

Mr. President's Sweet Wife Novel

Chapter 27 He named it

"No, she didn't. She was just here to see if you are okay. She cares about you." Layla explained for Amelia.

"I don't need her caring for me. From today onwards, you don't have to tell her how I am doing." Blake said. He really hated Amelia so much.

"The weather is nice today. Let's go for a walk!" Layla cheered.

Blake smiled at her and asked, "Where do you want to go?"

Layla then told him the place Amelia told her just now.

George was surprised by Layla's suggestion and said, "Seems like Doctor Layla is very familiar with Spencer's mansion."

Layla smiled and said, "I have been here for so many days, Spencer's mansion is just like a secret garden, and I am curious about it."

George then smiled. He knew this was Amelia's plan.

But he didn't expose the truth because he really hoped that Blake Spencer can get his memories back soon.

The place they went was Melia Lake. It's not far from the mansion and it is not a lake for the public. It is a Spencer's territory.

The car stopped at the entrance and Layla got out of the car after Blake.

George was leading them to the lake.

"Have you been here before?" Layla asked hoping that Blake would remember something because Amelia told her that Blake and her used to come here a lot.

Blake shook his head and said, "No."

George then helped to introduce the name of this lake, "Mr. Spencer named this lake before."

"Is it?" Layla asked curiously.

George pointed at the lake and said, "This is the lake Mr. Spencer made."

"Now I have some idea about the name." Layla smiled.

Amelia, Melia.

No wonder Amelia wanted Layla to bring Blake here.

"Idea of what?" Blake asked Layla who was smiling.

Suddenly, Layla's phone started to ring, indicating someone just sent her a message.

It was Amelia: There is a pavilion in the middle of the lake. Bring Blake there.

"Who is that?" Blake asked while trying to peek at Layla's phone.

"Nothing!" Layla quickly put her phone back to her pocket and said, "My colleague asked me something. Let's go."

She smiled and grabbed his hand, leading him to the pavilion.

She can be back as soon as Blake remembers everything.

Layla led Blake to the pavilion in the middle of the lake. But Amelia was nowhere to be found.

They sat down and Layla asked, "Do you like here?"

Blake looked around and didn't answer.

"Feel familiar?" Layla asked again.

This was an important place for him, he should at least catch a slight feeling for this place.

Blake then said, "Nice view. Did I come here with you before?"

Layla smiled and said, "You will remember."

Blake looked at Layla and grabbed her hand, "As long as you are with me, I am happy. It doesn't matter if I don't remember anything."

Before Layla appeared in his life, he really wanted to remember everything. But everything changed after Layla walked in his life. He doesn't want to force himself to remember even though some image appeared in his mind.

Amelia sent another message to Layla and told her to leave Blake alone there.

Layla then stood up and said, "I need to use the washroom, wait for me here."

One of Blake's bodyguards led Layla to the washroom. After Layla left the pavilion, she quickly found a place to hide at and see what would happen.

Blake sat there quietly, waiting for Layla.

Layla thought that Amelia would come out now but she didn't. One little boy and little girl came instead.

George quickly stopped them and said, "You can't cross here, kids."

"That uncle looks so handsome can I take a photo with him?" The little girl asked George.

But George shook his head. Even though he wanted to help this little girl, he still needs to do his work in protecting Blake Spencer.

"Let's go, Melia." The little boy said while holding the little girl's hand.

Melia.....

Was that the name Blake used to call Amelia?

Just when Blake wanted to stand up and go find Layla who was taking too long in the washroom, the little boy started to say, "Melia, why is your hand hurt?"

The little girl said, "It's okay. It will heal itself."

"How can you just let it be? Where are you daddy mommy?"
