

Mr. Nelson Winning His Ex-wife's Heart Chapter 281

When Zuri saw the blue-gowned female star's frustrated expression, she laughed without any hesitation. The actress in blue dress felt even more embarrassed. She wished that there was a crack on the ground that could allow her to crawl in.

"Chelsea, good for you, jeez!" Zuri couldn't stop laughing, "Your reaction is fast AF. 'Fake' is the magic word!"

"I suddenly thought of it on seeing her face." Chelsea then reminded Zuri, "Keep your laughter down."

"I also want to lower my voice, but I can't control myself." After Zuri finished speaking, she laughed again. Chelsea had no choice but to order a glass of champagne from the waiter and handed it to Zuri, using it to block her laughter.

However, Chelsea was also very happy to vent her anger. The actress in blue dress was obviously provoked by Diane and came to humiliate her. She would definitely tell Diane about what she suffered.

Diane's plan of humiliating her did not succeed. On the contrary, she would definitely be extremely angry when she knew that her clothing was priceless.

"Why are you smiling so happily?" No one knew when Edmund had arrived in front of them.

He wore a sharp black suit tonight, cold and elegant.

There were so many actors of all ages and handsome young men at the dinner party, and he was still the dazzling one.

Chelsea wanted to stop Zuri telling Edmund what had just happened, but it was already too late. Zuri had already told him what had just happened.

After saying that, Zuri praised Chelsea again, "Do you know how amazing Chelsea's retort is?"

Chelsea felt a little embarrassed and wanted to raise hands to cover her face. Edmund's gaze fell on her porcelain-like face and he supported her, "For people like those women who cause trouble, it's right to fight back."

After saying this, Edmund asked Chelsea and Zuri, "Does she have a role in 'The Crown'?"

Zuri nodded, "I think so."

In the past, Gerry Becker's team was in charge of casting. The director was extremely lecherous. The actress in the blue dress must have hooked up with the director. Under Edmund's reminder, Zuri and Chelsea remembered that there was indeed a role played by her.

Luka did not replace her after taking over. He just felt that it was not a particularly important role so it was fine.

But she didn't expect that she would deliberately provoke Chelsea and hit on the muzzle by herself. When Zuri saw the blue-gowned female star's frustrated expression, she laughed without any hesitation. The actress in blue dress felt even more embarrassed. She wished that there was a crack on the ground that could allow her to crawl in.

Edmund said with a cold face, "I asked Fay to inform her that she was kicked off the project."

Zuri happily applauded Edmund, "Wow, nice move."

Chelsea glared at Zuri, thinking what she was doing and why she was praising him. It seemed like Edmund was protecting her.

Edmund saw through her thoughts and asked directly, "Why are you glaring at Zuri?"

When Chelsea looked over, he said, "I'm just protecting you."

Chelsea was speechless.

Zuri couldn't help but cover her mouth and laugh again.

Chelsea took a deep breath and didn't want to talk to him anymore.

He was too detestable. He had guessed what she was thinking, but he had deliberately said it out loud.

Who needed his defense?

She had just fought back amazingly.

Edmund didn't say anything more and made a phone call to Fay.

Soon, the actress in blue dress, who was with Diane not far away, ran away with her mobile phone and red eyes.

She must have been informed that she was sacked.

Zuri elegantly took a sip of champagne, "Brain is a good thing, but she doesn't have it."

That actress in blue dress was easily provoked by Diane to make trouble for Chelsea. She didn't expect to be found by trouble.

She didn't even investigate Chelsea's identity and career, or what kind of grudge between she and Diane. Now, the loss outweighed the gain.

At the meantime, after the actress in the blue dress ran away, Diane gritted her teeth and stared in the direction of Chelsea and Edmund.

The actress in the blue dress came back and asked her angrily, "Who is the woman next to Zuri?"

She pretended to be calm and asked, "What's wrong?"

"I wanted to laugh at her clothes and the necklace she wore, but who would have thought that her dress was actually from the brand L, and that necklace..." The actress in the blue dress's eyes trembled as she spoke, and she couldn't even speak.

"What's wrong with her necklace?" Diane's expression remained indifferent.

She had been raised by Philip Stevenson since she was a child, and she knew all kinds of jewelry.

"Her necklace appeared on the website of Sotheby's, and the price displayed on it..." The actress took another deep breath and said, "It's so expensive! A sky-high price!"

Edmund said with a cold face, "I asked Foy to inform her that she was kicked off the project."

Zuri happily applauded Edmund, "Wow, nice move."

Chelsea glared at Zuri, thinking what she was doing and why she was praising him. It seemed like Edmund was protecting her.

Edmund saw through her thoughts and asked directly, "Why are you glaring at Zuri?"

Who needed his defense?

She had just fought back amazingly.

Edmund didn't say anything more and made a phone call to Foy.

Soon, the actress in blue dress, who was with Diane not for long, ran away with her mobile phone and red eyes.

She must have been informed that she was socked.

Zuri elegantly took a sip of champagne, "Broin is a good thing, but she doesn't love it."

That actress in blue dress was easily provoked by Diane to make trouble for Chelsea. She didn't expect to be found by trouble.

She didn't even investigate Chelsea's identity and career, or what kind of grudge between she and Diane. Now, the loss outweighed the gain.

"Her necklace appeared on the website of Sotheby's, and the price displayed on it..." The actress took another deep breath and said, "It's so expensive! A sky-high price!"

"What?" Diane took a step back in disbelief.

"A sky-high price?" Purple, who was standing to the side, also found it incredible. Since when did Chelsea deserve such a valuable necklace?

Could it be a gift from Luka or Edmund?

Thinking of this, Purple bit her lips tightly. Otherwise, she was afraid that the fire of jealousy in her heart would burn her to death.

The blue-dressed actress took out her mobile phone and said, "I'll show you."

She quickly found the necklace of Chelsea on the Internet, “I observed it closely. It’s exactly the same as the one on the website.”

Diane froze when she saw the price.

Indeed, she was raised in a rich family and had been in contact with those luxurious jewelry since she was a child. However, there was another life in the world, which was ten thousand times more luxurious than the environment she lived in.

She thought that what she had now was the best, but it was just a way of deceiving herself. Now, the necklace of Chelsea had shattered all her pride.

She froze there for a long time.

Jealousy, despair, anger, and all kinds of emotions intertwined in her heart.

Purple sneered and said, “How do you know that she’s wearing the authentic one?”

The blue-dressed actress thought of how she had been rebutted and how calm Chelsea’s expression was. She shook her head and said, “It’s absolutely authentic.”

If it was fake, Chelsea wouldn’t be so calm. Besides, she wasn’t an actor, so she couldn’t act so confidently.

Purple added, “The higher the price of her necklace, the dirtier her deeds were. What’s the point of being jealous?”

Even so, Purple could not help clenching her fists tightly.

Because even if she wanted to attach herself to persons in power, she couldn’t.

The actress in the blue dress didn’t say anything more because her cell phone rang.

The one at the other end said something after she answered the phone. Her face suddenly changed, and then she said in a panic, “Miss Sampson, why did they suddenly cancel my role? Haven’t we signed all the contracts?”

However, the person at the other end of the line did not say anything else and hung up the phone. She could only cry and go out to find her agent.

Mr. Nelson Winning His Ex-wife’s Heart Chapter 282

After that actress ran away, Diane came back to her senses. However, when she looked up, she saw Edmund walking towards Chelsea.

Diane thought of the video some time ago, when Edmund had forced Chelsea into a corner and tried to kiss her.

When she saw the video, she was so angry that she almost went crazy.

In fact, she had known Edmund for many years. In recent years, they had been estranged from each other. Even when they were in a relationship, Edmund did not hold her in his arms and kiss her so eagerly.

In her eyes, Edmund was aloof, and rarely took the initiative.

Why was he clinging to Chelsea so brazenly now?

Diane thought of what Chelsea had said last time. As long as Edmund was not on a business trip, as long as she was not on his period, they would have sex every night...

At this moment, Edmund took the initiative to approach Chelsea. He looked at Chelsea with a cautious and focused expression. Chelsea almost gritted her teeth.

Purple, who hated Chelsea as much as Diane, said angrily, "Hasn't Mr. Nelson been cursed? Why doesn't he want a rich and beautiful woman like you but fall love with Chelsea?"

Diane sneered and said, "Men are cheap. The best for them is what they can't get. Once they get it, they won't cherish it."

Thinking back to the time when Edmund and Chelsea had been husband and wife, he hadn't even glanced at Chelsea at all. He had always been as cold to her as he could be.

Now that Chelsea had divorced him, he had turned against the entire family for Chelsea.

This couldn't be right. According to what Chelsea had said, they had sex so frequently that she even wondered if he was really cold towards Chelsea.

