

Read Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 1167 [Eleven Jewell]

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 1167 [Eleven Jewell]

As soon as Stella arrived at the wedding venue, she saw Sophia in a light yellow maxi dress. Sophia was busy welcoming the guests. She dressed so grand that it seemed as though she was the one getting married that day. After years of being known as the illegitimate daughter, it was understandable that Sophia wanted to let everyone know she was the real deal.

Although Stella was no longer in her previous circle after her divorce, she still received updates about what was going on from Olivia. Stella heard that Sophia had recently become well-known among the people and had even found a boyfriend.

It was said that Sophia's boyfriend came from a good background. His family owned a Multi-Channel Network (MCN) company where they managed online creators and influencers. They offered services such as audience development, content programming, product collaborations, and more.

Over the years, the e-commerce industry became more and more popular. Many internet personalities had been able to generate income that was comparable to A-list celebrities by promoting products as brand ambassadors. This caused a lot of stars to join the business since their fame made it easy for them to make money.

The company owned by Sophia's boyfriend specifically focused on creating more traffic for product partnerships, causing them to make a name for themselves following the rise of e-commerce.

Sophia was an online influencer with millions of followers on her social media accounts. However, her numbers began to drop after people found out that she was an illegitimate daughter and had committed charity fraud. She remained hidden from the public eye for almost three months when the incident broke out.

Despite that, Stella noticed that Sophia had been updating her account since last month. The first post that Sophia made was in regard to the charity fraud, where she released an apology statement to the public. She still posted videos seeking donations, but it was much more low-key than it was before. She even turned off the gift function on her Facebook account.

Many haters gathered in the comment section when Sophia first posted the apology. However, a few people came forward to express their gratitude for Sophia's donation from time to time. Initially, netizens thought that the posts were fake, but they soon started to believe in them as more posts were made.

While some netizens were still holding on to the past, many of them had begun to see the brighter side of the situation. They said that they were glad she owned up to her mistake and that everybody deserved a second chance.

'Her boyfriend must have had something to do with this,' Stella thought.

Olivia had told Stella that Sophia was working at her boyfriend's company, which meant that she was back in the entertainment business. The fact that Sophia was dating someone who had gained wealth only recently surprised her. Based on her understanding, Sophia was obsessed with marrying into an already established wealthy family. When they were younger, Sophia only liked to play with children who dressed and behaved well when they attended events with their parents.

One of the most distinctive characteristics of children from wealthy families was their demeanor. Marshall and Jaylene, for example, were soft-spoken. Even Keegan, who had a sharp tongue, always acted dignified and reserved in front of people. Aurora, however, was an exception.

Naturally, Stella was curious about the man who was able to make Sophia give up her dream of marrying the rich.