Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 1197 [Eleven Jewell]

'Xenia? Why is she here?' Stella checked her phone to see if she got any messages from Xenia, but there were none. So, she went to a more secluded area and tried to call her. However, Xenia was not the one who picked up the phone.

No one spoke on the other end even though the call was connected. Stella quickly realized that something was wrong and changed to a different tone. "Is this Ms. Xenia Garcia?"

"Uh-huh," a slightly inaudible voice replied.

"I'm a consultant from XX Loan. Are you in need of any financial loans?"

The other party was not easily fooled. "Do you have any loan recommendations?"

'Fuck!' Stella cursed inwardly. Keegan handed his phone to her with the information he found on Google. Then, Stella continued, "Yes, we currently have an ongoing promotion..."

Stella read what was written on the screen and improvised. "We are a legitimate personal loan service company that doesn't charge any hidden fees. After the loan is approved, the funds will be directly transferred to your personal bank account, and the repayment will be directly deducted from the bank. Rest assured, your funds are secure with us. You may come down for a visit if you like. I'll send you our address on WhatsApp."

There was a moment of silence on the other end. "Sure," the person on the other line said indifferently and hung up before Stella could say anything.

Stella sighed in relief and turned to ask Keegan, "You couldn't tell that it was me, right?"

"Since when did you doubt your acting skills?" Keegan chuckled.

"Everything was too sudden, so I had to improvise," Stella said and frowned. "That sounded a little like Hylda, but I'm not 100% sure since the person deliberately lowered their voice."

“Whoever it is, I bet they won’t know it’s you.”

That being said, Stella still broke out in a sweat. ‘The person on the other line was being very careful. They didn’t even say anything when they first answered the call. I would’ve probably exposed myself if I hadn’t noticed that Xenia was not holding her phone. Thank God I didn’t send her a text. Otherwise, the person on the other line would be suspicious of her. Maybe Hylda had been skeptical all along and was waiting for something to happen,’ she thought as she became worried about Xenia.

Just as she was about to go after her, Keegan held her back and said, “Let Vermont keep an eye on her. You going over there might raise suspicion.”

Stella had no choice but to restrain herself and wait as Keegan contacted Vermont.

Seeing that she furrowed her brows, Keegan whispered, “Don’t worry. She won’t betray us. I’ve already settled things with her family.”

“I’m not worried about that. I’m afraid that something bad might happen to her,” said Stella.

Xenia’s future was ruined, and her family suffered because of her actions. She had immense hatred toward Albert as much as Stella. Hence, Stella was more worried that Hylda might hurt Xenia rather than being stabbed in the back by her.

During the time Xenia faked her pregnancy, people were monitoring her house and checking her medical records at the hospital. It was undoubtedly Hylda’s doing.

‘That woman is cautious and ruthless. There’s no way she can just sit still, especially since Xenia announced that she was pregnant with a boy. She must’ve sent Xenia an invitation to their wedding,’ thought Stella. ‘Even though Xenia is part of my revenge plan, she’s still known as the mistress that got impregnated by Albert. It’s clear that Hylda invited Xenia to lure me in and counter our plan.’

Stella did not expect Hylda to search for clues in Xenia's phone. Fortunately for them, Hylda could not find anything since Xenia did not save Stella's number and had deleted their conversations.

Stella wondered why she would invite Xenia over to the wedding. 'Is she going to expose Albert for having a mistress? But, she's about to become Mrs. Jewell. It would be quite a slap in the face if she did that on her wedding day. Or... is she going to expose the child?'

At that time, Xenia realized that her phone was missing. 'I must've left it in the cab,' she thought. She then started getting anxious about not being able to contact Stella. She was looking for her in the crowd when she suddenly heard Albert say, 'Xenia? Why are you here?' His tone was full of surprise. He quickly glanced around to see if anyone noticed them and frowned. "Didn't I tell you to stay at home and take care of yourself? Why did you come here?"

Xenia finally saw Stella at that moment and felt relieved when she saw the reassuring look Stella gave her.

She clenched her fists, and her eyes red. Then, she hoarsely said, "Didn't you promise to break things off with her? Yet, what do you two think you're doing? Were you just lying to me?"