Logically speaking, if a man hated a woman, he wouldn't even look at her. Why would he want to sleep with her so frequently?

Purple didn't know about the relationship between Chelsea and Edmund. She thought that Diane's so-called "don't cherish" referred to herself, and Edmund didn't cherish Diane because he had gotten her.

So she suggested, "Miss Stevenson, do you want to try again to get Mr. Nelson?"

Diane gritted her teeth, “How can I try hard? Now he only cares about Chelsea.”

Purple whispered, “Use some tricks. If you sleep with Mr. Nelson, plus the power of your father, he must marry you, right?”

Diane was stunned.

“Use some tricks?”

Just like what happened to Chelsea back then? After that actress ran away, Diane came back to her senses. However, when she looked up, she saw Edmund walking towards Chelsea.

Diane admitted that although she kept saying that she didn't care about Chelsea's previous behavior, she was indeed very interested in Purple's proposal.

Edmund had married her because he had slept with Chelsea. If she had a close relationship with him now, he would have had to marry her, wouldn't he?

Purple added, “This kind of thing is actually very easy to implement. Mr. Nelson attends so many social activities every day. You can just bribe a staff member. At that time, you can arrange reporters or let your parents cooperate with you. Make it big and then everyone will know what he does. Then he has to marry you.”

The reason why Purple tried her best to make Diane and Edmund be together was that she didn't want him to pursue Chelsea again.

Why should Chelsea enjoy so many men's love and pursuit? After sending Edmund to Diane, she would think of a way to destroy Luka's good impression on Chelsea. In the end, there would be no suitors around Chelsea.

If possible, she would let Chelsea's name in the industry become notorious and completely leave the screenwriter circle.

Thinking of this, Purple finally felt better in her heart.

Although her plan had not been fully carried out, she felt comfortable while thinking about the miserable situation of Chelsea.

Diane stared in the direction of Edmund and Chelsea. She pursed her lips without saying a word, but she was already considering about the implementation of Purple's suggestions.

She didn't care whether Edmund was good or bad to her after marriage, because compared with the man, what she loved more was Edmund and the power of the Nelson Family.

The most important thing was, as long as she married Edmund, she would be able to save her face and trample on Chelsea.

After giving Fay a call, Edmund still didn't leave. And his eyes even were still recklessly looking at Chelsea's face. Chelsea felt both embarrassed and annoyed.

Seeing that Edmund had no intention of leaving for the time being, Zuri thought for a while and made an excuse to leave.

Chelsea didn't even stop Zuri before leaving, leaving her to face Edmund alone.

Chelsea had no choice but to look at Edmund and protest. "Why are you staring at me? Is there anything on my face?"

Edmund replied straightforwardly, "Because you look beautiful."

Chelsea was speechless.

Her face turned red uncontrollably because she couldn't stand such straightforward praise with such an introvert character.

Dione admitted that although she kept saying that she didn't care about Chelsea's previous behavior, she was indeed very interested in Purple's proposal.

Edmund had worried her because he had slept with Chelsea. If she had a close relationship with him now, he would have had to worry her, wouldn't he?

Purple added, "This kind of thing is actually very easy to implement. Mr. Nelson attends so many social activities every day. You can just bribe a staff member. At that time, you can arrange reporters or let your parents cooperate with you. Make it big and then everyone will know what he does. Then he has to worry you."

The reason why Purple tried her best to make Dione and Edmund be together was that she didn't want him to pursue Chelsea again.

Why should Chelsea enjoy so many men's love and pursuit? After sending Edmund to Dione, she would think of a way to destroy Luko's good impression on Chelsea. In the end, there would be no suitors around Chelsea.

If possible, she would let Chelsea's name in the industry become notorious and completely leave the screenwriter circle.

Thinking of this, Purple finally felt better in her heart.

Although her plan had not been fully carried out, she felt comfortable while thinking about the miserable situation of Chelsea.

Dione stared in the direction of Edmund and Chelsea. She pursed her lips without saying a word, but she was already considering Kothorineg about the implementation of Purple's suggestions.

She didn't care whether Edmund was good or bad to her after marriage, because compared with the man, what she loved more was Edmund and the power of the Nelson Family.

The most important thing was, as long as she married Edmund, she would be able to save her face and trample on Chelsea.

Edmund replied straightforwardly, "Because you look beautiful."

Chelsea was speechless.

Her face turned red uncontrollably because she couldn't stand such straightforward praise with such an introverted character.

To her surprise, she felt that Edmund became so thick-skinned to say such nauseating words.

She said angrily, "You've seen me for three years. No matter how beautiful I am, you must've been tired of me."

Edmund stared at her and said in a frank way, "No. I'll never be tired of looking at you."

For some reason, Chelsea felt a little upset.

His sweet talk always reminded her of those days when she was neglected by him and she felt sad.

Therefore, she lowered her eyes and said, "I saw Miss Lewis. I wanted to talk to her."

After saying this, Chelsea turned and left, and Edmund frowned slightly.

He could feel her sudden coldness, but he didn't know why.

“Yusuf said that I must say some sweet words when pursuing a woman. And I can give her gifts with the generosity. No matter how I do, I must let the woman feel my care for her.”

“I did as Yusuf said. Why is Chelsea unhappy?”

Zuri left to block the actress in the blue dress. She calmly walked into the corridor of the banquet hall and waited leisurely.

The actress had called outside for a long time, and it seemed that there was no turning back for her things. When she returned to the banquet hall, her eyes were still red.

After seeing Zuri, she couldn't help but ask, “Who exactly is your friend? I've tried so hard to get the role in ‘The Crown’. Why did they replace me?”

Leaning against the wall, Zuri lazily looked at her delicate nails and said, “Didn't Diane and Purple tell you? She is Winter, the lead screenwriter of ‘The Crown’.”

“What?” The actress took a few steps back in shock.

No wonder Chelsea could attend a party like this tonight. It turned out that she was the screenwriter of ‘The Crown’.”.

How unlucky she was to have offended such a person.

But after she came back to her senses, she said discontentedly, “But Chelsea canceled my role because of personal grievances. Is it right for her to use her power to take revenge like this?”

Zuri coldly snorted, “Did you see her call someone to cancel your role?”

The actress pondered for a moment. She had been staring angrily at Zuri and her friend ever since she returned to Diane's side. Indeed, she did not see Chelsea calling anyone on her phone.

However, she seemed to have seen Edmund making a phone call...

Mr. Nelson Winning His Ex-wife's Heart Chapter 283

The actress's face turned pale as she asked Zuri fearfully, “Could it be that Mr. Nelson called? Why did he do this to me?”

The actress didn't know about the relationship between Chelsea and Edmund. She thought that she hadn't offended him, so she didn't understand why Edmund treated her like this.

“Why did he do this to you?” Zuri looked speechless. “You don’t understand? Why would a man to protect a woman?”

Zuri was also a shrewd person. She didn’t directly point out the relationship between Chelsea and Edmund. Instead, she secretly pointed out that Edmund liked Chelsea.

The actress murmured, “You mean that Mr. Nelson likes your friend?”

Zuri snorted and raised her eyebrows. “So what? You think my friend doesn’t deserve it?”

The actress thought of Chelsea’s gown and the expensive necklace and hurriedly said, “I don’t think so. They are very well matched.”

Zuri was extremely satisfied with her reaction. She then added, “Well, I need to remind you. Diane purposely didn’t tell you that my friend was the screenwriter of ‘The Crown’. She was clearly using you as a tool.”

The actress thought about it and found that it was true.

The actress was so angry that she gritted her teeth and said, “Diane Stevenson was a bitch. I used to dislike her when she was acting. She always acted like a superior princess and used us as her maids.”

“If it weren’t for the fact that she has the resources now, I wouldn’t have bothered to talk to her tonight. Diane Stevenson made me lose a role. I’ll give vent to my anger on her!”

After saying that, the actress rushed to the banquet hall angrily. Anyway, she had lost a role. She didn’t care about Diane’s show.

Besides, given Diane’s scheming look, it was hard to say if Diane would let her act her new play.

Zuri was happy to see it. She walked slowly into the banquet hall in her high heels.

Was Diane the only one who could sow discord? She could, too.

The actress rushed into the banquet hall and poured a glass of wine on Diane’s face after finding her. Diane took a few steps back with a pale face. Although she escaped from the accident, her expensive dress suffered a lot.

However, since she was still wearing a white dress, and her chest was immediately stained with wine, Diane looked embarrassed and miserable.

Diane was so angry that she shouted at the actress, “What are you doing? Are you crazy?” The actress’s face turned pale as she asked Zuri fearfully, “Could it be that Mr. Nelson called? Why did he do this to me?”

Diane did think that this actress was insane. She had just succeeded in making this actress dislike Chelsea, but why was she going mad at her now?

