

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2151-Stella snapped out of her thoughts and looked at Wenham with a puzzled expression. "What's wrong, Dad?"

Wenham said, "When you smile like that, it reminds me of your mother when she was pregnant with you. She would smile at me like that whenever she got mad. Then, she'd make me tie a watermelon around my belly and do house chores while joking that I looked like a frog. I'm traumatized."

Stella was speechless.

Trevor laughed out loud. "It's because you teased her about having spots on her face. She wanted you to experience the feeling of pregnancy and being called unattractive."

Wenham got confused. "But I said that the spots were cute. I guess US men can never figure out what women think, huh?"

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: to continue reading the Novels. Thank you.Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

Stella imagined the scene of Wenham getting tortured by Freesia and could not help but laugh. 'It seems like I got my traits from my mom, huh?' In Vinci Rivera, Jaylene was speaking to the receptionist with a lot of things in her hands. She had not made an appointment, and the receptionist did not recognize her. So, they refused to let her in.

Her expression was extremely unpleasant. She said in a low voice, "Are you serious? Do you not know who I am?"

The receptionist handled it professionally. "Except for Mr. Kane's wife, anyone who wants to see Mr. Kane needs to make an appointment."

Then, the receptionist picked up a poster of Stella on the table and compared it to Jaylene. "You don't look like her at all."

Jaylene got so angry that her face turned red. "Have you lost your mind?"

Keegan divorced her a long time ago!” “Oh.” The receptionist paused momentarily before asking again, “So, do you have an appointment?”

The conversation circled back to the beginning. Jaylene’s expression darkened as she said, “Just wait!”

With that, she dialed Keegan’s number again.

Keegan was sitting in a restaurant, watching his constantly buzzing phone.

He then glanced at Aldor and said, “You answer it.”

Aldor joked, “I can’t do that. Ms. Saun knows that I’m on Mrs. Kane’s side.

It’ll raise suspicion if I pick it up for you.”

Keegan nodded. “You have a pretty clear understanding of yourself.”

His response left Aldor utterly speechless.

“How long has she been there?”

After Jaylene stood in the lobby for an hour, her call finally went through.

She spoke in a coquettish tone, “Keegan, why did you only answer my call now?”

Then, she glanced at the receptionist and said arrogantly, “Aldor, come down and take me upstairs.”

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2152-The receptionist rolled their eyes and looked at Jaylene.

Jaylene’s eyes were filled with malice, as if saying, “Just wait. You’re finished.”

The receptionist kept a straight face.

Aldor said, “Ms. Saun, please hand over what you brought to the receptionist.

Mr. Kane is meeting clients, and neither of US is in the office.”

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: to continue reading the Novels. Thank you. Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

Jaylene paused, and then her expression turned ugly. “If Keegan is not in the office, why did the receptionist keep asking me if I made an appointment?”

What’s the point of having an appointment if he’s not even around? What kind of people did you hire?”

Aldor said flatly, “Many people need to see Mr. Kane every day. I can’t imagine what would happen if the receptionist just let everyone in.”

Jaylene’s face turned even redder in anger as she said to herself, ‘Aldor, I’ll get you back when I finally get together with Keegan!’ However, she needed a favor from him now, so she had no choice but to swallow her displeasure and say in a low voice, “Aldor, I apologize for what I said. I’ve been waiting for Keegan for too long and spoke out of turn. Please forgive me.

“Could you tell me where Keegan is meeting with his clients? I have something very important to speak to him about. Could you help me, please?”

Jaylene paused before adding, ‘Aurora told me you recently considered buying a car, right? I have a friend who owns a car dealership, and they have a batch of cars to ‘deal with.’ “They’re offering very good prices to friends and family only.

I’ll give you their numbers later, so you can contact them whenever you want to buy a car. Trust me, you’ll never get the same price anywhere else.”

Aldor kept quiet momentarily before speaking in a low voice, “Mr. Kane is in the Celestial private room at Cotton Rose Restaurant. Please don’t tell him that I told you.”

Although Jaylene agreed, her expression looked extremely disdainful.

‘Hmph. No matter how hard he tries, he will never be on the same level as me,’ Jaylene thought.

Then, she glanced at the receptionist, reached out to take the Stella poster, and said, “No wonder you’re only fit to be a receptionist. You don’t even know whose side to be on.”

With that, she tore Stella's poster in front of the receptionist and threw it in the trash before arrogantly walking away with her things.

The receptionist watched her leave the main door, then took out another stack of Stella's posters from the drawer and placed them on the table.

Aldor had specifically kept several boxes of them at the front desk just so Keegan could see them whenever he came to the office. Even clients visiting the building would be given one as a souvenir.

