

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2145

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2145-Felicity frowned. 'Is Stinky Cucumber messing with me again?' She came out of Vermont's bedroom and called out his name. However, there was no response, and he was nowhere to be seen in the house.

She went to the study, pushed the door open, and heard the sound of something falling.

She gazed downward and saw the study floor covered with dominoes. Her opening the door knocked down the first one, causing a chain effect that toppled the rest. When every domino fell, it revealed a huge portrait of herself on the floor.

Felicity had never considered herself attractive, but her portrait on the floor had a bright smile, looking radiant and charming, with indescribably beautiful features.

'Is this how I look to him?' she wondered.

She blushed and thought of getting her phone out to take a picture of it. But before she could turn around, the lights in the study went out. Then, the area where her portrait was located was lit with fluorescent letters, forming two words that said Marry Me."

Felicity was stunned. Her heart loudly pounded as if it were going to leave her body. Then, she felt a lump in her throat, and tears welled up in her eyes.

She instinctively stepped back and bumped into a solid chest.

Vermont wrapped his arms around her waist, leaned closer to her, and whispered in her ear, "Miss bandit, I had so much to say to you. It took me two days to set this up. It was supposed to be more romantic, but then those two nuisances showed up and ruined my plan."

Felicity got so nervous that she felt tense all over. “What plan?” she asked softly.

Vermont chuckled. “My proposal.”

He then switched on the lights, knelt on one knee in front of Felicity, and said softly with a gentle look, “Being in a relationship with you has brought me so much joy. However, I’m not someone who’s easily satisfied; I want an official recognition of our relationship.

“So, Ms. Thompson. Will you marry me?”

“I-I-” Felicity stuttered. “I need to ask my mom where she keeps our family’s residency registration documents.”

Vermont, who was already nervous enough, could not help but laugh upon hearing what Felicity said. Then, he grabbed her hand and asked softly, “So, is that a yes?”

Felicity blushed as she said awkwardly, “I’ll say yes no matter when you propose to me. The problem isn’t with me but with my mom. I entered this relationship with marriage in mind. I just didn’t expect it to happen so quickly.”

Vermont chuckled as he slid the ring on her finger. “I actually thought of you rejecting me before. I didn’t expect it to go so smoothly and that you’d say yes right away. Have you been wanting me for a long time?”

“Nonsense!” Blushing, Felicity glowered at him. “You’re the one who is desperate to have me! You pretended to be impotent to get me to cook for you and made me your fake girlfriend. There’s nothing worse in this world than you!”

“I don’t have much experience in dating, and that was why you could fool me with your tricks. And now that I’ve agreed to marry you, you have the nerve to say that I’ve been wanting you for a long time? I’ll tell you what, I—Ugh—”

Before she could finish speaking, Vermont suddenly stood up and pinned her against the wall, kissing her non-stop.

Felicity froze for a moment. Then, she relaxed her body, wrapped her arms around his neck, and reciprocated the kiss with her eyes closed.

She then felt a slight chill on her ring finger and wanted to sneak a peek at her engagement ring.

But when she opened her eyes, she did not see any diamond ring. Instead, it was an incredibly wide gold ring!

She pushed Vermont away as fury exploded in her. She then raised her right hand and asked through gritted teeth, "What is this?"

Vermont said, "Babe, are you okay? This is the engagement ring."

As he tried to hug her again, Felicity's expression turned dark. "Stay right there!

Don't come near me!"

Vermont had no choice but to stay put.

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2146-Vermont took a box from the table and opened it in front of Felicity. "I bought you fifty-two of them. You can change one every day and won't be wearing the same one for a month.

"If you get tired of the design, well melt it and redesign it at a jewelry store for just a few bucks of craftsmanship fees."

Felicity's face turned red in anger. ' Do you think I'm a lion's mane jellyfish with a lot of tentacles? Why would I need fifty-two rings?' 'This is outrageous! What's going on in his head? What exactly do I see in this stupid thing?' Felicity cursed inwardly.

Vermont hugged her closely. "Aren't you touched at all? You have fifty-two rings.

All of your friends will be jealous of you once you post them online."

Felicity struggled and said, "I'll be laughed at! Who gets proposed to with dozens of rings? Are you crazy? Which one am I going to wear at the wedding?"

Should I change one every minute? What were you even thinking?

Vermont immediately came up with a silly idea. "You can string them into a necklace and wear them around your neck during the wedding. That way, we don't have to spend more money on a necklace."

Felicity got even angrier and bit his shoulder.