The actress gritted her teeth and said, “How dare you ask me why? I hit you!”

After the actress finished speaking, she raised her hand and scratched Diane’s face. Diane dodged back in a panic.

Because she was wearing very high heels at the banquet, and her dress was so slim that she couldn’t move her legs, Diane stumbled as soon as she took a step back.

She struggled to fall to the table next to her, hoping that she could not fall down by relying on it.

However, to her surprise, there was a long table for drinking. In the middle of the long table, there was an extremely gorgeous wine tower. As Diane pounced on it, the wine tower fell down with a crackling sound. Dozens of glasses of wine fell on her, pouring her into a drowned rat.

Everyone in the ballroom heard the commotion and turned to look at Diane.

Diane looked down at the mess she was in, and then looked around at the shocked and funny eyes of the people around her. She screamed on the spot, and then fainted.

Diane fainted from anger.

Diane was extremely arrogant, but now she had lost such a big face in front of everyone. It was normal for her to faint from anger.

Purple, who was standing aside, had no choice but to rush forward to support Diane. The guests around them came to their senses and called an ambulance. Diane left the banquet in such an embarrassing state.

At the beginning, Diane and Purple walked on the red carpet like queens.

Tonight, Diane also planned to try her best to advertise Purple’s period drama. The name of Chelsea’s period drama was ‘The Crown’ while their period drama’s name was ‘Legend of Yvanna’ that she and Purple had just decided.

Yaliania was the female master of the book. The story told about Yaliania’s life from an unknown abandoned child to a glorious wise empress. and it was clear that her drama would fight with ‘The Crown’.

In fact, Diane had even deliberately given the female protagonist a name that was similar to hers. She had channeled all of her resentment towards Chelsea onto this story.

As long as the ratings of 'Legend of Yvanna' defeated 'The Crown', it would mean that she defeated Chelsea.

Dione did think that this octress was insane. She had just succeeded in making this octress dislike Chelsea, but why was she going mad at her now?

The octress gritted her teeth and said, "How dare you ask me why? I hit you!"

After the octress finished speaking, she raised her hand and scratched Dione's face. Dione dodged back in a panic.

As long as the ratings of 'Legend of Yvonno' defeated 'The Crown', it would mean that she defeated Chelsea.

However, she did not expect that she would be at a disadvantage when she just started. The banquet had just begun and she had made a fool of herself.

After Diane was taken away by the ambulance, the actress in a blue dress was also driven out of the banquet hall by the security guards.

She struggled and scolded Diane, "Diane is a bitch!"

"Don't be fooled by her goody two-shoes. She is very insidious behind the scenes!"

Regardless of whether her words could really affect the judgment of the guests at the party, her shocking actions tonight had always made Diane lose face.

After seeing the farce, Zuri, who was behind the crowd, went to look for Chelsea in a good mood.

Diane had ended up in such a miserable state. She had been smashed by the wine tower and thrown into the hospital. Zuri had never expected this.

She thought that the actress was just scolding Diane, but she didn't expect her to act like this.

It was too satisfying.

Diane was too shameless!

After all, Diane had targeted Chelsea tonight before, but she embarrassed herself and got her retribution.

Obviously, Chelsea had also seen what had happened to Diane. She had just chatted with Eugene for a while when she was interrupted by the loud sound of the wine tower falling to the ground and the screams of the crowd.

Chelsea immediately found Zuri from the crowd. When she saw the gloating smile on Zuri's face, she knew that Zuri must have done something behind her back. Otherwise, the actress in the blue dress wouldn't have treated Diane like this.

However, Chelsea showed no sympathy for Diane. She even thought that Diane deserved it.

When Chelsea was looking for Zuri, she also saw Edmund. As Diane's ex-boyfriend and one lead of gossip, Edmund stood in the crowd and watched Diane make a fool of herself.

Chelsea didn't know if she should sympathize with Diane or laugh at her. Diane had tried her best to catch up Edmund for several years, but she didn't get anything in the end. Was she worth it?

Eugene, on Chelsea's side, she was quite emotional. "Where there are actresses, there are troubles arising out of them. It's better for us to be screenwriters."

Chelsea smiled a little stiffly. Could she say that this incident was caused by her?

Being a screenwriter was not peaceful for her at all.

Mr. Nelson Winning His Ex-wife's Heart Chapter 284

At this time, Roy came over. Eugene was very surprised to see him. "Roy, long time no see."

"I heard from the organizer that you will come to this banquet today. It's incredible." Eugene was obviously very familiar with Roy. After that, she asked Roy, "What brings you here today?"

Eugene and Roy were at the similar age and were both big shots in the screenwriter industry. In the early days, they had cooperated, so their relationship was obviously not ordinary.

However, Roy had canceled many social activities because of Kelli's health these years. Unless it was an important occasion. This was why Eugene was so surprised to see Roy here.

Roy smiled and said to Eugene, "Haven't I recently published a new book and sold it to the Nelson Group? Today, I'm here mainly to cooperate with the publicity."

Eugene knew that Roy's new book was published, but she didn't expect that his patent would be sold so quickly.

However, she was also very happy for Roy. "Nelson Group is a good choice. Edmund—"

At this point, Eugene couldn't help but glance at the nearby Chelsea. It was only later that she learned that Chelsea who had learned from her for four years, had once been the ex-wife of Edmund.

Thus, now that she had mentioned Edmund, she had to consider Chelsea's feeling.

Eugene felt sorry for Chelsea, so she changed the topic and then asked Roy, “By the way, did you find the right screenwriter?”

Eugene wanted to say that if Roy didn’t find the right person, she could recommend one. The person she was going to recommend was Chelsea standing aside.

Unexpectedly, Roy said, “Yes. It is the one in front of you. I heard that she is your student.”

A few hours ago, Chelsea took Roy around Vertoak and talked about a lot of things about her, especially what she had experienced along the way as a screenwriter. And she also said that she was Eugene’s student.

Roy was pleasantly surprised and even proud of her.

Because Roy knew Eugene well. If it weren’t for the fact that Eugene felt that Chelsea was particularly outstanding after the test, she wouldn’t have paid attention to Chelsea.

After hearing Roy’s words, Eugene was very surprised. She looked at Chelsea and then at Roy. “So, you know each other?”

Roy said, “Not only do I know her, but I also recognize her as my adopted daughter.”

“Really?” Eugene was extremely surprised. At this time, Roy came over. Eugene was very surprised to see him. “Roy, long time no see.”

Chelsea said from the side, “I’m here to talk to you about this.”

“That’s great.” Eugene was happy for Chelsea and Roy.

Almost everyone in China knew that Roy had no children. And Chelsea was a good girl. It was perfect for Roy to adopt Chelsea as his adopted daughter.

After Eugene sized Roy and Chelsea up, she suddenly said to Roy, “Roy, take off your glasses and let me have a look.”

Roy smiled and raised his hand to take off his glasses.

Few people knew Roy’s relationship when he was young.

Roy knew Eugene as a screenwriter after he got married with Kelli, so Eugene obviously wouldn’t know about those past events.

Roy did not intend to tell the secret for the time being. When the right time came, he would obviously make it public to the world.

Roy was short-sighted and wore framed glasses all year round. Over time, it had become his unique sign.

Except for his family, no one had ever seen Roy take off glasses. After all, no one would let him take off his glasses and look at him carefully.

Eugene exclaimed, "I've discovered that the two of you look quite similar, especially your eyes. It seems that you are really fated to be father and daughter."

Under Eugene's reminder, Chelsea also looked up at Roy.

She was shocked by what she saw.

Roy, who had taken off his glasses, had a pair of beautiful eyes. The end of his eyes was raised, and his eyes were gentle and bright.

She also had such a pair of eyes.

However, because of the difference between men and women and their age, her eyes were different from Roy's.

But the shape and charm of the eyes were extremely similar.

Roy quickly put on his glasses and said with a gentle smile, "We do look alike."

Chelsea laughed as well. "Yes, indeed."

Chelsea didn't think much about it. She only felt that maybe as Eugene said, she was really fated with Roy.

Eugene also nodded seriously. "You guys share a ninety percent resemblance."

Eugene added, "In the future, when you go out and say that you are father and daughter, others will believe you."

"Chelsea is indeed a good girl. I've taught her for four years and know her talent and personality best." Eugene said this was for Roy, and then she looked at Chelsea and said, "I know your ability. I believe that you will do a good job on adapting Roy's new book."

Chelsea said from the side, "I'm here to talk to you about this."

"That's great." Eugene was happy for Chelsea and Roy.

Almost everyone in Chino knew that Roy had no children. And Chelsea was a good girl. It was perfect for Roy to adopt Chelsea as his adopted daughter.

After Eugene sized Roy and Chelseo up, she suddenly said to Roy, "Roy, take off your glasses and let me have a look."

