

Mr Conrad 1282

Chapter 1282-Jane Yi accompanied Grace to spend the afternoon in the garden, Grace sat on the swing and had a good time.

At the end of the night, Nathan saw nothing unusual about her before he took Jane Yi away.

Grace stood in the doorway and waved to them, "Bye brother Nathan, bye sister doctor."

Jane Yi said, "I'll see you tomorrow afternoon."

Grace smiled and nodded her head.

Out of the Conrad Family, Jane Yi said, "I feel Grace is much better than last time, but ..."

Nathan asked, "But what?"

Jane Yi was silent: "Grace's world was supposed to be pure, with simple joys and sorrows, but after the treatment, she will gradually have normal human emotions, and I don't know if this emotion is good or bad for her."

Nathan took her hand in his and looked ahead, "Let it be."

Jane Yi exhaled and also gently held his.

Perhaps the world itself is very complex, and human emotions are divided into many kinds, there is love, family, friendship ...

For Grace, she couldn't tell the difference.

All she knows is that she likes someone, and she wants to see him all the time.

the Conrad Family.

After Nathan and Jane Yi left, Grace resumed her seat on the swing and swung slowly.

She tilted her head and looked at the stars in the sky.

Grace murmured in a small voice, "Brother, can you see me."

All that answered her was the sound of insects chirping in the night.

Grace's neck was sore from looking at it before she dropped her head and nudged the ground with her toes one at a time.

Grandpa and her brother are gone, and Vincent doesn't want her anymore.

She was the only one left.

The next day, when Stella went to see Grace, Grace hugged the doll and asked her carefully, "Pretty sister, can I go home."

Stella gave her head a sideways glance and responded that she was referring to going home to that little fishing village.

She said, "Grace, can you tell your sister why you want to go home."

"Grace misses her grandfather and brother."

Stella looked around. Although there were traces of Justin's life here, it was not Grace's home in the end.

Moreover, the Conrad Family is more like a cage for Grace.

Grace added, "I can take care of myself, and I won't be bullied again."

Stella stroked Grace's head: "Then wait for two days, sister will send you back, okay?"

Grace had a smile on her face, "Thank you sister!"

In the evening, Stella went back to talk to Clarence about it.

How she is a little worried: "Although Grace is better than before, but I still think, she is a girl, no one to rely on, stay in a small fishing village is not safe, and the last time those ..."

Clarence said, "So what are your thoughts."

Stella said, "Find a suitable person to take care of her over there, and we can go over to see her if we have time. Or she can stay there for a while and get her to City N for a while."

Clarence nodded, "Good."

"Then I'll send Grace over there this time and find one ..."

"No need."

Stella: "What do you mean?"

Clarence took her in his arms: "No rush first, we'll see in a few days."

Stella didn't know what he was selling in his gourd: "Then I'll stay there for two more days."

Clarence said, "Don't you have to go to fashion week, where do you have time."

"But that doesn't leave her alone ..."

"Don't worry about it." Clarence said, "I have arrangements, nothing will happen to her."