Vermont bent over, lifted her by the buttocks with both hands and hung her around his waist. Then, he casually patted her butt and said, "How's your tailbone now?"

She released her bite and gritted her teeth. "I got so angry that it healed itself!"

Then, she suddenly noticed the red mark around Vermont's neck and frowned.

"What's this on your neck?"

She reached out to rub it as she spoke, and the red smeared onto her finger.

The red mark on Vermont's neck faded.

"What did you put on your neck?"

"I used your lipstick to make fake hickeys. Do they look real?" Vermont said.

Felicity was baffled. "Are you crazy? Why did you do that? To satisfy your own fantasy?" "Tsk," Vermont clicked his tongue. "Do you think the two nuisances would leave so soon if I didn't do this? My proposal has already been ruined because of them. I just can't bear to see them any longer!"

Felicity then belatedly thought of Stella's strange gaze toward her as she left and wondered, 'Did she...' "She didn't think I did this to you, did she?"

Vermont looked at her with a smirk, seemingly saying, "What a smart girl."

Felicity suddenly became extremely embarrassed.

Vermont then went back to his bedroom with Felicity hung around his waist.

When they reached the bedroom, he wanted to put her on the bed, but she held onto his waist tightly and refused to let go.

He reached out to pat her shoulder and said, "Come on. I haven't taken out the trash yet."

Felicity lay in his arms and said in a muffled voice, 'Do it tomorrow.' "Let me change my shirt then. I spilled some sauce on it when we were eating."

Felicity said, "Do it tomorrow." Vermont chuckled softly. "But you still have to let me go, right? I need to clean up the study."

Felicity cupped his face with both hands and said, while blushing, "We're now engaged, right?"

Vermont nodded.

Felicity licked her lips. After a long pause, she asked, "Can I not wait until marriage?"

Vermont was taken aback and felt a tingling sensation all over. He lowered his gaze to the person in his arms.

"Are you sure you want to do this?" He asked with a hoarse voice.

Vermont bit her lip lightly and kissed her. "I did. I've been waiting for a chance to prove myself."

Felicity breathed heavily as she gently grabbed his hair. "Prove what?"

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2147-Felicity kept quiet.

When they were taking off their clothes, she felt shy and asked Vermont to turn off the lights.

Felicity was nervous, and so was Vermont.

She was nervous because she did not know what would happen next, and Vermont was afraid of not performing well.

Whenever Felicity got nervous, she would talk a lot. So, when Vermont was trying to make her feel more relaxed, she began chatting with him.

“Did you forget everything that had happened in the hotel room during your birthday?”

Vermont gently caressed her body as he replied in a hoarse voice, “Pretty much.”

Felicity felt her body heating up and twisted her waist uncomfortably. She stammered, “Th-there was a lot of blood that night.”

Vermont remained quiet as he continued touching her.

As his hand got closer to her thigh, Felicity almost shouted. However, she bit her lip to hold herself back. After taking a deep breath, she said, “I read online that the first time might not necessarily cause bleeding unless it’s too rough. Can you imagine how rough you were to make me bleed that much?”

Vermont’s hand trembled slightly, almost losing it.

He lifted his head and looked at her through the darkness. “Babe, why don’t you just keep your mouth shut?”

Felicity replied pitifully, “I’ll only feel more nervous when listening to you breathing heavily.”

Vermont sighed. “Keep talking then.”

Felicity hesitated for a moment, not knowing what else to say. After a long pause, she asked, “When are you coming in?”

Vermont was caught off guard by her question.

He lowered his head to kiss her lips, which stopped her from saying those shocking things.

Ten minutes later, Felicity's angry shout could be heard from inside the bedroom. She said, "Damn it! Didn't you say it wouldn't hurt?" "Fuck! I knew nothing happened that night! Listen to me: just relax," Vermont said.

"Relax? You're such an idiot! Aren't you experienced in this? You're so full of crap! All you can do is run your mouth! You liar!" Felicity cursed.

"Stop moving around so much!" "Stinky Cucumber! You actually have the nerve to scold me?" Felicity refuted before asking, "Hey, why are you not moving anymore?"

There was a strange silence in the room before Vermont spoke, "Hold up."

A few seconds later, Felicity yelled, "Vermont Snyder, I can't believe you're a one-minute man! You lied to me! I want to break up with you!"

Vermont covered her mouth and said through gritted teeth, "It's because you kept moving! That was my first time doing it with someone I love, and you just wouldn't stop twisting your hip. There's no way a man can handle that!"

Vermont kissed her cheek, chuckled, and said in a hoarse voice, "I'm not going to let you down this time."