Roy was short-sighted and wore framed glasses all year round. Over time, it had become his unique sign.

Except for his family, no one had ever seen Roy take off glasses. After all, no one would let him take off his glasses and look at him carefully.

Eugene exclaimed, "I've discovered that the two of you look quite similar, especially your eyes. It seems that you are really fated to be father and daughter."

Under Eugene's reminder, Chelseo also looked up at Roy.

She was shocked by what she saw.

Roy, who had taken off his glasses, had a pair of beautiful eyes. The end of his eyes was raised, and his eyes were gentle and bright.

She also had such a pair of eyes.

However, because of the difference between men and women and their age, her eyes were different from Roy's.

But the shape and charm of the eyes were extremely similar.

Roy quickly put on his glasses and said with a gentle smile, "We do look alike."

Chelseo laughed as well. "Yes, indeed."

Chelseo didn't think much about it. She only felt that maybe as Eugene said, she was really fated with Roy.

Eugene also nodded seriously. "You guys share a ninety percent resemblance."

Eugene nodded, "In the future, when you go out and say that you are father and daughter, others will believe you."

"Chelsea is indeed a good girl. I've taught her for four years and know her talent and personality best." Eugene said this was for Roy, and then she looked at Chelsea and said, "I know your ability. I believe that you will do a good job on adapting Roy's new book."

Hearing Eugene's words, Chelsea could only smile humbly and thank her.

Chelsea had thought that she wouldn't have to interact with Edmund tonight, but who would have thought that she would be with him in the second half of the banquet? Of course, Roy was by her side.

As a screenwriter in charge of adapting Roy's new book to a TV series, she was introduced to everyone by Edmund and Roy.

When they introduced her, she only said that she was a screenwriter and did not say anything about her relationship with Roy.

Roy and Edmund reached an agreement tacitly. They all agreed that they shouldn't reveal the relationship between Roy and Chelsea at this time. They guessed that those people would put two and two together and make five once it was made public.

Even so, the way everyone looked at Chelsea was a bit different.

Such a young and beautiful woman took the responsibility of adapting Roy's new book. It was inevitable that someone would misunderstand her.

However, Chelsea was not afraid. She openly welcomed those people's curious gazes.

When the following play was broadcast, there was a conclusion.

While Chelsea was enjoying her time here, Diane was crying bitterly in the hospital.

There was nothing wrong with her body. It was just that when the wine tower fell, the wine glass broke and splashed on her body. So, there were several slight cuts on her arms and legs.

But the wound in her heart almost made her collapse.

She had been crying since she woke up from a coma, and Purple was extremely impatient to accompany her.

If Diane hadn't caused such a scene, she should still be in the banquet hall at this moment. After all, she had been in Peak Entertainment for many years, and she was a little famous. She had many opportunities to get to know stars and investors.

Although she couldn't mention cooperating with others in front of Diane, she could get in touch with them in the future.

She wouldn't stay with Diane forever. If it weren't for the fact that they had a common enemy, Chelsea, she wouldn't have come into Diane's company.

In fact, Purple still missed Peak Entertainment very much. She was originally very happy in Peak Entertainment, but because of the arrival of Chelsea, she couldn't get many opportunities. So, she couldn't stay there any longer.

Mr. Nelson Winning His Ex-wife's Heart Chapter 285

Philip and Flora also rushed to the hospital after knowing that something had happened to Diane at the banquet. As soon as Diane saw

Philip, she cried, "Dad, help me. The Internet is full of photos and videos of me being embarrassed tonight!"

At the thought of this, Diane was going crazy. She didn't expect that the video of her being hit by the champagne tower would spread on the Internet so quickly. The last time she was scolded by the Internet as a scheming woman, she had to change her mind.

She didn't expect that she would make such a big mistake when she decided to start her career after she had no news for a long time.

Although this matter would not affect her career, after all, she was rich. But she humiliated.

Especially when she thought that all her misery at that time had been seen by Chelsea, she wanted to die.

Philip said furiously, "As soon as I saw this news, I asked someone to withdraw the trending news, but I couldn't finish it at all."

"I don't know what's wrong with these people now. Are they too free? They keep an eye on others on the Internet all day long!"

After all, Philip was an old man, so he didn't really understand the Internet.

He asked someone to take down the trending headlines and suspend a lot of accounts, but not long after, someone posted those photos and videos again.

For the first time in his life, he felt that money could not do everything.

What he didn't know was that there were trolls. They had received money from others, especially for provoking others by posting inflammatory, irrelevant, or inappropriate messages or other content. Diane had done such a thing many times before, but now she took revenge on herself.

The banquet was full of people from the entertainment industry. There were many people who abhorred Diane behind the scenes. It was obvious that someone had hired some trolls to make them continue to slander Diane.

Hearing Philip's words, Diane was so angry that her eyes turned red again.

Flora, on the other hand, was a little more open-minded. She comforted Diane and said, "What's the big deal? Everyone has his or her own awkwardness."

"In a video, Edmund was slapped in the face before, did he? As for a noble man, he was completely humiliated after being slapped. His mother said that Edmund lost face. But Edmund didn't care about it. Why are you thinking about this?"

As soon as Flora finished speaking, Diane burst into tears again. Philip and Flora also rushed to the hospital after knowing that something had happened to Diane at the banquet. As soon as Diane saw Hearing Flora's words, Diane was even more unhappy.

Edmund was slapped in the face, which was completely different from her embarrassing behavior tonight.

Edmund's incident showed that he was deeply in love with Chelsea, but it was really shameful for hers.

When Flora saw Diane's current state, she didn't know what to say.

Beside them, Purple said, "Uncle, Auntie, the doctor said that Miss Stevenson is fine. You can take her home. It's not good to for you and Miss Stevenson stay in the hospital."

Flora nodded, "OK."

Diane also felt that there were too many people in the hospital, so she left with her parents as soon as possible. Of course, when she went out, she wrapped herself tightly so that no one could recognize her.

It was the first time in so many years that she had been so shameful.

"I want that bitch to never be able to appear in the entertainment industry!" After getting in the car, Diane said to Philip like this.

The bitch Diane said was not Chelsea, but the actress in the blue dress.

If that actress hadn't splashed wine all over her and hit her, she wouldn't have been in such a mess.

"It's easy to deal with such a small actress." It was a piece of cake for Philip.

Originally, Philip thought that Chelsea was a very easy person to deal with, but he didn't expect that he was wrong. Because of Roy, he had to compromise and let his daughter apologize to Chelsea.

Philip could not bear it.

Thinking of this, Philip said while driving, "Roy has been in Vertoak recently. He must have contacted Chelsea. We hire someone to take some photos and make troubles for them.

In this way, Chelsea and Roy became notorious in the whole circle. Not only did they avenge, but they also helped Diane clear the obstacles in her career.

Flora nodded and said, "Alright."

Diane, who had almost gone crazy overnight, had eased a lot because of her parents' actions.

She even leaned against the car and laughed smugly. When the scandal between Chelsea and Roy came out, she would see how the public roasted them.

One was shameless and only knew how to hook up with men, and the other was an old man who coveted young and beautiful girls.

Roy's image as a good man, which had been painstakingly managed for so many years, would be completely destroyed.

Roy would completely quit this circle in the future.

When Diane got home, another hot topic appeared. When she saw the title of the hot topic, she was so angry that she gritted her teeth and wished that her trending news could not be suppressed.

Heoring Floro's words, Diane was even more unhappy.

Edmund was slopped in the face, which was completely different from her embarrassing behavior tonight.

Edmund's incident showed that he was deeply in love with Chelsea, but it was really shameful for hers.

When Floro saw Dione's current state, she didn't know what to say.

Beside them, Purple said, "Uncle, Auntie, the doctor said that Miss Stevenson is fine. You can take her home. It's not good for you and Miss Stevenson stay in the hospital."

Floro nodded, "OK."

Dione also felt that there were too many people in the hospital, so she left with her parents as soon as possible. Of course, when she went out, she wrapped herself tightly so that no one could recognize her.

It was the first time in so many years that she had been so shameful.

"I want that bitch to never be able to appear in the entertainment industry!" After getting in the car, Dione said to Philip like this.

The bitch Dione said was not Chelsea, but the actress in the blue dress.

If that actress hadn't splashed wine all over her and hit her, she wouldn't have been in such a mess.

"It's easy to deal with such a small actress." It was a piece of cake for Philip.

Roy's image as a good man, which had been painstakingly managed for so many years, would be completely destroyed.

Roy would completely quit this circle in the future.

When Dione got home, another hot topic appeared. When she saw the title of the hot topic, she was so angry that she gritted her teeth and wished that her trending news could not be suppressed.

The title of the trending news was "Screenwriter of Roy's New Book".

After clicking on it, it was Roy who announced in public that he would cooperate with Nelson Group and introduced the screenwriter of his new book.