Albert was in a sticky situation. He had organized the wedding without Xenia's knowledge since he did not want to lose her nor did he want to lose Hylda.

Before leaving Xenia's place, Albert had instructed the bodyguards to keep an eye on Xenia and prevent her from leaving the house. 'Those idiots. Why can't they just do their job?' he thought. 'People are going to think that something is wrong when they see this young girl crying in front of me. Ugh.'

Ultimately, Albert had no choice but to coax Xenia. "Why would you say that? You know she's pregnant. This wedding is just a formality. I don't have any feelings for her anymore, but the child... Don't worry. I promise I'll divorce her as soon as the baby is born."

Xenia was still sobbing. She looked like Rainee the most when she cried, and this made Albert melt.

"Albert, what are you doing here?" Hylda's voice came from behind, and it frightened Albert.

Hylda's expression turned ugly when she saw Xenia. "Why is she here? It's my big day today. What are you trying to do, Albert?" she asked angrily.

Albert was at a loss. "I'm not doing anything. It wasn't me who invited her. Ah, forget it. I'll have someone send her away immediately."

"Hey, hey, hey. What's with all the commotion?" Vermont appeared out of nowhere and said. When he saw Xenia's face, he paused for a moment and continued, "This young lady looks rather familiar."

Hearing that, Albert felt guilty. Worried that Vermont would recognize Xenia from helping in Rainee's funeral arrangements, he explained, 'She's a distant relative.'

Hylda was embarrassed by the situation and remained silent.

"Oh. What's your name, miss?" Vermont asked curiously.

"She is shy, Mr. Snyder. Why don't you stop with the questions and come have a drink with us?"

"What? Are you scared that I'll take a fancy to your relative?" Vermont chuckled.

Albert forced a laugh and pulled Vermont away.

See? He's not into you," Hylda glanced at Xenia and said in a deep voice.

Once Albert had left, Xenia no longer acted as submissive as she did before. She coldly looked up and said, 'Is that so? Then, why did you have someone invite me here? What are you afraid of?'

Suddenly, Hylda's face darkened. "You're still young. Why are you engaging in such disgraceful affairs?"

"Didn't you do the same when you were younger, Mrs. Jewell? No matter how hard I try, I can never reach Mr. Jewell's social status. So, why would I stop when there's a shortcut for me to get to the top?" Xenia smirked.

Hylda was livid upon hearing that. “Do you think Albert will marry you? Dream on! He just wants the child that’s growing inside you. He wouldn’t even spare a glance at you once the child is born.”

Xenia lowered her gaze and smiled. When Hylda saw that expression, she felt a mixture of fear and disgust. It reminded her too much of Rainee, which evoked memories of her dark past and unspeakable actions.

“Looks like the child is my biggest bargaining chip,’ Xenia glanced at Hylda and said. “With this child, I’ll always have a place in the Jewell family’s future, even if Mr. Jewell doesn’t marry me. He might not care about me, but he cares about the child. Especially since it’s a boy who could inherit his company. I would like to thank you for setting up a great example. I mean, didn’t you get to be Mrs. Jewell because you’re going to give birth to a baby boy?” she paused and gently touched her belly. “I guess I have to thank my ovaries too.”

Hylda was trembling with anger. She suppressed her rage and coldly said, “All you want is money, right? I bet we can come up with a deal that would benefit the both of us.”

Xenia paused and responded, “Huh?”

“Meet me at the gazebo,” Hylda said coldly. She then turned and left without waiting for Xenia’s response.

Xenia frowned and followed her.

Vermont quickly rushed over to report the situation to Stella. “Hylda just asked your dad’s mistress to meet her at the gazebo to discuss something, a

Stella was taken aback. “What were they talking about?” Albert asked.

“I couldn’t hear them clearly from a distance, but it seemed like she was going to pay her to back off.”

Stella remembered that Olivia had once told her that Hylda was repeatedly inspecting the gazebo. Then, she suddenly realized what she was up to. Within a few minutes, there was a scream coming from the gazebo.

“Oh no! The bride fell!” someone yelled.

Albert's face changed drastically, and he rushed through the crowd. Stella and the others followed closely behind.

