

Mr Nelson 241

Chapter 241 Member Of The Ellis Family

"Chelsea." Edmund squatted in front of Chelsea while bending his knees. His attractive face was filled with remorse. "I do not dispute that I have used such hurtful words in the past, but I now know you rather well. Upon recognizing your advantages, I have abandoned my former bias against you. I acknowledge that I committed an error, but you have to give me an opportunity to repent, right? Now that you are ignoring me, I have no opportunity to show myself."

Especially moments ago, Chelsea shut the door and denied Edmund's entry.

It was not until then Edmund realized that Chelsea no longer needed him. He was gripped by anxiety.

Hearing that, Chelsea wiped away her tears, gazed directly into Edmund's eyes, and taunted him, "Edmund, you continue to be so selfish. You only consider your own emotions and never those of others."

Edmund did not anticipate Chelsea accusing him of being selfish.

Chelsea saw through Edmund's thoughts, looked away, and stated, "I am now Luka's girlfriend. Do you still want me to provide you with an opportunity? You will place me in a position where I will have two boyfriends simultaneously. Do you intend to protect and care for me, or do you intend to ruin me?"

The question posed by Chelsea halted Edmund.

Edmund forgot once again that Chelsea was now Luka's girlfriend.

Edmund had convinced himself to accept the truth, but his mind refused to acknowledge that Luka and Chelsea were romantically involved.

Edmund was uncertain whether it was his consciousness's doing or the fact that Chelsea and Luka did not appear to be lovers.

As soon as Edmund had this notion, he immediately stood up, grabbed Chelsea up off the floor, and pressed her against the wall behind him.

"Are you truly with Luka?" he said while touching Chelsea's chin and squinting at her.

Chelsea was astonished.

She did not reveal her deception, did she?

Edmund grew nervous and said, "Say something!" after observing Chelsea's expression.

Chelsea quickly regained her composure and averted her gaze. "Of course it's true. Will I lie on this matter?"

Edmund was upset by Chelsea's attitude. Edmund's instincts led him to conclude that Chelsea was lying.

Edmund bent his head and passionately kissed Chelsea on the lips while annoyed and depressed.

The long-lost sensation Edmund had as he kissed Chelsea aroused all of his desires.

Regardless of Chelsea's opposing, Edmund gripped her face and passionately kissed her.

Chelsea was kissed unexpectedly. When she regained consciousness, her initial response was to bite hard Edmund.

Edmund experienced the agony and stopped the kissing, but he maintained a firm grip on Chelsea.

There was a sexual vibe in the air between them.

"Edmund, you scumbag!" Chelsea scolded when she was unable to escape.

Edmund still pinched Chelsea's chin, placed his thumb to her lips, and questioned, "Have you kissed Luka?"

Noticing Chelsea's silence, Edmund kissed her again and bit her lips firmly. Then he said, "Like this?"

Chelsea felt like crying, and she couldn't utter a word.

Edmund's face darkened further.

In Chelsea's ear, he muttered, "Don't irritate me, Chelsea. I can do anything."

Edmund then pushed Chelsea against the wall and kissed her once again.

Chelsea's rage caused her to strike Edmund, who she squeezed and scratched.

Edmund was bullying her, using her to his advantage and threatening her.

They had been kissing for quite some time. Just as Edmund unfastened his bra, Chelsea's phone rang.

Gasping for air, Chelsea shoved Edmund and said, "My phone... It's ringing. I must respond to it."

Edmund halted and his gaze became gloomy. He gritted his teeth and said, "Chelsea, don't let me find out you lied to me about being with Luka, or I will get even with you!"

Agitated and enraged, Chelsea pushed Edmund away.

She raced to grab her phone before rushing into her bedroom and locking the door.

It was actually Roy.

Chelsea ignored Edmund as she drew a long breath to calm down before picking up the phone.

Roy asked out of care, "Have Edmund's folks left?"

Roy disliked Edmund's parents so greatly that he was unwilling to even utter their names.

Chelsea answered truthfully, "They departed after I hung up the phone."

"That's excellent." Roy went on to add, "I've requested someone to watch the lawsuit. I'm confident that no one from the Nelson family will be able to tamper with it."

Chelsea whispered, "Thank you."

Roy stated, "There's no need to thank me. You are right to sue her. I previously had a favorable opinion of Edmund, but I did not anticipate him having such a violent sibling and awful parents. I think Edmund must be not much better! How could you divorce him if he is a decent man?"

Roy had a negative impression of Jaime, and he even grew to dislike Edmund.

Chelsea opened her lips to say something positive about Edmund, but as she recalled what Edmund had just done to her, she remained silent.

Edmund was so audacious. It was best if everyone hated him!

Roy asked, "The individual you want to sue is Edmund's sister. How is Edmund's attitude?"

Sincerely, Chelsea responded, "He supports my legal action..."

"He doesn't assist his family for your sake?" Roy said crossly, "Forget it. It is pointless to discuss these individuals. I'm pleased that you can consent to be my goddaughter. You're now a member of our Ellis family, Chelsea."

Hearing that Chelsea had tears streaming down her cheeks.
