

Mr. President's Sweet Wife Novel

Chapter 14 The news was spread

After hearing what the nurse said, Layla quickly rushed to Nora's ward.

She hates Nora but she doesn't want her mother to get into trouble for helping her.

Nora isn't just somebody, she was the woman William loved and she just miscarriage. William still thought that it was Layla doing, so if her mother does something again now, William will never believe her.

"Did your parents teach you to seduce a married man?! You shameless woman!"

Layla heard her mother.

When she walked in the room, she saw William's cold facial expression, and seemed like he was very angry but he didn't let his anger out because Caroline Alexander is an elder.

"Mom! What are you doing here?" Layla asked her mom.

She didn't want people to know that they have divorced and now her mother was making it difficult.

There were nurses and doctors outside the ward watching them.

"Mom!" Layla warned her mother and looked at William. He loved Nora so much that seeing people scolding her would make him very angry.

"William and Layla have been married for three years, how could you do this to her, you third wheeler! Your parents wouldn't let you pass so easily, Nora Alexander!" Caroline Alexander said.

Caroline was telling the truth; Nora's parents were very disappointed at her.

"This has nothing to do with Nora." William said, protecting the woman he loved.

Caroline then looked at William and said, "You! You promised me that you will treat Layla well and now look at what you have done?! What do you think my daughter is? An object that you can keep whenever you want and throw away when you wish to?! She is a good girl, even your parents like her! What has she done to you that you have to do this to her?!"

People started to talk about what Caroline said.

Layla then looked at her mom and said, "Mom, enough!"

"I am helping you! Why would you help her? She is the reason why you divorce!" Caroline said.

Caroline then turned to William and said, "Break up with this woman and I will act like nothing happened before."

William doesn't like it when people threaten him, so he wouldn't agree with what Caroline just said.

He looked at Layla and said disappointedly, "If you don't want Nora here, you could have told me. You don't have to ask for your mom's help."

"I....." She wanted to explain but she knew that he wouldn't believe her.

William then asked his assistant to make all the people leave including Caroline.

"I will transfer Nora to another hospital. I won't come here again." He said.

"I didn't ask my mom to do this." Layla explained.

How could he think that all the bad things were her doing?

"It's not important anymore. You should talk to you mom, tell her that I never loved you and stop bothering me and Nora!"

William had never been so cold to her before. Even the day they divorced, he was still sweet and kind to her. Now, he just hated her.

After that, William and Nora leave the hospital. And that means that he wouldn't meet Layla again.

The head of department even scolded Layla because of the incident.

This is the first time she got scolded in this hospital. No one would dare to scold her when she was Mrs. Jones, but now, she was just Layla Alexander.

Layla's phone rang when she was deep in her thoughts.

She quickly picked up the phone, "Hello"

"Is this Doctor Layla Alexander?"

"Yes, I am"

"I am a reporter from Georgia Magazine. I heard the news that William Jones and you have divorced. Can I interview you?"

Layla quickly hung up the phone.

She knew that this would happen after they divorced.

Layla and Blake had lunch at a restaurant not far from the hospital.

She was thankful that at this time, she only has to focus on Blake Spencer, this patient. So that she didn't have to work at the hospital and become the talk of everyone in the hospital.

She went to the washroom and once she was done, she walked out of the washroom and bumped into a woman.

"Layla Alexander!" A woman squealed.

Layla looked at the woman in front of her who was carrying a Chanel bag, "Gemma Joyce?"

"Yes! It's me. What a coincidence, I heard that you and your husband split."
