

Mr Ford 1321

Chapter 1321

The two topped the hot search list in an instant.

Immersed in the piano's music, Stella was completely unaware that she had drawn so much attention and sparked a discussion in such a short period of time.

After playing, she bowed to the audience and walked off the stage.

The audience in the mall exploded in applause.

She disregarded it as if not hearing it. Once she went to the temporary dressing room, she changed her clothes, put on a mask and a hat, and prepared to leave.

The organizer blocked in front of her at once, looking all excited. "Thank you! Thank you very much for saving the day, Miss Cicily!"

He could not believe that the beautiful woman in front of her was actually Cicily, the famous international pianist!

Stella smiled at him. "I'm sorry. I still have some things to do. My friend is still waiting for me, so I shall take my leave now."

Stella fell into his arms before she realized it.

He moved so naturally, as if it was true that she was indeed his woman.

Nicole was startled, not expecting Weston would appear in this kind of place.

After her eyes fluttered for a moment, she took a step back, trying to walk away, but hit a machine and screamed in pain.

She sobered up a bit and stammered as she looked at the man in front of her. "It's... it's all because of her, stealing my chance to perform that I... Mr. Ford, why are you still protecting this woman when she treats you like that?"

The man swept his icy gaze over her, turning the air even colder.

But right at that time, Nicole had to come to cause her trouble!

Daisy scolded her and hung up. Physically and mentally exhausted, she could not help but think of a person.

Xavier was now in the hospital, chasing after Zeta.

Perhaps it was the nature of a man to be a cheapskate. He was once with Daisy, thinking that there was not much possibility between him and Zeta. But when Zeta got a boyfriend, he felt more and more upset and kept wanting to see her.

And every time he met her, he did not want her to leave.

‘So, he thought of all sorts of ways to meet her. Zeta initially treated him politely, but when she realized his intention, she simply avoided him and even stopped talking to him.

This made him panic. In the end, he tried to be friends with her as a childhood friend.

Chapter 1324

Xavier was so angry that his face turned blue. He felt a little stuffed.

The man was especially embarrassed in front of her when she said so.

“Don’t misunderstand. I really feel nothing for her. It’s only a novelty at most. I wanted to break up with her long ago... it’s just that she voiced it out first.”

“Your relationship has nothing to do with me.

Zeta was starting to get impatient. “Can you stop bothering me?”

“You said that you would leave immediately if I wanted to get her back. If I blacklist her number and stop seeing her, will I be allowed to see you?”

Zeta glared at his absurdity. “I told you very clearly that it has nothing to do with me, whether you have a relationship with her or not. Do you understand me?”

After saying that, she summoned the security guards.

Weston strode out of the shopping mall with Stella. When Stella came to her senses, she pushed his shoulder. “Put me down.”

“No. What if you get hurt again?”

Stella felt absurd. “She wouldn’t have targeted me if it wasn’t for you.”

He frowned. “Is this even my fault?”

“I am not blaming you. I’m simply stating a fact. Nicole wouldn’t have been so hostile to me if it weren’t for you.”

“So I’ll take care of her for you now, so don’t be mad at me anymore, okay?”

He put her down and kissed her forehead.

She pushed him away immediately. "Stop touching me!"

clicked her tongue a few times from not far away and walked toward them. "It teased them. "A hero saving a beauty is across Stella's face, and she said to Yvonne, "Don't make this kind of immediately and draped her hand around Stella's neck. Then she said to Stella with a smile, soon as he heard that, he pulled her back are you so narrow-minded?" Yvonne read his displeasure from his eyes she did not get and said to the couple, "Didn't you say that you have a glance at him. Weston opened his eyes and looked at her. His inky deep eyes were full of tranquility.

He pressed her head and rubbed her hair. "Don't worry, I'm fine."

This time, Lucas put down the napkin in his hands right away and walked to Weston. The moment his hand pressed on Weston's shoulder, they saw Weston let out a low grunt-

He subconsciously wanted to push Lucas' hand away, but he could no longer lift his right hand.

Stella saw something was not right and pushed her chair „away, and walked to Weston hurriedly. "What is wrong with you? Don't hold back if you have any injuries."

Yvonne also realized the seriousness of the matter, so she put down her phone and went to him. "...Oh my God, you are bleeding!"

She suddenly pointed at a spot, and Lucas knitted his brows immediately. He ripped Weston's shirt straight away to see his wound cracked open and constantly seeping blood.

Horrified by the sight, Stella frowned instantly and said, " Are you out of your mind?"

Stella followed the direction of her gaze and nodded. “It does seem that way.”

“Don’t you think that this man is so captivating, so sensible, yet so unapproachable, so condescending, and so rejecting?”

For a moment there, Stella went speechless.

Then she echoed. “You are right.”

Isn’t he? And look at his face. He’s just so charming.

Stella nodded.

Lucas was indeed an attractive man. Otherwise, Yvonne would not be so enamored of him.

She was able to see his merits since she admired him with appreciative eyes. Weston naturally noticed the conversation and knitted his brows when he heard Stella.

Weston frowned slightly and asked once more, "I am asking you if my hands look good."

He heard Stella and Yvonne talking all the time about efficient and intriguing Lucas' hands were when performing the procedure.

So she liked that...

He looked down at his hands, unsure if they were considered beautiful. He had never paid much attention to his appearance all this while. He was tired of hearing the praises of those who compared him with the male stars in the circle and thought he was better.

Of course, there were a lot of aspects in which he was better, so this was never an important one. According to universally accepted values, ability and skill were the more important things to a man.

He never took to heart all those praises about his appearance, and he never cared either. But when dealing with Stella, he had to start paying attention to it. What kind of man did she like? He never seemed to consider it.

Ben looked as if he'd seen a ghost, his face wearing a complicated and interesting look.

After a long time, he shuddered and said, "They should be "

This question didn’t sound like Weston at all.

It convinced him even more that he must’ve heard it wrong.