A photo was also posted on Twitter. In the photo, Chelsea stood in the middle, while Roy and Edmund stood by her both sides respectively. The three of them smiled and looked at the camera.

Chelsea's temperament was fresh and graceful, and her smile was generous and confident. When she stood together with Edmund and Roy, she didn't look weak at all.

In the comments, a lot of people were amazed by this young screenwriter's good appearance and temperament.

They were even more surprised by her outstanding resume.

She was Eugene Lewis's disciple, which was enough for everyone to be certain of her abilities.

Moreover, she also participated in writing scripts for several famous TV dramas.

At the same time, the Nelson Group and Peak Entertainment took this chance to promote the upcoming new drama

'The Crown', whose screenwriter was this young and beautiful woman, Winter, Chelsea's pseudonym.

They also announced the main cast: Luka Pierce as the director, Zuri White as the female protagonist, Keith Rivera as the male lead, and Vickie Gray as the supporting actress.

As soon as the cast was announced, 'The Crown' once again topped the trending list.

Everyone knew that Mr. Pierce was capable of being a director and the participation of the A-list actress Zuri White was predictable. However, Keith Rivera was an extremely low-key and picky actor. It was rather incredible that he agreed to get on board and play the male protagonist.

So, someone guessed that this script must be very good and the screenwriter must be very talented.

Then people turned their attention to Vickie Gray, the supporting actress of 'The Crown'.

She was a completely unknown actress. How could she get this role?

After searching the information of Vickie, many people were shocked.

They found that Vickie had appeared in more than a dozen TV series. Of course, she only played small roles in these shows.

However, Vickie still tried her best to play every one of the roles well.

Mr. Nelson Winning His Ex-wife's Heart Chapter 286

Because of her hard work and her optimistic personality, Vickie quickly gained the favor of many people. Although no one knew how she got this role, they didn't look down upon her. On the contrary, many people became her fans and even looked forward to her acting as the second female character.

In a short time, 'The Crown' became the most anticipated TV show in the next half year. Even if there were other new dramas, they would not be able to surpass the popularity of 'The Crown'.

Diane was so angry that she threw her phone aside. She hadn't had time to promote her new drama of 'Legend of Yvanna' tonight yet.

She gritted her teeth and thought, "It doesn't matter. If Chelsea's scandal was exposed a few days later, she will be in trouble."

The idea of introducing Chelsea to the public tonight was decided after Edmund discussed it with Roy.

Of course, they also asked Chelsea's opinion in advance.

Before introducing Chelsea to the public as the screenwriter of Roy's new book, Roy and Edmund called her aside and told her their plans.

Although Roy and Edmund reached an agreement to introduce Chelsea to the public, they had their own purpose.

Roy was preparing for announcing his consanguinity with Chelsea in the future, while Edmund was preparing for making his love relationship with Chelsea public in the future. Although he was not with Chelsea now, he had to make preparations in advance.

This time, he would no longer hide her like before.

This time, he would hold her in his arms and announce her identity to the whole world. He would give her a grand wedding, and kept her by his side forever.

Although Roy and Edmund had their own motives, they had one common purpose.

They hoped that Chelsea would be known by others and her outstanding talent should also be known.

Edmund was a man of great planning, and he had taken all aspects into consideration.

He and Roy only asked for her advice. It was up to Chelsea to decide whether she showed up or not.

Edmund made two sets of plans.

If Chelsea agreed to show up, he could take the opportunity to promote 'The Crown'. The timing was very good, and the publicity would definitely be much better than he found another chance to introduce 'The Crown' separately.

If Chelsea didn't agree to show up, he would only introduce her screenwriter's name, Winter. Because of her hard work and her optimistic personality, Vickie quickly gained the favor of many people. Although no one knew how she got this role, they didn't look down upon her. On the contrary, many people became her fans and even looked forward to her acting as the second female character.

After listening to their plan, Chelsea said with worry, "I'm only a screenwriter. Will I be criticized if I do that?"

Roy comforted her and said, "It doesn't matter. I'm also just a director, but I still often show up."

Many screenwriters always showed up, and they were even more famous than actors.

Edmund said, "You are very good. You have a good appearance and temperament, and you are so talented. You don't need to feel humble."

Chelsea pouted and glanced at him.

She admitted that Edmund's words were right because she did feel humble and uneasy.

She felt relieved when hearing that he praised her.

However, what interested Chelsea was that he could take this opportunity to promote 'The Crown'.

After all, this was her first work. Although this work was good, if others did not approve of it because she was a new screenwriter, it would also affect the popularity of this play.

If she could attract a lot of attention, she would not reject to show up. She also hoped that 'The Crown' would be popular.

So she finally agreed to show up and took a photo with Edmund and Roy.

When the banquet came to an end, the first wave of popularity had risen.

According to Edmund's plan, the public announcement of 'The Crown' caused another wave of popularity.

Within Edmund's expectation, Vickie was on What's Trending.

After all, Vickie, an unknown rookie, would definitely get much attention in such a luxurious drama.

However, Chelsea had to admit that this girl recommended by Keith Rivera was good. Although she was searched thoroughly by thousands of netizens, she had no any scandals at all.

Thus, 'The Crown' occupied several hot topics on the internet in a short time and became the biggest winner of the year.

All of this was specially planned by Edmund. He knew that Diane and Purple also made a similar costume drama to compete with them, so he did this to deal with Diane.

But Diane was no match for him.

What he did tonight was completely beat Diane's drama that had not yet been publicized. Diane didn't have a chance to turn over anymore. Even if her show was publicized, she could not win him.

After being introduced to people by Edmund and Roy, Chelsea finally found a quiet place to have a rest.

After listening to their plan, Chelsea said with worry, "I'm only a screenwriter. Will I be criticized if I do that?"

Roy comforted her and said, "It doesn't matter. I'm also just a director, but I still often show up."

After being introduced to people by Edmund and Roy, Chelsea finally found a quiet place to have a rest.

She took out her mobile phone to check the news. After knowing that the publicity was successful, she was relieved.

When she was about to turn around to look for Zuri, she saw a man wearing a navy-blue suit walking towards her.

Chelsea recognized him immediately. He was an actor from the same company with Orlando Curtis, and his name was Thomas Washburn.

Thomas Washburn had been famous a few years ago. As the leading figure of the first-generation idol, he published albums, and acted in TV shows and movies. However, in recent years, he had gradually disappeared, as if he had never found his position.

In addition, there were some problems with his personal character, so he was forgotten gradually by the public.

He seemed to be less than 30 years old this year. To a male artist at the age of 28 or 29, he was actually in an awkward phase.

He was not as sun and shiny as in his early teens or early twenties, nor as mature as a man in his thirties or forties.

Chelsea didn't have a good impression of Thomas either. A few years ago, Eugene was busy, so she went to the crew to help her. It just so happened that the plot was written by Chelsea, but Thomas thought that her lines were not good and scolded her.

He even blamed the director angrily to find such an idiot screenwriter. He said that she got this chance because she had a sexual relationship with the director. At that time, Chelsea was so aggrieved that she cried.

At that time, she was just an intern. All the lines she wrote was checked by Eugene and the director. Eugene and the director didn't say that her lines were bad, but Thomas still scolded her.

It was obvious that Thomas was not well educated enough.

Therefore, when Chelsea saw Thomas walking toward her, she frowned slightly and felt disgusted.

Thomas did not feel awkward at all. He greeted her with a charming smile, "Hello, Miss Winter."

Chelsea nodded gently, "Hello, Mr. Washburn."

Thomas said humbly, "Don't call me like that. I am flattered."

Chelsea sneered. A few years ago, he shouted at the crew and asked them to call him teacher. Why was he so humble now?

He clearly knew that she was famous now and he wanted to fawn on her, so he deliberately groveled to her

Mr. Nelson Winning His Ex-wife's Heart Chapter 287

Thomas asked her tentatively, 'We met a few years ago. Do you still remember?'

Chelsea looked up at him, not knowing how to answer his question.

If she answered that she had met him before, it would be equivalent to telling Thomas that she remembered what happened at that time. If she said that she hadn't seen him before, it would be a humiliation for him. According to Thomas' temperament, he might be angry with her.

Although Thomas' character was not good, his face was very handsome and outstanding even. Otherwise, he could not be so famous at home and abroad and be so arrogant in the past.

After thinking for a moment, Chelsea said with a smile, '| remember you, Mr. Washburn. You are so handsome and | won't forget you.'

In the workplace, Chelsea had to be more tactful and sophisticated.

Today, she already went public, and would work in this circle in the future, so she had to learn the way of dealing with people.

She admitted that she remembered that thing, but she also praised Thomas, giving Thomas some face.

Thomas was very satisfied with her answer. He raised his glass to her and motioned her to have a drink.

