

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2159

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2159-'It's about time, but Keegan still hasn't called,' Stella wondered to herself.

She got a bit worried and could not help but think if their plan had failed.

So, she called Keegan. After a while, the call connected, but Aldor answered.

"Mrs. Kane, it's me."

Stella was taken aback. "Where's Keegan?" "Mr. Kane..." Aldor paused momentarily, then said under Keegan's intimidating gaze, "To make the act more convincing, Mr. Kane drank a couple more drinks and got drunk."

Stella got a little concerned. "Is he okay?"

Aldor said, "He's fine. He drank some tea and will probably sober up in two hours. The plan worked very well. Mrs. Esper and Mrs. Depp left the restaurant angrily. When Mr. Kane wakes up, he'll tell you all the details." "Okay," Stella said but was still somewhat worried about her husband, who had an extremely low alcohol tolerance. "Where is he now? I'll go check on him." "That won't be a good idea. Mrs. Saun looked at Mr. Kane strangely when she left just now. I'm worried that she might have noticed something and is having someone to spy on Mr. Kane. It's better to wait until he wakes up and talk to him about it at home."

Stella had no choice but to suppress her worries and said in a low voice, "Then please take good care of him for me. Let him sleep on his side. He tends to vomit when he drinks too much. Put a glass of water next to him." "Sure, don't worry," Aldor responded with a smile.

After hanging up the phone, Aldor turned to the weak-looking man lying on the hospital bed. "If Mrs. Kane knew you risked yourself to get the evidence of Jaylene drugging you and that I helped you cover it up, she'd probably stop favoring me."

Keegan snorted before he said, "Why don't you focus on your work instead of always trying to please my wife? I can't have someone like you be my brother in-law; I just can't stand it."

Aldor laughed. “Well, before I can officially become your brother-in-law, I’ve got to have a backup plan, right?”

Keegan just had his stomach pumped, and his throat felt very painful. He did not have the energy to argue with Aldor. He stayed quiet for a long time before asking, “You managed to capture everything as I told you to, right?”

Aldor nodded.

Keegan asked him to record the footage in the surveillance room because Stella got jealous easily. He wanted to have some evidence to prove his innocence.

Aldor believed him and went to the surveillance room to “create an opportunity” for Jaylene and help Keegan gather evidence.

However, halfway through, Aldor felt something was wrong when Keegan pretended to have a headache. Keegan had not talked to him or Stella about doing that.

He did not know what Keegan was trying to do until Jaylene fed him the medicine. He immediately understood Keegan’s intention then.

Keegan wanted to get solid evidence of Jaylene drugging him to hypnotize him.

Although the medicine he took was found to be unsafe, it could not prove that Jaylene knew the purpose of it.

But with the footage now, it was evident that Jaylene knew the medicine could assist in hypnosis, which was why she used it on Keegan.

Even though the use of this medicine in Hustuabourg was in a gray area, this evidence could easily tarnish Jaylene’s reputation and ruin her life.

Besides, Darcie would do anything to achieve her goals. So Aldor figured that this evidence could someday give Stella an upper hand against Darcie when necessary.

But the price to pay was too high. Although Keegan got to the hospital right away to cleanse his stomach, some of the medicine had already entered his system.

Aldor sighed. “You always said to let Mrs. Kane handle her problems herself so she could grow and not see everyone as a good person. What about now?”

Keegan pursed his lips and said, “With me here, she doesn’t need to handle this herself.”

Aldor was speechless.

Mr. Kane Got Blacklisted Chapter 2160-With red eyes, Jaylene said, “What about you? You tried to arrange a marriage between me and Aaron without even telling me. Are you giving your daughter away for the sake of your career and client?”

Darcie was furious. “Sometimes I really wonder if you have a brain or not. It was just a simple meal. How was I giving you away? Do you realize what year it is now? Could I possibly hold a knife to your back and force you to marry Aaron?”

“If I didn’t do this, do you think Mrs. Esper would agree to meet US? She and Mrs. Depp are good friends, and she treats Aaron like her own son. Aaron has feelings for you; if you’d just played along with me, I could’ve definitely won Mrs.

Esper back as my client!

“But what did you do? You offended both of them at the same time! Do you know how many ongoing projects the Esper family has with our company? Mrs.

Esper is only going to deal with Stella now. Do you realize how much money we’re going to lose?”

Jaylene muttered while still crying, “Even so, the projects are still under Caline’s name, and all the earnings will have to go through the company’s account first.

You won't lose a lot of money."

Darcie paused, glanced at Jaylene with a disdainful look, then sneered without saying anything.

Jaylene knew she was in the wrong for lying and coming to see Keegan while pretending to be sick, so she apologized softly, "Mom, I'm sorry. I shouldn't have lied to you. But Keegan has just recovered, and he can't drink much alcohol now.

"I was just too worried about him. He didn't call me to help him; I came on my own. You shouldn't have said those things to him just now."

Darcie scoffed. "He didn't call you, but you still threw yourself at him? How shameless can you be? Are you still thinking that Keegan will someday marry you?"

Jaylene clenched her fists, looking very angry. Darcie had never said such harsh words to her before, and she could not help but retort, "Why wouldn't he?

He and Stella are divorced now. He can't even remember who she is. Why can't I marry him?

"Just because your husband's daughter was once married to him, you're afraid that Dad will be angry with you after I marry him? Are you going to sacrifice my happiness just because you don't want your marriage and your status as Mrs.

Saun to be affected? How could you be so selfish?"

Darcie was burning with anger. 'Did you just call me selfish? Jaylene Saun, I've spent so much effort raising you over the years, and now you say I'm selfish?

Are you capable of thinking about anything else besides your romantic fantasies?

"If Keegan really has feelings for you, why didn't he stop Mrs. Depp from hitting you when he was right beside you? He was willing to risk his life to save Stella, but when it came to you, he didn't even bother stepping in to stop you from getting slapped.

“Can’t you see it? Why are you still so obsessed with him? How could I have given birth to such an idiot like you?”

After repeatedly getting humiliated by her mother, Jaylene’s self-esteem was in tatters. With red eyes, she said, ‘ What about you? You were also right next to me, but you didn’t stop her either!

“If you can’t do it yourself, why are you expecting someone else to do it? You told me to keep quiet when Stella bullies and insults me. Now that the person I like has nothing to do with her anymore, I still have to restrain myself because of your concerns.

“All you care about is your self-interest; you want me to live like you. Do you know this is exactly why Dad doesn’t like you? In all the years of your marriage, you can only rely on the little things you did for him when you were young to bind him to you!

“On your wedding anniversary, he chose to visit his ex-wife’s grave than be with you-“

Slap!

Darcie’s full-force slap cut off the rest of Jaylene’s words.

The slap was so powerful that it left Darcie’s hand numb and trembling.

Jaylene’s face had a clear slap mark. Her gaze, now directed at Darcie, held hatred. Darcie’s heart felt like it was squeezed tightly. She was about to say something, but Jaylene just laughed.

“Yeah, I’m not going to stop liking Keegan no matter what. If you have to, just slap me until you kill me.”

At that moment, Darcie’s expression turned indescribably ugly.

Then, she slammed the door shut and disappeared into the crowd.

Sins, the sins Darcie committed, were now coming back to haunt her.

Darcie just could not figure out why Jaylene was so blinded by love.