When Jaylene was on her way to the Cotton Rose Restaurant, she checked her call logs.

Darcie had called her over twenty times and sent her many voice messages on WhatsApp.

The last message said: [If I can't reach you by noon, there'll be consequences!]

Just as her car passed by a hospital, she sent her current location to Darcie before calling her.

Jaylene coughed weakly and said, "Mom, I'm sorry. I'm not feeling very well, so I came to the hospital."

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2153-Darcie did not believe Jaylene at first. "Stella said you met her in the morning and told her that you would drive to the airport alone. Why didn't she mention that you were sick?"

Jaylene cursed Stella for being nosy and continued with her lie, "Why would Stella be so kind as to tell you about me? She would be more than happy if I didn't go pick Dad up, so he'd be upset with me." Then, she coughed again before continuing, "Mom, I'm really at the hospital now. Check my location if you don't believe me. I didn't mean to ignore your calls. I'm just feeling too unwell. I put my phone on silent and forgot about it."

Darcie looked at the location Jaylene had sent her and began believing her words. She then briefly asked about her condition. Jaylene said, "I'm still waiting for the doctor to see me."

Darcie said in a deep voice, "Come over here immediately once you're done. I'll give you a maximum of forty minutes. I'm going to meet Mrs. Esper today because you messed up, so you'd better be here!"

"I'd expect you to show up if you can still walk! It's even better if you come here sick so Mrs. Esper can see our sincerity. We can only keep working with her if we can get her to forgive us. Clients like her are very crucial for the success of your career in the future."

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: to continue reading the Novels. Thank you. Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

Jaylene frowned, feeling somewhat annoyed. However, she dared not disobey Darcie's orders. So, she grunted in response, "I got it."

Darcie's tone softened a little. "Don't blame me for being so harsh on you, and don't feel embarrassed for apologizing. When you have nothing, you'll understand that money is more important than pride and everything else."

"I'll send you the address shortly. Let me know once you arrive."

Jaylene said reluctantly, "Okay."

After Darcie hung up and sent the address to Jaylene, she fixed her dress, put on a smile, and walked in.

In the luxurious private room, there were Grace, Jessie, and Jessie's youngest son, Aaron.

Grace and Jessie were chatting while Aaron sat there absentmindedly.

When he saw Darcie entering, he immediately stood up and asked, "Mrs. Saun, is Jaylene here?"

Darcie said gently, "Jaylene went to the hospital to get some medicine."

"She'll be here soon. Let's order some food first so we can eat while talking."

Upon hearing that Jaylene was sick, Aaron immediately became concerned.

"What's wrong with her? Is it anything serious? Do you need me to-"

Before he could finish his sentence, Jessie pinched his thigh, causing him to yelp in pain.

Jessie glared at him, signaling him to keep his composure and not make himself look so desperate.

Aaron remembered the promise he made to Jessie earlier and held his tongue.

Darice replied with a smile, "It's nothing too bad. She'll probably be here in half an hour. Aaron, you're such a thoughtful child."

Aaron's face lit up with joy as his ears flushed slightly.

He knew that Jaylene was very obedient to Darcie. If he could get Darcie's approval, it would mean that he had a good chance with Jaylene.

However, when he finally confessed his feelings to her, she said, "I think we should just stay as friends."

So, they remained friends.

She also said that she was afraid that feeling this way would strain their relationship, so she wanted to distance herself from him temporarily.

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2154-One could imagine how happy Aaron was when he heard those words. He thought that Jaylene must have had feelings for him but had not realized it yet.

He was not officially dating that girl yet, so he decisively rejected her and became Jaylene's "best friend," hoping to win her over in the future.

When Jaylene was abroad, she had many admirers, but Aaron always believed that he was different from them. Although she rejected him, she was still extremely nice to him.

She gave him birthday gifts, took leave to take care of him when he was sick, and even shared intimate moments with him.

He even had Jessie find out if the Saun family was interested in matching them up. However, once Jaylene found out about it, she ignored him for a month.

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: to continue reading the Novels. Thank you. Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

After that, Aaron did not dare to bring it up again.

He figured Jaylene might be concerned about the status difference between their families, which was why she hesitated to be his girlfriend.

When Jaylene returned home last year, Aaron still had a year to study before graduating. He almost gave up his studies to follow her back then. However, he did not manage to do so because his family threatened to cut off his financial support.

When he heard the Saun family had found their missing daughter after many years, Aaron wondered if he and Jaylene could finally be a good match since she was not biologically related to the Saun family.

After spending another year abroad alone, he quickly returned to Hustuabourg and contacted Jaylene.