The room was then filled with the sound of pleasure, and Felicity finally stopped cursing.

He paused, walked over with a frown, and saw a small blister on her left shin.

"How did this happen?" he asked.

Keegan sat down beside her, wanting to help her with the ointment.

Stella avoided his touch. "I'm done. Don't touch it."

Keegan asked again, "How did you get it?"

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2148-Keegan frowned. "Didn't you say that he's very attentive? How could someone attentive splash hot water on you?"

Keegan's complaining tone caught Stella off guard. She then smiled, hugged his arm, and leaned on his shoulder. "It's not that serious. Why are you so angry?"

"You're always very forgiving when your subordinates make a mistake." "How is this not serious? Is that blister not bad enough? I knew that hiring someone younger would be better. He's so clumsy!" Keegan said with a stern face.

"Although Larry might be a little older, he reacted quickly and stepped in to help me when the other candidate wanted to hurt me during the interview. Besides, he's been driving for a long time and stays by his family's side despite their conditions.

"He seems like a very responsible person. We can't always favor young people, can we? After all, didn't your company start hiring older applicants too?"

Keegan snorted. "Stop making so many excuses. You're just overly sympathetic and don't like owing anyone favors."

Stella sighed. "Both his wife and son are disabled. I'm sure he's living a difficult life. I don't have high demands for a driver, so why not give him a chance?"

Besides, he has stayed in his lane and gotten his work done since I hired him.

"I can't possibly fire him just because he accidentally splashed hot water on me, right? How ungrateful and heartless would that make me look?"

Keegan kept quiet for a moment as he gently caressed her hand. He then said in a low voice, "I just don't feel safe without having someone I can trust around you. You have your principles, but I also want my peace of mind.

"You can choose who you want to be your driver, but I'm going to get you a personal assistant."

Stella was shocked. “Personal assistant? Even Darcie doesn’t have one. How could the Vice President have a personal assistant? Don’t you think it’s a little unnecessary?”

Keegan said, “You’re not just Caline’s Vice President; you’re also an actress.

Motives for Murder achieved the highest box office in the suspense film category during the new year, and you’re a very popular celebrity now.

“It’s very reasonable for your agency to assign a personal assistant to their well-known actress, isn’t it?”

Stella was taken aback. “So, are you saying that you’re going to assign a personal assistant to me under the agency’s name?”

Keegan nodded. “I’ve already found the person for you. You’ll meet him tomorrow, and you’ll spend a lot of time with him from tomorrow onwards.”

Stella was speechless.

“It seems like you already made the decision before telling me, huh?”

Keegan chuckled. “He was supposed to be your driver, but I didn’t expect you to find someone so quickly.” “You said ‘he’, right?” Stella asked.

Keegan glanced at her and said, “Yeah, I did.” He did not mind hiring a woman, but in terms of physical strength, men would generally have an advantage in a conflict.

Stella’s eyes lit up upon hearing what he said. She asked, “How old is he? Is he handsome?”

She imagined scenes from cliché dramas, where wealthy heiresses were accompanied by handsome bodyguards. She slept very well that night.

Keegan spoke so highly of his appearance.

He looked nothing like Keegan described him as last night.

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2149-With a stern face, Stella glared at Keegan as she thought, ‘I knew he’d never hire a good-looking man to be my assistant. He was just messing with me last night!' Although Samuel had an average appearance, he was very eloquent. He answered fluently about the entertainment industry, the job responsibilities of a celebrity's assistant, and Stella's acting experiences.

Clearly, Keegan had trained him before he took the job. He was a very smart and sharp young man.

On the day Wenham and Darcie's flight arrived, Stella and Trevor went to pick them up.

The airport was crowded with people. Stella stood by the car and looked around with her eyes squinted. Soon, she saw Wenham, wearing sunglasses, dragging two large suitcases out from the airport while Darcie followed behind him with a tiny suitcase and an expensive handbag.

Darcie dressed elegantly and exuded a refined air, looking completely different from the old photos, in which she stood next to Freesia in plain attire that almost blended into the background.

Stella's smile widened on her face as she waved and shouted, "Dad, over here!"

Wenham looked over and accurately spotted Stella in the crowd. Then, he smiled and strode toward her.

Stella stepped forward and gave him a big hug. "Dad, welcome home. How was your vacation?"

Wenham patted her shoulder and said, "It was pretty fun. I went to almost every attraction there. I can be your tour guide the next time we go together."

As Stella reached out to help with the suitcases, she smiled and said," That's great! I was worried that you and Darcie would want to spend more time together, so I extended your stay for you."

Darcie's eyelid twitched abruptly.

