his leg and headed for his office, "After things are taken care of here, make a trip to Riverside City and pick up Grace."

Nathan followed him, "Isn't Grace in therapy and done with it?"

"This cycle is over, and for the next one, watch Archer arrange it."

"Isn't Vincent coming back?"

Clarence sneered, "Do you think he's reliable?"

Nathan Murray, indeed, is quite unreliable.

After returning to the office and contacting Riverside City, Nathan learns that Vincent took Grace to the bar last night and suffered a little shock and minor injuries.

Nathan felt that it wasn't that Vincent didn't want to come back, but that he wouldn't dare to come back for a short time.

In the evening, when Nathan went back, Pupu still immediately jumped on him.

Jane Yi has already prepared a table of food.

Halfway through the meal, Nathan said, "I'm going to make a trip to Riverside City in the next couple of days."

Jane Yi asked, "Business trip."

"Sort of, Grace is over there getting treatment and a little bit of an injury, I'm going to go get her back."

Jane Yi was stunned: "How did you get hurt?"

"I'm not sure of the specifics, I'll have to go over and see it to find out."

Jane Yi thought for a moment, "Then I'll join you."

Nathan said, "What about your job at the hospital?"

"The weekend after tomorrow, and I'm only back at the hospital now, with no patients or surgeries scheduled in hand yet, so I can go sometime."

"Okay, then we'll go together the day after tomorrow."

As Nathan's words fell, the four eyes met.

Jane Yi lowered her head to misplace her eyes, "Eat ... dinner."

After dinner, Nathan sits in the couch and takes care of work stuff.

Jane Yi carried the medicine box and walked next to him, "That, let me change your medicine first."

Nathan looked up at her, "Are you feeling better."

Jane Yi touched her neck: "Much better."

Without saying anything else, Nathan took off his suit jacket and rolled up the cuffs of his shirt.

The wound was above the arm and the shirt was stuck just halfway down.

Jane Yi removed the blood-stained gauze, but it was a little hard to apply the medicine.

She whispered, "Do you want to, take this off too?"

Nathan: "..."

Jane Yi immediately turned her head and stated, "I won't look."

In the next second, the sound of clothes rubbing sounded behind him.

Nathan said, "There you go."

Jane Yi turned her head and picked up the iodine and cotton balls again, but her eyes didn't stray halfway, staring intently at the location of his wound.

Nathan looked at her and suddenly spoke, "I thought you said that in the eyes of your doctors, there is no difference between male and female."

Jane Yi: "..."

She barely composed herself and said, "That's right."

"So, can you see clearly when you are like this."

"I can ..."

Jane Yi said halfway through the sentence, his hand did not notice the situation in front of him deflected a point, iodine volts fell on the coffee table.

She rushed to clean up, picking up the bottle to draw paper when her hand met Nathan's.

Jane Yi was like being laid by something and hurriedly withdrew her hand.

Nathan drew paper and wiped the iodine that had been poured on the table.

Inevitably, Jane Yi's eyes fell on him.

Nathan works out all year round and is in great shape, even when he sits, he can see the abs that are hidden.

Chapter 1279-Riverside City.

Since Grace's injury, Vincent probably had a weak heart and never showed up again.

In the lab, Grace was holding her doll, sitting quietly and nicely in the sofa, not making any noise or fuss, with a band-aid on her forehead.

After Archer finished his work and came out, he walked up to her and squatted down: "Can I take you home first tonight?"

Grace shook her head and didn't say a word.

Archer knew that she was waiting for Vincent to pick her up.

He added, "Vincent he ... has some business and probably won't be here today."

Grace looked at him and said seriously, "He'll come."

During this time, although Vincent always talked about impatience and scared Grace from time to time, saying that she should go back on her own, but every day after Grace's treatment, Vincent would wait outside.

Archer looked at the time and sat down next to her, "Then I'll wait with you a little longer."

After this period of treatment, although it could not completely turn Grace into a normal person, it was already much better than before.

In addition, Justin used to teach her common sense, and she has been able to take care of herself.

Archer asked her, "You're going back to City N in a couple of days, what do you want to do."

Grace hung her head: "Wanted to go see my brother."

"There's more."

Grace shook her head again, she didn't know.

After about half an hour, the people in the lab left one after another.

Archer got up and grabbed Grace's things, "Looks like he's not coming, let's go."

Grace did not speak again, holding the doll with Archer out of the laboratory, only to look more and more despondent.

Once outside, Archer was about to go to his car when he noticed a familiar figure across the street.