Chelsea took a sip, and then Thomas asked, 'By the way, has the casting started yet, for Mr. Ellis's new show?'

Chelsea finally understood that he came for the role.

In the past, Chelsea followed Eugene and knew these things. Some screenwriters with a certain reputation were qualified to personally pick actors and even recommend actors.

Therefore, many actors found the screenwriter and tried to get the opportunity from the screenwriter.

However, Chelsea didn't think that based on her current qualifications, she had the right to choose actors. She didn't know why Thomas would please her.

However, she still told him the truth, ‘The casting has not begun yet, and this project has just been decided.’

“Well.’ Thomas looked at her and said, “[was so stupid in the past. Please forgive me.”

Thomas apologized to Chelsea and wanted her to forgive his past fault.

He hoped if Chelsea chose candidates, especially the male main characters, she could consider him. Thomas asked her tentatively, ‘We met a few years ago. Do you still remember?’

Chelsea still had a decent smile, “Let bygones be bygones.”

Chelsea had never said that she would consider Thomas to play in the show, which made Thomas very embarrassed.

Many actors were eager to work with Roy, because he could make many actors popular, from the main characters to all kinds of supporting roles.

If they were newcomers, they would definitely become famous.

If they were experienced actors, they would definitely regain attention from the public.

Thomas now needed such a chance to make a comeback.

However, he felt that Chelsea seemed not to understand his hidden meaning in his words at all.

Or might be she pretended not to understand it.

Thomas felt very embarrassed. When she showed up at the stage just now, he was attracted by her fresh temperament like many other men.

At first, he didn’t recognize her who was humiliated by him in the past. After all, he scolded many people. When he saw her at the first time, she had put on light makeup, which was completely different from her tonight’s dazzling look.

Later, Edmund introduced that she was Roy’s new screenwriter. Her name was Winter, which made him remind of her.

After recalling the past, he regretted it.

He didn’t expect that she now became Roy’s new screenwriter.

He also didn’t expect that he once had been famous all over the country, but now would be forgotten by the public.

He had no choice but to approach her shamelessly, hoping that she could recommend him when she selected the roles.

Thomas had never thought that he would have the day to please others, but his recent situation really made him unable to be arrogant. If there was no drama that could make him remembered by the audience, he would really be eliminated from this circle.

Thinking of this, he suppressed his negative emotions and continued to ask with a smile, "Winter, do you have a boyfriend?"

If she did not have a boyfriend, he could pursue her, so that she would be happy and then give him a role without hesitation.

Chelseo still had a decent smile, "Let bygones be bygones."

Chelseo had never said that she would consider Thomas to play in the show, which made Thomas very embarrassed.

Many actors were eager to work with Roy, because he could make many actors popular, from the main characters to all kinds of supporting roles.

If they were newcomers, they would definitely become famous.

He also didn't expect that he once had been famous all over the country, but now would be forgotten by the public.

He had no choice but to approach her shamelessly, hoping that she could recommend him when she selected the roles.

Thomas had never thought that he would have the duty to please others, but his recent situation really made him unable to be arrogant. If there was no drama that could make him remembered by the audience, he would really be eliminated from this circle.

Thinking of this, he suppressed his negative emotions and continued to ask with a smile, "Winter, do you have a boyfriend?"

If she did not have a boyfriend, he could pursue her, so that she would be happy and then give him a role without hesitation.

Unexpectedly, Chelsea replied, "I have a boyfriend."

Thomas was a little disappointed. She was not very old, so he thought that she was single.

Hearing that, he felt it was shameless to rob her from her boyfriend.

But Thomas didn't know that there was really such a shameless person who was the big boss of the business world, Edmund.

He was really a shameless man.

After thinking for a while, Thomas felt it didn't matter even if she had a boyfriend. If she got married, she could divorce. As long as he could get the role, he didn't mind robbing her from another man.

When Thomas made up his mind to pursue Chelsea, Chelsea said, "In fact, I once got married, but I divorced."

Thomas was silent for a moment

Were the girls so open now? They got married and divorced at such a young age, and they found a new boyfriend so quickly.

He suddenly had no desire to pursue this screenwriter.

Chelsea said politely, "I'm sorry, Mr. Washburn. I have something to do and have to leave now."

After saying, she hurried to leave.

Chelsea knew Thomas' purpose, so she added that she got married and divorced and deliberately asked Thomas to withdraw.

She ran into Edmund when she just took a few steps.

Chelsea felt annoyed because Edmund had been following her wherever she went.

Chelsea was afraid that people rumored they had a ambiguous relationship.

Therefore, when she saw Edmund coming over, she quickly took a step back to keep a distance from him.

Seeing that, Edmund was very angry. He took another step towards her and whispered, "You think I'll bully you?"

Chelsea told him the truth, "The impact isn't good. After all, I'm now a public person."

What he did made her stay away from him.

Clenching the wine glass in his hand, he said angrily, "Stay away from Thomas. Don't you know that he approaches you for the role and tries to seduce you with his charm?"

Chelsea didn't know what to say to that. oo

His words were really unpleasant, as if she was very lecherous.

Mr. Nelson Winning His Ex-wife's Heart Chapter 288

"I won't be seduced by him!" Chelsea said angrily and was about to leave.

She admitted that she was attracted by Edmund's charm before, but she would not do that anymore.

It was not worth.

Edmund stopped her. He frowned and asked her in a low voice, "Why do you know him?"

"I wrote a part of the script for his previous show." After saying that, Chelsea ran away quickly. It was better for them to be strangers on this occasion.

However, Edmund stared in the direction that she left and was lost in thought.

Thomas' reputation in the industry was not good. Otherwise, he would not go downhill these years.

In fact, actors were also a profession, and the entertainment circle was equivalent to the workplace. A person's character was very important. Thomas was indeed very good-looking when he was young, but after he became famous, he often offended people. Over time, no one was willing to cooperate with him.

In addition, his acting skills had not improved in the past few years. He could not walk far just by relying on his face. After all, there were no shortage of good-looking people in the entertainment industry.

Just now, when he looked for Chelsea, he saw Thomas talking with her. He also saw through Thomas plot at a glance. He was just for the role of Roy's new play.

Edmund sneered. Thomas wanted to play in this drama, but his acting skills was unqualified.

How did Roy Ellis make so many people famous?

That was because Roy had very high requirements for the actors' acting skills. If his acting skills were not good enough, it was impossible for him to be selected.

Then Edmund called Leo and asked him to check if Thomas had any conflict with Chelsea.

Logically speaking, if it was the first time that Chelsea and Thomas met tonight, they wouldn't talk so much just now. Moreover, When Chelsea talked about Thomas, she was obviously full of disgust.

She was a gentle person and rarely showed her disgust to others.

If Thomas did bully her before, he would make Thomas completely disappear from the entertainment industry. Ten minutes later, Leo called back.

Leo was very efficient. He investigated Thomas' previous plays which Chelsea worked as a screenwriter and also contacted that director, so he learned what happened at that time. "I won't be seduced by him!" Chelsea said angrily and was about to leave.

When Leo told Edmund what the director said, his face darkened.

He could imagine that scenario. At that time, Thomas was a famous star, but Chelsea was just an intern, so that Chelsea must have been scolded harshly by Thomas.

Thomas treated Chelsea so badly before. Why did he have the face to ask Chelsea for a role now? Dreamed on.

After the dinner, Chelsea took Zuri's car to home, because they lived in the same community, and it was very convenient.

Roy went back to the hotel. Roy made an appointment with Chelsea to go to the suburbs together to worship her adoptive mother tomorrow. Roy wanted to thank Chelsea's adoptive mother for raising and taking care of Chelsea over these years,

Edmund went home alone. After taking a shower, he felt bored and leaned against the railing on the balcony outside his bedroom. He watched the lights in Chelsea's room being turned off, but he couldn't do anything.

It was a long night, and they drank together. They should do something passionate.

But when he thought of Emeila's indifferent look today, he looked up at the sky and sighed in despair. He did not know when she would agree to be with him.

He had no choice but to turn back to his bedroom.

It was so coincident that Yusuf was sending messages on WhatsApp. Edmund said angrily, "What the stupid idea do you give me?"

Don't you say that sweet words are useful? Why does she still ignore me?"

Yusuf was silent for a while before replying, "Edmund, I just think about it seriously. It seems that this way is not suitable for you and Chelsea."

"You used to look down on Chelsea, but now you suddenly speak sweet words to her. It's a bit strange."

Hearing Yusuf's words, Edmund felt that his analysis was very reasonable.

Especially when he showed his love to Chelsea tonight, her rejection was even more obvious.

Edmund was furious, "Why don't you tell me earlier?"

Yusuf was very innocent, "Love can't be forced. I only give you a general direction, and you should find your own ways based on your condition."