However, Jaylene only showed up during his welcome home party and has not replied to his texts since, which made him somewhat worried.

After all, they had not seen each other for a year. Aaron was afraid that someone else might pursue Jaylene, considering how outstanding and attractive she was.

However, now that Darcie took the initiative to let them get to know each other better, Aaron could confirm that Jaylene was still single.

Just the thought of seeing his crush soon made Aaron's heart surge with excitement.

After ordering food, Darcie politely asked the two, "Mrs. Esper, Mrs. Depp, would you like to have some wine?"

Grace sounded indifferent. "I don't mind." "Sure, why not?" Jessie said.

So, Darcie had the waiter serve a bottle of wine and began chatting with the two.

Grace initially did not want to attend this meal. But Jessie had been her good friend for decades, so she went against her will for the sake of her best friend.

Although she did not have a good impression of Jaylene, who was scheming and spoke sarcastically, she figured that she should give Aaron a helping hand.

She figured that if forgiving Darcie meant that Jessie's son could be with someone he loved so much, she would do it without hesitation.

Half an hour passed, but Jaylene was nowhere to be seen.

Although Grace and Jessie did not say anything about it, they had a clear look of displeasure.

Darcie secretly texted Jaylene: [Where are you?] Jaylene did not reply.

At that moment, she was pouring Keegan a cup of ginger lemon tea in the private room.

Keegan lay motionless on the table, reeking of alcohol.

She reached out and shook Keegan. "Keegan, wake up. Have some tea first, or you'll have a headache when you wake up."

Keegan woke up after being shaken and then looked at Jaylene with a dazed expression. "Stella..." he muttered.

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2155-Jaylene paused as her expression darkened momentarily, but she quickly put a smile back on and asked softly, "Keegan, did you remember something?"

Keegan massaged his temples as he frowned and said in a hoarse voice, "My head hurts..."

Jaylene noticed that he was resisting something mentally and quickly grabbed his arms to stop him. "Keegan, don't think about it if your head hurts. It'll stop hurting once you stop thinking about it."

Keegan pushed her away and said sternly, "Don't touch me!"

Jaylene was startled. At that moment, she thought that Keegan had regained his memory and started panicking. Suddenly, she remembered something and quickly took out a bottle of medicine from her bag, put two pills in the tea, and handed it to Keegan.

Important notice: Dear readers, Please bookmark our new site: to continue reading the Novels. Thank you.Recommend: Clean Your Brower Cache now to access missing chapters.

"Keegan, drink this. It'll relieve the pain," she said.

Aldor's expression changed, and he rushed toward the private room.

Keegan, unable to bear the intense pain, drank it all in one gulp.

Jaylene played the tune used during the hypnosis in Keegan's ear continuously and asked in a low voice, "Keegan, are you feeling any better? Does your head still hurt?"

As the pain subsided, Keegan lifted his head. With a blank expression, he called out, "Jaylene?"

Jaylene blushed and replied softly, "It's me, Keegan."

Perhaps due to the medicine's effects, Keegan felt very weak. He leaned back and asked in a hoarse voice, "Why are you here?" "I-I saw your tweet about a hangover headache, and I got very worried."

She then started complaining, "Stella said that she would take care of you.

Is this how she does it?"

Keegan rubbed his temples and said in a low voice, "Uncle Wenham is coming back today, right? Even Stella went to pick him up. Is it okay for you not to go?"

Jaylene was taken aback, and then she felt delighted. "Keegan, are you worried about me?"

Keegan shut his eyes and sat on the chair. Jaylene did not know if he had heard what she said, but he remained silent.

When Jaylene was about to speak again, Aldor pushed the door open. He said, "Mr. Kane, I've returned the item to Mr. Callahan."

Jaylene frowned and glanced at Aldor with annoyance. However, Aldor seemed oblivious as he added, "Mr. Kane, we have another meeting this afternoon. Let me take you downstairs and get you to change in the hotel room."

Keegan nodded. When he stood up, he staggered, which startled Jaylene. She then quickly stepped forward and supported him.

He thanked her and was about to push her hand away, but she offered,

Keegan, let me accompany you downstairs. I'm worried about you like this."

Keegan hesitated and decided to let her hold him, saying, "Thank you."

After coming out of the private room, Keegan said to Aldor, "Aldor, you go settle the bill first."

Aldor nodded and left.

" she asked.

Jaylene was surprised. 'Is that it?' She was somewhat disappointed but still said, "Dr. Stone isn't in Hustuabourg right now, but I'll try." "Thank you."

Keegan did not say anything.

Suddenly, a cold laugh can be heard from behind. "Darcie, you're unbelievable."