When Vincent saw them, he got into the car and tried to leave, but Archer stopped him: "What are you doing, when did you get here? Why don't you go inside and stand here?"

Vincent was silent for a moment and looked past him to Grace, who was standing not far away: "How is she, is she better?"

"Don't you know to see for yourself."

Not far away, Grace is holding a doll, stretching her neck to look this way, the original disappointed eyes, now filled with light.

Vincent coughed: "I that is not ... afraid of scaring her."

Vincent found that this little fool recently more and more sticky him, from the beginning, every day to listen to him talk about Justin, to later he walked a step to follow.

Two nights ago, a friend called him out for a drink, said all the beautiful women.

Since arriving in Riverside City, he hasn't had time to go to such a bureau in a while.

The little fool had to follow him, and he suddenly had some bad taste in his mouth and took her there.

Drinking? Naturally, there is not so much mind to take care of her.

But I didn't expect to have an accident just like that.

He really didn't mean to do it.

Seeing the bruise on her forehead, it was hard not to feel guilty.

Archer said, "You have this consciousness, what have you been doing."

Vincent didn't say anything.

Archer looked back at Grace and hesitated for a moment before saying, "Let me remind you again, Grace's illness makes her think differently from normal people, as long as she thinks a person is good for her, then she will identify that person and will not change no matter what happens."

Vincent was shocked: "What do you mean by that."

"Literally." Said Archer, underestimating again, "And I don't know what's good about you for her."

Vincent: "..."

Archer said, "All right, Clarence has asked Nathan to pick her up, you take care of her for two more days, after that, you don't have to worry about it."

Chapter 1280-After Archer left, Vincent still walked up to Grace and looked at the injury on her forehead, "Are you better?"

Grace hugged the doll and nodded gently, but her face was unspeakably aggrieved.

Vincent coughed, "Well, let me take you back."

Sitting in the car, Grace kept looking out the window.

Vincent remembered what Archer had just said to him and spoke, "In a couple of days, Nathan will come to pick you up, so you can go back with him then."

Grace snapped her head around and looked at him with big eyes, as if to ask, "Aren't you coming along?"

Vincent added: "I ... still have things to deal with over here, you stay with him first, and I'll go back after a while."

Grace was quiet for a moment and whispered, "Are you doing this because you don't want to see me."

Vincent was shocked: "Who told you that?"

Grace lowered her head again, "No, I guessed it myself."

"So why do you ... have this idea?"

"Because you took me out to play and I got hurt and you had a bad time, so you don't want to take me out to play in the future."

Vincent: "..."

What had he done to make her think such terrible thoughts.

Vincent said, "I admit that there is indeed a reason for this, but not because I am not having fun, because ... I think that I am quite unreliable, you will only get hurt if you follow me."

Archer is right, this time it's a minor injury, next time it could be a major one.

Grace's head hung even lower: "But you will tell me so much about my brother."

"Actually, I made those up ..." Vincent said squarely, "and they can tell you, too, what you want to hear, and I'll have Nathan tell you."

Grace did not speak again.

In the car, it was quiet again.

Upon arriving at Vincent's residence, Grace got out of the car and locked herself in her room.

Vincent stood at the door of the room, reached out his hand to knock, and withdrew it.

He is really not going to coax a small child, especially or ... angry and disturbed.

Not long after, Vincent's cell phone rang, it was a friend asking him to go out for a drink, he was a little impatient: "No."

A friend joked, "Is that little fool in your family not letting you go again."

Vincent said, "What nonsense, moreover, how is she stupid, she just thinks differently from us, she is much smarter than you."

"Don't you always say she's a little fool, why are you still in a hurry."

Vincent: "..."

He hung up the phone in annoyance.

Vincent nestled in the couch, looking up at the overhead light and wondering what he was thinking.

I don't know how long it took, but there was a sudden movement behind me.

Grace walked up to him with the doll in her arms and then handed him a picture.

Vincent reached out and took it, wondering, "What does that mean."

"This is a picture of my brother, and I'll give you one."

"... Thank you."

"You're welcome."

He carries Justin's picture around with him and really has nightmares.

Grace ran back into the room, the movement sparse.

Vincent walked over and found her packing her things.

He leaned on the door of the room: "There are still two days to go, what are you doing packing these now."

Without speaking, Grace took a few more things out and stuffed them in his arms.

Vincent hung his head and looked at the two small dolls.

All right, as long as it's not a picture of Justin, it's fine.

Grace's things, packed half of them and gave half to Vincent.

She tilted her head and asked him, "Will you still come to see me later."