In fact, Stella did not extend their stay at all. She booked a nine-day trip for them but told them it was only a six-day trip. It was not until they landed and checked in that Darcie found out about it.

Wenham then pushed the suitcases toward Trevor, glanced around, and asked, "Where's Jaylene?"

Darcie furrowed her brows. 'I've specifically called her to remind her to come pick US up at the airport today. She agreed, but where is she now?' Stella looked puzzled. "I don't know. Trevor and I came together. Jaylene said she would drive herself here. She left the house earlier than US, so I thought she would've arrived already."

Darcie remained silent and dialed Jaylene's number on her phone with a tense expression.

However, Darcie was going to apologize to Grace with Jaylene, so she politely declined Stella's invitation by saying that she was feeling unwell.

As they parted ways, Stella noticed that Darcie was still trying to call Jaylene.

She smirked and thought to herself, 'There's no way Jaylene would pick up.'

Without a doubt, Jaylene should be on the way to visit her dear Keegan who was weak and having a headache from a hangover.

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2150-At first, Stella did not know that Darcie was going to meet Grace.

However, before going to bed last night, Olivia called her and talked to her about this.

Of course, Darcie was not going to give up on such a big client like Grace just like that.

She had asked Jessie Keller, also known as Mrs. Depp, to persuade Grace to meet her. Jessie was Grace's good friend; her eldest daughter's wedding was also held at a venue owned by Olivia.

Olivia was everyone's friend and particularly good at business. She decorated the wedding venue exceptionally well, which gave her something to brag about among her friends.

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: to continue reading the Novels. Thank you. Recommend: Clean Your Browser Cache now to access missing chapters.

Later on, Jessie also organized her grandson's birthday, company teambuilding activities, and family reunions at Olivia's properties. So, they became closer to each other over time.

If Darcie were to call Jessie directly and ask for her help, Jessie would not necessarily be willing to intervene because she had proposed a marriage between her youngest son and Jaylene before, but Darcie rejected it.

However, she did not outright refuse it. She politely said that times were changing and that they should respect the youngster's opinions on who they wanted to be with.

So, Jessie had no choice but to give up the idea. However, a few days later, Darcie took Jaylene to meet Keegan for a blind date.

Jessie held a grudge in her heart, always feeling that Darcie looked down on the Depp family's status and felt that they were not good enough for the Saun family.

However, Jessie's son, Aaron, was very stubborn and only wanted to marry Jaylene, no matter how many blind dates Jessie had set him up with. They had known each other since they studied abroad. He had been pursuing Jaylene for several years without success.

Although Jaylene did not want to date him, she treated him as a good friend and always invited him to social gatherings and even balls.

It was not until she returned to Hustuabourg that she started to distance herself from Aaron.

Stella figured that Jaylene was probably just keeping her distance from her plaything because she was now closer to her main target.

However, Aaron was deeply in love with Jaylene and wanted to be with nobody else. Although he kept complaining about it at home, Jessie still treated him like a treasure and spoiled him because he was her youngest son, whom she had when she was forty.

Darcie was very smart. She was aware that Jessie might have held a grudge against her for turning her proposal down, so she called Aaron and asked him to pass the phone on to Jessie.

She first mentioned Grace, telling Jessie she made a mistake and upset her.

Then, she asked Jessie if she could talk to Grace and let them meet each other so she could apologize to her.

She also mentioned that she wanted to use this opportunity to introduce their two children to each other formally. She said that Jaylene and Aaron had known each other for a long time. If they could hit it off, he would be the person she trusted most around Jaylene.

Aaron could not resist such a tempting offer, so he immediately insisted that Jessie agree.

Jessie could not bear to disappoint her precious child, so she did as Darcie asked.

Although Jessie agreed to help, she still resented Darcie for her previous rejection and for stringing her son with Jaylene for so many years. She felt very irritated by it, so she expressed her frustration to Olivia.

Olivia consoled Jessie for a long time. As soon as the call ended, she told Stella about it.

She was unaware of what happened to Grace at Caline and simply wanted to vent to Stella about Darcie and Jaylene.

So, she would use something to hold over them and use her status as Mrs.

Saun to oppress them.

Olivia was just casually chatting with Stella about it, but Stella remembered every word she said.

It turned out that she was a player, always keeping someone on the hook.

Darcie wanted to apologize to Grace, hoping to win her back as a client, but how could Stella let her have her way?

Thinking about what would happen next, Stella could not help but smirk.

When Wenham noticed that smile, he shivered and asked, "M-My dear daughter, would you not smile like that?"
