

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 1043

Hannah's words shocked Heather as it was the first time Hannah had asked back for something she had taken.

'Hannah never dared to claim anything since she was young. When did she become daring enough to demand things from me? Is this ring—no, is that man so important to her?'

Thinking so, Heather became thoughtful and diverted her gaze from the ring to her sister. "What did you say? Repeat it since I didn't hear you correctly."

From Heather's demeanor, Hannah knew her sister had gotten mad, and she should not repeat it. The pain in her shoulder also reminded her not to do it.

However, when she saw the ring, Hannah thought about Ralph's face and what he said about living happily ever after with her. It was the first time she had wanted so much to spend the rest of her life with someone.

this far, there's no use said weakly yet firmly, "Heather, I know you're upset, and I shouldn't be saying this. However, I've never asked you for anything, talked me. I hope you can return it to me. I'm not asking much, and I'll be...content if I have something that belongs to me and that I can impossible. That being the case, won't it be nice if I have something yeah?

emotion, but she tightened her grip on the ring. Hannah had no idea that her confession had her twin sister was a useless substitute who could only offer occasional help. She thought Hannah should not have a sense of self that's the case, she shouldn't have a sense syllable of her