Both Hylda and Xenia were lying on the ground outside of the gazebo. Hylda was clutching her belly with a pale face, while Xenia's face was covered in blood from hitting her head on the steps.

At that moment, Albert looked as pale as a ghost. 'My son! My son!!!'

He was about to check on Xenia when he heard Hylda cry out, "Albert, Rimy belly hurts..."

Upon hearing that, Albert hesitated. So, he turned and went to Hylda. He crouched down to support her, as he yelled for someone to call for an ambulance. "Are you okay? How did you fall from up there?"

Stella was about to approach Xenia when Albert pulled her back. All of a sudden, a figure emerged from the crowd and went to check on Xenia.

Stella looked closely at the person and was surprised to find that it was Lena. She looked suspiciously at Keegan, but he was expressionless as though he had expected this.

While Lena was checking on Xenia, Carter appeared and asked, "How is she, honey?"

"She should be fine," Lena said. She then reached out and grabbed the first aid kit that Carter handed to her. After that, she took out some tools and began to clean Xenia's wounds.

Although Albert was holding Hylda in his arms, his eyes were fixed on his mistress. He heard Lena say that Xenia was fine, but he still felt uneasy." Take a closer look and see if she suffered any internal injuries," he said.

The crowd was baffled by Albert's reaction. 'What does he mean by internal injuries?' they thought.

Lena paused and gave Albert a puzzled look.

Albert did not know how to tell the people that he was worried about the child in Xenia's belly.

Hylde, who knew what he was referring to, was filled with anger. She grabbed onto Albert tightly, and her eyes were red as she said, "My stomach is hurting like hell. Do you think the baby will be okay?"

Hearing that, Albert returned to his senses immediately. "Don't worry. The doctor will be here soon. Everything will be fine."

Suddenly, Sophia rushed out from the crowd and reached out to grab Xenia, but Carter stopped her. "What do you think you're doing, Ms. Jewell?" he asked.

Sophia gritted her teeth and said, "That bitch pushed my mom from the railing. She deserves to be in pain. Why are you all helping her?"

The crowd was stunned by her words. They were still wondering who Xenia was when they found out that the Jewell family knew her.

Despite all the commotion, Carter remained composed. "How can you be so sure that it was Ms. Garcia who pushed Mrs. Jewell and not the other way around? From the looks of it, Ms. Garcia seems more injured than Mrs. Jewell."

"I just am! That bitch literally seduced my dad! This is not the first time had a talk with my mom!" Sophia retaliated.

No one was surprised that Albert had cheated in his relationship once again. However, Albert's face turned grim after he was publicly exposed like that. "Nonsense!" he yelled.

"I'm telling the truth!" Sophia exclaimed in a hateful tone. "Dad, haven't you figured it out yet? That woman wants mom to have a miscarriage so that she can be the next Mrs. Jewell!"

"Sophia! Please stop," said Hylde. Her face was extremely pale.

Albert's heart softened when he saw her in pain. "Did she push you, honey?" he asked in a low voice.

“I don’t think she meant to. Ms. Garcia is still young, and youngsters tend to be impulsive, you know?” Hylda closed her eyes and said softly. She knew that this would cause more damage than directly accusing Xenia.

Albert’s expression changed when he heard that. He enjoyed the two women fighting over him, but he did not like his unborn sons to be involved in the drama. He looked at Xenia in disgust.

Stella’s expression tensed up at that moment. ‘Hylda is such an evil person. Here I thought she wanted to get rid of Xenia’s baby. But, in reality, she wanted to get rid of the child in her womb as well. At the same time, she wants to win Albert back by making him hate Xenia.’

Xenia’s face ashened upon hearing Hylda’s words. “I didn’t push her, Mr. Jewell. She was the one who invited me here and pushed me off the railing, ” she said weakly.

“She’s at an advanced maternal age, Xenia. She needs assistance to go up and down the stairs. Do you think she would endanger herself just to set you up? I’m truly disappointed in you.”

Xenia turned pale. “I swear I didn’t do it. I never wanted to compete with her for anything,’ she said as tears fell down her cheeks.

‘Damn. Albert is lucky to have two women fighting over him,’ the crowd thought.

Suddenly, Olivia stepped forward and said, “There are surveillance cameras at the gazebo. We can check the footage to see what happened.