When Leo told Edmund what the director said, his face darkened.

He could imagine that scenario. At that time, Thomas was a famous star, but Chelsea was just an intern, so that Chelsea must have been scolded harshly by Thomas.

Thomas treated Chelsea so badly before. Why did he have the face to ask Chelsea for a role now? Dreamed on.

After the dinner, Chelsea took Zuri's car to home, because they lived in the same community, and it was very convenient.

Roy went back to the hotel. Roy made an appointment with Chelsea to go to the suburbs together to worship her adoptive mother tomorrow. Roy wanted to thank Chelsea's adoptive mother for raising and taking care of Chelsea over these years,

Edmund went home alone. After taking a shower, he felt bored and leaned against the railing on the balcony outside his bedroom. He watched the lights in Chelsea's room being turned off, but he couldn't do anything.

It was a long night, and they drank together. They should do something passionate.

But when he thought of Emilio's indifferent look today, he looked up at the sky and sighed in despair. He did not know when she would agree to be with him.

He had no choice but to turn back to his bedroom.

It was so coincident that Yusuf was sending messages on WhatsApp. Edmund said angrily, "What the stupid idea do you give me?"

"Don't you say those sweet words are useful? Why does she still ignore me?"

Yusuf was silent for a while before replying, "Edmund, I just think about it seriously. It seems that this way is not suitable for you and Chelsea."

"You used to look down on Chelsea, but now you suddenly speak sweet words to her. It's a bit strange."

Hearing Yusuf's words, Edmund felt that his analysis was very reasonable.

Edmund was furious, "Why don't you tell me earlier?"

Yusuf was very innocent, "Love can't be forced. I only give you a general direction, and you should find your own ways based on your condition."

"You have to adjust the strategy according to the specific situation between you and Chelsea and Chelsea's character."

At this time, Chris said in WhatsApp, “Edmund is eager to succeed.”

He was in a hurry to get Chelsea back, so he trusted Yusuf completely and used Yusuf’s ways to pursue Chelsea without any change, because Yusuf could please women easily.

Brayan also said, “You should not be in such a hurry to pursue a woman. She’ll know your goodness after a long time.”

That was how he got his wife’s heart. They cultivated their love slowly and finally they fell in love with each other.

Yusuf said, “Edmund, I have a good suggestion. I think that you can keep an appropriate distance from Chelsea now.”

Edmund was confused, “Didn’t you tell me a few days ago that I should keep pestKatharineg her? Now why do you ask me to keep a distance from her?”

“It was because you told her that you loved her a few days ago.

T ask you to pester her in order to make her see you anytime and anywhere. After all, Orlando and Luka are often on her side.”

“But now you have done a lot of things for her. She must have a deep impression of you. From now on, if you keep an appropriate distance from her, she will be interested in you.”

He couldn’t accept the fact that he had to keep a distance from Chelsea. He felt that if he did that, she wouldn’t pay him any more attention.

“You can do whatever you want.” Yusuf said helplessly.

Edmund put his phone on the bedside and was ready to sleep, but he didn’t sleep well all night. Gi

He had been wondKatharineg if he should keep a distance fromm Chelsea or continue to pester her. GG

The next morning, Edmund went out for morning jogging. When he came back, he saw Luka carrying breakfast and waiting outside Chelsea’s house.

Edmund stopped and asked, “Why are you back?”

Luka said with a smile, “If I don’t come back, my girlfriend will be robbed by other man.”

Edmund sneered, “Girlfriend? I dare you look at my eyes and swear that you two are lovers?”

Luka was speechless.

Why was Edmund so smart? He already suspected the relationship between him and Chelsea

Mr. Nelson Winning His Ex-wife's Heart Chapter 289

However, Luka still looked calm. He asked, "Mr. Nelson, I don't understand what you're hinting at."

In fact, Luka knew what Edmund meant, but he still said that deliberately.

Edmund also knew that Luka didn't want to tell him the truth. He was very annoyed and didn't want to talk nonsense with Luka at all.

Therefore, he looked up at Luka and asked sharply, "Have you kissed with Chelsea yet?"

Luka's eyebrows twitched, and he had a bad feeling.

He hadn't kissed with Chelsea yet. They only held each other's hands once when they entered his mother's ward.

Although he regarded Chelsea as his girlfriend and wanted to take good care of her, Chelsea only regarded him as a friend and the boss of the company.

Therefore, even if he wanted to do more romantic things with her, he knew that she was unwilling, so they had never crossed the bottom line as friends.

Seeing that Luka did not speak, Edmund asked, "Dare you kiss her in front of me?"

Luka raised his hand and touched his forehead. He said, "Mr. Nelson, we don't have the habit of doing such intimate things in front of others."

Edmund sneered, "She doesn't love you. She will definitely reject you if you kiss her."

Chelsea had once loved him, so he knew what she looked like when she kissed if she was immersed in love.

If Chelsea didn't reject Luka kissing her, and really fell in love with Luka, he had nothing to say.

He was willing to give up.

Of course, Luka knew why Edmund did that. Edmund doubted the relationship between him and Chelsea, so he forced them to expose themselves in this way.

But he didn't want Edmund to know it, and said indifferently, "Mr. Nelson, you go too far. I suggest you go home and take a bath to calm down."

After saying that, Luka stepped forward and pressed the doorGordon. He did not want to talk to Edmund anymore.

At this moment, Edmund was like a madman.

It was he who hurt Chelsea seriously in the past.

When Luka waited for Chelsea to open the door, he turned his head and glanced at Edmund. He found that Edmund had not returned home yet, and stood there with his arms cFostered, waiting for Chelsea to open the door for him.

Luka suddenly felt that Edmund was hateful and pitiful.

However, Luka didn't want to talk to him. Chelsea came to open the door soon.

Because the weather suddenly turned cold, she walked out in a fluffy white pajama. However, Luka still looked calm. He asked, "Mr. Nelson, I don't understand what you're hinting at."

Seeing Luka, she was very surprised, "Mr. Pierce, why are you here?"

Luka smiled gently, "Haven't I told you that I'll come back to prepare for the beginning of filming. I came back about ten o'clock iast night. I am afraid that I will disturb your rest, so I don't contact you."

Chelsea opened the door even wider and said, "Come in quickly."

"Ok." Luka responded to Chelsea. Then he turned to wave at Edmund and said, "Goodbye, Mr. Nelson."

Chelsea stretched her head out in surprise, and saw Edmund.

She guessed that he might ran back just now because he was still in a black sports suit.

Now was autumn, and the weather was constantly changing. Last night, the temperature suddenly dropped by a few degrees.

After getting up early in the morning, Chelsea hurriedly found out her thick home clothes and put them on. But Edmund was still dressed in short sleeves and shorts outside.

When she looked at Edmund, she felt even colder. With just a glance at him, she immediately pulled her head back. Pretending not to see Edmund, she pulled Luka in and closed the door quickly. Edmund was furious.

He became more and more suspicious of her relationship with Luka. He had to find a way to let them expose themselves.

It seemed pretty good to play a real-hearted adventure game.

At that time, if she chose to tell the truth, he would ask her whether she loved Luka or not.

After entering the house, Luka handed the breakfast to Chelsea, "I make it early this morning."

Chelsea was overjoyed, "Thank you. I haven't eaten breakfast yet. Let's eat together."

Then Chelsea went to the kitchen to get some tableware. They sat in the bright dining room and ate breakfast leisurely.

Luka briefly told Chelsea what Edmund said outside. After hearing, Chelsea almost spat out the porridge in her mouth.

"Is he crazy?" She was so angry that Edmund asked Luka to kiss her in front of him.

Luka handed her a tissue and said, "He must be suspicious about our relationship."

Chelsea snorted, "We don't need to take any notice of him."

Luka said apologetically, "I'm sorry for causing you trouble."

Chelsea said, "It doesn't matter."

Thinking of this, Chelsea said angrily, "It's Edmund who makes trouble to me."

She pretended to be Luka's girlfriend in order to make his mother feel assured. However, Edmund had been pestering her endlessly, making her life a mess.

Seeing Luko, she was very surprised, "Mr. Pierce, why are you here?"

Luko smiled gently, "Haven't I told you that I'll come back to prepare for the beginning of filming. I come back about ten o'clock last night. I am afraid that I will disturb your rest, so I don't contact you."

Chelsea opened the door even wider and said, "Come in quickly."

"Ok." Luko responded to Chelsea. Then he turned to wave at Edmund and said, "Goodbye, Mr. Nelson."

Chelseo stretched her head out in surprise, and saw Edmund.

She pretended to be Luko's girlfriend in order to make his mother feel assured. However, Edmund had been pestering her endlessly, making her life a mess.

Luka did not stay at Chelsea's house for long. After breakfast, he left.

