Chapter 390

Lily did not look like she was talking nonsense.

Looking at the little guy's complexion, he was fair and cute. However, the fairness of his skin was weak and unhealthy, which made people feel bad for him.

"How did this..."

"It might be hereditary, but it's not certain. The world is so big, and there are always some incurable diseases, which is not unusual, "

When he said that, he seemed restrained and calm. He did not sigh as if it were just a common disease.

Seeing Lily staring at him, she may feel that her eyes were full of pity. She even took the initiative to say,
"Miss, I'm not uncomfortable. I'm used to it. It doesn't matter."

The more she did, the more uncomfortable she felt.

After all, he was just a child. She was so young and yet so sensible. She even comforted Lily.

What a good child.

"There's no cure? Like you said, the world is so big. There may be a possibility of a cure."

Mike shook his head, "I have seen many doctors, but this ailment is quite special, and allergies should be a genetic defect. It's difficult to cure."

With just a few words, it showed that he was actually aware. The condition was indeed challenging to cure.

"Well, Nick is still young, and technology and medicine are improving. We may be able to cure it someday!

Besides, his condition is stable right now. Even though there's a strict diet, we can still eat other delicious food, right?" Lisa said jokingly to the little kid, probably wanting to ease the atmosphere.

Nick smiled shyly and said nothing.

"Yes, it will be a long time to come," Mike probably felt that he had been entangled in the issue for too long, so he changed the subject, "By the way, I have heard about your victory in the perfume-tasting competition. I haven't congratulated you yet!"

Saying that, he picked up the wine glass in front of him, "Congratulations!"

"Thank you!"

Lily raised her glass while Lisa, beside her, was busy holding up her glass, "Me, me! Me too! Lily, you are amazing! My dad is full of praise for you when you go back, you know. He rarely praises people!"

Lily smiled slightly, "Thank you!"

"Don't just say thank you. Why'd you rejected my dad's invitation? If you agreed, you could stay here, and we could meet often!"

Lisa also knew this and said regretfully, "Could it be? Is it bad to stay here and develop instead?"

Lisa's words aroused Mike's interest, "Yeah. As far as I know, the perfume industry in Westwood is the most prosperous place in the world. If you stay, there should be greater development and more opportunity, so why not?"

Someone had asked her that question more than once.

Lily smiled lightly, "It's excellent here, but I want to go back and develop."

"Lily is still a patriot," Mike said meaningfully.

"It's not being patriotic. It's more of reminiscing."

It was about home, friends, and loved ones. Those were the ties about not wanting to leave and being reluctant to leave.