On the one hand, Chelsea already made an appointment with Roy to go out. On the other hand, he had a lot of things to deal with in the company.

Chelsea called a car and went to the hotel to pick Roy up. Then they went to the suburbs together.

Chelsea's adoptive mother insisted on burying herself in the suburbs because she didn't want to have any contact with Hilton Williams. If she didn't suddenly pass away because of illness, Chelsea thought that she would probably divorce Hilton.

Roy bought a bunch of flowers and solemnly bowed in front of Chelsea's adoptive mother's tomb.

Without her, his daughter might not have current success.

Even though Hilton and his son weren't reliable, Chelsea's adoptive mother treated Chelsea very well and insisted on letting Chelsea study.

Roy heard from Chelsea that Hilton didn't want her to continue studying, and asked her to work to make money for the family. It was her adoptive mother who insisted on letting Chelsea study, so that Chelsea had the opportunity to finish her college.

After worshipping Chelsea's adoptive mother, they walked around.

The air in the suburbs was fresh and the environment was beautiful. It was rare for them to come here, so they had to have a good stroll around.

Roy could not stay in Vertoak for too long, so he cherished the time with Chelsea. a

Before the day was dark, they took a car back. However, on the way, Chelsea received a call from Zuri, saying that she and

Roy had a scandal, and the content was extremely bad.

After hanging up the phone, Chelsea hurriedly logged on Twitter and found that someone rumored that she had an improper relationship with Roy. She was scolded seriously.

She just went public last night and was praised because of her beauty and talent.

But today the title of the news was: How was the beautiful screenwriter promoted. The following commented that she used her beauty to seduce Roy, so that she could be the screenwriter of Roy's new book.

Moreover, this article also severely scolded Roy, saying that he had been pretending to be a good man all these years. In fact, his private life was very chaotic

Mr. Nelson Winning His Ex-wife's Heart Chapter 290

Chelsea trembled with anger because of this news. The relationship between her and Roy was no tabloid material.

On the photos, she did not do anything intimate with Roy.

There was a photo when Roy got out of the car, she helped him because Roy's legs were not good.

The person who released the news obviously rumored the improper relationship between her and Roy.

Roy, who was sitting next to her, sensed her displeasure and asked with concern, "What's wrong?"

Chelsea handed the phone to Roy and said, "Look at the news. They've gone too far."

Chelsea was speaking in a slightly choked voice. She was so enraged that she almost cried.

These people not only scolded her, but also slandered Roy, which made her very guilty.

She was just a screenwriter, but Roy valued his reputation very much.

Roy took her phone. After reading the news, he was not angry at all. Instead, he sneered, "They actually did it."

Chelsea was puzzled, "What do you mean? Who did this?"

She suddenly realized something and said, "Could it be Diane?"

Roy nodded, "Yes."

"Philip compromised and asked her daughter to apologize to you. But they definitely can't let this go. I've expected that they would get back at us."

After saying that, Roy comforted Chelsea, "Don't worry. I've arranged everything."

Chelsea was still confused. Roy looked at her seriously and said, "It's not convenient to talk now. I'll tell you when we go back to the hotel."

Seeing that Roy did not panic at all, Chelsea calmed down. She nodded and believed him.

At this time, Edmund called Roy.

He said angrily, “Mr. Ellis, why did you approach Chelsea?”

Before Roy could say anything, Edmund added, “You should know well that Philip hates you and won’t let you go easily, but you still deliberately stay with Chelsea. Do you want to hurt her?”

Edmund was very angry when he saw the news.

He didn’t care about Roy at all. He was only worried about Chelsea.

Those words were so harsh that he wanted to tear their mouths apart. Chelsea trembled with anger because of this news. The relationship between her and Roy was no tabloid material.

Compared with Edmund’s anger, Roy still looked calm, “I have my own arrangements for this matter.”

Edmund couldn’t stand it anymore. He shouted, “What do you want to do? Well, I wait for your arrangements!”

After saying that, he felt it was not enough. Edmund warned him, “Roy Ellis, if you hurt Chelsea, I won’t let you go.”

Edmund was so angry that he called Roy’s full name.

Roy said, “You will regret what you say today, guy!”

He was so disrespectful to his beloved woman’s biological father and even threatened him. Did he really want to get Chelsea back?

After he officially acknowledged Chelsea as his daughter, the first thing he had to do was to persuade Chelsea to kick Edmund out. There were many powerful and handsome young men in the Capital.

Just as Roy ended the call with Edmund, Luka called Chelsea.

“Chelsea, did Diane do that to you on Twitter?” Luka did not doubt the relationship between Chelsea and Roy at all, and he directly pointed out that it was Diane who did it.

Chelsea was very grateful for Luka’s trust and support. She nodded and replied, “Yes.”

“This is too much!” Luka was also very annoyed, “Where are you now? Do you need me to pick you up? Let’s find a way to solve this problem together.”

"I'm on my way back to Vertoak. Mr. Ellis says that he has a solution." Chelsea comforted Luka, not wanting him to be angry and worried.

After hearing what Chelsea said, Luka did not say anything else.

After a moment of silence, he solemnly asked Chelsea, "You trust Mr. Ellis very much, right?"

Although Luka believed in Chelsea, he didn't know much about Roy.

He didn't know why Mr. Ellis recognized Chelsea as his adopted daughter. He felt it was really unreasonable.

When Chelsea told him this thing, he felt worried. But at that time, he was in his hometown and was worried about his mother's illness, so that he had no time to think too much about it.

Without any hesitation, Chelsea replied, "Yes, I believe he won't hurt me."

Compared with Edmund's anger, Roy still looked calm, "I have my own arrangements for this matter."

Edmund couldn't stand it anymore. He shouted, "What do you want to do? Well, I wait for your arrangements!"

After saying that, he felt it was not enough. Edmund warned him, "Roy Ellis, if you hurt Chelsea, I won't let you go."

After he officially acknowledged Chelsea as his daughter, the first thing he had to do was to persuade Chelsea to kick Edmund out. There were many powerful and handsome young men in the Capitol.

Just as Roy ended the call with Edmund, Luka called Chelsea.

"Chelsea, did Dione do that to you on Twitter?" Luka did not doubt the relationship between Chelsea and Roy at all, and he directly pointed out that it was Dione who did it.

Chelsea was very grateful for Luka's trust and support. She nodded and replied, "Yes."

"This is too much!" Luka was also very annoyed, "Where are you now? Do you need me to pick you up? Let's find a way to solve this problem together."

“I’m on my way back to Vertook. Mr. Ellis says that he has a solution.” Chelsea comforted Luko, not wanting him to be angry and worried.

After hearing what Chelsea said, Luko did not say anything else.

After a moment of silence, he solemnly asked Chelsea, “You trust Mr. Ellis very much, right?”

Although Luko believed in Chelsea, he didn’t know much about Roy.

He didn’t know why Mr. Ellis recognized Chelsea as his adopted daughter. He felt it was really unreasonable.

Without any hesitation, Chelsea replied, “Yes, I believe he won’t hurt me.”

“That’s good.” Luka smiled with relief, “I also believe your judgment.”

Chelsea hung up the phone. Roy asked her gently, “Can you tell me why you are willing to trust me?”

Chelsea shook her head and said honestly, “I don’t know the reason, but I trust you from the bottom of my heart.”

“That’s right.” Hearing Roy’s words, Chelsea looked up at him in confusion.

Roy raised his hand and rubbed her head gently, “Thank you for trusting me.”

Her unconditional trust came from their blood ties.

Chelsea didn’t know what was wrong with her. She almost cried because of Roy’s simple words and a gentle touch on her head.

She felt warm in her heart, as if she was being loved.

As for previous plan, Chelsea would return to her house after sending Roy to the hotel.

But now she went to the hotel with Roy and waited for Roy to deal with this matter. Unexpectedly, as soon as they entered into the lobby of the hotel, they found that Edmund was waiting there.

Roy rolled his eyes at Edmund, “Why are you here?”

Edmund also said unfriendly, “I’m here to see how you handle this matter, Mr. Ellis.”

They got along well last night, but today they were at loggerheads.

Roy sneered and ignored him, but he didn't drive him away.

Roy allowed Edmund to follow him and Chelsea, because he had his own considerations.

He was afraid that after Chelsea knew the truth, she wouldn't be able to bear it. At that time, Edmund could accompany her. He didn't mean that he already forgave Edmund.

In the elevator, Edmund lowered his head and looked at Chelsea. He asked carefully, "Are you fine?"

It seemed that she didn't look bad.

Her eyes were not red and swollen, so she hadn't cried.

It could be seen that this matter did not have much fatal impact on her. When he waited for her, he was very worried that she could not stand those harsh words.

Chelsea replied, "I'm fine."

Edmund sighed heavily. He didn't understand why she trusted Roy so much.
